Eating Before Sleeping. Man is the only animal that can b taught to sleep quietly on empty stomach. The brute creation resent all efforts to coax them to such a violation of the laws of nature. The lion roars in the forest until he has found his prey, and when he has devoured it he sleeps over until he needs another meal. The horse will paw all night in the stable and the pig will squeal all night in the pen. refusing all rest, or sleep until they are fed. The animals which chew the cud have ther own provision for a late meal just before dropping off to their nightly slumbers. Man can train himself to the habit of sleeping without a preceding meal, but only after long years of practice. The sleep which comes to adults long hours after partaking of food, and when the stomach is nearly or quite empty, is not after the type of infanfile repose. There is all the ditference in the world between the sheep of refreshment and the sleep of exhaustion. To sleep well the blood that swells the veins in our head during our busy hours must flow back, leaving a greatly diminished volume behind the brow that lately throbbed with such vehemence. To digest well, this blood is needed at the stomach and nearer the fountains of

It is a fact established beyond the possibility of contradiction that sleep aids digestion, and that the process of digestion is conducive to refreshing sleep. It needs no argument to convince us of this mutual relation. The drowsiness which always follows the well-ordered meal is itself a tes-

Scab in Sheep. For the information of those who have never met with any scab in eased sheep are easily detected by where an animal is but recently infected it shows no such signs. It would be well to visit the flock early that any of the sheep reach around and scratch on the shoulder and hip, and that these places show clean rubbed spots in the wool, the sheep has unboubtedly contracted scab, and you should act on that knowledge. No one ought to purchase sheep without first making this close examination, as even this may not protect you against buying freshly infected sheep.-Ex.

A study of the wool of several breeds of sheep, which is pubished for the first time in the advance report of the Ontario agricultural college at Guelph, shows that Merinos stand permanently first, both as regards fineness of wool and feltng qualities. The Southdowns come next and are far ahead in this respect of Southdown and Merino grades, which are about equal in fineness of wool. Next in order come the Leicester, Shropshire and Oxford downs, while the excellence of the Cotswold lies in the combing qualities of the wool .- Ex.

School Committee Cornered. At an examination of a public school on Staten island the teacher, justly proud of his scholars, addressing the audience, said: "Ladies and gentlemen, to prove that the boys re not crammed for the occasion, I will direct one of them to open the arithmetic at random and read out the first problem. Then I shall invite a gentleman of the audience to work out the sum on the board, and to commit intentional errors, which you will observe the boys will instantly detect. John Smith, open the book and read out, "Add fifteen-said:-"Certainly;" but paused and asked the teacher, "Is it fair to put the children to so difficult a problem?" "Oh, never fear," replied the teach-"they will be equal to it." "Very well," said the supervisor, "go on." They boy began the question:-"Add fifteen-sixteenths-" "No. no!" said the supervisor, "I will not be a party to overtaxing the children's brains. I have conscientious scruples against it. This forcing system is ruining the rising generation," and he gave back the chalk and left the room.

"Well, Judge Castleton, will you favor us?" asked the teacher, tendering the chalk. "I would do so with pleasure," replied the judge, "but I have a case coming on in my court in a minute or two," and he left. "Assessor Middleton, we must fall

A PATAL MISTAKE.

How A Blundering Judgement May Be Re sponsible for the Most Serious Results. Mr. Edwin Booth said recently that he supposed his lungs were affected, having a persistent cough until he saw Mr. Mackenzie, of Lon-"Very good, boys, very good; I don, who found that this symptom arose from a disturbance of the liver.

-N. Y. Herald. The above item, which has been going the rounds of the press, is of no special significance other than to the personal friends of Mr. Booth, "Aha! you young rogues! You're except that it brings to light a truth sharp, I see !" said the judge jocosely, of the greatest importance to the world. Few people pass through "That ain't a fraction at all. It's life without the affliction of a cough sider whether they are not seeking to one thousand five hundred and six- at some point in their career. It which such treatment is sure to "Oh, go on, go on," said the teach- may safely be said that more than bring.

half the coughs which are afflicting the world to-day do not have their origin in the lungs but are the result of more serious troubles in other organs of the body. "Liver coughs" are exceedingly common and vet are almost wholly misunderstood. Arising from a disordered state of the liver they show their results by congesting the lungs. In fact, the efforts of the liver to throw off the disease, produce coughing even when the lungs themselves are in a healthy

But it is a mistake to suppose that such delicate tissues as the lungs can long remain in a healthy condition when they are being constantly agitated by coughing. Such a theory would be absured. Consumption, which was feared at first, is certain to take place unless something is done to check the cause. This must be plain to every thoughtful mind. It stands to reason, therefore, that the only way in which "liver coughs" can be removed is by restoring the liver to health.

In this connection another fact of great importance becomes known, which can best be explained by the relation of an actual event. Mr. W-, a wealthy cattle dealer of Colorado, became greatly reduced in health and came east to Chicago for the purpose of being sured. He consulted Dr. J-, one of the leading physicians of the country on pulmonia subjects and began treatment for the cure of his lungs. But his cough increased while his strength decreased. Finally he determined to consult another physician and applied to Dr. B-. After a careful examination he was informed that his lungs were perfectly sound, while his kidneys were in a most terrible condition. He had all the apparent symptoms of consumption but he was suffering from the terrible Bright's disease. The symptoms of consumption them to you drunkards, paupers and are often the sure indications of Bright's disease.

The above truths regarding coughs have been known by the leading physicians for several years but the public have never been informed of them. They are serious facts, however, and should be understood by all, so that dangers which might otherwise prove fatal may be avoided. They clearly prove one great truth which is, that the kidneys and health should be constantly guarded.

the highest and purest hopes of liver are such vital organs that their The distressing, hacking cough er and his own money, the hard which is often dreaded as the forerunner of consumption and the wasting strength which accompanies it, in all probability may arise from weakened or diseased kldneys or liver, to restore which would cause returning health. How this most desirable end may be attained has long been a problem, but few people of intelligence at the present day have any doubts that the popular remedy known as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure has done more to correct. relieve and restore these organs than any other preparations ever before known. There are hundreds of instances which have occurred within the past three months where individuals have believed themselves the victims of consumption, when, in reality it was deranged kidneys and liver, which this remarkable medicipe has completely cured, as witness
