LETTER NO. 2

The Fair is gratified to find that al-though new its methods of business are bing copied by others who while hop-ing to benefit themselves are using their space and energy in s way that adver-tises us, as hundreds have already testi-fied. We do not blame others for try-ing to copy our already well known methods of business. In fact we take this opportunity to publicly thank them for calling attention to our bargains, and kindly inform them that if they will continue to watch our space they will get new ideas every week. Respt.
