LIVING AND DYING.
John Smith was once a goodly man As ever lived on earth;
The world admired and loudly praised His truly pious worth—
And free from sinful pride—His wife was full of charity—But scarce had lived to thirty-four,
When one day even died
A mule kicked at him playfully, And Smith soon after died.

John Brown, a knave of deepest hue, Dwelt in the self-same town;
A grosser, meaner sinner scamp Than ever lived than Brown.
Heard, he swore, he smoked, he chewed, He even kept a play;
And down in Texas years ago They say a man he slayed.

Yet he lived on contentedly And lots of money made, Till finally, a gray-haired man, John Brown laid down to die—His wife and children gathered 'round, A preacher lingering high—And the only token of his death Was a quiet, gentle sigh.

We'd like to live as did John Smith, Revered by all the town;
But when it came to dying, we'd Prefer to die like Brown.

BENTON COUNTY.
Description of Its Appearance and Present Condition by Voting Precincts.
Written Expressly for the Gazette by a Thirty Years Resident of the County.

SUMMIT PRECINCT
Is situated on the summit between Mary's river and the Yaquina. It extends from the county line on the north to the divide between Yaquina and Little Elk and extending east on a corresponding line to Mary's river, and from east to west from the top of the Norton hill to the mouth of Little Elk creek, being about 6 miles from north to south and about 12 miles from east to west. It is bounded on the north by the county line, east by King's valley, south by Tum Tum, and west by Elk City precincts. Yaquina river enters near the northeast corner of the precinct, runs southwest 2 or 3 miles through a deep gorge in the mountains, when the country becomes more open and the bottoms wider and then passes out at the southwest corner of the precinct.

Rock creek enters a little east of the middle on the north line from the northwest, and extending about a mile into the precinct turns to the west.
The Rock creek valley is between 3 and 4 miles in length and 1/4 mile wide with low open hills on each side.
Between this there is but little bottom on the creek until the reservation is reached, which is about 2 miles from the west boundary of the precinct.
The north fork comes in from the north near the reservation line, on that stream is a wide bushy bottom on which some good farms can be made.
About 1 mile of the lower part of this is in Benton county and is not taken up. Next above, Steer creek comes in from the northeast and Brush creek from the southeast, and empty into Rock creek near the lower end of the valley. On each of these are good bottom lands to be taken. The Rock creek valley is owned by Wallis Nash who is improving and making it the best stock ranch in the county.

Midway between rock creek and Yaquina is a high ridge running parallel with them, the hills on each side of which gradually lower until the streams are reached. These hills are open and stock can roam on them at will. On the Yaquina after it emerges from the mountain gorge are narrow bottoms, that are in cultivation.
There are numerous small streams entering the Yaquina both from the north and the south on all these are narrow bottoms. South of the river the hills rise until at a distance varying from 1 to 3 miles the divide is reached, which marks the southern limit of the precinct. All through this cattle range and do well both summer and winter.

The north fork of Mary's river rises a little south of Yaquina, and enters the precinct a little south of the northeast corner, and then runs nearly south. This lays about 500 feet higher than the waters that empty directly into the ocean, this being a tributary of the Willamette. The bottoms along Mary's river are wide and were formerly mostly covered with brush most of which has been cleared and the land brought into cultivation. These lands are second grade being a little inclined to be wet and cold, but with under draining will yield good crops and be easily cultivated. On the hills adjoining Mary's river near the Summit and also on the west slope of the summit hill are green timbers. From these groves the railway company have been drawing their lumber supplies for their road. In one of these groves near Mary's river the company have a steam saw mill where they have manufactured an immense amount of lumber.

The line of the O. P. R. R. crosses the summit near the wagon road, then turns to the north. When it is considered that in a distance but little more than a mile there is a descent of 600 or 700 feet; it will be readily seen that the railway company have no easy thing on this portion of their route. It rarely occurs that railroad engineers are called on to overcome any greater difficulty than is presented at this place. The work of location has been immense. In this descent it is necessary to make 2 tunnels, tunnel No. 1 being 670 feet and No. 2 350 feet; in addition there is a large amount of deep cutting and some high trussels.

