

Kind Words.

The Oregon City Enterprise of last week says: "Mr. Jas. A. Yanita, formerly editor of the Corvallis GAZETTE, died a few days ago at Walla Walla. He was a splendid fellow, as good as gold, ever willing to make any sacrifice for a friend that an honorable man could. We much regret that he has gone over to the great silent majority."

Killed by a Companion.

The Waco Sun says that a young man, about 17 years of age, by the name of Hendricks, while out hunting near Yoncalla was accidentally shot by his companion, Clark on Tuesday. Clark mistook him for a deer and fired, the ball entering near the small of the back, causing his death the succeeding day. Dr. Sharpless was telegraphed for, and went out, but before his arrival the young man was dead.

Suicide.

Dr. George W. Anderson, of Eugene City, committed suicide in the city jail at Portland, by taking some kind of poison supposed to be fox-glove. He was under arrest at the time, on the charge of adultery with Mrs. James Goodman, of Eugene. He left the following note addressed to her: "May God bless you, my poor girl and my baby now mourning for me, I am done with this world. God bless you, we will meet in heaven."

Wreck of the Mary Tatham.

The British steamer Mary Tatham, which sailed from Hongkong March 18th for Portland with a cargo of Chinese laborers and merchandise, is reported wrecked off the coast of China. The crew were saved, but ship and cargo are supposed to be a total loss. The Mary Tatham has been plying in the China trade between San Francisco and Hongkong for some time, and upon her recent arrival at the latter port was chartered for Portland, and was expected to arrive during May. She was consigned to John McCracken & Co.

Large Reward.

The Ashland Tidings says: "A reward of $2200 is offered for the apprehension and conviction of any or all of the parties concerned in the killing of Deputy Sheriff Lewis at Linkville. At a public meeting in Lakeview last week the sum of $1200 was subscribed for the purpose, and the County Court of Lake county has authorized the Sheriff to offer an additional $1000. The total amount of reward offered will doubtless be much increased by additional subscriptions by private parties in the county."

Dead Man Found.

The Standard of the 13th inst. says: "On Tuesday last the decomposed body of a man was found in the brush near Mill creek, about 700 miles above the city. The body is so badly decomposed and eaten by dogs that it is probably past recognition. Several articles were found on the body, such as plugs of tobacco, an old buckskin purse, a Gaiter theatre ticket, fine comb, ducking overalls, flannel shirt and check shirt, but nothing led to identification. Sprouted wheat was found in the clothes. The body is that of a young man with light hair."

Death by Drowning.

On Friday of last week, Millburn Hill was drowned, says the Lake county Enterprise, while attempting to cross Willow creek, a stream flowing into Clear lake, in Modoc county, Cal. Deceased and Lee Laws were together, and riding into the creek, Hill's horse got into deep water, became frightened, and rearing, threw his rider, who sank and did not come to the surface after going down. Mr. Hill was about 31 years of age and was proprietor of Steele's swamp. He leaves a wife and four children. His parents reside at Adin. He was an important witness for the defence in the Laws-Calavan murder case.

Bold Robbery.

Last Sunday night as Dr. Ballard, of Lebanon, was passing along the street of that city to Dr. Anderson's to procure the key to his (Dr. Ballard's) office, he was attacked by some unknown parties and very roughly handled, breaking several of his ribs besides other injuries, and leaving him insensible, in which condition he remained all night, lying in the mud by the side of the street. He was discovered next morning and taken care of and the above facts elicited from him as soon as consciousness returned. He was robbed of some $15 or $20—what money he had on his person.

The Oregon Pacific Railroad.

The tunnel contractor Mr. J. H. Bugbee, of San Francisco, has entered vigorously on his work. His first gangs of Chinamen are now arriving, and before the end of the month of April there will be about 300 Chinamen at work on the road. We hear that a further large quantity of rolling stock, including passenger, express, and baggage cars have been shipped from the East. Work on the depot grounds at Yaquina is being pushed forward. The locomotive has been safely landed, and set on the track. The extension of the wharf is being proceeded with as rapidly as the piles can be delivered. Delivery of lumber from the mills to tunnels and bridge sites or framing yards has commenced, but the teams work still to a considerable disadvantage, owing to the muddy and heavy state of the road; this last fact we understand is retarding the work on the grade and as yet preventing the organization of plough and scraper gangs.

"There's Millions in it."

