W. Freil informs us that unusually large fires have been devastating the forests of Florence rock precinct, says the Jacksonsville Times. In most cases reckless hunters have been the cause of this wanton destruction there as well as elsewhere.

This is the time of year that we ought to be most careful with fires, after having stood all summer the stove pipes and chimneys are more liable to catch on fire from the old sut that has laid in them. This should be attended to and the chimneys examined before it is too late.

The latest rumors from Josephine county are to the effect that parties representing Eastern capitalists have purchased the copper mines in the vicinity of Waldo, and that several men are now engaged in prospecting them. It is believed that there is a large deposit of ore that will pay well.

Pugot Sound Salmon.

The silver salmon this season are very small, but the Chinook fish are correspondingly large. Near the mouth of the Dunaish river the bay is literally dotted with canoes and boats, the occupants of which are engaged in fishing. The ruling price now is five cents each for good sized salmon, but as the season advances the price will decline.—Post-Intelligencer.

Lane County Fair.

The annual fair of the Lane County Agricultural Society will be held on Thursday and Friday, October 5th and 6th. The place selected is on the farm of J. R. Sellers, five miles east of Goshaw and the same distance from Cresswell. Suitable grounds for camping purposes, with wood and water a building 40x50 feet, for the exhibition of vegetables, grains, fruits, ladies' handwork, etc., and a track for trials of speed for horses are all in readiness. No entrance or admission fees required, and no money premiums paid. Judges for every class and for all articles on exhibition will award the premiums of blue and red ribbons.

Arrival from Russia.

By the California Evissa a colony of Russian Jews from Odessa, consisting of some 23 men and some half dozen women. They have rented a building back of East Portland where they are located for the present. The men are mostly young, only two or three being married. Several of them are well educated, and are druggists, engineers, etc., by profession. They are in comfortable circumstances, and it is their expressed intention to secure a tract of land and settle in a body as fillers of the soil.—Standard.

Preaching.

Services regularly at the Episcopal church commencing next Sunday at 11 o'clock. Rev. R. Stephens, pastor.

Railroad Accident.

The south bound train last Wednesday afternoon on the west side road about half a mile below Mount View station found a cow upon the track which proved to give the locomotive a chase rather than step to one side. The whistle was sounded to scare the dumb brute away which signal was unheeded until the animal fell through as usual and instead of stopping the train which resulted in throwing off the engine and several box cars, which delayed the train until about seven o'clock this morning before it got in. The Legislature which is now in session should pass a law with severe penalties for noncompliance, requiring railroad companies to fence their track and then they should pass another law with like penalties for punishing the employees of such companies for running over animals on the track and thus endangering the life of all passengers aboard of their trains. If the company officials were placed upon the cars at such times in place of passengers whose lives were at risk, but few animals would be run over. Severe punishment for a reckless disregard of life and property is the only wholesome manner in which successfully to prevent such accidents.

The Right of Interference.

Frequently the question is asked, "what right have you to interfere with what a man eats, drinks, or wears?" just as though the prohibition of the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicating drinks is the first and only instance where law steps in and interferes with the citizen's private judgment and right of self control. It is a fact, however, that the general government, the state, incorporated cities and towns of our nation do assume to control and regulate the manufacture and sale of "what some people drink large quantities of. The law fixes the quantity even and says who are not proper subjects to sell to. The principal of interference with questionable occupations, with methods of procuring the enemies of honest industry by one set of men from their fellow men has been, and always will be in all well regulated governments, an acknowledged right.

The law forbids the druggist selling poison without marking it "poison" and if the druggist is aware that the purchaser wants it for suicidal or homicidal purposes, he is not justified in selling it. The law dictates to the citizens of some cities how they shall build their houses, of what kind of material even. The law contemplates the general good.

Success in Life.

Hard work and judicious economy of strength, time and money, are the secrets of success in life. Luck does not count for so much as many people suppose. Accidental circumstances, as regards time and place, of course, contribute much to success in life, but it may be laid down as a general rule, that men who seem to be successful, have not attained to eminence without intense and continued thought and perseverance. A sticking about hours of work is obstructive of all success beyond a humble mediocrity. Never was a truer word uttered than that "the hand of the diligent maketh rich." In no department of life do men rise to eminence who have not undergone a long and diligent preparation; for whatever may be the difference in the mental power of individuals, it is the cultivation of the mind alone that leads to distinction. Every young man who is ambitious of success must be willing to work for it. He must prepare himself for it by systematic training, and then he may rest assured that he will seldom fail of accomplishing it. It is an ill-fortuned notion to say that merit in the long run is neglected. Don't fear that for a moment. Educate yourself practically and usefully, then be diligent and faithful in your work, and rest assured that you will have every chance of a brilliant success.—Ex.

