

AT PRESIDIO.

A True Statement of the Facts by Albany Men.

The Portland papers on account of a failure to secure the mustering out in that city, have been making Presidio out a terrible place and nearly everybody preparing to die with the pneumonia.

All of the boys are well except Ed Cyrus. He is on the hospital ship. The Relief is expected here within ten days.

Mr. George Vandran, of the depot hotel returned this noon from San Francisco, where he spent considerable time with the boys at Presidio, who said it seemed like being at home to see an Albany man.

When the Albany boys reach Albany the city will be filled with Filipino curiosities, including Cap. Phillips' Filipino puppy and several monkeys.

The Oregonian today gives a picture of Census Supervisor Winn of this city giving him a distinguished appearance.

Mr. A. Hackleman reached Albany yesterday from Crook county with forty head of horses, after a six days trip.

I. R. Borum and wife returned this noon from their eastern Oregon and Washington trip and report a fine time.

Ed. Ford, of the Astoria and Columbia road, formerly of the Oregon Pacific who has several thousand friends around Albany, has been in the city on a visit.

C. G. Rawlings returned from Portland last evening, having secured for Judge Flinn three tickets on the City of Topeka from Tacoma to Skagway, to sail Aug. 8.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Assignment of F. M. Kizer. Distribution ordered, assignee discharged. Milton Hale et al. The First National Bank of Albany et al. partition. Decree of partition in favor of F. T. Fisher.

They Were Married.

The following appeared in the San Francisco Chronicle of the 16th inst., as a telegraphic dispatch from Redwood City, California: Mrs. Emma Thompson, through her attorney, S. W. Crndon, of Oakland, has made her appearance in the estate of Dr. H. H. Thompson, who died some months ago at San Mateo.

ARRESTED THREE TIMES.—Several weeks ago Sheriff Gage, of Coos county, was in Albany with Ed White arrested for the second time for the robbery of Lorenzo's store in Coquille City, in company with another man.

A REMARKABLE PHOTOGRAPH.—J. G. Crawford, the photographer, probably has the best collection of Bay pictures ever taken, recently secured. In the collection is an oddity in photography.

Prof. Wheeler, of Cornell, has accepted the Presidency of the University of California.

The Grangers will play their third game of base ball with Independence next Sunday at that place.

The city of Salem will sell $65,000 of bonds to local capitalists at 4 per cent. It ought to be taken at once with the idle money in the banks at that city.

There are a number of canpers at the Breitenbush hot springs. It is being learned that these springs possess just as many good qualities as hot springs several hundred miles away from home.

Dr. Barr of Lebanon returned this noon from Roseburg where he had been in the interest of the midsummer excursion to San Francisco, and reports great interest in it and the prospects of a big crowd.

People who were down street from 5:30 to 6 a. m. were treated to quite a circus. G. B. Haight, taking advantage of the absence of his family was learning to ride a bicycle.

Many of our readers will regret to learn of the death of James Attridge, of Harriburg, Saturday evening, July 15, 1895. Deceased was a brother-in-law of Mrs. C. L. Attridge, near Waterloo, recently deceased.

While unloading a load of hay at Skipton's this morning Mr. John Hunter was covered up by a big fork full which fell from the top. Fortunately he was not hit by the fork and soon crawled out on the worse for the accident.

BORN.

PEACOCK.—On Thursday morning, July 20, 1895, in Cloverdale, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Peacock, a daughter. The mother, seven brothers and three sisters, as well as the new comer, number eleven, all doing well.

THE ALUM BAKING POWDERS.

Names of Some of the Principal Brands Sold in this Vicinity.

The recent discussion in the papers of the effect upon the human system of food made with alum baking powders and the opinions that have been published from noted scientists to the effect that such powders render the food unwholesome, have caused numerous inquiries for the names of the various alum powders.

The following list of baking powders containing alum is made up from the reports of State Chemist Nicholson of Nebraska, the City Chemist of St. Louis, the Food Commission of Minnesota, or other reliable authority:

- Baking Powders Containing Alum: K. C. Contains Alum. Jacques Mfg. Co., Chicago. CALUMET. Contains Alum. Calumet Baking Powder Co., Chicago. HOME. Contains Alum. Home Baking Powder Co., San Francisco. WASHINGTON. Contains Alum. Pacific Chemical Works, Tacoma. CRESCENT. Contains Alum. Crescent Mfg. Co., Seattle. WHITE LILY. Contains Alum. D. Ferrara & Co., Tacoma. BEE HIVE. Contains Alum. Washington Mfg. Co., San Francisco. BON BON. Contains Alum. Grand Chemical Co., Chicago. DEFIANCE. Contains Alum. Portland Coffee & Spice Co., Portland. PORTLAND. Contains Alum. Beno & Ball, Portland.

In addition to these, it is learned that many grocers are selling what they call their own private or special brands. These powders are put up for the grocers and his name put upon the labels by manufacturers of alum powders in St. Louis, Chicago, Kansas City, Tacoma, San Francisco and elsewhere.

