DIRECT TO ALSEA BAY ON CASTEEL RAILS

The great question agitating the minds of scientists as to the value of Casteel rails is set at rest in the mind of your reporter. Last Monday a week ago, he and a friend took a run to Alsea Bay-we went on Casteel rails. Setting out from Corvallis in the morning, the first station reached is Eng. land-Mr. James H, Russell has a neat lomath at 3 P. M. dwelling house and an excellent farm there. He took us to his house to dine with him, entertained us sumptuously and tried to induce us to stay longer. Mrs. R. is a good housekeeper. The next station is New Brunswick-Mr. Trenholm lives there. He and his wife know how to take care of strangers. Thence we hastened on to Ruscame up last Tuesday morning. sellville. Several families inhabit this town. We were royally entertained by Messrs. Russell and Peak. Their wives are intelligent, cultivated and refined. Here we took boat and went down the Alsea riv er to the bay. Along the route are lands in a high state of cultivation; also thousands of acres of unimproved soil.

One remark as to the people in general They are kind, generous and hospitable they take pleasure in welcoming strangers. I was an entire stranger-did not introduce myself as reporter of the GAZETTE-and, nevertheless, received all the attention that a GAZETTE man could have expected. The general impression upon a stranger is, that the people are well-to-do and happy.

MEATS, VEGETABLES, FRUITS. Etc., Etc.

THIS WONDERFUL PROCESS WILL KEEP Meats, Fi-h. TESTIMONIALS: TESTIMONIALS:

ALEANY, April 20, 1879.

The undersigned physicians of Albany, having seen the apparatus used in Ames' process for preserving meats, etc., and heard the manner of its use explained, together with the chemicals used, will say, that as used, we do not consider there is any danger to the health to be feared, either in operating the apparatus, or in using the articles preserved. Not having seen a protracted test of the process of preservation by the chemicals, as used in the manner indicated, we will only say that the theory sounds reasonable, and we can assign no cause why the process should not prove a success.

Corvallis, April 24, 1879.

The undersigned physicians of Corvallis, Oregon, having had explained to us Ames' process for preserving meats, etc., can say that there is nothing unhealthy about it, as used, and that no fears need be apprehended on that account. We have also seen meat, fish, butter, etc., that has been kept several weeks by this "process," and believe that its claims to keep the various articles of provisions sweet and fresh can be sustained.