Death.

STANNUS—At Independence, Oregon, last Friday evening, the 13th inst., Zella Stannus, aged about seven years, the eldest daughter of Eva and Leander Stannus. She had been afflicted for several days with a severe attack of typhoid fever which baffled the skillful attention of physicians and disappointed the watchful care of a loving mother and anxious friends. The funeral ceremonies took place at calvary Presbyterian church, Independence, Rev. Anthony Simpson officiating. The remains were buried in the Monumental burial ground. Mrs. Eva Stannus was with her two little daughters at the time of this sad bereavement visiting at the Belt house, the residence of her husband's parents, the husband being at home in Idaho which circumstance added to the sadness of the affliction; but it will doubtless be a comfort to him to know that his wife and children were surrounded by kind and sympathizing friends who did everything in their power to mitigate the severity of their grief. The younger child of Mrs. Stannus who has also been quite sick is now in a fair way to recovery.

Hanna Shot by Colwell, and his Throat Cut by a Stranger.

A shooting and cutting scrape occurred in Jacksonville on last Sunday night about 11 o'clock between Wm. Colwell and Charles Hanna, in which the latter was shot in the head and afterwards had his throat cut. Hanna was shot just below the left eye, the ball ranging downward and it is reported in the back part of the head. The most cowardly part of the affair was when another man, named Charles Dodson, a stranger there, rushed in and cut Hanna's throat after he was shot and had fallen to the ground. Although seriously wounded Hanna's chances of recovery are better now than at first supposed. Both of the assailants are in jail.

A Great Change.

Dr. J. R. Bayley returned home from a protracted visit to the bay last Saturday. He looks much refreshed and in fact the invigorating sea breeze has the effect to make the Dr. look quite contented so much so that many of his friends at a distance hardly knew whether it was a country squaw or a live picture of Kallistaff which they saw walking up street on Monday morning.

Where is Butcher?

The above question has not been answered but a similar one has met with a response. The answer came from Jas. Hays of this place. He returned from Portland last Friday and while there he states that he saw Mr. Butcher at the hotel where he was stopping on the Tuesday before. This is the latest and Mr. Hays quite earnestly vouches for its truth.

A Boy.

We will pay a boy the cash twice each week who will come promptly at the appointed time and roll for printing the GAZETTE. Or we will pay a good active prompt and industrious young man or boy the cash every Saturday night for his services who desires to enter our office to learn the printing business and continue until he learns the trade. The contract to be made with his parents.

Business Education.

We can furnish at this office, to any person desiring a thorough business education, a certificate for a scholarship in the Columbia business college of Portland, Oregon, which will entitle the purchaser to a thorough course of instruction at this school.

Items From King's Valley.

September 18, 1882.

Harvesting is about over and farmers are busily engaged in hauling their wheat to Souver's Station and Arlie.

The wife of Mr. Joseph Allen was seriously sick with neuralgia of the heart for the part of the week, but at present she is rapidly improving.

Larkin Price, his father and Mr. Thomas Ramsdale recently went on an elk hunt, back of Mary's peak, returning last Monday evening; they report having had a tire-some and difficult time, but after exercising a great deal of patience they succeeded in slaying one large elk. A number of the families of the valley are being supplied with excellent juicy elk meat.

Mr. Ramsdale, of Yaquina Bay, came in the valley yesterday.

Hon. James Chambers and family will be invited to Siletz agency, where it is said, a lucrative position is offered him. The good people of the valley regret to lose such an excellent enterprising citizen. He has returned to his farm to the enterprising firm of Crouser & Crosson.

On last Friday Miss Nettie Pitman returned home from a protracted visit, east of the mountains.

Miss Allen was called home from near the neighborhood of Corvallis, on account of the severe sickness of her mother.

Miss Hattie Wright is teaching an excellent school in the upper district. She has yet four weeks to teach to complete her term, when she will return to Corvallis, to attend the Agricultural college.

Mr. Dennis Meade's second daughter was buried a few days since, having died with scrofulous consumption. Within the last nine months Mr. Meade lost his wife and two daughters from that fatal disease. His wife was a cousin to Hon. Thomas H. Brent of Washington Territory.

Our friend, Mr. Newman, is selling his property at private sale, and in a few weeks will go to eastern Washington Territory where he has several sons.

King's Valley can board of a blue ribbon organization. Long may it live!

A wagon load of the Arlie boys were in the valley Sunday evening, to attend church services.

ROVER.

A Business Education.

A certificate of scholarship for sale at this office to the Portland business college of which A. P. Armstrong is president.

Last Thursday morning, Sept. 14, at about 5 o'clock, a fight occurred at I. F. Youn's hop yard on the McKenzies, which resulted in the death of an Indian called John Kern. He was cut in the left side and also in the head by another Indian called Jim Kirk and a white man who goes by the name of Tom Jackson but whose real name is John Stewart.

