LOCAL NOTES.

T. J. Buford Keeps all of the leading Newspapers, Magazines, Novels, etc. After the top pistol comes the green apple. All kinds of Blanks in stock and for sale at the Gazette office.

The Corvallis GAZETTE for sale on the counter of Buford's news depot.

Rev. M. Atchison, of Oakville, Linn county, was in the city the first of the week.

Lafe Wilson and Roy Baber can now return from the Bay. Bartlett is gone.

F. M. Johnson and wife, Lefe Wilson and Roy Baber started for the Bay Saturday afternoon.

A. J. Langworthy's cash store is the place to get bargains in dry goods, groceries and provisions.

A number of our citizens went to Albany last Friday to attend the funeral of Gen. Mart. V. Brown.

Uncle Will Henkle says it is too late to harvest. He has cut, thrashed and stored his whole crop of several hundred bushels.

The New Benton Democrat is on our table published in this city weekly by John. son Olenka. It is in reality a resurrection of the Benton Blade.

The boy looked forward to the Fourth, "Toy pistol, hold in hand!"

He fired—It burst—luck-jaw came, "He has joined the angel band."

Jan. A. Caithorn claims the honor of storing the first wheat of this season. He took in sixty sacks on Saturday from the Lock Bros.

Wm. Wood, of Alsea Valley, called on us the first of the week. He reports that some hay was lost in that valley by the recent rain but no grain.

Baker's ac castor oil, No. 1 castor oil and extra winter strained lard, all of the best quality and at the lowest prices at Graham, Hamilton & Co's.

If you want a neat and comfortable fitting boot or shoe made of the best material and in the latest and most approved style, call at S. H. Hook's boot and shoe store, you will find it.

Henry Villard, has donated $7000 to liquidate the indebtedness of the State University at Eugene; this is a generous act on the part of Mr. Villard, and one that will not be soon forgotten by the citizens of this county.

Ernest Cary, brother of Isidor and Simon Cary of Roseburg, died in that city on Wednesday last, of hemorrhage of the lungs, aged 36 years. He was conveyed to Portland on the next day and there buried in the Jewish cemetery.

The old pioneer journalist, J. M. Shepherd, will start a new paper at Baker city, on or about the 15th day of October, to be called the "Daily Sage Brush." Shepherd drives a trenchant pen, and will doubtless wake up the sage hens of Baker.

Froissart's Chronicles, price, $1 87 Young's Bible Concordance with index 2 63 Josephus' Works, 1 58 Ivanhoe, 50 And a large quantity of new books for similar prices at Buford's News Depot.

We hear of a colored man who shot and killed a toll-bridge keeper because the keeper would not let him pass free, yet the toll was only 5 cents while the cost of the powder and ball was 6 cents. It is no wonder that some people never accumulate anything.

After all our recent rain has not materially hurt the crops. No grain will be lost and but very little if any hay. It was at first supposed that the hay crop or so much as was yet in the field would be considerably damaged, but later reports say that it has all dried out nicely.

Will Kirk and Albert Ray have returned from Newport. They do not report any large sales of real estate in that part of the county, but if possession implies ownership we would judge from their appearance on arrival that they were both freeholders at the expense of some one else's land.

We find on our table this week, in neat form the annual proceedings of the Grand Lodge of I. O. G. T. for 1881, which appears to give a complete summary of the official acts done by that grand body during the year. We extend thanks to J. E. Houston the Grand Secretary for the same.

T. J. Buford Keeps the best brands of Cigars and Tobaccos in the city. Dog-days. Warm weather. Harvest hands are in demand. Twine-binder war about over. Cheap cigars at A. J. Langworthy's cash store.

Some of the Jubilee singers made big hits with their feet. T. J. Buford made a flying trip to Albany last Tuesday.

Wanted.—A few more cords of wood on subscription at this office.

For the latest patterns in wall-paper, go to the new furniture store.

T. J. Buford, agent for the American Book Exchange of New York.

Ala Harris, Simon Seitenlach and Ike Fox, of Albany, were in the city last Sunday.

Mr. Geo. H. Rycraft, and Mr. Wood, of Alsea valley gave us a pleasant call Wednesday morning.

Hon. P. M. Eder left last Monday for Walla Walla on a pleasure trip, and will be absent several days.

Mr. James Lotan, Inspector of Boilers, went to the Bay Wednesday, for the purpose of inspecting the Mollie.

The Kentucky Jubilee singers gave an entertainment at the opera house Tuesday evening, to quite a large audience.