The Salem Statesman of last Tuesday says: "S. C. Coffin, of this city, together with his sister, Mrs. L. Marvin, and his brother, G. A. Coffin, are preparing to bring suit for one-half of the Stephen Coffin donation land claim, in Multnomah county, on which the principal portion of the city of Portland now stands. They claim that the patent should have been issued to their father and mother, as husband and wife, in pursuance of an act of Congress of February 27, 1850, commonly called the donation law, and not to the father alone, as the Commissioner of the General Land Office ignorantly supposed. They have heretofore been advised by eminent lawyers in Portland that the suit could not be maintained by them until the death of their father, as his right as tenant by the courtesy would prevent their receiving the same until after his death. It will be remembered that Gen. Coffin died a few weeks ago, and now they claim their right to the land has accrued to them. This is an important move, and will have a tendency to unsettle numerous titles to property in the city of Portland. The land claimed is now worth millions of dollars."

Fatal Collision.

The Telegram of the 18th inst. says: Yesterday morning a fatal accident occurred on the O. R. & N. Co's railroad at tunnel No. 2. The construction train ran into a hand car in that tunnel. There were five men on the hand car at the time of the collision. Four of the men saw the danger in time and jumped aside and saved their lives; but one man, named D. A. Upham, a laborer, was struck and instantly killed. The unfortunate man was a Nova Scotia, and leaves a family at Truro, Nova Scotia. His wife's name is Emily Upham. The body of the deceased was taken care of and a coroner's inquest held yesterday. The verdict was that the railroad company was in no way to blame for the accident, as it was entirely due to the carelessness of the men on the hand car, who had no business running there at that time. Mr. H. B. Thielsen telegraphed up orders to have the unfortunate man decently buried, at the expense of the company.

A Sailor's Suicide.

An Astoria dispatch of April 17th says: Harry Fredrickson, who signed articles and shipped on the Storm King last Friday jumped overboard and was drowned last evening. The ship was lying in stream off Swin's Point. A fishing boat was passing when Fredrickson jumped overboard. The mate ordered the second mate and men to lower ship's boat, and pick the man up, then seized a rifle and declared he would shoot the men in the fishing boat if they picked up the man, who was swimming to them. When the ship's boat was about 50 feet from him he sank and was seen no more. His drowning has created some excitement in town, and it is thought the men in the fishing boat might have saved him. It was reported the man was shanghai aboard, but this is denied by Capt. Reed, who says he signed articles in the custom house when sober, and he paid $50 advance and $10 blood money for him. Big Harry, as he was called, was well known here, having fished several seasons for the Humes. The Storm King was bound for sea two weeks, but was delayed for want of a crew.

IN MEMORIAM.

EMERICK—At the residence of his brother William Emrick, in Corvallis, Friday, April 14, 1882, at 9:30 o'clock P. M., of heart disease, JAMES EMERICK, youngest son of Henry and the late Jane Emrick. Aged 18 years, 11 months, 20 days.

Decesed was born in Benton county, April 18, 1863, about two and a half miles south of Philomath and one-half mile north of where his remains now rest. Milton, as he was best known, was an industrious boy, and had but few, if any, bad habits, and was loved by all who knew him. He has resided in Corvallis since the 13th of April 1871, except about three months, most of which time he was in Jackson county. It was thought that he was falling for more than a year, and when he was advised to get medical aid he would say it was no use. He felt well until about two days before he died, when medical aid was called, but to no avail. His last words were to his brother William; he said he wished he had taken his brother's and friends advice before it was too late, and then he quietly passed away. He leaves a father, four brothers, five sisters and a large circle of friends to mourn his sudden loss. His funeral sermon was preached by the Rev. W. T. Chapman, after which his remains were deposited in the family burying ground near Philomath.

Life's duty done, as sinks the day, Light from its load the spirit flies; While brethren shall mourn him to say: How blest the righteous when he dies.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

To the W. M. Wardens and Brethren of Rocky Lodge, No. 75, A. F. & A. M. Another support of our Mystic temple has fallen, and lies broken at our feet reminding us again of the frailty of human life, and that future which must sooner or later, call us to another world.

Resolved, That in the death of our esteemed brother, Jas. A. Yanita, we have lost a faithful member of our craft, a true friend and worthy champion of all that is good and beautiful in our order. That while we mourn his loss as brethren indeed and a heavy burden of sorrow is laid upon us, we feel that he who doeth all things for the greatest good knows best and we hereby bow to his will with the consolation offered by his own holy word, that our brother shall surely live again in that better and brighter lodge where sorrow shall never enter.

