SATURDAY NIGHT THOUGHTS.
The past week has been one alive with politics, overshadowing all other considerations, and at this writing the editor gives his thoughts at the end of the week full play upon the subject of the county Democratic ticket.
First came the republicans with confidence in every stride, due to the clean sweep of two years ago, and with a take-it-for-granted way about them that it would be repeated as a matter of course. The night of hard times, breaking a record for extravagance that the people had been watching from month to month, the percentage of increase in the cost of running the county being noticeable, due to no one officer, but to the entire administration. The fact is true that the republican party is an extravagant one in power.
The convention was at large heads as to what they should do. The members were decidedly mixed. The result was As poor a ticket.
As a whole as they could have put up it is not a political statement when we remark that it is extremely weak. From present appearances, judging from a republican standpoint, that cannot be expected, but the weakest nomination was that of Dr. J. W. Cole for county judge, a close second is A. B. Stafford, for assessor. Then comes McFeron. Millard commissioner is a remarkably weak man judging from the count of the vote. A commissioner should be a good business man. At least, if not the entire three candidates for representative are gold bugs, a fact that will be daily considered before the election.

MISFITS.
Penney, Joe Simon and Harvey Scott working together for reform!
Six of the Linn county delegates to the congressional convention in Albany next Tuesday are for Ford, three for Hermann and one doubtful.
The fire engine building at Corvallis, has been put to good use. It has been fitted up and rented to the Gazette for an office for a few months. The Gazette will do honor to the place.
There were several signs of the Tongue at the Auditorium last Friday evening, but just the same the eloquent and persuasive speaker is skillfully trimming his sails for the Albany convention—Independence Enterprise.
The word Albany appears a good many times in our excellent newspaper, congressional convention to be held here next Tuesday is the cause of it. It looks now as if the Albany convention will be one that will be referred to for years.
"Charlie Sears, son of Sheriff George O. Sears, of Portland," says the Press Journal, "was in town a couple of days this week talking county politics. He is one of the 15 candidates for the republican nomination for sheriff, and has the qualifications to be a good officer." It runs in the family.
The standing of the republican candidate for assessor was well shown in the vote of his own precinct, only 3 out of 17 votes were cast for him. A republican from there cannot carry the precinct, though the strongest republican precinct in the county.
The Grants Pass Courier is sent to ministers and single ladies at half price when the current-looking cheap rates are for resolutions of respect to a lady for notices of paid local entertainments. The Courier is original and reasonable.
Before Harry Miller left town Monday night he was walking with the proud step of a victor. He had 50 votes for congress in his district. He went away happy—Salem Journal, Rep. "That is only 12 months to nomination. The number though is five times too much. Mr. Hermann will be nominated."

The republican county convention is in session today, a large body, too large for convenience. The result of their proceedings will be considered by the Democrat more in detail as the election approaches.

There is evidently more wire pulling against Hermann than for him. It was circulated for political effect that he had lost the delegation in his own county, when as a matter of fact he had it solid. It is not the Democrat's business, but there is nothing like fair play.

The Sultan has presented to the Lovell Museum the celebrated Tellis silver vase. It was discovered in 1838 by M. De Sarzes during his excavations on the night of the antique city of Sirpoua. It is a piece of Chaldean fabric of the most remote antiquity, and one of the oldest examples known of engraving on metal.

James B. Eddy is after the Umatilla county republican congressional delegation. He came up this morning and will remain here long enough to do all in his power to capture the nine votes which this county will cast in the congressional convention in Portland on April 18. There have been several after the Umatilla delegation, and generally to who the delegates are based on opinion merely.—E. O.

Eastern Oregon must be hard up for material to even permit the name of J. J. White to be mentioned for congress. He has made his record as railroad commissioner and that ought to last him for life.

The republicans in congress displayed their venom, on Friday, by passing resolutions censuring Minister Bayard for speaking his honest sentiments in regard to protection and monopolies. This act of the House of Representatives, which is part of partisan bigotry, was uncalled for, antagonistic to that liberty of thought and speech guaranteed by the constitution, and demonstrated that the political leaders had descended to lowest and meanest depths to vent its spleen on a political antagonist.—Greencastle Star Press.

