

WASHINGTON LETTER

(From our Regular Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C.
It may be that the so-called Star route conspirators are innocent. They at least should not suffer a prejudicial condemnation, but now, after the grand jury has found a true bill against them, there has arisen a serious doubt that they will be prosecuted with vigor and earnestness. Certain it is that they have employed the very best legal talent that large wealth, no matter how acquired, can command. The Government of the United States is also wealthy, but when the cases came up recently, only poor Corkhill appeared to meet the dense and brilliant array of lawyers employed by the Star ronters. Poor Corkhill is only a figurehead, and a very soft one at that. He attitudinized as counsel for the prosecution in the Guitauca case, and arrogated great glory to himself because, forsooth, a fore-doomed verdict of guilty was not evaded. The incompetence of Corkhill is the by-word of the bar here, and he would never have been known as a lawyer if politics had not made him U. S. Attorney for the District of Columbia. Colonel Cook, upon whom the prosecution in these cases, prior to Garfield's death, devolved, was in every way fitted for the work, but he has now formally withdrawn from the prosecution. In an interview last night he said:

"The causes leading to this action on my part are of two or three month duration. I may say that ever since the death of President Garfield I have noticed the gradual freezing out process of all the original agencies in these cases, and, when Mr. Gibson was squeezed out by the change of safe combination and request for his keys, I felt then that it would not be long before I was retired from the cases. Col. Gibson was a thorough, earnest, and efficient condutor, and I felt in his loss that of a valuable aid. In fact, I have received no encouragement, nor have I been sent for or given the confidence of President Arthur or his Cabinet. Three nights before the assassination of President Garfield he sent for me, and in the presence of Attorney-General McVeagh, said to me that he wanted these Star route cases pushed, not in the spirit of vindictiveness, not with a desire to injure any individual especially, but to effect the conviction and punishment of the guilty parties, no matter whether friends stood in the way. He promised me all aid, I said to him that it would be necessary to employ persons, and gave him the full outline of the mode of my procedure. I received from him the full assurance of his support. I then proceeded in the case and employed detectives to watch the jury to see that they were not tampered with, and also to watch the movements of my witnesses. When I say to you that every detective has been removed and others imported from Philadelphia, and further, that when the last batch of indictments were brought in, they were not even submitted to me, nor have I seen them, you will readily concede that my professional reputation was at stake, and that from a case in which I had promised President Garfield to bring the majority of the guilty parties to justice, I was forced to retire. The most remarkable thing in the whole business is the purchase of the Republican by Mr. Geo. Bliss, the sum of $40,000, in my personal check, being paid to Mr. Brady, and the retention on the journal at the same time of Kilbourn, Conger and the balance of the Star route men. Taking all these circumstances into consideration, any candid person will at once see the entire change which has come over this case since the advent of the present administration, and Mr. Geo. Bliss makes it extremely doubtful as to the issue. It is possible that I may have to say more before I get through."

Union City.

This pleasant little city is located in the south-eastern portion of Grand Ronde valley and is the county seat of Union county. It was founded in 1863. It was made the county seat in 1876. The first merchants on the site were Ashley & Hall. Being located on the main travelled road leading from Idaho and the upper district of Oregon to the Columbia river, the town has gradually grown to its present size. It has three blacksmith shops, two cooper shops, two confectionary stores, two galleries, five dry goods stores, three saloons, two wagon making shops, one grist mill, one planing mill, one drug store, three milliner stores, one brewery, one watchmaker, one printing office, one postoffice, one express office, one cabinet maker, two barber shops, three churches, one hotel and two boarding houses. The railroad is to pass through the west end of Union.

VARIOUS ITEMS.