It is quite impossible to give the names of all the alum baking powders in the market. They are constantly appearing in all sorts of disguises, under all kinds of cognomens, and at all kinds of prices, even as low as five and ten cents a pound. They can be avoided, however, by the housekeeper who will bear in mind that all baking powders sold at twenty-five cents or less per pound are liable to contain alum, as pure cream or tartar baking powders cannot be produced at anything like this price.

Lebanon.

From the Criticon. Mrs. Pet. Smith has been clerking in the post office for the past week.

Miss Flo Nutting, daughter of Editor Nutting, of the Albany Democrat, visited with Mrs. E. L. Power several days last week.

The Albany boys have reorganized their ball club, and have issued a challenge to any club that may wish a game. Our boys will be after them without much delay.

Dr. Curll will have charge of Dr. Barr's dental parlors during the absence of Dr. Barr while attending to the management of his San Francisco excursion.

Miss Sylvia Bryant arrived home Saturday night from Shelton, Wash., at which place she has been teaching for the past few months. We learn that Miss Bryant gave splendid satisfaction.

At Chadler's factory they are now making about 150 pounds of cheese per day. This capacity could be easily doubled, and probably will be before another year.

C. B. Winn, of Albany, has been appointed census supervisor for this district. Mr. Winn is one of the best qualified men in the district for the position, and his many friends at this place are glad to hear of his appointment.

While Mrs. J. N. Crandall was visiting in Kansas this spring she was given 18 guinea eggs, which she brought home with her and set under a hen. Last week 15 of the eggs hatched. A remarkable hatching, considering the distance the eggs were brought.

FRIDAY

The 7th of August.

In a letter received by Mr. Harry Schlosser from his brother-in-law Capt. Phillips the information was given that the Oregon boys will be mustered out on the 7th of August and the Albany boys will reach Albany in a body on the 10th of August.

Yesterday Mr. Schlosser received from Capt. Phillips a Japanese pug brought by him from Manila, weighing thirty ounces. It is a beauty.

JUDGE BURNETT'S GIFT.—The members of Chemeketa Lodge No. 1, I. O. E. of this city, last evening were happily surprised by Judge George H. Burnett, who presented the lodge with a photograph of the charter members of this pioneer Odd Fellows' organization in the north-west. The set consists of five photographs, all enclosed in a heavy black and gold frame, the pictures being of five members, whose names appear on the original charter granted by the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows to Chemeketa Lodge No. 1, as follows: S. M. Barnum, E. N. Cooke, B. F. Harding, Joel Palmer and C. S. Woodworth.—Journal.

The team of John Armstrong ran away twice at Stayton on two succeeding days, making things up both times.

The Independence band will furnish music at the Bay this year.

Saloon Order Countermanded.

From the Examiner: General Manager Julius Kruttschnitt of the Southern Pacific has blundered and several of the directors have not minced words in telling him so.

The fuse is all over Kruttschnitt's recent order prohibiting the sale of wines, liquors and malt beverages at depot stations and dining rooms. The order was issued without the knowledge of the directors, and yesterday they gave him instructions to completely countermand it.

Kruttschnitt's reason, as given to the directors when called upon for an explanation for issuing the order, was that the sale of intoxicants at stations was a too great and constant temptation to trainmen leading sober lives and yet permitting liquor to be sold right before their eyes day in and day out on railroad property. This he thought very inconsistent.

Oregon Literature.

The DEMOCRAT is under obligations to Prof. J. B. Horner, A. M., Litt. D., of the O. A. C., for a copy of his book of the above title, just issued from the press. It contains 104 pages and is a splendid symposium of the literature of the state of Oregon, presenting some gems our state need not be ashamed of.

Reference is made to many of the early writers and preachers of the state among others a neat compliment to our own Josiah Pavey. A fine tribute is paid to Sam Simpson and his famous Ad Wilamette is given in full. The little book is a credit to the author and should be in the hands of Oregonians generally whether pioneers or new comers.

A Famous Tourist Here.

Frank S. Colburn walked into Albany last night. Without the customary 4th of July, cartoonist makeup Colburn is an excellent representation of Uncle Sam. He is known as the "Yankee tourist" and whistles Yankee doodle, we all love to hear, as he enters a town, and has somewhat of a walk of his own. Colburn walked across the continent in 1897 because he wanted to make a collection of 2,000 business cards on the way.

Scio.

From the News: Mrs. Curson returned from Salem Monday evening, and we are informed that she will erect a neat cottage on her property on the south side, to replace the one destroyed by fire some time ago.

Dr. A. G. Prill has purchased from Alex. Montgomery the block of land on which the old school building stood. It is just about the prettiest building spot in Scio, and next season the doctor contemplates the erection of a neat residence there.

Johnson & Phillips this week received an order from Yokohama, Japan, for 32000 sacks of flour to be delivered at the rate of 8000 sacks per month. These people have been doing considerable business in Japan for some time past, but this is the largest order that they have been asked to fill.

