Parties in the Gazette.

Parties in the Gazette either for subscription or advertising will please settle up.
Wood, Wood, Wood.
Persons wishing to pay this office in wood will please deliver it soon. We cannot wait until after harvest for it.
Severe Accident.
A young Mr. Hammer who lives four or five miles west of Monroe, while scuffling several days ago caught his foot on a root and broke the muscles loose, causing a very painful wound, and one that may permanently cripple him.
New Contracts.
Mr. G. W. Philbrick, of this place, has lately been awarded the contract of building a bridge across Madly in Linn county, near Oak Point school house. The contract price is $1000. He also has a contract to build a new house, one and a half stories high, for Mr. John Stewart on the vacant lots on the corner of the block north of the GAZETTE office. Mr. Philbrick has had a long experience in the contract and building business in Oregon. He has moved to Corvallis expecting to make it his home. He will no doubt receive a large share of the work in his line.
Insurance.
Mr. N. W. Garretson, of Portland, general agent for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company of Wisconsin, can be found in Corvallis during the day of this week, where he will be attending to business for his company. Several persons here are in insurance, who desire to take policies of insurance on their lives, have requested him to come for that purpose. We are informed that Mr. Garretson has paid to about 70 mutual endowment policy holders the sum of about $150,000 in Portland, and most of them deeming it a good investment insured again on the same terms.
The Sea Foam.
We are credibly informed that a telegram was received here last Friday giving information to the effect that Capt. J. J. Winant, in command of the Sea Foam, bound from San Francisco to Yaquina Bay, loaded with O. P. R. iron and material, had put into Port Trinidad on account of severe weather, and would remain there until more favorable weather came.
LATER.—Rev. Anthony Simpson arrived from Newport this week, having left there on last Monday morning, and informs us that a schooner was lying off the bay at Newport, as if waiting for the tide, which all parties there felt sure was the Sea Foam. If this is the case, she is no doubt in port before this time.
What we Like.
The Plasterer in giving a hint says: We like to hear a man refuse to take his home paper; and all the time sponge on his neighbors for the reading of it. We like to hear a man complain, when asked to subscribe for his home paper that he takes more papers than he reads now, and then go round and borrow his neighbor's and loaf around until he gathers all the news from it. We like to see a man run down his home paper as not worth taking, and every now and then hint a favor of the editor in his column. We like to see a merchant or other business man refuse to advertise in his home paper, and then try to get a share of the trade which the newspapers bring to town. We like to see this; it looks economical, thrifty, progressive and—cheeky.
The Episcopal Church, Corvallis.
The repairs and additions to this church having been now completed, full services will be held in it by Bishop Morris on Sunday, July 9th—in the morning at 11, and in the evening at 7:30. The ladies of the congregation have arranged for a Sociable, which will be given in the enlarged and restored room under the church, on Friday evening, July 7th, at 7:30. Refreshments will be provided. A good selection of music will be given, with other entertainments. All friends are cordially invited. Admission free. Among the gifts to the church will be noticed a baptismal font, presented by Mrs. Nicholson as a memorial of her son, I.

Herbert Nicholson, who died here last Christmas Eve. It is carved in stone by Mr. Ira Miller, of Corvallis, from a photograph—sent by Mrs. Nicholson—of the old font in Aller church, Somersetshire, England, in which King Alfred caused King Guthran the Dane and the rest of his prisoners to be baptised after the great victory near Langport, Somerset, in the ninth century, more than one thousand years ago.

