ed on the sidewalk, and I heard one of Eastern Oregon's prominent Democrats, an ex-Senator from Wasco county, make this inquiry: Who is that large, portly, fine looking colored gentleman standing in front of the Chemeketa Hotel? I looked and, lo!I beheld James H. Slater. He was in Salem for the purpose of offering himself to the people as United States Senator, in case the Mitchell and Corbett fight happened to take a turn that showed any chance for a Democrat, yet he rendered none of the assistance that he, as a member of Congress, might have rendered in behalf of this measure; I doubt very much whether he knew that such a measure was actually necessary to prevent many of our best citizens from being driven from house and home, and being deprived of the earnings of long years of Pioneer life, hard-ships, privations and toil. I drew up the amendment, assisted by the suggestion of Mr. Hannah and other gentlemen from Eastern Oregon, as well as the Governor, who took a deep interest in our behalf. Istayed and work-ed for its passage, and made it a point to get to talk with nearly all the members on the sub-ject, and lay its importance before them, and came home nearly six hundred dollars out of pocket on the trip. Who was it succeeded in securing guns last spring for the defense of the success of the securing guns last spring for the defense of the success securing guns last spring for the defense of the settlers in Wallowa Valley, as well as ourselves, in case we were destined to have trouble with the Indians. Did Mr. Slater do anything towards it? What assistance did he lend when our citizens were organizing in order to hold themselves in readiness to help protect and defend the citizens of Wallowa against raids and depredations of Joseph and his band? Was he on the war path then? Who circulated petitions over this county, at their own expense, asking Congress to leave the Wallowa Valley open for settlement by the whites? Did Mr. Slater do anything to-wards it? He is a citizen of La Grande, owns be interested in her growth and prosperity. How much interest has he ever manifested in regard to the success of La Grande in the contest for the location of the County Seat? He told me himself, while coming up from Umedials of the stars. Contest for the located for the located for the coning up from He told me himself, while coming up from Umatilla on the stage, that he did not pro-pose to take any hand in the right; he is not on that war path, and why? Because he is afraid he might make an enemy or two over at Union, he dare not assume any responsi-bility. He has not got the independence of bility. He has not got the independence of character, or moral courage to do right when he knows he is right. He has not got as much Back Bone as a Sturgeon, and I understand they have not got a bone in them. He refused to serve as a School Director in La Grande because the people did not want his Private Secretary to teach their children.

Yet he wants to be a Granger, And with the Granger's stand, A hoe upon his shoulder And his back pay in his-pocket.

I am satisfied I would be safe in making the assertion that I have contributed more money to forward the interests of the Dem-ocratic Party every year than he has ever done since he has been a citizen of Union County. One of the grave charges that he brought against me, in his celebrated speech at Iowa Precinct, was that I wear a very fan-cy pair of auburn side whiskers. Can it be My good looks has always been one of my greatest FAULIS; but this is the most seri-ous difficulty I have been led into by them. He may have grounds for complaint against the great Creator, but he certainly ought motto blame me for being good look-ber I always try to hole into a semely ed, and there was an immense crowd gather- Mr. Slater's "Explanation," and the uni- in La Grande, asking their advice as to the versal verdict is that it is entirely "Too Thin." In view of the fact that Eastern Oregon is entitled to the nomination of M. L, and, being fully satisfied that Mr. Slaer could not get the nomination. even if ne could go to Albany with all the sup-port from Eastern Oregon, I have publish-ed the following circular:

To the Democracy of the State of Oregon .- GENTLEMEN AND FELLOW CITI-ZENS:--Having received numerous letters from prominent Democrats of Eastern Oregon, and having also been urged by many influential Democrats west of the Cascades to allow my name to be present-ed to the Democratic State Convention as a andidate for Member of Cougress, and believing that the democracy of the State are desirous of bestowing the nomination for that position east of the Cascades in case a candidate be found who will not prove objectionable to the democracy of the State; and having become thoroughly in my possession that Mr. Slater's course I be placed in nomination 1 will use all my energy in securing the success of the Democratic party, and in case of election I will devote my entire time in behalf of the interests of the people of Oregon. Very Respectfully, E.S. McCOMAS. Now, Fellow Citizens, I desire to call your attention to the tone of the Democrat-ic Press of the Willamette Valley in regard to the proper course to be pursued by the

to the proper course to be pursued by the Democratic Party at the coming Convention:

