ceived a patent for a saw machine of his own invention which he has been at work on for several years. The power is made entirely different from other machines of this kind. It is so constructed that every part of the body of the man who works it assists in furnishing the power in the most natural way and without any strane on him. It cuts very rapidly and is certainly a suc-

Death of Mrs. John McCoy. The circumstances of Mrs. McCoy's death are exceedingly sorrowful says the Albany Democrat. She had been in fair health up to about the time of her death. On Saturday Feb. 3, she had come to Albany, and in coming or going from here had caught a severe cold, but nothing serious was apprehended from it. On last Saturday morning about three o'clock she had awakened her husband and took some medicine, after which they went to sleep again, but the sleep Mrs. McCoy took was the long one which knows no waking. When Mr. McCov awaka at six o'clock his wife was lying beside him cold in death. The suddenness of her death was a terrible shock to her family and friends, and cast a gloom over the household which will not soon he removed. The funeral services took place Sunday in the U. P. Church at Oskville, of which Mrs. McCoy was one of the most exemplary members. In the death of Mrs. McCoy Linn coun y looses one of its oldest pioneers. Mr. and Mrs. McCoy came here in about 1845 and have grown up with the country almost literally. She leaves living six sons and one daughter, the latter of whom, the youngest in the family, is Mrs. Frank French, of this city. They came to Linn County in 1846, and were almost the very first settlers. Their home has been near Peoria. Mrs. McCoy was born in Green County, Ohio, and previous to her marriage taught school for a while, The Ainsworth Tragedy.

From the Walla Walla Statesman the fol lowing particulars are ga hered concerning the fatal shooting of H. H. Grinnell by F. C. Hammond, on the 14th, at the Ainsworth bridge, N. P. R. R.: There has for some time existed an inimical feeling between the two men, caused by a discrepancy in the amount of time claimed by Mr. Grinnell and the amount credited by Hammond, while the former was employed by Superintendent McBean on the bridge. Grinnell clarmed that Hammond could adjust the matter if he would, while Hammond protested that if any error existed he could not find it. While at supper at Shulls' restaurant last evening an angly discussion of the matter took place, resulting in an alteres

EDITOR GAZETTE:-Some parties recently ere went through the form of selling at public sale certain ties belonging to and in the possession of the Oregon Pacific Rail Road Company which was certainly a pechliar proceeding. The question at issue in the matter is certainly between Mr. Bagley and Messrs Bagley, Marlett & Burns who were the contractors in furnishing the ties, and his and their creditors the Oregon Pacific Railroad company not being a party to any such questions. The Railroad company gave ample notice to all concerned that the ties in question having been long since entirely paid for by them, and having been for months in their exclusive possession could not be interfered with by any persons whatever. N. G. HANSON. MRS. J. T. VINCENT,) Mimchick Confesses.

The first of the week it was learned, says the Albany Democrat, that Nimchick, who has been confined in the county jail since last October, under an indictment for the murder of Thos. Ray in the torks of the Santiam, has confeased to the killing of Ray. We immediately inquired into the matter and ascertained the truth of the fact, and also that he claims it to have been accidental. It will be remembered that young Ray's body was found in the river a mile and a half below where his gun was found, on the Santiam, about eight miles from Scio There were seven buck shot in different parts of his body, and circumstances at the time showed conslusively that he had been shot by some one. Mr. Nimchick, an illiterate German, at least as far as our language is concerned, gave himself up, and was indicted by the grand jury for the murder of Ray, although he denied having anything to do with it. But now, he admits that h, shot Ray, but says they were hunting to. gether in a friendly spirit, and had scared up some deer when he noticed a brown ob ject ahead of him, and raising his gun, chot, when he was horrified to find that instead of killing a deer he had shot young Ray. He claims that he was so scared at what he had done, and not knowing much about our ways, that he was afraid to admit that he done the shooting. He slates that there had always been the best feeling between him and Ray.
