Not a Rival in Sight

When the linen that has been done up at the Magnolia Steam Laundry is put in contrast with that laundered elsewhere. The beauty of our laundry work makes us justly proud, and we feel like crowing every time we see the difference our superb color and finish on the shirts collars and cuffs done up by our methods with linen laundered by the old time methods.

CIRCUIT COURT.

In the case of the State agt. P. G. Morris for embezzlement of public funds the testimony for the plaintiff plainly showing the alleged shortage of $1,654.64 for the second term was closed last night and the case of defense was presented in a short time this forenoon, the gist of which was that the defendant had received no benefit from the shortage and if there was one it was without any evil intent on his part. The case was given to the jury about 3 o'clock, and it is probable it will be several hours before a verdict is rendered if the jury does not disagree.

The chief of police was directed to enforce the ordinance requiring lamps on bicycles after dark.

Local Minstrels.

Albany people were given a second treat in local minstrelsy last evening at the A. O. U. W. hall, the large hall being filled on the occasion of the appearance of the A. O. U. W. minstrels in all their glory.

As a prelude Capt. Phillips and his sailors presented a fine flambeau drill on the first witnessed by an immense crowd. The letters A. O. U. W. and the shield and anchor were represented in a pretty manner.

The olio to the entertainment was a live affair with some fine work and wonderful jokes by the comed men, interspersed being timely solos by those prince of minstrels J. C. Irvine and Will Hawkins.

Orin Beam shone as a stump speaker, Sam Holman proved a twentieth century clog dancer, John Tait as always did some fine work in Indian club swing, Neal Mary spread over everything in a live argument on watermelons, A. S. Hart with accompaniment by Messrs Merry, Hawkins and Southland, was the belle of the show, his dancing being of an artistic character greatly enhanced by a lovely form and up-to-date apparel.

An encore was responded to with a cake walk by Hart and Hawkins, with some charming maneuvers.

The successful entertainment closed with a series of very pretty stately beautifully represented by Misses Hammy and Adams, Hazel Pfeiffer and Master Lingren, closing with "Good Night."
