Sad Accident.

Mr. John Stewart, sen., fell down stairs on the night of the 20th and broke his collar bone, bruised his shoulder and disloca-ted a couple of his ribs, besides suffering considerable injury from bruises. Inasmuch as he is 83 years old, this must be regarded as a sad accident.

Birthday Celebration.

A birthday celebration was recently held at the residence of the Messrs. Warren, on the Yaquina road, just west of the summit, in honor of Dr. E. Warren and Miss Rosa Porter. The good people gathered in for miles around and indulged their social proelivities and the amusement of tripping the light fantastic toe" until a late hour.

The Roads.

Teamsters coming in from the Yaquina, eav the road to that place is almost one continuous mud-hole and the mud-hole bottomless. Mr. Tion Eglin told us that he found a small mule team, hitched to a cart at one of the most forbidding places on said road, and that sold mules had sunk into the mud aforesaid, until not more than two feet of their time-honored ears were visible to his gazing and astonished optics.

A Lady Inventor.

Miss Bauer, a German lady from San Francisco, and new making her home at the residence of Mr. Wallis Nash of this city, has invented an improvement to sewing machines, consisting of a shirring apparatus, which is said to possess much merit. Liberal offers have been made the young lady for her invention and propositions concerning the same are now under advisement. we are informed, by certain sowing machine companies in New York and else-

The Weather.

On last Saturday morning we were surprised on looking out to see the ground white with snow and the snow still falling, which it continued to do for a couple of days, almost incessantly, melting in the meantime about as fast as it fell. Some say the storm was caused by "the sun's city. crossing the line;" if so, we wish people would take their lines in for we always did have an aversion for the "beautiful snow." Moreover, our webs, just at this writing, stand desperately in neel of the "Ore-

Messrs. Burgess, Cressman and Marble, three miners in Wood river pas:, recently, says the Evening Telegram, passed a night o horror, surrounded by a blockade of ice s ow and water, occasioned by a snow-slide and the consequent daming of the river. Hage fir and "balm of Gilead" trees from one to two feet in diameter were twisted off at the roots as if mere blades of gras ; Large boulders were lifted from their resting places or torn from the projecting rocks stream. The snow, rocks and trees were business of importance to be transacted. piled up on the level fifty feet high.

O. P. R. R. Notes.

Work at the Bay is progressing well; the working staff has been enlarged, and still more hands are expected to be jut on within a few days. Capt. Winant is due this week at Yaquina from San Francisco with a cargo of r ilroad material, amongst which are the wheels and fittings of two construction trains. The lumber for these has been for some time prepared at Oncetta. Mr. W. M. Hoag, the 1st Vice Presid at and general manager, is at the Bay, and will, we understand, give full directions as to round house, cor shops, sheds and etc. which are to be proceeded with at once. The sawmills are now running at their fall capacity, quiry at the company's office we learn that title. they will still let contracts for a few thousriving so that everything points to a very the near future. early resumption of active operation.

Newport Letter.

The steamer Kate and Anna made a successful trip to Nestucea recently bringing on of there some potatoes, hides, furs and tallow. Capt. Lutjens speaks in glowing terns of the country. it is well populated considering its isolated condition, and the land is open and furnishes fine feed for stock the year round. The soil is very productive, and now that communication by steam is established, the people will take courage and a good heart and soon be developed. The steamer will load from here with 300 bushels of fine oysters for the Portland market. . It is hoped the aversion to the Bay and its prospects will not injure the appetite of the citizens of "the only seaport" in Oregon, and that these really fine flavored oysters will find a ready and profitable market. - Capt. J. J. Winant is expected daily with iron for the R. R. and general merchandise for the merchants. The Capt. always gets a hearty welcome, because of his genia'ity, and his long service in behalf of the bay and its development.

It should be the duty of all republicans and everybody who wishes to affiliate with that party to attend the primaries and see to it that good representative men are elected delegates, to the county convention and there let these delegates in a cool and quiet way, make up a ticket that will be acceptable to the republican party and will also command the respect and confidence of the people. Every republican should be at his post and do his duty as a true soldier, for this is one of the most important elections ever held in Oregon, reaching from the lowest precinct office to the highest position within the gift of the State. If the people will allow politicians and wire monipulators to manage these important matters for them and bad men are thus elevated to places of honor and trust, they should not omptain.
