Crystal Wedding. On last Friday evening a goodly number of our citizens en masse entered the spacious parlors of the Vincent House and took session. The occasion was that of the 15th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent and this party had been previously arranged for the purpose of giving this highly esteemed couple a grand surprise and spending a few hours in enjoyment and sociability. The party was a grand success, even the surprise was complete. The host and hostess, however, soon omprehended the situation and in their usual pleasing and social manner entertained their guests creditably. The for part of the evening was spent in singing, card playing and general conversation after which a good supply of palateable pastry was produced which proved to be one of the leading features of the evening. The violin was then tuned and all joined in social hop until after midnight. The guests then departed feeling highly pleased with the evenings enjoyment and hoping that Mr. and Mrs. V. may live to enjoy their diamond wedding and that it may be as enjoyable as the one just celebrated. Quite a number of valuable presents were presented on the occasion of which the following is a list:

Mr. & Mrs. Dr. Johnson, butter dish. Mr. & Mrs. D. H. Kime, bread plate. Mr. & Mrs. Stock, water pitcher. Mrs. Judge Burnett, bread plate. Miss Ida Burnett, butter dish. Mr. & Mrs. Judge Kelsay, fruit stand.

Traveling Tricksters

A week seldom passes without some traveling man canvasses our city for orders either for clothing, foot gear, or shirts made requiring a certain amount to be paid in advance, and in many instances he does a good business. We would advise those who are in need of such articles to look over the advertisements in the GAZETTE and patronize our home merchants, as they can not only sell as cheap as eastern firms, but the purchaser always gets what he pays for. We have no assurance that we will ever hear from orders given most of these canvassing creatures as the following from an exchange will show:

"He was a nice young man, with fir glossy hat and elegant foot gear. In fact it was on the latter he traveled, so to speak. He was from 'Frisco, and was taking measures for common sense-sure-fit shoes, and also taking half cash deposit on orders; balance C. O. D., when the shoes came. He guaranteed that his shoes would reduce all bunions and remove all corns and in grown nails, and that he would send no shoes that would hurt the most confirmed "tender-foot" in the latter clause of the guarantee he kept his word faithfully. Caron. Nev., was his last field of operations Amount of assessment, $150. Resultcuss-word school established at Carson. Nice young man gone to pastures new.

An Act to Prevent Trespass.

The follwing bill was passed by the last legislature. It is said that the intention was mainly to prevent persons from hunting on land not his own but it seems to apply to all trespass alike:

Section 1. If any person shall go or tres pass upon any land not his own, and shall fail, neglect or refuse to depart therefrom immediately, and remain away, upon the verbal, or printed, or written notice of the person in the occupation of said lands, such respassers shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by fine not less than five nor more than fifty dollars, and shall be committed, in default of payment of the fine impossed, to jail of the county in which the offense is committed, one day for each two dollars of the said fine.

Section 2. Printed or written notices having attached thereto, by authority, the name of the person in the lawful occupation of said lands, and requiring all persons to forbear trespassing on said lands and to depart therefrom, posted in three conspicuou places on said lands, shall be held and deem ed to be sufficient notice, as mentioned in Section 1 of this Act.

Section 3. Justice's Courts shall be jur sdiction over all offenses defined in this Act. Section 4. All fines collected under the provisions of this Act, shall be paid into and shall constitute a part of the Common School Fund of the county in which the offense is committed.

Section 5. Inasmuch as the present lay is inadequate to the punishment of trespassers, this law shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval by the governor Approved Oct. 24th.

Sad Sights at Siletz.

SILETZ AGENCY, Nov. 4, 1882. ED. GAZETTE. -On last Wednesday evening at about 6 -o'clock the boarding hall, old commissary building, school house, wood shed and about 50 cords of wood were burn ed. Most of the government supplies and furniture were saved. The children were all saved and no accidents. Loss six or eight thousand dollars, " The government is the main looser, yet the loss falls heavily upon the 44 children that were in the hall. The fire originated in the third storie of the building, but just how it occured no on knows. The hall was 44 by 54 feet, three were attached about a dozen stove pipes running from various rooms in the building. When the fire was first discovered it was under such headway that, notwithstanding, the efforts made by both whites and Indians it could not be controled, Mrs. Taff and Miss Doty who have labored so hard to im prove and civilize these children of the for est were the greatest personal loosers; Miss Doty lost all her personal effects. A build ng will be fitted up temporily and the school will go on as before.

Agent Swan is hopeful and thinks fund will be furnished to rebuild again. The reservation without a mehool could not accomplish much in the way of civilizing the Indians. The school had just started upon an era of good prospority. The burning building lighting up the country for mile around, sherieks and crys of the children and the general excitement, presented scene long to be remembered by those who vitnessed it.

