Ad Willamettam.

[As written for the DEMOCRAT and first published in its issue of April 16, 1868.]

From the Cascade's frozen gorges,
Leaping like a child at play,
Winding, widening through the valley
Bright Willamette glides away.
Onward ever,
Lovely river,
Softly calling to the sea;
Time that scars us,
Maims and mars us,
Leaves no track or trench on thee.

Spring's green witchery is weaving
Braid and border for thy side;
Grace forever haunts thy journey
Beauty dimples on thy tide.
Through the purple gates of morning,
Now thy roseate ripples dance;
Golden, then, when day departing,
On thy waters trails his lance.
Waltzing, dashing,
Tinkling, plashing,
Limpid, volatile and free—
Always hurried,
To be buried
In the bitter moon-mad sea.

In thy crystal deeps, inverted,
Swings a picture of the sky,
Like those wavering hopes of Aiden,
Dimly in our dreams that lie;
Clouded often, drowned in turmoil,
Faint and lovely, far away—
Breathing sunshine on the morrow,
Breathing fragrance 'round today.
Love would wander,
Here and ponder—
Hither poetry would dream;
Life's old questions,
Sad suggestions,
"Whence and whither" throng the stream.

On the roaring wastes of ocean
Soon thy scattered waves shall toss;
'Mid the surges rythmic thunder
Shall thy silver tongues be lost,
Oh! thy glimmering rush of gladness
Mocks this turbid life of mine,
Racing to the wild Forever
Down the sloping path of time!
Onward ever,
Lovely river,
Softly calling to the sea,
Time that scars us,
Maims and mars us,
Leaves no track or trench on thee.

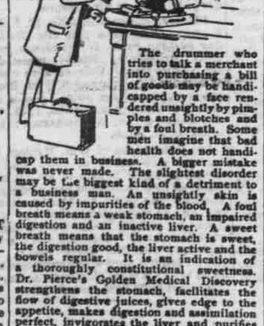
Bimetalism, despite all conspiracies on the part of republicans to retire it, still remains the dominant issue. The currency question (whether the government or the banks shall issue the paper money of the country) is going to forge to the front as one of the burning issues in the next year's campaign. The solution of these issues as outlined by the Chicago platform (free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 and the abolition of national banks of issue) would solve the trust question. The money trust is the parent root of all trusts, and until it is demolished the others will flourish. There can be no such thing as a legitimate fight on the trusts without the offer of a specific remedy. That kind of skulduggery will be left to the republicans. They will have an anti trust plank, but will offer no remedy.

There isn't the slightest doubt about the position of Representative Lentz on national issues. He said of the national outlook: The only thing that can keep Mr. Bryan from being president of the U. S. is for the Hanna democrats and the Hanna republicans to prevent his nomination. They are scheming to bring about that consummation, but they will hardly succeed. I am for Bryan in 1900, and a repetition of the Chicago platform, with some additions. I favor the election of U. S. senators by direct vote, and also hope to see the initiative and referendum made a part of our governmental system.

From the New York World. The formation of an enormous republican steel trust, representing $250,000,000 of capital and practically controlling the steel output of this country, is a perfectly logical development of the situation. Our manufacturers are able to produce iron and steel cheaper than they can be turned out any where else in the world. This is evidenced by the fact that we exported last year over $70,000,000 worth of these products to Europe and to Central and South American and Asiatic market in competition with European manufacturers. Still have to invite just a monopoly as is now forming, our law imposes an average duty of 45 per cent on manufacturers of iron and steel. Is it strange tha we are to have a gigantic new trust?

Peter J. Otey of Virginia says. The fight for silver is simply a fight on the gold trust, hence cannot be separated from a fight against trusts. Hence, I think the reaffirmation of the Chicago platform is a certainty, and hence the silver question can be no less prominent in the future than in the campaign of 1896, though the fight against trusts and militarism will be equally as pronounced.



The drummer who tries to talk a merchant into purchasing a bill of goods may be handicapped by a face rendered unsightly by pimples and blotches and by a foul breath. Some men imagine that bad health does not handicap them in business. A bigger mistake was never made. The slightest disorder may be the biggest kind of a detriment to a business man. An unsightly skin is caused by impurities of the blood. A foul breath means a weak stomach, an impaired digestion and an inactive liver. A sweet breath means that the stomach is sweet, the digestion good, the liver active and the bowels regular. It is an indication of a thoroughly constitutional sweetness. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach, facilitates the flow of digestive juices, gives edge to the appetite, makes digestion and assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It is the great blood-purifier. It makes the eye brighter, the skin clearer, the breath sweeter and the step more elastic. It imparts both mental and bodily activity. It cures all diseases resulting from impurities in the blood. Found at all medicine stores.

"I was a complete wreck; appetite gone, nervous system impaired; could not sleep; and was so weak that I could not stand on my feet ten minutes" writes Miss Ella Bartley, of No. 2134 South Grant Ave., Columbus, Ohio. "I only weighed 95½ pounds. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured me and now I have an excellent appetite, sleep soundly and my friends say they never saw me so well."

Yaquina bay has been mentioned editorially by the Oregonian as a summer resort and we shall now expect it to boom this year. As a matter of fact the outlook is for a big exodus to that favored resort this summer from Portland as well as from other places. It needs some big and fashionable hotels to draw the rich to it. Someday there may be a Santa Monica there.

Prof. Hadley, the new president of Yale, is a man of broad ideas, as a president of a college should be. That is, he is a man who is not governed by narrow partizan ideas the way some college presidents are, like the one at the head of the Willamette university for instance. Hadley is peculiarly a man of the people and he will make his mark as president of one of America's greatest colleges.

