FRIDAY MORNING, DEC. 15, 1882.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

SPICED PLUMS.—Seven pounds of plums, four pounds of sugar, one tablespoonful of cinnamon, cloves, one quart of vinegar. Boil thirty minutes.

A tablespoonful of strong coffee put in the gravy of melted butter, pepper and salt to be poured over beefsteak, imparts a delicious flavor to gravy and meat. It makes the gravy a rich brown.

DIRECTIONS FOR PICKLING—PICKLED APPLES.—To ten pounds of fruit take seven pounds of sugar, three and one half quarts of vinegar, three ounces of cinnamon, two ounces of cloves, whole; pare and core the apples, then boil in syrup till soft.

RICE AND APPLE PUDDING.—Boil a cupful of well washed rice fifteen minutes in water, adding a pinch of salt. Drain on a sieve until quite dry. Put part of the rice on the bottom and along the side of the pudding mold or tin pan, peel and quarter six apples and place in the center of rice with a half cup of sugar and a little chopped lemon peel. Cover the fruit with the rice, tie down and steam one hour. Serve with sweetened cream, lemon sauce or sweetened melted butter.

MINCED VEAL AND EGGS.—Take some remnants of roast or braised veal, trim off all browned parts, and mince it very fine, fry a chatot or onion chopped small, in plenty of butter; when it is a slight straw color, add a large pinch of flour and a little stock, then the minced meat with chopped parsley, pepper, salt and nutmeg to taste; mix well, add more stock if necessary, and let the mince gradually get hot by the side of the fire; lastly add a few drops of lemon juice; serve with sippets of bread fried in butter round the poached eggs on the top.

Joint your game neatly; cut the ham and onions into small pieces, and fry all in butter to a light brown. Put into a soup-pot with the beef, cut into strips, and a little pepper. Pour on the water; heat slowly, and stew gently two hours. Take out the pieces of bird, and cover in a bowl; cook the soup an hour longer; strain; cool; drop in the celery, and simmer ten minutes. Pour upon fried bread in the tureen.

FICASSER OF GROUSE.—Make a cup of drawn butter by heating a cup of strained broth from your boiling soup in a sauce-pan; stirring into it two tablespoonfuls of butter cut up in a teaspoonful of flour; season well, and put in the pieces of grouse, or rabbit. Simmer until very hot; take out the meat and arrange upon buttered toast in a dish. Add to the gravy a couple of beaten yolks; heat one minute, and pour over the birds.

POTATOES WITH VERMICELLI.—Mash and whip the potatoes light with butter and milk. Season with salt, and mound smoothly within a stone-china dish, or a bake-dish that has a silver stand for the table. Wash over with white of egg, and stew with vermicelli that has been broken small, boiled a few minutes in hot water, then spread out to drain upon a sieve. Brown in a quick oven.

BUTTERED PARSNIPS.—Boil tender, and scrape. Slice a quarter of an inch thick, lengthwise. Put into a sauce-pan with a great spoonful of melted butter, pepper, and salt, and a little chopped parsley. Shake over the fire until it boils. Lay the parsnips upon a dish, and pour the sauce over them.

Juvenile Temperance Work.

We want men and women every where, intelligent, brave; and earnest, to work wisely in all sorts of ways for Temperance. And how can we have them unless we educate them? When we see how weak and faithless and indifferent are many of the men and women to whom we appeal for help, and from whom we expected better things, our very hearts should be stirred within us to go to work, and out of the material that God has put into our hands, make men and women capable of better things!

Who shall we teach? Everybody, but especially the very best and the most earnest minds you can get. Do not be discouraged if you can not hold the multitude, if the bright and the trifling, the stupid and the lazy fall away. Your thorough teaching may be a sifting process. If so, take good care of the wheat that remains. Remember, your great aim is to educate workers, and if you educate but few, see that you do it thoroughly. Rest assured that the kind of education which we propose in these pages will make the best sort of workers—earnest, competent, effective, and likely to stick to it as long as soul and body hold together. Even if they should be mostly girls, still educate them thoroughly. Girls and women make good workers.

There are those who shrink from the hard work which all this implies. They say, let it be done in the Sunday-schools. We are glad to have the Sunday-schools lend it their sanction, but they can not do much real Temperance teaching, unless the teachers, as individuals, are Temperance workers and intelligent on Temperance topics. They can not well teach that which they do not know, and to which they have paid little or no attention. Besides this, they have not sufficient time for it. The same remarks will apply to the day school teachers. Some of these may teach Temperance science passably well, though they will not be likely to do that unless they are definitely Temperance workers, and then in many cases they will meet with difficulties almost impossible to overcome. In neither case will they have the opportunity nor the freedom to unite the grand requisites of Temperance teaching as they would have in a distinctively Temperance school. Here we can unite intelligence and religion—too long separated. Here we can set up the standard, and show what true Temperance teaching means, and what kind of men and women it will turn out; and this is much better than asking others to set the standard for us. The standard we aim at is an intelligent acquaintance with the nature and effects of alcoholic drinks, so that the pupil may be able to meet effectively the arguments of their apologists; and then such religious temperance training, that where the right and wrong are known, he will stand by his convictions every time. Dear sisters and friends, shall we try for this high standard?

Not my Business.

A wealthy man in St. Louis was asked to aid in a series of temperance meetings, but he scornfully refused. After being further pressed he said:

"It is not my business." A few days after, his wife and two daughters were coming home on the lightning express. In his grand carriage, with his two liveried attendants, he rode to the depot, thinking of his splendid business, and planning for the morrow. Hark! Did some one say "Accident?" There are many railroads centering in St. Louis, if there has been an accident it is not likely it happened on the—and Mississippi railroad. Yet it troubles him. "It is his business" now. The horses are stopped on the instant, and upon inquiry he finds it has occurred on the—and Mississippi. He telegraphs to the superintendent: "I will give you five hundred dollars for an extra engine." The answer flashed back "No." "I will give you one thousand dollars for an engine." "A train with nurses and surgeons has already gone forward and we have no other."

With white face and anxious brow the man paced the station and fro. It is his business now. In half an hour, perhaps, which seemed to him a half century, the train arrived. He hurried toward it, and in the tender found the mingled and lifeless remains of his wife and one of his daughters. In the ear following lay his other daughter, with her faint lips crushed in, and her precious life oozing slowly away.

A quart of whiskey, which was drunk fifty miles away by one of the railroad employes, was the cause of the catastrophe.

Who dares say of this tremendous question, "It is not my business."

GAME SOUP.—Two grouse or partridges, or, if you have neither, use a pair of rabbits; 1 lb. of lean ham; 2 medium-sized onions, 1 lb of lean beef; fried bread; butter for trying; pepper, salt, and 2 stalks of white celery cut into inch lengths; 3 quarts of water.