And that we deeply and sincerely sympathize with the bereaved relations of our deceased brother, and lend our fraternal support and comfort to them in their dark hour of affliction. That our lodge be draped in mourning and the brethren wear the usual badge of sorrow for thirty days in remembrance of our deceased brother. And that a copy of these resolutions under the seal of the lodge be furnished the relations of the deceased, and a copy to each of our local papers for publication; also that the same be spread on the minutes of the lodge. Fraternally submitted, WALLACE BALDWIN, J. B. LEE, M. S. WOODCOCK, Com. CORVALLIS, OR., April 12, 1882.

The building occupied by H. E. Harris as a dry goods and grocery store is being removed south of its present location, and a fine brick building will be erected on its former site by Judge Burnett.

A wedding occurred in the southwestern portion of this city last Wednesday morning. Owing to the non-appearance of any of the wedding cake, we are unable to give the names of the contracting parties.

We notice some heavy dump cars at the shops of Balknap Bro's & Kennedy and learn they are for Mr. J. H. Bugbee, tunnel contractor on the O. P. R. R. These cars look as though they would stand hard service.

First load of tools under charge of Mr. John Spencer, foreman, went forward to tunnel No. 3, near Trapps on the O. & P. R. R. Tuesday morning. Men and other supplies are soon to follow and the work will be rapidly pushed forward by the contractor, J. H. Bugbee.

The Alpha Sigma Chapter of the A. T. S. was organized at the College on last Tuesday evening, with the following officers: W. V. Masters, W. M.; W. W. Johnson, W. G.; W. H. Holman, W. V.; W. T. Locke, W. U.; J. H. Alexander, W. S. The society will hold its meetings semi-monthly at the College Society hall.

The following item, from the Oregon City Enterprise, speaks for itself: "We are glad to see that our old friends Bush Wilson and Sal King, of Benton county, have been re-nominated for Clerk and Sheriff on the Republican ticket. The former has just completed his eighth term and the latter his fourth term. The people of that county evidently believe in retaining competent and accommodating officers."

New Lodge K. of P. A new lodge of Knights of Pythias was instituted in this city last Tuesday evening, by Special Deputy Grand Chancellor James E. Aiken, C. C. of Mystic No. 2. He was accompanied by a delegation from Portland, consisting of J. R. Newcomb, J. H. Mismar, Geo. H. Brodie, Paul Richard, Geo. C. Sears, W. R. Struble, Jas. S. Grild, Jns. Ahisted, Geo. S. Hazold, J. H. Struble, J. S. Kingsley, Chas. Albree. There was also in attendance the following named gentlemen from Albany: E. R. Skiphort, H. J. Clark, Joseph Clark, D. S. Smith, G. W. Gaisendorfer, L. Edwards, Geo. Hochstetler, D. D. Hackleman, W. B. Secht, Geo. Clime, V. Parker, Geo. Harris, James Foster Jr., Wm. Webber, Dr. J. L. Hill, R. A. Foster, W. R. Bilyen, O. H. Irvine, S. Deckard, Geo. W. Sill. The visiting Knights partook of the hospitality of the new lodge, and were right royally entertained at the Occidental and Vincent hotels. The following officers were elected and installed: P. C.—B. L. Garretson. C. C.—James Booth. V. C.—W. H. Mansfield. P.—Rev. G. W. Black. M. at A.—N. L. Raber. K. of R. and S.—V. B. Hyds. M. of E.—T. J. Jeffries. M. of F.—T. J. Buford. I. G.—W. H. Leah. O. G.—Al. Pygall.

The new lodge starts out with the brightest of prospects. Mrs. J. T. Vincent prepared an excellent lunch for the visitors at midnight, which was partaken of with a relish by about fifty persons.

Shipping News. Jacksonville Democratic Times. More rain wanted. Miners of Jackson creek are favored with plenty of water yet and make good use of it. James Mann has taken up a river claim on the Klamath and reports favorable prospects.

Some of the miners have already begun cleaning up, as water has commenced to fall in many localities. Ingram & Dean still have a good head of water, but expect to commence cleaning up soon, after a fair run.

The Squaw Lake Ditch Co.'s diggings are being operated on full time. Lannes Kippel is acting as foreman. George E. Justus, who was in town this week, informs us that the miners of Foots creek have plenty of water and expect to make a good run this season.

Parties from below have located copper mines near Waldo and Illinois river, Josephine county, and we are assured that they will be thoroughly prospected soon. Thomas Carr, of Foots creek, was in town Saturday, and exhibited two nuggets of gold worth about $35 each, as also several smaller ones. They were taken out of a claim he is interested in.