DEMOCRACY IN CONNECTICUT .-- The telethe Wallowa Valley open for settlement by the whites? Did Mr. Slater do anything to-wards it? He is a citizen of La Grande, owns property there, and as such is supposed to be interested in her growth and prosperity. reaffirm their devotion to the Constitu tion, denounce official corruption in all its various forms, extravagance, the salary grabbers, land monopolists, and Grant's Administration. To the financial policy of the Administration they attribute the

It will be seen from this that the plan for the campaign is for an aggressive fight, in which the many crimes of the Republi-can party are to be charged home and their authors thoroughly ventilated. This Private Secretary to teach their children. As a citizen and farmer, how much stock has he subscribed toward helping the people of Union county complete grounds and buil-dings for the purpose of holding County Fairs? Not a share—nary red! Yet he wants to be a Granger, is eminently correct, and the example thus set should be followed by the Democratic the party each time further removed from the work the people look to it to perform. We want, instead, a truly Democratic plat-form, bearing the same emphatic and un-deniable ring that belonged to Democratic utterances in the days gone by when De-mocracy was the power in the land, and we want men for standard bearers whose hands have never been polluted by dis-honest deeds, and whose names are not coupled with salary grabs and similar offi-cial rascalities. It is useless to ask Demo-crats to support any other, while they will rally to a man for the right if given an op-nortunity portunity.

The times are auspicious for a great Democratic victory in Oregon next June if the proper course is pursued. The ene-my is sick nigh unto death. Pursue this right course, and give the people a good platform and proper candidates, and the course he ought to pursue, in which he stated that he voted against the bill all the way through. Now, let us look and see how our members from Oregon did vote on that bill. I hold in my hand the New York Tribune of August 6th, 1873, which gives a statement of the vote of each Senator and Representative on the Back Salary Bill. We here see that Senator Corbett voted five times against the bill-drew his back pay and donated it to the Washington Monument Fund. Slater, J. H., of Oregon, voted twice for the bill, twice against the bill and was four times absent. This evidence comes from the Gospel, according to St. Greeley, and we think he will hardly, at this late day, question the veracity of the witness whom he, a short time ago, was so earnestly endeavoring to try and in-duce the people to make President of the United States. He claimed at Summerville, that he paired off with Mr. McNeeley, of Ill. Now, while he might have done so on the last four votes, which may account for his absence, everybody knows that he did not PAIR with anybody when he was in his seat twice when the roll was called, and twice voted for the bill. What must the people of Oregon think of the honor and veracity of an Ex Member of Congress, who comes to them, and in wide spread publication, and almost daily announcements from the stump, tries to make them believe that he voted against this bill, when the records show to the con-trary. Would it not have been a wiser and more manly course for him to have done like H. W. Parker, of New Hampshire, who would not touch the money until he went home and entered into another Congressional canvass, during which he denounced the measure on the stunip, bit as soon as he was defeated he went and drew it. Or like C. N. Lamison, of Ohio, who, having been twice requested by his constituents to resign, finally told the he would see them in hell first, and that he voted for the bill and proposed to keep the money. Time will not allow me to consider the painful and humiliating condi-tion in which Mr. slater has placed himself. The matter has been plainly stated, and it needs no argument of mine to enable the people to arrive at a verdict. I desire to refer to some things that Mr.

Slater said at Summerville, in a speech of two hours length of time, in which he apparently undertook to avoid any argument, but opened and poured out the seven vials of his mighty wrath on my devoted head for one hundred and twenty minutes. But I was so glad of it-for while it done me no harm, every one seemed to think that the stupend ous disgorgement of black boil, blackguardism and filth, that he purged his system of, on that occasion, was calculated to do him a great deal of good, and many seemed to hope it might eventually make a man of him. Mr. Slater says if I should receive the nomination for member of Congress, I could not make the canvass. He also said that "the man does not live that he fears to meet in debate." Be that as it may. I notice his friends think it necessary to require him to make two lengthy speeches to my one short one, in order to keep even with me; and I un-derstand they were talking of getting up another letter at Summerville, asking him to male a third attempt down there.