We learned recently that Mrs. A. R. Pygall has been very sick for about six weeks with a very severe attack of gastritis.
Rev. J. R. N. Bell who has been on a trip East, returned to this place last Saturday. He preached at the College chapel last Sabbath.
C. H. Whitney returned from a pleasure trip last Friday, having been gone about ten days to Astoria and Ilwaco to enjoy the sea breeze.
Our time-honored friend William B. Hamilton has been severely sick for several days with symptoms of paralysis. It is feared that he will not recover.
The Scoble held at the residence of Prof. McElroy in this city on the evening of the 23d inst., was a successful socially and financially, the proceeds being $30.
The city, under the supervision of her efficient Marshal—Mr. Pygall—has built a cross-walk down at the corner where Mr. Langworthy's store is situated.
Mr. E. C. Vaughn has returned from Portland with a large and nicely assorted stock of groceries. He has been occupied during most of the present week opening and arranging his stock preparatory to business.
Dr. G. E. Alexander, late of California, has recently located in our town, having his office one door south of Mr. J. Mason's residence, where he can be consulted at any time.
We are informed that two bridges on the river road below town have been examined by a competent workman, and that they are in condition which is likely to endanger the travel.
The fire-works for the Fourth of July will be at 9 o'clock in the evening on the large plot of vacant ground north of Mary's river bridge, in front of Rev. Mr. Haines' residence.
The Bain wagon, acknowledged the best on the Pacific coast, better finished better painted and the lightest running (Cal.) and see the new stock at Woodcock & Baldwin's.
Persons in the city or country wishing anything in the general merchandise line, will find it to their advantage to call at A. J. Langworthy's cash store before purchasing elsewhere.
The McCormick Twine Binder is the lightest machine in market by actual weight and proved a success in our county last year, is again in the field and can be seen at Woodcock & Baldwin's.
Bishop J. E. Esher, of Chicago, will preach at the Evangelical church in this city next Sunday at 11 A. M., and ordain a minister to the order of an elder. In the evening the Bishop will preach at Albany.
Capt. Merriman, of Forest Grove, recently purchased two nice paintings executed by Mr. Wright of this place. So well pleased was he with them that he engaged Mr. Wright to paint three more for him of different designs.
Otto Fox, of San Francisco, but formerly of this place, was married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, to Miss Rosa Eppinger of New York city, at the residence of the bride's parents at the latter place. A grand reception was held in the evening.
Nick Bassem, the enterprising butcher and proprietor of the Palace and St. Nicholas markets at this place, keeps always on hand the finest of meats, both fat, tender and delicious. All those wanting chickens had best engage them immediately. Call and see him.
It is said that on last Saturday pistols and knives were promiscuously displayed on Mary's river bridge by two hostile belligerents. Passers-by did not stop to learn the whole particulars. In fact the pistol was out, and their desire was more for travel than curiosity.
Rev. J. R. N. Bell will not hold services at the College chapel on next Sunday morning, but will give way for his congregation to go and hear the Bishop of the Evangelical church. On Sabbath evening at 6:30 he will continue his course of lectures begun on last Sunday.
Joseph Irvin arrived here from Newport the latter part of last week in charge of three persons, taking them to Portland, charged with selling liquor to Indians. The parties returned to this place on Sunday.

and we understand that some of them plead guilty and paid a small fine before they returned.
On the 27th a hired man of Mr. Feaster, about eight miles a little west of south from Corvallis cut off his great toe on the left foot—causing quite a painful wound. Dr. Farra was called to see him and left him in comfortable condition.
On the 28th at Mr. Hurlburt's in Linn county, Mr. Black, a workman, while employed in framing a barn, indicted a severe cut on the inside of his left wrist with a chisel, cutting the ulnar artery. Drs. Farra and Lee were called to see him and after ligating the artery he was left in a condition to get well.
Mr. Sorbin, of Albany, is going soon to open a saloon in the corner building formerly occupied by a Wayman St. Clair as a harness shop. A large cellar has been dug underneath the building and a doorway prepared to enter it from the south side, beside a new floor, ceiling and a general repairing throughout.
Mr. F. H. Sawtell, of this place, is to assist Messrs. DeClark & Samuels in attending the new warehouse which they are to build soon near the railroad depot at this place. Fred will be prepared about the middle of July to give out sacks to the farmers, and they will do well to call and see him before storing elsewhere.
Mr. Ed. Ledgerwood, who has been in charge of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express for a couple of years on the route between here and Portland, removes up north to take charge of a route up there. Ed. leaves many friends who regret his departure. His place is supplied here by Mr. S. E. Goodman, from Lane county.
On last Tuesday morning at nine o'clock the south bound freight train on the east side road, broke through the bridge over Pudding river, near Aurora. Nine cars loaded with steel rails and other freight fell through, a distance of forty feet. B. F. Harvey, a brakeman, was the only person hurt—by some cuts and other injuries about the head. He will probably recover.
F. H. Sawtell and the Petroleum V. Nasty of the Corvallis postoffice (alias N. R. Barber), started last Monday morning for Alsea Valley on a fishing and hunting excursion. Fred was armed with a fish rod and line for the trout and a shot gun to keep the snakes away from camp. Mr. Nasty intent upon large game armed himself with a derringer to kill elk with and a large sized umbrella to keep the sun off while he was hunting them.
Examinations and Commencement at Philomath College.
The examinations in the various departments were thorough, interesting and consequently, satisfactory. Latin, Greek and many other branches appear to be taught even more successfully than hitherto. Botany, book-keeping, geology, zoology and mathematics greatly enlist the students. The Professors require principles as well as answers. In the analysis of the vegetable and animal kingdom, it is easily seen that the classes understand the subjects under consideration.
On Sunday, the 25th inst., Pres. Walker delivered the Baccalaureate address; upon the subject of "Life." Such ease and ability were evinced by the speaker that, although he was twice interrupted by applause, it was but a moment till the auditors were totally absorbed in the subject.
On the Tuesday following, at the annual meeting of the College Board, the same corps of teachers were elected to continue their duties.
The Commencement exercises were held, on Wednesday the 28th inst., at the College grove, one mile east of town. The grove is just large enough to be pleasant to the spectators. The Philomath cornet band assisted by Prof. Jones; furnished excellent music. Miss Alice Wilcox in an expressive manner delivered the opening oration. Miss Sibney Hoak then declaimed a selection very forcibly. Next an essay by Miss Effie Gleason; subject—"Lightness." Commerce began with lightness—natural and artificial. Lightness—Money, the light. If this light be missing in the heart, how great the darkness must be. Miss J. McNeal then declaimed "Jairus Daughters." Mr. Baker O'Neil delivered an oration; subject—"Nature's All on last and sea in nature." A grand chorus of harmony. The speaker clearly showed how nature played all the parts of music—all tend to convey inspiration. Next an essay by Mr. S. S. Campbell; subject—"The World in the Nineteenth Century." Declaration; subject—"Too much of a Lady," by Emma Shipley. The speaker so truly personated the true idea of a lady and spoke of the "two much of a lady" that the contrast was readily seen. Oration by Mr. J. F. Edwards; subject—"Dangers of Infidelic Thought." The speaker renewed the history of the world and its theories. —This age is solemnly asking if we are going to fall into the errors of nations gone.
The Rev. Dr. H. K. Hines, editor of the P. C. Advocate, Portland, was then introduced to the audience, and delivered the annual address before the students and teachers.—In all the world that has passed, the best has never been reached.—Good and better are positive, comparative; but best is superlative. No past ever wore all his dreams into poetry,—no profound scholar has encompassed all within his reach,—no tongueless ever echoed all his sculptures. —The true workman is ever greater than his work.—Nothing is ever finished; beyond the good there is better; beyond the better there is best. When brows seek crowns, the crown is dishonored; when crests seek brows, the brow is glorified.—The test of a man is what he can do; the test of a scholarship is what it qualifies him for.—The curriculum is not the best of the school; but the best is the moulded culture. The speaker is one of the few natural orators who are noted for being complete and original. As an orator Mr. Hines has but few peers in the Northwest.
Diplomas were granted to Mr. J. F. Edwards in the scientific course, and to Messrs. Clarence Andrews, John Fletcher and John Whelan of the scientific department. Valedictory by J. F. Edwards.
After dinner, the reunion of the Alumni took place. Miss L. J. Allen A. M., favored the audience with a salutatory which was a rare treat. The undersigned was that really introduce the exercises in an appropriate manner. Mr. J. F. Edwards was then placed in the hands of the Alumni for safe keeping. J. B. Horner then delivered an oration which proved to be a course of therapeutics. The opening was homoeopathic, but the peroration was an allopathic diagnosis. The dose should be well shaken before taken. "Latter the undersigned as being the only one who dare say this thing." Mr. J. A. Henkle, B. S., then read an ably edited journal in a credible manner. Mrs. M. A. Harris, A. M., read a well written essay; subject, "Changing and Unchanging." Mr. L. N. Edwards, B. S., read the annual which were interspersed with wit and pathos. The exercises closed with benevolent.
Among the visitors we noticed Pres. Arnold, Prof. Hawthorne, State School Supt. McElroy, besides others to numerous to mention.