Next Sunday afternoon there is going to be a Bohemian picnic at Cladok's ball, about seven miles east of Scio, and indications point to a day of great enjoyment. Mr. Bladok has built a nice hall and has completed arrangements for given an up to date exhibition in the slight of hand line. He is an expert in this art, and has a large assortment of paraphernalia for this line of work.

The A. O. U. W. will meet in Salem next year.

The Quaker (?) doctors are operating in Coos county.

Seventeen Pennsylvania school teachers passed through Albany yesterday.

The Telegram says that a Linn county farmer will stock the district with English partridges and Reaves pheasants. Bring them on.

The Woodmen of the World have paid the insurance of $5,000 on the life of J. R. Buckham, of Harriburg, being satisfied that he perished in the mountains. The state board of education granted papers to Linn county teachers as follows: State diplomas for graduates of Albany College to Joseph Tyree, Nellie Fosham, Anna Marshall, Anna Crautree and Ada Mochne; Santiam: Mary McCormick, Marion Cleaver, Anna Steen, Jessie Andrews and Francis Griggs.

An Albany professor perpetrated something of a pun when he said he was sorry to see a certain Albany firm growing Litter & Littler. Instead it is a fortunate combination.

Sup's J. H. Ackerman has turned over to the state treasurer $1500 received on diplomas and certificates since the first of the year. This is the kind of money Superintendent Irwin used to pocket.

65,000 bushels of what were sold at Coifax yesterday for 43 cents. This is not exactly a prosperous item for its cost about that much if not more to raise wheat.

The Telegram's piano contest ended in the piano going to Miss Nellie Watson, the gold watch to Mrs. A. E. Watson and the ladies' bicycle to Miss Medora Whitfield. The Telegram made the most out of it. Such contests settle nothing.

The Examiner interviewed the publisher in reference to General Oils. One man said he is too poor, another that he is an old stick, another that he is an old granddaddy, another that the campaign as conducted by him is a farce and the general opinion is that he is not fit to command the campaign.

Judge Boise disposed of the case of Hallie M. Cooper agt. Edward E. Cooper, for divorce, yesterday afternoon, granting a divorce after an interesting trial. Court was then adjourned until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Judge Boise went to Salem on the morning train to attend to a case there.

BUNCOED.

A McMinnville Man Gets Take in Easily.

Last Thursday noon William Coxwell, of McMinnville, arrived in Albany from the O. & E. train, and stopped here during the afternoon while on his way to Southern Oregon. At the depot he met a stranger who gave the name of Morgan and said he was a cousin of Al Morgan of McMinnville. He was so going to Southern Oregon, to Grants Pass, to which place he was shipping a number of things by express on which the fees were $80, and would Mr. Coxwell lend him the money, and he would pay it back at Grants Pass. Through a pretty big express bill Mr. Coxwell loaned the money and Morgan went to attend to the express. Mr. Coxwell returned this morning from Grants Pass on the overland, and reported to the Acting Chief of Police, stating that nothing had been received at the express office for him. He realized that he had been buncoed, and said he guessed he would look around for the man a little, and left for home this noon, no doubt wiser by actual experience. The buncoer was a man forty-five or fifty, thick set and of pleasant address.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

W. W. Curtis has returned from a trip to Portland.

Chief Justice Wolverson was in the city this afternoon.

Mrs. Quinn and Mrs. Kate Marinan went to Salem yesterday.

Miss Elsie Martin returned last evening from a visit with Portland friends. All Band members meet tonight "promptly" at 8 o'clock for practice.

Prof. McElroy, of Eugene, passed through Albany this noon on his way home from The Dalles.

Misses Alice Temple and Hattie Chesney came up from Salem this noon on visit with Linn county friends.

Capt. Jason Wheeler returned this forenoon from a several weeks visit at the Kitson springs, looking like a new man.

Mr. Hedrick, who has been with the Combination Shop, has rented the shop opposite the DEMOCRAT office, and will open it next week.

Capt. May, of the second regiment, who left a good position on the S. P. upon his return will be given a better one it is said, by the company.

General Shafter has been at Ashland one day this week delivering a lecture on the Santiago campaign, in which it may be remembered he took a big part.

The Sunday school of the Congregational church held a picnic party at Thornton's lake yesterday afternoon, where they had a fine time. A nice place for a picnic.

Mr. C. O. Hgue returned this noon from The Dalles. He is now grand overseer of the grand lodge of A. O. U. W. of Oregon. He reports Rev. Polling as not very well when he left.

A. Mosier recently of this city is running a cigar and confectionary store in Hoquiam. D. Kennedy, of this city, will work in his store and will leave Monday for Hoquiam.

The remains of Mrs. E. Milne, who died at Ashland on July 21, were taken through Albany this forenoon for Monmouth her former home. The deceased was a daughter of Dr. Waterhouse.

L. L. Van Nortrick, formerly an artist in the Occidental barber shop, passed through Corvallis yesterday on his way to the bay. He goes to engage in business for the summer.—Corvallis Times

E. E. Davis returned to Harriburg this noon from a several days business stay in Albany. He will probably remove to this city in time for the fall term of school.