Mr. Slater claims to be one of the ablest canvassers in Oregon. In 1870, when he and Governor Grover were on the ticket together, he says Governor Grover's health was so feeble that he could not make the canvass, this throwed heavy work upon Mr. Slater, and he canvassed the entire State, while Governor Grover did not, yet Mr. Slater, with all his ability to blow off steam and drink water on the stump before large and admiring audi-ances, ran 148 votes behind Governor Grover, ing, I always try to look just as homely as I possibly can.

Another charge that he makes is that I carry a silver headed cane. The stick he speaks of was presented to me by a warm, personal, Democratic friend, Johny Hol-ton, of the Cosmopolitan Hotel at Port-land. I would return it if I thought it would induce Mr. Slater to retire from the War Path. But Mr. Holton is one of those men that never takes anything back. those men that never takes anything back. I broke the old stick over a dog, and as this stick is now the very best of Demo-cratic hickory I do beg of Mr. Slater to al-low me to carry it; I won't hurt him with it if he will let me alone. He objects to me wearing slippers. I know its wrong; a person is so liable to take cold. I have three apologies to make for hurting his feelings in this respect: First—They were feelings in this respect: First—They were a present from my wife, and she says I al-ways look well in slippers. Second—I have corns on my toes. Third—I was getting my boots fixed when he caught me at it. Now, gentlemen, and all caudid, honorable men, I desire to ask you what kind of argument I desire to ask you what kind of argument you call this to come from an ex-Member of Congress? A man who we supposed, when we elected him, had some of the qualifications of a statesman and gentleman? Don't you seriously think he had better have stayed at home and refused to have been made the tool of a little, sore-headed ring, than to make a canvass of this county and undertake to make the people believe that this species of the low-est kind of "mud slinging" and Blackguardism constitutes argument Iunderstand Mr. Slater dwelt lengthily in his address in regard to Repudiation, and claimed that I was a Repudiationist.— Now I did not know that this question cut any figure in this campaign, but, in order to prove that his assertions are false, I will say that I never was in tavor of Repudia-tion, and can prove it by every one who did favor that course, and, as evidence, I will say that I was running the Grande Ronde Sentinel at that time, and have all my editorials, and no word favoring such a course can be found, and I will furnish the papers ant give any person Twenty Dollars that will find any article favoring such a movement, and I positively refused to allow Col. Dow to publish articles in its colamns arguing in tavor of Repudiation. It makes, is FALSE, and was made so know-ingly. He charges me with having writin his address in regard to Repudiation, ingly. He charges me with having writ-ten articles to kepublican papers reflect-ing on him; and, as proof, reads an article from the Dalles Mountaineer. Now there is not a man who reads the Mountaineer index of his most earnest supporters. Should I receive the nomination, and I assure you that I consider my chances much better than Mr. Slater's, I shall go to Washington by the nearest and most practicable rou e: I shall who does not know this accusation to be false. The "Mountaineer" is an independent, local paper, and is, to-day, taking a bolder stand in favor of Eastern Oregon, and against the monopolies that controlls our destinies, than any paper published East of the Cascades. His name is not mentioned in the article that he refers to, but, if there are any facts in said article that fits his measure, he is perfectly welcome fits his measure, he is perfectly welcome to the benefit of them, for I wrote the arti-cle. He says he has no doubt he can prove that one half the Delegates to the last two Democratic County Conventions in this County were BotgHT. Now, gentlemen, you who acted as Delegates to our last two County Conventions, how do you like that for a starter. Put that in your pipes, go home and smoke it and see how it tastes. The assertion is too low down and con-temptible for me to answer, and, as I was temptible for me to answer, and, as I was not a Delegate, I leave if for your consid-eration. Now, Fellow Citizens, in conciu-sion allow me to say I am a candidate for M. C., and I want it distinctly understood that I mean business, and that I consider my abapese for the nomination good - I my chances for the nomination good. I have been in receipt of letters constantly since the first political movements were began in this campaign, urging me to al-low my name used as a candidate for that position. These letters are from the ablest and most influential Democrats in the State, in which they argue that the De mocracy are anxious to place a candidate on the ticket for M. C. from east of the mountains, but that the Convention will mountains, but that the Convention will undoubtedly adopt a platform, one of the main features of which will be a resolution denouncing the Back Salary Grab—and they say—"What consistency would there be in adopting a platform denouncing Back Pay, and then placing Mr. Slater on the ticket, and expect him to engage in a canvass in which he would have to de-nounce himself, and in which he would be booted at and ridiculed off the stump.—