The Methodists are gradually waking up at Dover Delaware. The Wilmington Methodist Episcopal conference rejected, by a vote of 107 to 7, the proposition to restrict lay delegates to the annual conference to men only. The conference adopted, 109 to 17, the proposition to change the rules so as to allow lay delegates with one exception, to be men or women. That's sensible. The women are really the backbone of the church and ought to have a voice in their government.

Mr. J. A. McFeron might possibly do very well as sheriff, but he is not a hard time official. Since his taking the office he seems to have been laboring to see how he could make it. Where his predecessor ran the office in a very efficient manner with one exception, a dispatch for only a few weeks in the busiest season, he has required two most of the time besides a host of deputies through the county, as has often been commented on by the public. While about the greatest debt in the county has been the provisions of the statute forbidding the payment of mileage. Another fact which we mention at the outset for voters to consider is the manner in which he has made his wages, keeping county prisoners, of whom there have been a large number. The law distinctly permits the payment of $5 a week for four prisoners and $3 a week where there are more than four. For a long time there were seven or eight in the jail, and he has kept his bill and received pay $5 a week for all of them, knowing the law well. He undoubtedly cleared $100 a month on boarding prisoners alone, pretty good for hard times. In the history of Linn county only one man has ever succeeded himself as sheriff, and the reason being made it pretty clear that the record will stop there for the present.

If the next legislature of Oregon which convenes in January '97 is composed of men who wish to cut off expenses, they will abolish the railroad commission and save $20,000 to the state treasury; the board of equalization which costs $6,000 should be thrown in the junk shop; the attorney general's office should be pitched out with it—$6,000. All salaries of county officers should be limited to $1500 a year. The committee clerk expense should be cut down from $25,000 to $5,000 for the session. A thorough cleaning up and weed out should be gone through with the insane asylum; all useless officials that in institution discharged and all sane papers returned to their friends. The state penitentiary should be converted into a home of industry, instead of a landing place for criminals as it is now. The governor's perquisites should be cut off and he should be paid fair wages for extra work imposed upon him out of his constitutional duties. He will have to talk enough of economy during the campaign, but men asking for suffrages of their fellow citizens should plainly place themselves along these lines or be elected to stay at home. We have had enough of legislative spendthrifts. Let us have a chairman of the economy and practical business—Grants Pass Courier.

THE REGULARS' ONT.
Mr. Glass was not hard enough.
Wire pulling may nominate a man for office but it takes ballots to elect him.
There were 45,000 fraudulent registrations in Chicago. That is a very wicked city.
The man who goes to Alaska for wealth is entitled to the sympathy of the world.
Harvey Scott has some crazy on the money question, but he is not a crazy man to go along with him—Capital Journal.
The Democrat doesn't care a fig whom the republicans nominate for congress. It is not the Democrat's business, but there is nothing like fair play.
Mr. Pugh developed considerable strength for sheriff, but the Democrat put him in the wrong place in its predictions of the order according to vote received.
It is always interesting to see a party professing harmony where chaos prevails.
Our present congress would be business if it could attend to the business of the U. S. as well as that of other nations.

TELEGRAPHIC.
The result of the congressional convention to meet in Albany Tuesday is a very hazy one. It is decidedly mixed. As it approaches the chances for the nomination of Hermann grow less; likewise the chances for Ford, while the prospect of a single gold standard party is a hanging tale. In the county delegation it is possible Hermann will have three votes, the other seven instead of being lost as stated by the Democrat. As a matter of fact they are not Ford, but in all probability are with either two exceptions for H. B. Miller, Hermann and Ford are getting strong on account of his gold proclivities, the gold bugs having gotten in their work in a good many counties. The proceedings of the convention will be watched with great interest by Albany people as well as the entire state. It will consist of 126 delegates.

As they approached the shore, the boat struck the rocks and the boys were thrown overboard. The boys were taken to the hospital, but they were pronounced dead on arrival.
