A plain, farmer after reading a the tariff question which raged for two weeks between the Nashville American and Louisville Courier-Journal, wrote innocently and very earnestly to the Nashville Banner, asking that journal to please explain ter from the Clearwater in consideration of what a "tariff for revenue only" means, anyhow. The Banner kindly complied although it confessed that it might fail to make the matter clear to its puzzled correspondent.

HORSE AND MULE MEAT FOR POOD. Official reports show that for purposes of human food in Paris in 1875, 7000 horses were slaughtered and consumed for that purpose; in 1880'the number was 9000; and in 1881 9,300. Besides these, there were sold at the forty establishments exclusively devoted to that business 10 careasses of donkeys in 1875, $20 in 1880, and 400 in 1881. The estimated weight of horse flesh consumed in Paris last year was about 1.670 tons, and in addition about 18 tons of denkey flesh, without counting the offall which is usually made into sausage. The consumption of this class of flesh for food is largely on the increase in Paris. The Frenchman beats the world after mule meat and frogs.

LIBELS ON AMERICAN PORK.

The cry against American pork and hog products which was raised in various countries of Europe a year and a half ago has not wholly died out on the Continent, and there are indications that a decree prohibiting facy can go in reform when brought their importation into Germany may yet be adopted by the authorities of that country. German pork dealers, who believe that they see in the increasing demand for the American article an element of injury to the business which they are conducting with several European countries, are probably at the bottom of the threatened interdiction. As showing the instinct of the goat, which is not generally credited with much intelligence, visitors to Harper's Ferry, Va,, 'are informed that when the war broke out and the sound of the camponading was heard in the valley, large numbers of tame animals of this description took refuge on the Maryland Heights, and have never returned. Even now they can be seen on the top of the mountain. Their young have been reared on the summit, and have never become domesticated. Occasionally hunters the tame ones from the vally go up and visit them; but they persistently refuse to descend, and the sense of danger experienced by the goats of 1861 and 1862 seems to have been transmitted to their posterity.-New York News.

The Clyde ship-building trade in 1882 i stated, by the Glasgow Herdld, to have been one of unusual activity. The returns present a total of 50,912 tons above the total constructed in 1881, and 129,500 tons in excess of 1874. Many of the Clyde builders are said to have more tonuage already ordered for 1883 than they have turned out during the past year, which speaks well for the prospects for 1883. There werelaunch during the year by various tirms engaged in ship-building on the Clyde 291 vessels, of an aggregate tonnage of 391,934 tons, as against 261 vessels and 311,022 tons during 1881. The use of steel in the construction of vessels is said to be on the increase. The built of that material.

Havng been in the practice of medicine for many years, I have learned to have no confidence in the many proprietary medicine which are on the market and it was through he excellent recommendation given by Dr. Bates, and the knowledge I had of his veracity and ability as a physician that ever led me to fay aside my long existing prejudice to try the only wonderful remedy, name Kendall's Spavin Cure which I find so many of your readers have found to be so valuable. Rheumatism has afflicted me for years, and with all the skill I have professed to have in treating others I found myself unable to do any thing to cure myself entire ly. After suffering for years the difficulty became located in my hip and nothing that I could do seemed to effect it until I began to use Kendall's Spavin Cure, which has cured me completely. In all my experience as a physician I have never been able to make any compound which penetrates at thoroughly and works so admirable in renoving old standing ailments, and at the same time hardly produce any irritation of the skin; It has done much wonders with ne that I have the utmost confidence in its efficacy, and can recommend it with the onfidence that the proprietors do not claim too much for it.

Dr. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—I think it my duty to render you my thanks for benefits and profits which I have derived from your invaluable and far famed Spavin Cure. My cousin and I had a valuable stallion, worth $4000 which had a very bad spavin and was pronounced by four eminent veterinary surgeons, beyond any cure, and that the horse was done for ever. As a last resort I advised my cousin to try a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure. It had a magical effect, the third bottle cured it and the horse is as well as ever.
