Becond-Class Mall Matter:

A bit of romance is wafted back from Minnesota, which will be of some interest to Salem people. We see by the Rushford (Minnesota) Star that Miss Etta Beamer, who sang in Aamold concert given in this city last year, was quietly married at McGregor, lowa, the ceremony, however, being performed in Prairie du Chien, Wis., just across the river. Her lover, J. H. Hanson, came to McGregor on his return from the south, to spend Sunday with his fiance. They visited Pictured Rocks, on Sunday, and returning went to Prairie du Chien, and did not reture until Monday morning, offering as their excuse the fact that the pontoon bridge was replaced that day, making it imppossible for any one to return to this side Sunday afternoon or night. They kept their secret until the termination of Miss Beamer's contract with Prof Aanold at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given two at Rushford, and when the last entertainment was over (having given twas for having the last of the last ent Minnesota, which will be of some intera daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. To the Public.

The time has come when the true state of affairs concerning the bare ball excursion must come to light (and let that bag of wind bust.) When the idea of runaing an excursion to Portland to the ball ames came up we went to the O. C. & E. Co. to see about ge'ting their boat (the Albany) and they asked us $250 for the it, but as we were not in the habit of buying boats or was not in that business. If we were we would buy a boat.) We went to the O. R. & N. Co. and got their weat to the O. R. & N. Co. and got their bont for $150 less. We guaranteed them $100, so the reason can be plainly seen why we are going to take the Eimore. Now after we had advertised that we were going to run an excursion Mr. Troutman came to us and wanted transdortation on the Elmore for the orchestra. As we could not answer at that time we told him we would let him know the next morning; but before we could get to see him he saw Mr. Sacry and that get to see him he saw Mr. Sacry and that entieman offered him 10 per cent of all oney taken in in Albany if they would money taken in in Albany if they would let the O. C. & E. advertise an excursion under their name. The O. C. & E. knew that would be their only chance to fight the base ball boys. The orchestra says now that they were thinking of running their excursion for 2 weeks before we advertised ours. If they did why did Mr. Troutman come to us and make the proposition he did. It can be plainly seen that this is all boeh, no truth in it. They are simply fighting the ball team over the O. R. & N. Co'e. shoulders. the O. R. & N.