Mrs. Palmer and family and Miss Ella Butterfield left for Walla Walla last Tuesday, where they intend to make their home.

Thomas Murray, aged about 10 years, son of James Murray, of Albany, was drowned on Tuesday last in the river at that place.

Go to John Lewis' market and get your fresh meat, where orders from the country will be carefully and promptly attended to.

Will Bros. have just received a new stock of guns, cutlery and ammunition, which they are selling on the most reasonable terms.

The examination of the unpleasantness to be had before Justice Brownson, of Philomath, was postponed until two weeks from yesterday.

Hon. Allen Parker, of Onecotta, started home Wednesday morning. He will start his saw mill at once, on a contract for 400,000 feet of lumber for the O. P. R. R. wharves and docks at the bay.

A fire at Goldendale, W. T., this week destroyed two dwellings and another building owned by a Mr. Pike. Loss about $2,000. The town was only saved by the extraordinary efforts of the citizens.

A letter is a very useful article to a woman. It serves the purpose of toothpick, button-hook, and hair fastener; but all this is no excuse for having one in your pocket when your wife doesn't know where it comes from.

I. G. Kline & Co., of this place, during the present week have been tearing out the old floor at their place of business and putting in a new one. It looks clean and nice, and tobacco chewers will have to be careful where they cast their saliva when visiting there.

The performance on last Tuesday night by the Jubilee singers was fair. The imitation of a Chinese character by a negro was good, and "Down on the Swanee river," sung by Miss Maggie Webb, was excellent. The remainder of their exhibition will average fairly with traveling shows, yet we hope to see better.

A contract has been let for sawing a large amount of lumber by the Onecotta mill to be used by the Oregon Pacific Railroad in building wharves, sheds and warehouses at the western terminus of the road. The mill will commence work on the contract next Monday morning.

It is expected that the two surveying parties now engaged upon the route of the Oregon Pacific Railroad from here to the Yaquina Bay will meet in about ten days, after which about a week's time will be consumed in sufficiently locating the track, when the grading will commence.

Will C. Crawford, who has been long and favorably known amongst us, believes it beneficial to indulge in printer's ink. We invite attention of the public to his jeweler's advertisement, under the head of "New this week." Also to his place of business, where every thing in his line can be had on the most reasonable terms.

W. W. Terry, one of Knapp, Burrell & Co's experts, came up from Portland this week for the purpose of doctoring any agricultural machinery that he may find out of sorts. Mr. Terry is a good workman, and when he leaves a machine it runs as nicely as clock work, and the new purchaser goes on his way rejoicing, happy as a clam.

We learn that on Wednesday last, a well known party was arrested at Philomath, upon a warrant issued by Justice Brownson of that place charged with libel. The charges are based upon certain defamatory matter written by the arrested party, and published in certain newspapers of the state attacking the character of one of the professors of Philomath College.

Some one feloniously stole a bucket of plums intended for this office, from father Perkins. Three of them weighed a pound, says the "Eugene City Guard." We know that things grow large in Lane county, especially in the imagination, yet we suppose that it meant that three buckets' full of that delicious fruit weighed a pound.

Dr. Fred Vincent, returned home Monday from Ann Arbor, Michigan. Fred has many friends in this city who will be glad to welcome him home. He graduated this summer with honor from the Medical Department of the Ann Arbor University and is now a full-fledged M. D., with, we trust, a life of usefulness and prosperity before him.

Last Saturday seemed to be about the last day with the farmers before commencing harvest in good earnest, and the town was literally alive with farmers busy in getting their horses shod and machinery repaired. We happened into one blacksmith shop just as noon and was informed that they had already put on 30 shoes, and there were in waiting nearly or quite twenty horses for the afternoon work.

DEATH OF GEN. BROWN.—Gen. Mart. V. Brown died at 15 minutes past 1 o'clock on Wednesday, Aug. 3d, 1881, at Lockwood Springs in Linn county, where he had gone several weeks previous in search of health. Though still quite a young man, being only 38 years old, Gen. Brown had been for a long time one of the most prominent public men of our State. He was State Printer for four years, and for over fifteen years was editor of the "State Rights Democrat," in which position he acquired considerable journalistic reputation. He was a soldier in the late war of the rebellion, having answered President Lincoln's first call for volunteers. Under Gov. Grover's administration he was appointed Brig. Gen. of the 2d Regt., Oregon State Militia, which office he held at the time of his death. In disposition he was frank, generous and attractive, and had made many friends in different parts of the State. He died surrounded by his family and near friends, in the full possession of his mental faculties, and expressing a firm belief in and reliance on the truths of the gospel. He was buried at Albany on Friday, the 5th, at 3 P. M. The funeral ceremonies being conducted by the Masonic fraternity, of which he was a member. R. P. Ehardt, P. G. M., officiating. The funeral address was delivered by Rev. S. O. Irvine, D. D., at the U. P. church; a very large congregation assembled at the church and followed the remains to their last resting place. The order of A. O. U. W., and the Albany Fire Department, of which he was a member, were in the procession in full regalia, as well as a detachment from the Capital Guards at Salem.