There is something repugnant to the American people's view of the fitness of things in the fact that Abner McKinley, the president's brother, is the representative of the North American Trust Co., which is the fiscal agent for the U. S. in the island, and that Mr. Miller, a relative of the president, is the resident agent in Cuba of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland which bonds the government employes.

General Otis reports to the War Department that the volunteers now serving in the Philippines desire to return home and be mustered out of service. The offer of a $500 bounty in the shape of travel pay to each man who will remain under arms is "received with great indifference."

Generals Funston and Hale also wish to return with their regiments. They state that while their men are "excellent fighters, they now show a great lack of enthusiasm, in marked contrast with their spirits during the war with Spain, and that they desire to get home at once."

In response to an article in the Seattle P. I. the Oregonian says:

The Oregonian is not seeking any benefits for itself. The Oregonian wants nothing from government, and government can do nothing for the Oregonian. But the Oregonian possibly may be able to do something for "the great political principles it advocates," by holding up to reprobation those in high places who are unfaithful to them; and at any rate it can have the satisfaction of uttering an independent and unshammed opinion. Further it dissents from the declaration that Mr. McKinley is "entitled" to renomination. That is mere servility. No person in office is entitled to another term.

Outing NO. 1.

Two minutes behind time, last Thursday morning, our train left Albany for Lebanon. The rise was a very monotonous one. There were six of us, one lady, four men and one boy. During the greater part of the journey there was no evidence that we were not all deaf and dumb mutes or Quakers whom the spirit did not move to speak. Even the conductor did not say "tickets" when he entered the car for the purpose of collecting them.

The most of my time was spent in looking at the growing crops along the way. The conclusion drawn from my observations can be told in a few words. The crop of wheat will be tolerably good, hay will be abundant, and oats, varying in height from two to twelve inches, will be a very uncertain quantity. In the East oats, only two inches tall on the 24rd of June would certainly be a complete failure. They would assuredly "eat and shoot" if they shot at all. What they will be in Oregon I cannot say.

When I took the hack at the depot for Sodaville, I appeared to be the only passenger; but before we left Lebanon the number had increased to six. Instead of one in a seat, however, as in the car, there were three, and it was soon discovered that they all had the gift of speech. The front seat was occupied by the president of Mineral Springs College, his daughter and the hack-driver. The other seat contained the president's wife, a school-marm and Caelebs. We were just a little too much crowded for comfort, and especially for a sixfooter. The hack had not been constructed with a view to the comfort of passengers whose pedal extremities require considerable outlet. And the condition of the road was such as to add to the discomfort of all. We never could tell when a wheel would go into a "chuck-hole" and cause a collision of the occupants of the same seat. For this reason, it would perhaps have been better, if the two teachers had been seated adjacent to each other. Then Caelebs would not have had to make such efforts as he did to avoid collisions with the president's wife.

When we arrived at Sodaville, I was very much surprised to see four young ladies, all graduates of Albany college, and its gallant professor standing on the porch of the hotel. If I had seen him standing with one of them I would have thought nothing of it; but as it was, I am puzzled. I am well aware that he is very gallant and does not confine himself to any particular one for a considerable length of time; but I am at loss to know why his gallantry assumed the form that it did last Friday. After mature deliberation, I have concluded that perhaps he wished to give all the girls a ride and thought the lump-job method would be the most economical and time saving and would at the same time avoid the risk of causing any jealousy among the fair damsels. But whether this is the true philosophy of his modus operandi or not, it was quite apparent that the girls were well pleased and were enjoying their ride to Sodaville and Waterloo and that the gallant professor thought he was getting the worth of his money.

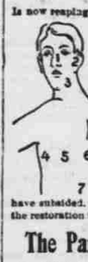
Here is a New Richmond cyclone experience told by the Minneapolis Tribune:

The experience of Thomas Heffron is almost past belief but those who have seen the awful power of the cyclone and believe in God's miracles may credit the story. Heffron was driving through Main street holding lightly to his horses reins. When the storm struck, the horse and buggy, and Mr. Heffron were picked from the street, carried through the air over several dwellings and set down upon the street again with horse and man unhurt, and the buggy free from damage. Scores were unwilling witnesses of the cyclone's work. Among them is Will Hillier. He was hurrying to his home, and was in sight of it when the cyclone was upon him. He threw himself down in the school yard, clasping the trunk of a tree and lay there holding firmly. He saw the air filled with flying debris, horses, cattle, dogs, fought off a runaway team with his umbrella, was hit with a flying board, but escaped from it all with only a slight bruise.

LA GRIPPE

Is now reaping a rich harvest. Medical statistics compiled by the best physicians of the world show that over sixty per cent of the cases of acquired CONSUMPTION are due to LA GRIPPE. There are also other points of weakness. Refer to the numbers on the chart. Study each one carefully. Familiarize yourself with them. If you have an attack of LA GRIPPE begin the use of HUDYAN as soon as the acute symptoms have subsided. HUDYAN will bring about the restoration to perfect health.



The Parts Affected Are:

2. (THE EAR DRUM) THE MUCOUS MEMBRANE OF THE EAR.—It becomes inflamed and thickened, giving rise to almost total deafness. HUDYAN will prevent the spread of the inflammation. The drum will not be affected and hearing will be unimpaired.

3. CHRONIC TONSILITIS, OR CHRONIC SORE THROAT.—From the same cause as the two preceding. HUDYAN will prevent its coming on.

4. WEAKNESS IN THE HEART.—HUDYAN will strengthen the heart nerves, equalize the circulation of blood, and cause the heart-beats to become strong and regular.

5-6. A WEAKENED CONDITION OF THE LOWER LOBES of THE LUNGS—HUDYAN will cause the lung tissue to become strong and healthy.