Charley Gilmore, a little son of D. M. Gilmore, picked up a nugget worth $86 in William Clarke's mine, situated near the head of No. 7, a tributary of Althouse creek, Josephine county. Several other pieces, worth from $6 to $19 each, were picked up the same day. This is one of the best pieces of property in that section.

Our Leland correspondent says that E. F. Walker is prospecting about four miles above the Grave Creek house, and is running a tunnel in a high bench several hundred feet above the creek. Over 70 feet of this tunnel has already been dug. Most of miners are still pining or ground-slicing. The melting snow keeps up the water.

Communicated.

DEAR GAZETTE.—On our way down the Willamette on the "A. A. McCully" (Capt. J. B. Sanborn), an interesting incident occurred. As we neared Wynooksi a cow was seen, beneath a high bluff, sunk deep in the mire and utterly unable to extricate herself—she had somehow or other got down from the high ground above into the miry place in which she had stuck fast half buried in the mud. Capt. Sanborn, prompted by that humanity which is a part of his very nature, immediately he discovered the poor animal headed his boat for the shore and very soon, by his orders, a set of a fine lot of men as ever formed the crew of a steamboat got ashore and with willing hands took her the poor cow out of the mire and she landed her boat and landed her a little further down the river whence she was soon on her way to the road. Some of the men followed her up the bank to the highway where they met her owner who on being informed of the above facts simply remarked "when stock gets there we have to pull them out; what way did she go?"

The fellow hadn't the slightest idea that he ought at least to have said "thank you." Such ungrateful fellows don't deserve any favors; but, as Capt. Sanborn said, he didn't do it for the man but for the cow. We are credibly informed that this was only one of many such acts of compassion that this humane Captain and his kind-hearted crew are constantly performing along the river.

We had a most enjoyable ride from Corvallis to Portland and were delighted with the boat, her cabin officers and kind-hearted crew and shall not soon forget the pleasure we enjoyed on the "McCully." Our better half was especially delighted with the noble-hearted Captain's most estimable wife whose acquaintance she made on the trip, and we shall always think that the McCully should be called the Humane Society Home. If all masters of steamboats were as tender-hearted as Capt. Sanborn, Captain of a steamboat would only be another name for a humane man.

Portland, April 17, 1882.

New Cigars Made to Order.

Thos. J. Buford, our popular cigar and tobacco dealer, has recently received a new brand of cigars called "Pet" which he has had manufactured to supply the 5 cent trade. Each box bears the imprint of "T. J. Buford." They are equal in quality to many of other brands which are sold for double this price. Call upon him and try them at the extreme low price of 5 cents each.

A Testament Reviser's Opinion.

The eminent author, Prof. A. C. Kendrick, D. D., L. L. D., who is professor of Greek in the University of Rochester, and was one of the revisers of the New Testament, in general conversation with a number of gentlemen, a short time since, said: "I have received from the use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure very marked benefit and I can most cordially recommend it to others."

Cheaper Than Ever.

Dry goods and groceries are selling at A. J. Langworthy's Cash Store at astonishingly low prices, and fresh supplies constantly arriving. A fine assortment of ladies' and children's slippers, and button shoes, just received.

There is a new city surveyed off near the mouth of Alpowai, in Idaho.

GENERAL NEWS.

Oscar Wilde is in San Francisco. A wagon road from Roseburg to Fort Klamath is proposed. Eleven car loads of steel rails arrived at Roseburg last Saturday.

Mr. Mortimer Sloper's dwelling house in Independence burned down last week. Water works are talked of in Harrisburg, Or. It is thought if they are built, it will be the making of the town.

Frank Wilson, of Albany, Or., swallowed an ounce of laudanum while drunk, and ended his earthly career on April 6th. A man named Allen Boise, an old and well known citizen of Lewiston, was thrown from a wagon last Thursday, and killed.

Little Potlatch, up in Idaho, is called the blue county. Everybody has the blues, so writes a correspondent of the Lewiston Teller.

Frank Day, a type of Pomeroy, was arrested in Walla Walla, on the night of March 20th, for the robbery of a safe in Dayton.

Gussie Graves, a step-son of W. J. Magoon, who resides at Mt. Vernon, near Kalama, W. T., was recently killed by a cougar.

Cook Bay News: A cow belonging to P. Monarch got mired in the swamp at Ten Mile last week and was devoured by bears in a short time.

Articles of incorporation of the Cook Bay and Coquille Wagon Road and Navigation company were filed in the Clerk's office at Empire City on Saturday.