STATE OF MATRIMONY.—The smartest man in Benton county is the chap who gave us this vivid description of the state of matrimony: "It is bounded by hugging and kissing on one side, and cradles and babies on the other. Its chief products are population, broom-sticks, and staying out of muds. The climate is rather sultry till you pass the tropics of house-keeping, when squally weather generally sets in, with sufficient power to keep all hands as cool as cucumbers. For the principal roads leading to this interesting state, consult the first beautiful islands you come across." No doubt the young man has been racking his brain over "ancient (?) literature," and has, no doubt, obtained the correct description of the state.

PRIZES AWARDED.—The following named persons were awarded the various prizes by Prof. L. B. Lamson at the close of his class in penmanship in the North District School. For the best writing: 1st, Miss Mollie Dohs; 2d, Miss Iva Robinson; 3d, Alvina Kocchar. Honorary mention, 1st, Miss Becca Vincent; 2d, Miss Mollie Rodgers; 3d, Miss Alice Simmons. Improvement, 1st, Miss Alice Seraffoni; 2d, Miss Nellie Simmons; 3d, Miss Carrie Baldwin; 4th, Miss Lizzie Hemphill; 5th, Miss Lanna Kerthauer. The judges were Miss Harley, Prof. M. L. Nofaker, B. F. Irvine and W. H. Mansfield.

BAD BOYS.—On last Wednesday two boys of our town, each then aged about fourteen or fifteen years, were arrested upon information having been filed with Justice Wrenn to the effect that they had stolen sundries articles of small value. They were tried and fined by his honor, and failing upon their part to pay the necessary amount, they were both sent to the county jail. As these boys are young, and both having honorable and highly respected parents living in the city, we pass the matter by without giving their names, with the hope that this will be a lesson for the boys which they will not soon forget, and that it may be their last offense.

OPPOSITION FERRY.—One day this week one of the Williamsos, living in this county came to the Ferry at Albany on horse back, just as the boat had left for the Albany side and being on a good horse and not wishing to be delayed until the boat should cross and across the river, called to the ferryman that he could best be boat across the river and started in to do so. He succeeded pretty well until about half way across when the horse, becoming either weary or from some other sudden inspiration, turned around and started for the home side. In turning, the saddle came off and Mr. W. found himself and saddle adrift in the Willamette. However he soon succeeded in getting hold of the horse and was towed ashore in safety.

A PANORAMIC ENTERTAINMENT.—For the benefit of the Sunday school, will be given at the Evangelical church, this city, on Monday evening next, the 15th inst. About 130 choice, selected paintings will be exhibited upon canvases by a powerful scenic artist. These consist of bible and American history, and the most celebrated works of art and nature, home and foreign, comics and statuary. Music on the latest and best musical warden in the U. S. Exercises begin at 8 o'clock. Admission 50 cents. Children 25 cents.

BESA VISTA.—From our traveling correspondent: The pottery at this place, under the management of Mr. E. G. Heith, is working to its utmost capacity to fill contracts for pipes for the sewers of Portland. This is the only pottery of any importance in the state, employs 21 hands, consumes for its kilns about 1000 cords of wood, and there is shipped from it some 2300 tons of freight per annum. Mr. A. M. Smith, of Portland, is the proprietor.

BOOKBINDERS' ATTENTION.—Corvallis would be a good place for some enterprising man to establish a bookbindery. There is at present almost enough work in the ruling and blank book manufacturing line to pay well, besides a vast amount of business in the shape of old magazines and papers. We will be pleased to answer any inquiries that may be addressed to us on this subject.

LIST OF LETTERS.—Remaining in the post-office at Corvallis, Benton county, Oregon, August 12, 1881. Persons calling for the same will please say "Advertised": Ladies list, Winnie Bosh, Miss Minnie Leigh, Annie Welch, Gene List, A. Brigtz, C. E. Bryan, Mr. Botell, J. E. Cartzendorf, Frank Craven, William Rase, Henry Huff, E. Wadsworth, Robert McFerrin, J. M. C. Smith. N. R. BARBER, P. M.