Georgia farmers will plant more corn this year than last. A cotton factory is to be started at East Providence, R. I. Montana expects to ship this year 30,000 sheep to the eastern markets. One hundred men have been discharged from the locomotive works at Dunkirk, N. Y. It is estimated that more than 200,000 cattle will be driven north from Texas this spring. Southwest Virginia is every year rapidly increasing in importance as a tobacco section. Last year 15,000 hands were employed at the Paterson silk mills, and turned out $16,000,000 worth of work. Memphis cotton seed oil mills have been so busy that there is a scarcity of seed in the vicinity for planting. Silk culture in Louisiana has of late become a thriving industry, and to-day promises an abundant production. A tannery at Chattanooga is to be enlarged one-third, when it will be the largest in the world, the Times says. It requires, on an average, 100 acres of land as a range for ten head of cattle, in the stock-raising portions of Texas. W. H. Gleason of Biscayne Bay, Fla., has 750 growing coconut trees, and is setting out another grove of 2,000 trees. The Marshall, La., Canning Company, will put up during the coming season 150 acres of corn. Eighty-five turbine water wheels, which equal 7500 horse power, run the Wisconsin factories on the Neenah and Menasha water power. Agricultural implements manufactured in the United States for the year 1880 were valued at $63,374,086, and gave employment to 38,620 hands.

The summa business is quite an important interest in Virginia. The present production is 10,000 tons per year, and the price is $45 per ton. The Harrisburg, Pa., Car Manufacturing Company employs nearly 1200 hands, and products are furnished to the value of $3,000,000 per year. There is extraordinary activity just now in the ship building yards of the Tyne. The weekly ship roll of one firm was lately within $5,000,000.

The Delaware Best Factory has suspended the manufacture of sugar from beets, claiming that the quality of beets required cannot be grown in the State. The annual value of the hosiery product of the United States is stated at over $15,000,000, of which the Philadelphia mills produce nearly 29,000,000 worth. Black, blue and lemon-colored pocket-handkerchiefs of sheer linen, embroidered with contrasting colors, are among the eccentric novelties lately imported. Not less than 3000 children under ten years of age are employed in St. Louis factories. They work from 10 to 11 hours a day at an average salary of $3 per week. A linseed oil company, with a capital stock of $100,000, has been organized at Boone, Ia. Half of the stock is to be paid up and used in the erection of the works. The large manufacturers of heavy gloves at Johnston, Fulton county, N. Y., have had scarcely any call for their goods this season, owing to the warm weather. Three years ago a firm in Texas invested $33,000 in cattle. A few weeks ago this stock and its increase was sold at $15 per head, and the sale amounted to more than $10,000.

The Texas cattle trade promises to be unusually large the coming season. The live, it is estimated, will be about 300,000, including those which will come from the Indian Territory. The building and repairing of fences in 1878 in the United States cost $78,629,000. It is estimated that the sum expended on them in 1881 was $1,747,549,931. Their length was 5,000,000 miles. There are over 20,000 men and 100,000 horses and mules employed in railroad building in Texas. There are 4000 miles of road under contract, and about 6000 more to be contracted for. The Wisconsin State Fish Hatchery is about to plant 5,033,000 young white fish in Lake Michigan, and 4,000,000 brook trout in the interior waters of the State. The number stated are estimated at the rate of 15,000 trout to the quart measure. C. S. Paine, East Bethel, Vt., with a herd of eight well-selected cows of common stock, made during twelve months ending December 1, 1881, 2000 pounds of butter, an average of 250 pounds per cow. The average for the State is thought to be not far from 125 pounds per cow. President Isaac Kline of the Window Glass Makers' Association, says there was never a greater demand for American window glass, and the trade was never in better condition. He estimates the manufacturing capacity of the factories in the United States at about 2,000,000 boxes, and expects the demand this year will reach 3,000,000, a large amount of which will be exported. The English Secretary of Legation at Buenos Ayres is mortified at having to report to his Government that during a visit to the interior lately he found that all the agricultural implements and machinery were supplied in the United States. "In the School of Agriculture at Mendoza," he said, "I do not remember seeing a single article of English manufacture among all the machines."