Last week seven families, numbering about thirty-five souls, arrived at Roseburg, direct from Ida county, Iowa. Most of them are farmers and intend to buy farms.

The murdered bodies of three Chinamen found near Lewiston are spoken of as encouraging evidence that this class of men will soon be used up. So says the Mountaineer.

Oregon Sentinel: "President Arthur was burned in effigy in this place and at Phoenix last Saturday evening on account of the President's veto of the Chinese bill passed by Congress."

Alvin Hackett, a student from Clackamas county, at the State university, while out hunting last week, had his face terribly mangled by a cartridge blowing out backward from a breach-loading shot gun.

Railroad building on the California and Oregon line is being vigorously pressed from Astoria north, and on the Willard road from Roseburg south. A junction of the two roads will be effected at the State line.

A man named L. M. Stroux, from Milton, was arrested on Monday by an Iowa officer, who left with the prisoner on the evening train for the east. The officers were very reticent about the matter, but a woman is said to be at the bottom of the difficulty.

Reports from every section, says the Prineville News, regarding the condition of stock, agree on the one particular point, that there will be a heavy loss. The extraordinary deep snow and late spring has left cattle extremely poor and weak, and already many carcasses may be seen, even in the immediate vicinity of town.

Al Tureman purchased a cinnamon bear of Johnnie Morris for two dollars. On the way home with bruin he became affectionate; bruin did not like it and proposed fight. In the tussle he threw Tureman down, mangled his hand, but his leg laddly and hugged him rather tightly. So says the East Oregonian.

A China wash house that opened at Astland about a week ago is already a thing of the past. Six-shooters were the main argument used in inviting them to leave but they seemed to be convincing, as the Chinamen have not returned. Popular feeling seems to be divided and considerable excitement is reported.

The officers of the State Agricultural Association and the Washington County Agricultural Society have made arrangements with the O. R. & N. Co., whereby stock intended for racing or exhibition at these fairs will be carried over the various railroad and steambot lines throughout the state at half rates, and passengers will be sold round tickets at 40 per cent discount.

TELEGRAMS. Baltimore, April 16.—Six dead bodies of negro infants were found to-day in a shed near Granby street occupied by Charles A. White, a negro undertaker. The remains were in a terrible state of decomposition. White says he does not know how the bodies came there. An inquest will be held.

Washington, April 14.—Secretary Lincoln denies that he is to relieve Minister Lowell. It is also reliably ascertained that the withdrawal of Lowell was not discussed by the cabinet.

It is understood that when the Mason case comes before the supreme court on petition for habeas corpus, the attorney-general will challenge the right of court to take original jurisdiction on the ground that the question could only be brought to that court on appeal.

London, April 16.—Conservatives are making political capital of the statement that all naval ports are accepting of contracts for American beef for the navy. It is expected the subject will be raised in parliament. There is a rumor, probably true, that the government intends to abolish the curing establishment at Deptford and favor a system of obtaining supplies by contract from private firms.

Vienna, April 16.—The Presse says trustworthy merchants from Moscow report that eighty workmen on the Usarpurki cathedral were arrested on Saturday in consequence of the discovery of a mine under that edifice, in which the intended ceremony of coronation of the czar takes place.

Chicago, April 17.—A remarkably bright aurora borealis was visible here to-night, perfectly defined, extending nearly to the zenith. The air was so charged with electricity that the telegraph would not work with batteries connected. The wire is now in operation between Chicago and New York and intermediate points, and Chicago and Omaha. The wire between Chicago and St. Paul was closed on account of no warning to St. Paul to disconnect their battery. The display at St. Paul is reported very brilliant.

Dreadwood, April 17.—Judge Moody has granted a writ of error in the case of Crow Dog. Guayman, April 4.—San Calhoun, lately employed as carpenter, killed a Mexican at this place a few days ago and is now in jail.

St. Joseph, April 18.—Sheriff Timberlake and posse of Kansas City, heavily armed, arrived on the midnight train and attended the trial of the Ford boys. It is expected that on receipt of a pardon the boys will be quickly taken to Kansas City before day-break. It is feared they will be in danger at St. Joseph. The jail has been closely guarded during their confinement, and no suspicious applicants admitted. Mrs. James to-day received her husband's arms, by order of the probate court, and returned with them to Kansas City to-night.

Jefferson City, April 18.—Gov. Crittenden has granted an unconditional pardon to the Ford brothers, who plead guilty of having killed Jesse James at St. Joseph, and were sentenced to be hanged May 19.