A Bold Robbery.

(Dalles Times-Mountain Last Thursday afternoon, between 3 and 4 o'clock, while Mrs. Dehm was absent from the house, some bold thief, whose cheek is more fully developed than his prudence, unlocked the front door of the residence and walked boldly in, passing through every room. He turned over every trunk n the house, and scattered around a bundle of deeds and other papers. Coming to s drawer which contained jewelry he helped imself to valuables worth about $300, pocketed two Smith and Weston's revolvers, nd walked up-stairs. Here, in a lodger's oom, he found an overcoat which he put on nd appropriated a watch. He had already taken one watch down stairs, and sundry other things. Mrs. Dohm arrived home in time to see him make his exit, and she immediately gave chase. He ran out on the sidewalk towards the new court house, and took a direction up the hill. If Mrs. Dehm had been armed, or had any help, she could have overtaken and captured him. As it was every tirearm was taken from the house and she was left entirely defenceless. This is the boldest and most successful attempt we have learned of for some time, and it would appear that our police force should be sufficiently vigilant to protect property from being stolen in open daylight.

Fatal Accident.

A Yreka dispatch,of the 27th says: P. F. McManus, mail carrier between Yroka and Plevna, on the Oregon and Linkville road. was found dead this morning near Shovel creek, Klamath river. The axle of the wagon broke on the ontside of the grade, throwing the wagon off and upon McManus, rolling over twice. The accident is supposed to have occurred soon after dark last night, by the lamps having been lit before the moon came up, Examination of the body after being brought here showed that he died suddenly, as his neck and shoulders were dislocated, besides receiving other fatal injuries. One horse was also killed. Deceased failed to reach Shovel creek on his way to Yrekallast night, and a search was instituted with the above result. He was formerly a prominent merchant here and leaves a wife and three children. McManu was formerly a resident of Jackson county, where he resided at the time of his marriage with Miss Hargrove of Corvallis in 1858.

The co-partnership heretofore existing between M. Stock and Myer Harris, under the firm name of M. Stock & Co. has this day been dissolved by mutual consent Myer Harris retireing, M. Stock will con inue the business, collect all outstanding taccounts due the firm and pay all bill against the firm.

Mrs. Mary Gravely, of Baily's cross-roads Bucks county, Pa., has a cow which, about four months ago, had its right front leg cut off below the knee by a railroad train. A veterinary surgeon dressed the wound and tied the arteries so skillfully that the cow recovered. She was kept in the stable until a few days ago, when a neighbor, a cabinetnaker, made for her a wooden leg, which was strapped on the stump. The cow hopped along holding the injured leg up for a day or two, but now she has concluded to use the wooden attachment, and limps around quite comfortably upon it, and seems to be in good health .- Wilkesbarre Union-Leader.

The dispute over the bones of Guiteau has not yet been settled. The remains are well district at work and are crushing still in the possession of Dr. Shiffert of the Army Medical meseum. They have not been articulated and are in a perfect state of preservation. Rev. Dr. Hicks has not surrendered all claims to their disposition, It is reported that Mr. Hopkins, of Squak has discovered in the Cascade mountains a large and well defined vein of anthracite coal from nine to fourteen feet in thickness He and his associates have run a tunnel on the vein some ninety feet, and are satisfied that it is a true vein, and that the coal is equal in quality to any of the Pennsylvania boals. Large quantities of hematite iron re are said to exist in the same locality.

The reservoir connected with the Oregon City water works, broke yesterday morning about day break, and let the water out, looding that part of the city in course of the torrent to the river. The reservoir is located on the bluff in front of Singer's mill. The water rushed through the mill race and under the mill without doing that structure any damage. Mr. Singer lost several hogs. The city brewery was damaged about $600. The water works were damaged about $1000.

He came to Portland with a man pretending to be his brother and a women. The brother has been arrested on suspicion of being the muderer, but the woman has not been seen.

Two Tons of Three-Cent Coins.

The United States mint in this city has ust received over two tons of three-cent silver pieces, which by act of Congress have been abolished from the national coinage. This is, however, only about one-fifth of the quantity of these small coins which are to be brought here from the various sub-Treaspries of the country, there having already been redeemed more than ten tons. Those cent pieces now in the mint would fill three arge wagens. They are to be receined into ten-cent pieces, as the three-cent nickel pieces are to take the place of the old silver hree-cent coins. The Treasury Department is redeeming the small coins as fast as oossible, and in a few years they will entirey disappear, and only the nickel will be in irculation. The coins have lost a very onsiderable per cent, of their intrinsic valne by usage, in some amounting to as much as 25 per cent. In fact they are rapidly wearing out. This is the reason why they were abolished and the harder and more onvenient nickel substituted, -Philadelphia