MONROE ITEMS. (Regular correspondent to the GAZETTE.) There has been no excitement in town lately except one or two dog fights.

Mr. Miller, Woodcock & Baldwin's tinner, is here putting on the tin roof of Honck & Son's new store; he is doing an excellent job.

We had a very hard shower of rain here yesterday about noon; no damage done, however. It dried off so quickly that the machines did not stop for dinner.

Nearly all the machines in this end of the county are running now, or will commence this week. Mr. Wm. Garlinghouse starts his new steamer to-morrow. Wheat is turning out very good in this neighborhood so far, and oats are excellent.

A. Wilhelm's family are all out of danger now. We made a mistake last week in regard to their sickness; it was not biliousness but scarlet fever. He had seven down at one time, but they are all doing well now. We heard that Mr. W. was very much offended last week because we said his family was bilious. We meant no offense, it was our ignorance and we beg his pardon.

There have been several reports of petty larceny going round lately. Last week when Mr. N. A. Thompson returned from the Yaquina he found his garden all torn up, his onions and clothes line gone, and almost everything that could be easily carried off. He left his wagon standing back of the house, and next morning the tape of the wheels were gone. Whoever it is had better take warning.

Monroe, August 9, 1881.

"At the Star Bakery, P. N. Zerolf, proprietor, will be found the best cigars, tobaccos, notions, groceries, provisions, cakes, pies, fruits, vegetables and canned goods at low prices.

WELLS STATION. Harvesting is in full blast here. Williams and Miller have built an addition to their ware house here.

The Evangelical church have the brick foundation for their church building laid. The building will be 23 by 40 feet when completed.

Go to A. J. Langworthy's for all kinds of fruits and vegetables.

A MODEL WIFE.—Says the editor of the Cartersville (Ga.) Express: "There is a little brown-eyed, enthusiastic, high-spirited lady who, after she has cooked breakfast and cleared away the things, set the hose to rights, attended the call of the broad wagon and milked the cow, dons her hat and cloak, comes into this office, yanks us out of the editorial easy chair, pounces on the exchange, amputates every item of interest, stacks them on the copy-book, grabs up a Faber, travels it over a quire of editor's manuscript paper, removes her snowy-white apron, shoves up her sleeves, grabs a stick and rule and sets it all into type, reads the proofs and corrects every error. That's our wife, and she will get her reward in heaven."

SHE WENT.—The old gentleman solemnly said: "Yes, daughter, you should go to Newport. You cannot stay at home during the warm weather and live. To be sure, your mother, who hasn't been out of town since she was married, can stand it; but then she is old-fashioned and doesn't know any better, and, beside, she has fun enough doing the washing and ironing. By all means, go. Get a linen duster and a blanket, and go at once."

HEAR SABBES.—A California editor says that twenty-four heathen Chinese walked into his sanctum, and, through an interpreter, paid for twenty-four subscriptions to his paper. The editor wondered what they wanted with an English paper, and they took it for the pictures in it, the paper having a rat cut, a catarrh cut, a guano trademark, and an umbrella "picture."

STATE UNIVERSITY.—We call special attention to the advertisement of the State University at Eugene City, which will be found under the head of new this week. This educational institution has lately been the favored recipient of a handsome donation of sufficient amount to pay off the entire debt against the University. This is a State institution of which Oregon has long felt a great need for, and it should receive a liberal patronage from all those wishing the advantages of an education.

BROUHA.—Some one entered the fruit house of Mr. E. Rosenthal of this city last week and carried away about forty dollars worth of wines and fruit. It is believed that the theft was committed by parties living in town and the officers are on their track.

THE CHICAGO PICTURE TEXT, next to Langworthy's store, Main street, Corvallis, will remain about two weeks. Pictures of all sizes taken and finished in ten minutes. All the latest styles of fancy visiting cards printed on short notice.

HANSON & ERICSON, Photographers.

TWO OR MORE SURGEONS Of the Pacific Surgical Institute, 305 Kearney Street, San Francisco, will be at the St. Charles Hotel, Portland, August 24, 25, 26, 27 and 28th; at the Chemeketa Hotel, Salem, August 29, 30 and 31st; at the St. Charles Hotel, Albany, Sept. 21 and 23d; at the St. Charles Hotel, Eugene City, Sept. 25th and 26th, fully prepared to treat all cases of Spinal Disease, Knee and Hip Disease, Club Foot, Crooked Limbs, Paralysis, and all Chronic and Surgical Diseases. As this Institution is unequalled in facilities for the treatment of these afflictions, all who are interested should not fail to see these surgeons. 33x3.