Latest style of ladies', gents', boys', misses and children's shoes and slippers just received at A. J. Langworthy's Cash Store, Corvallis, Oregon.

Absolutely Sure.
I have no more doubts of the beneficial effects of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver cure than I have that the Genesee river empties into Lake Ontario.

What a German Newspaper Says.
St. Joseph Volksblatt, Aug. 22, 1882.
We Germans are in general not inclined to believe at once in great announcements and puffery are rather suspicious, and often with perfect right of exaggerations and humblings. Our motto is, "What the eye sees the heart believes," and we therefore desire to see and examine ourselves before we speak about things and praise them. The doctor kindly received him, and we were our idea when we heard and read so much about Dr. S. A. Richardson's justly celebrated World's Epileptic Institute, and we are now able to give the best information on the subject, based on a personal review and examination of the premises.
Our reporter found Dr. Richardson in his office. The doctor kindly received him, and not only answered all his questions, but showed and explained everything about the place to him. His office is on the first floor of the building, and its walls are covered with thousands of photographs of gentlemen and ladies restored to health by the use of Samaritan Nervine, among whom our reporter recognized many of his own countrymen, and his glass cases contain innumerable certificates of cures and letters in praise of this world-famous remedy.
About ten years ago Dr. Richardson came to St. Joseph. He was then a poor young man, with but little money, and no friends to assist him. He rented a small office on Francis street, and commenced the struggle for success single-handed and alone. He has achieved a grand triumph, in the face of stubborn opposition on every hand, and is to-day one of the wealthiest men in our midst. This fact alone is amply sufficient to show the merits of his invaluable preparation, even though there were no other sources from which to procure valid and reliable testimony.
But besides the money which this great medicine has been the means of bringing to the inventor, the doctor receives daily blessings of thousands of patients restored to health and happiness through his instrumentality. These letters are open for inspection at his office, and it requires two clerks to attend to this branch of the business.
Dr. Richardson is a living example to be imitated by all young men who have a disposition to reach eminence in the world by diligence in the use of their own exertions, and besides the enjoyment of the prosperity which surrounds him, he has the satisfaction to be regarded a human benefactor.

CONSUMPTION CURED.
An old physician, retired from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for general Debility and all nervous complaints, after having thoroughly tested his wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. The recipe with full particulars, directions for preparation and use, and all necessary advice and instructions for successful treatment at your own home, will be received by you by return mail, free of charge by addressing with stamp or stamped self-addressed envelope to