Thomas Condon, the Professor of Natural Science and History of the Oregon State University, was in New Tacoma this week. says the Ledger, and visited the coal mines of Carbonado and the lime kiln near Ortling, taking specimens of coal and lime rock for his large and valuable cabinet in Eugene City. He will lecture the coming winter on the geological formation and mineral resources of Puget Sound.

Work on the new brick banking house for Hovey, Humphrey & Post, has been commenced. The wooden building that has occupied the ground almost from the settlement of the town was removed during the week, and the new building will soon take its place. The brick store of Hovey & Humphrey, adjoining the banking building is now nearly completed. The walls are up and ready for the carpenters.

Mr. Duprey Thompson, brother of Hon. J. M. Thompson whose death was so widely lamented last spring, died last week in the upper country. His aged mother, who was stopping with her daughter, Mrs. Douthitt, started on Tuesday from here to meet the remains. The remains came up on the train of Thursday, and were taken from this place to the Purdy cemetery for interment at four o'clock that afternoon. Dr. Boswell, of Colfax, W. T., accompanied the remains.

War in Egypt.

Cairo, Sept. 17.—Araba Pasha says he was compelled to fight against his will. He maintains a calm, resolute demeanor. Arabi informed General Lowe he trusted himself to English honor, as a soldier whose army had been defeated. Gen. Lowe replied he could not discuss the question of war, his only mission being to arrest him. Arabi considers DeLesseps shamefully betrayed the national Egyptian party who depended upon his assurances that he would prevent any landing of troops or war material by way of the canal. British troops are everywhere well received, even in native quarters. A number of Egyptian levies are leaving for home, in many cases taking their Remington rifles. Throughout the campaign Egyptians had a complete system of spies in Alexandria and Ismailia. The rebels expected the British would attack Tola Kehir at midnight and they remained on their trenches all night. This shows the attack was not a surprise.

Alexandria, 18.—The garrison of Aboukir ordered to proceed to Kaf el Dwar and surrender, marched out last evening. One entire regiment with arms marched off eastward and joined Abdalla Pasha at Damietta, and the remainder of the first detachment, about 150 men, reached Kaf el Dwar at 8 this morning. Many others escaped on the way, carrying off two or three rifles, a piece. The rest of the garrison numbering about 5000 or 6000, arrived at noon. They were disarmed the men sent to their homes and officers detained. The report of the pillaging of Mansherah arose from the mob smashing the windows of loyal inhabitants who illuminated upon receiving the news of the victory at Tola Kehir.

Alexandria, Sept. 18.—Of the Egyptian officers who surrendered explain that Arabi left his best soldiers at Kaf el Dwar because he thought the move on Ismailia was a ruse, and the real attack of the British would be on Kaf el Dwar.

The sultan has quite recently been in communication with Arabi through Damietta. There can be no doubt the resistance of the commander of that place originates from Stamboul. The commander at Damietta also holds forts Dibla and Ghemalieh. The governor at Port Said sent an Arab to the rebel commander Friday, but the messenger has not returned.

Alexandria, Sept. 17.—When the two trains which went to Kaf el Dwar yesterday afternoon to bring here prisoners of war reached that place, all the soldiers had disappeared with the exception of a small body left to guard the arms, ammunition and accoutrements. The Bedouins had left 12 hours before the arrival of the British troops, taking their arms and ammunition with them.

We have received a shipment tobaccos direct from the cast and can low prices. Clover, timothy and meag it runs good. Alsea and Los Angeles honey; East-ern sugars and syrups; coal oil and lamp stock, at very low prices.

War in Egypt.

Cairo, Sept. 17.—Araba Pasha says he was compelled to fight against his will. He maintains a calm, resolute demeanor. Arabi informed General Lowe he trusted himself to English honor, as a soldier whose army had been defeated. Gen. Lowe replied he could not discuss the question of war, his only mission being to arrest him. Arabi considers DeLesseps shamefully betrayed the national Egyptian party who depended upon his assurances that he would prevent any landing of troops or war material by way of the canal. British troops are everywhere well received, even in native quarters. A number of Egyptian levies are leaving for home, in many cases taking their Remington rifles. Throughout the campaign Egyptians had a complete system of spies in Alexandria and Ismailia. The rebels expected the British would attack Tola Kehir at midnight and they remained on their trenches all night. This shows the attack was not a surprise.

Alexandria, 18.—The garrison of Aboukir ordered to proceed to Kaf el Dwar and surrender, marched out last evening. One entire regiment with arms marched off eastward and joined Abdalla Pasha at Damietta, and the remainder of the first detachment, about 150 men, reached Kaf el Dwar
