OFFICIAL PAPER FOR BENTON COUNTY

"GRAND CENTRAL DEPOT.

What has become of that "Grand Central Depot" at Portland, about which there was so much talk about Mr. Villard's building at one time ? Has it proved to be a gust of wind and a bubble, or is it only temporarily elumbering preparatory to assuming deffinite shape hereafter? Bumor says that some of Portland's citizens who at one time were the most sanguine in the completion of that promised ornament to the city have given up all hopes of its being built. It is said that Villard was interested in a large lot of land which at the time the Depot was promised he wished to sell, and since having sold it, it is not necessary to complete the "Grand Central." Those who bought his land, however, no doubt see it differeatly.

LEGISLATURE AND SUPREME COURT

The time for holding the terms of th Supreme Court of this State should be changed to commence about the time when they formerly did, and that was about the first part of January and July of each year. There are many reasons why such a change should be made. The very best reason that could be suggested is that for some time after the times just named there are no courts held in any of the circuits and attorneys therefore have time to attend the Supreme Court. The time for holding the Legislature could also be changed to commence about the first of January, which would be a time of year when the people who are usually elected to that place have more leasure than at almost any other season of the year. At the present time of their meeting it occurs at the busyest season of the year. Will the Legislature look into these two important matters and the change suggested, or will they continue to ren along in the same groove as heretofore?

DIPHTHERIA.

It has been suggested and it is pretty thoroughly understood that diphtheria is so contagious in its nature that it may be carried in the clothing and be thereby communi cated weeks after parties have become well. If this is the case why is it not just as obligatory for persons having been effected with it to purify their clothing and houses as thoroughly as it is in smallpox and like diseases? In almost all cases where smallpox has been in a family, the bedding and elothing used around the disease is generally burned or destroyed and the buildings and all other clothing about the premises are thoroughly cleaused, and yet probably not in one case out of fifty is such precaution taken in cases of diphtheria, a disease which is probably ten times more fatal with children. But parties who have been in and around it are permitted to go around any preventative or safe precautions having been taken. The result is that every little while we hear of a bad case of diphtheria appearing somewhere in the community and no one can tell where it comes from Because they can't tell whose old infected clothes brought the contagion around. Authorities will scare a whole community fighting smallpox but a worse disease they pay no attention to.

WATURALIZATION OF CHINESE SHOULD BE

We frequently see accounts from the Eastern States where some of the courts continue to go through the farce of what they term naturalizing the Chinamen. It laws and treaties amounts to nothing but a judge the people at all seasons." farce without any force whatever. Yet this tendency of things may lead to something which may be legal and binding. No matter how illegal such a proceeding may be now there is danger of its furnishing a pretext for those who favor Chinese naturalization to build an argument upon. After a number of years have passed and of different kinds under them, it will then be an easy matter for the philanthropic adherents of the Chinese and enemys to the rest of mankind to argue "that these unfortunate individuals have went through a certain form which they honestly supposed gave them the rights of all naturalized citisens and that they have noted upon this last in his consession a large number of lat. #### THE TENPERANCE QUESTION.

The state legislature will soon convenand will be called upon by numerous petitioners-both men and women-of our state to favor a constitutional amendment, prohibiting the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicating liquors, except for mechanical, scientific and medicinal purposes. There certainly is no room for any doubt but what the majority of our legislators will sustain the will of the petitioners.

The persistent agitation of the temperance question by its advocates is fast creating public sentiment against the license system and in favor of prohibition. This sentiment promises to finally overshadow our nation and to sweep from the deck and hull of our ship of state the all engulting cause of our country's crimes and miseries. The public man that is too blind to foresee this result will find himself caught in the meshes of his own stupidity, and it is to be hoped that none of our legislators of the coming session will suffer themselves to be ensuared the whisky power as against the temper-

When the necessary legislation is secured in favor of prohibition something more is necessary than mere law. Law must be supported by public sentiment. Some claim that we have public sentiment sufficient, agitate. We must agitate from the pulpit, the press and the lecture stand. We must instruct in scriptural temperance—instruct great work. One thing is absolutely requisite in order to secure a solid and wide-spread victory of temperance truths: it is to induce Christian men and other temperance men to vote in all elections on the scriptural rule, which is as follows: "Moreover, thou shalt provide out of all the people able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness, and place such over them; to be rulers seems hardly beyond any question but of thousands, and rulers of hundreds, rulers what such a performance under existing of fifties and rulers of tens, and let then or English and French controllers, and these employes profit enormously by abuse of their places, which they held to the exclusion of Arabs. They constantly extended their own privileges and increased their preference until Arabi, who was then colonel in the service, complained to the khedive. In this way a breach occurred between Arabi and the khedive, and difficulties are which might easily have been are An old physician, retired from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for general Debility and all nervous complaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows.
