The Salvation Army and the Con-ing Self-Denial Week.

EDITOR DEVOCRAT:

All eyes in the Salvation Army circles enial week. Self-denial week, so called because officers, corps, soldiers and friends join in a united effort during the week set apart for the purpose to deny themselves of some article of food or other comfort, and with the money thus saved create a fund for the benefit of the Army's work in their home and mission-ary field. It is a remarkable fact, the accomplishment of which ought to make the Army rejoice, that throughout the accomplishment of which ought to make the Army rejoice, that throughout the world by this effort over $400,000 were raised last year. With the economy that is practiced by the Army it is not difficult is practiced by the Army it is not difficult to reckon the tremendous good that can be accomplished with these funds. The Army will send its officers and soldiers to nearly every home in the United States during the days from March 19th to 26th inclusive. The people will be urged to deny themselves in some practical way, and thus contribute, however small may be the sum, to the effort. small, may be the sum, to the effort.

We might suppose, for instance, that 100,000 in the United States will deny themselves of one or two pounds of beef during the week, a thing many will do. We will suppose further more that each pound averages 15 cents. It is a simple problem of mathematics, that the coffers of the Army would be increased to the of the Army would be increased to the extent of $15,000. Add to this the saving from sugar, butter, etc., to say nothing of articles of clothing, and one will readily understand how, with the proceeds of such small self-denial, universally practiced, an immense and money may be raised for a noble pur X. sally practiced, an immense amount o

Threshers Adjourned

The meeting of threshers to agree up n prices for the season was to he held at the court house at 1 o'clock this afternoon, but owing to the fact that there was not a satisfactory attendance, only twelve, representing perhaps half as many machines, the meeting was ad-journed until Saturday, March 25. As nearly as the DEMOCRAT can learn the price the coming season will be 4 and 5 cents, and wages will as manal regulate themselves Several threshers stated to

It would be a shame on Albany to let such talent be right in our midet and not bear it, and it would surely not help her name elsewhere, to have it known.

I accordingly opened the olege Chapel to them, having favorable per centage rates with them and invite the musical public to come and hear them. Mr. Walther is probably as fines master violinist as Albany citizens have ever heard. Fraulein Eschelmann is a very brilliant performer on the piano. It will be a treat to hear them. Let all come. Tickets for sale at the College. The rate of admission is set by the company. I shall be glad to have my friends enjoy this treat. W. H. LEE. this treat.

Where Did They Go. Considerable interest has been taken dring the week in the disappearance of

"Rev." E. A. Harris and Miss Edna

Lear from Albany last Saturday. It was supposed that they went south, but it is total blindness, innamation and uncers in the eyes, led to the doctors office, cured went to Portland on the Sunday morning train eaw them on the train together for the first time the other side of Jefferson, but where they got on he did not know. They went to Portland, and further than to at is not known, though an fort is being made to trace them up. Clyde Snyder, who is a student at Al-bany college, came over Friday evening patch from Harris's wife in Missouri, and visited until Wednesday. stating that she was just getting ready to join her bushand here. She will defer the trip. The friends of Miss Lear are not like the situation. Harris, it seems, is not an ordained preacher. He had good letters when he came here, nothing is known of him personal