It is said that the new Oregon and China Mercantile Company, which was incorporated a short time ago, had let a contract to Muckle Bros., of St. Helens, for a new No. 1 ship which would cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $100,000. If this is true, it will be the erection of a ship yard at St. Helens, a matter which has been long devoutly wished for.

A VACANT CHAIR.—There is a vacant chair in our sanctum; a highly burnished pair of No. 11 cow hide boots are missed from the corner of the office desk; a pair of stalwart scissors are paralyzed, and the paste-pot is in mourning; there is a kind of "goneness" about the whole concern. Our Senior has departed for Yaquina Bay—started Wednesday morning, Tuesday evening he seemed too full of sacred pleasure and lavender-colored tranquility for anything. He skipped gaily about the office softly warbling to himself the fragments of a tender love-song, in the meanwhile packing the corkcraws, matches and other vegetables for the trip. The corkcraws will be used in opening oysters. He went with Mac Crow, and we are satisfied that he made no suggestions as to the road or how to drive. He is full of taffy, gentle trust and childlike confidence. By the time Pioneer was reached, he was probably covered with boulders of dust, and felt like acting as chief mourner at a clam-bake. He would not stop long at Pioneer. Toledo has more attractions. As he approaches this place, he will wear his blindest smile, and carefully adjust his cold-pressed vermilion moustache. At Newport he will take in every thing of value; he will visit the light-house, and probably climb upon its dome. He is high-minded. There, as he sits amidst the rumbling, rushing music of the waves, he will be filled with great grieving thoughts of the sweet by-and-by, death, the grave, matrimony, his unpaid wash bill, and other mirth-provoking topics. It will be a glorious spectacle. A suggestive chief creeps up to our choker as we think of it. He will eat three "squares" a day, each as large as a burglar-proof safe. "Early yorks" and pickled spiders will furnish nourishment between meals. He did not carry much bullion of his own along, with which to supply a want long felt at Newport. He is rich in "fats." When beyond the restraining influences of the office, he is liable to act a little queer. We will depend on Rialto to go his bail if necessary. He is authorized to receive and receipt for subscriptions to the GAZETTE, $2.50 per annum, in advance. All kinds of job printing in good style, at starvation prices. Legal blanks in stock. We leave him at Newport, and will not in this article attempt to follow him on his return trip. He will then be followed by other people, with other articles. Our "address will be Corvallis, Benton County, Oregon."

The entertainment announced for next Monday evening at the Evangelical Church should be well attended. Aside from its worthy object, the views alone are worth seeing.

STERILE WHEAT.—The various warehouses of this city contain about 30,000 bushels of wheat of the harvest of 1880. It rarely happens that wheat is carried over here, and the large surplus this year was undoubtedly caused by lack of vessels to transport it to Europe. It may indicate low prices this season. Present advices lead us to believe that there will be no scarcity of tonnage this fall, but whether the foreign demand will be large is yet doubtful. The telegrams inform us that the wheat crop of Russia is better this season than for twenty years, and that the export promises to be much greater. Crops throughout Europe will be average, and prices here will probably not rule higher than last year.

NEW COMPANY.—Articles were filed with the Secretary of State last Saturday by Wm. Reid, Wm. Dunbar, Geo. D. Hurst, W. J. Burns, (of Balfour, Guthrie & Co.), Alex. P. Antney and Ellis G. Hughes, incorporating the Salem Mills Company, with a capital stock of $160,000, divided into 1600 shares of $100 each, to engage in the construction, purchasing and operating mills of any and all kinds at any points in the State determined upon by the company. The principal office to be at Portland, Or. The company intends at once to erect an addition to the Capital Flouring Mills in the northern part of the city of Salem, and increase the capacity of the same to 600 barrels daily. The corporation has also purchased the Cook place on the river bank and the property once owned by the Willamette Woolen Mills, and the exclusive water power connected therewith.

On the morning of the 6th inst. about 1:30 o'clock fire broke out in the town of Dayton W. T., which resulted in totally destroying Lawrence's pork house, a building in which was stored a large stock of Frank Bros. agricultural machinery, Prof. Jones' academy, in which the professor slept and was awakened with great difficulty and taken therefrom by main force. On the opposite side of the street the blacksmith shop of Andy Wilson, Yag's printing office, and Carroll's blacksmith shop were also destroyed.