Eastern Oregon is entitled to the candidate for member of Congress, and as 1 am fully satisfied that the candidates for Governor, Secretary of State, State Treasurer and State Printer will be selected on the west side of the mountains, all we have got to do is to name our man, that can run consistently on a platform denouncing the financial policy of Grant's Administration, and the Back Salary Grab, and all the innumerable schemes of corporations, monopolies, rings and land grabbing swindles, and his nomination and

The Administration of Gov. Grover has been so unquestionably pure and honest, so energetic and persevering in looking after the interests of the State, so bold, dignified and manly in regard to our Indian unficulties, that it has almost entirely silenced partisan and hostile criticism, an instance unparallele 1 in this era of gross and partisan vituperation. It is, therefore, the duty of the Democracy of Eastern Gregon to select some man as a caudidate for member of Congress who will not prove objectionable to the people of the State. Select hum, nominate him, and I will be found among the foremost I receive the nomination, and I assure you Mr. Slater's, I shall go to Washington by the nearest and most practicable rou e; 1 shall take no affidavits of my friends to show that I am entitled to mileage by way of San Francisco, when I go by kellon; and when I am there I will remember those who were my friends, as well as those who opposed me and shall impartially distribute public documents and barden seeds alike to ali, and will endeavor to attend promptly and impartially been around addressing the people in regard to our local interests, will be received with something of the same spirit as was his explanation of his vote on the Back Pay Salary Grab, when they learn the discrepancy that exists between the statement made by the official record and the statements made by him. Mr. Slater says he recognizes the right of the people to criticise all his acts. Let us ask him then, how he voted on the Back Salary Bill? It seems hardly necessary to do so however, as there is, probably, not a man, woman or child in this county whom he has not toad he voted against the bill all the way through; he has made this bold declaration in every speech he has made in this county, since he took the war path, with the excep-tion of his last speech at Summerville. By referring to his letter to Col. Tom. Cann, in who did not try to make the canvass.

I have always heard Governor Woods spoken of, even by Democrats, as one of the fin est orators and ablest canvassers that ever made a political tour of this State; yet you will find very few Republicans who will not admit that as a Governor of this State, he was a total failure. While Mr. Slater may claim to fear no man on the Rostrum in de bate, I have no doubt there are many Democrats who would make the same concession in regard to his executive ability, that Repub licans do in regard to Governor Woods

In reference to this matter the Mountain Sentinel of last Saturday has the following. "Daniel Chaplin this week received a letter from Col. Chapman the contents of which were private, but Mr. C. informs us that the prospects for the passage of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad bill is MORE FLATTERING THAN EVER! Thanks even for this to Sen. ators Mitchell and Kelly and to Representative Nesmith, and to all others who have assisted in the enterprise."

OUB COUNTY TICKET .- From all portions of the county we are receiving letters which speak in the highest terms of the Democratic Ticket nominated by our Democratic County Convention, and the ticket will receive the hearty support of all good democrats as well as a large percentage of those who do not take part in politics, but wish to see good. honest men in office. There is not the ghost of a chance for an inde pendent sorehead ticket. The fight will be between the straight Democratic and Republican forces. The men on our ticket are all old citizens. They are capable and honest than any ticket that has ever been before the people in Baker County. It is no use for us to particularize in relation to our candidates and we have not the room this week to do so if we wished. With a good State ticket to head the county ticket, Baker County is good for 250 majority for every man on it.
