The Versatile Gentleman Here.

Rev. Edward Davis will speak at the Opera House to-night, and it will only cost 25 cents to hear a very versatile gentleman, who speaks eloquently, sings divinely and plays artistically.

At Salem on Sunday Mr. Davis opened his sermon on "Ultimate Utopia," Acts 2:44, 45. This flowery manner, which leaving his native state to engage in the exercise of this occasion, as I stood by the altar, I felt that I had inhaled a draught of that briny air, made aromatic with the perfume of California's climate.

My voice expressed with feeble words the fervent love I feel kindled by a kindred spirit to your success.

The recognition of Sunday as a sacred day deserves congratulation. The cessation of secular work, the closed booths, the universal observance of the Sabbath, the praise of God, the Greeks assembled at their quadrennial Olympic games, the celebration of the birth of Christ, the birth of the Tabernacles, and in the midst of their participations heard the reading of the Bible, is written in "Render unto God, the things that are God's, and unto Caesar, the things that are Caesar's"—America.
