Navy Department officials say that armor for our warships cannot be bought armor trust, formed to bleed the government. One of the members of this trust sold Russia three thousand tons of the same armor for $340 a ton. It was claimthat $40,000 was lost on that order, for the purpose of introducing their armor in Europe. This claim was a direct adpission that the armor only cost $255 a Congress. The reduction was made by the Senate. That is the sort of business that makes rich trusts and disgusts those who believe in old fashion honest deal ing with the government as well as with individuals. If the trust can make armor for $255 a ton, which its agents say it can, it can certainly afford to sell it to the government for $300 per ton, but of course, that is no reason that it will. It will probably prefer making the next Congress raise the price, and the next Congress, being republican in both branches, will probably be easier to control than the last was.