Portions of this precinct have been settled for a number of years, but the settlement has been principally confined to Yaquina and Mary's river.
The population is about 300. The industries of this precinct is very much the same as the other portions of the country between this and the coast.
Cattle and sheep raising to only a limited extent has been carried on, but always with profit. For several years past the Corvallis butchers have been largely supplied with winter beef from this portion of the country. The farmers in the cultivation of their lands have aimed to raise such crops as are needed to supply the demand of travel on the road, thus furnishing a market for all their products.

Lucius Norton keeps a wayside store on the road some seven miles west of the Summit. Mrs. Porter relict of A. J. Porter, one of the early settlers of this portion of the county, entertains travelers. Chas. B.
Mays is proprietor of the Summit hotel, and George L. Crane of the Summit postoffice, Mr. Crane being the postmaster. The Warren brothers on the Yaquina at the foot of the Summit hill, own several hundred acres of land which they are rapidly developing into a first class stock ranch. The road from Corvallis to Yaquina bay passes through the precinct, the Summit being 23 miles from Corvallis. Mr. Wallis Nash has constructed a private road at a large cost from the bridge on Yaquina to his ranch on Rock creek, 3 miles distant.
There is a school house at the Summit, where school is kept up a good portion of the year, and where religious exercises are regularly held. Some 8 miles farther west near the residence of Mr.
Norton is another school house. The opportunities for taking homes is very good, there being some choice places, yet vacant.

The following contains a list of the names of the persons paying tax upon property in Summit precinct No. 7, and the amount of tax paid by each, as shown by the last assessment roll for Benton county,

Mons. Le Bel has discovered a small organism in the urine of persons having measles, and peculiar to that disease. Herr Techmer had previously found an organism which he believed to belong not only to measles but to scarlatina and diphtheria also.

THE CITY OF LONDON.
A writer at London says: Here are 7000 miles of street spread out over an area of nearly 700 miles; here there is a birth every five minutes, a death every eight minutes and seven accidents every day; and here there may be found beer shops and gin places that would stretch over 73 miles.
Here are 1000 ships and 9000 sailors in port every day; here are 9000 new houses built every year, and 238,000, 000 letters delivered; here are 117,000 habitual criminals on the police register, and papers enough to fill a large city. The food supply for one year has been whimsically calculated to require 72 miles of oxen, 10 abreast; 120 miles of sheep, ditto; 7 miles of calves ditto; 9 miles of pigs ditto; 50 acres of poultry, close together; 20 miles of hares and rabbits, 100 abreast; a pyramid of loaves of bread, 600 feet square and thrice the height of St.
Paul's whose summit is as many feet above the ground as the year has days; and 1000 columns of log-head of beer, each a mile high. Here are over 4,000,000 of inhabitants, including 1,000,000 foreigners from every part of the globe. Here they have more Roman Catholics than Rome, more Jews than Palestine, more Irish than Dublin, more Scotchmen than Edinburg, and more thieves than Chicago." To which might be added that London contains a reading-room whose rotunda is revealed in diameter only by the Pantheon at Rome, a library and museum covering seven acres of ground, and wherein rest the Rosetta stone, the Elgin marbles, and over 8,000,000 volumes, perhaps the largest collection of books and manuscripts in the world, and a concert hall which holds nearly 10,000 persons.

SOMEBODY hung a red bedspread on a clothes line over at Somerville the other day and Mrs. Moriarty's goat saw it from the north just as Mrs. Finnegan's goat caught sight of it from the south. The Moriarty goat was a little the farthest from it, but he traveled the fastest so they got there just the same instant and recited about eight feet each, and they stood and thought over it about twenty minutes before a sudden flap of the spread decided them to try it again, and that time they got less out of it than before, but they got their mad up and stuck to it until one lost a horn and the other an eye, and the Moriarty's and Finnegan's are now sworn foes.

THE WICKED EDITOR.
A Little Rock newspaper man while out in the country stopped at a rural farmhouse for dinner. Thinking that his profession would insure attention he remarked to the farmer:
"Needn't put yourself to extra trouble for me, I'm an Editor."
"A what?" asked the farmer, regarding the visitor with now awakened interest.
"A newspaper man."
"Wall, I reckon you can git suth-ing to eat, anyhow. Some folks might not give you nothin' on this account, but I never was very particular. But hold on, Editor did I understand you to say?"
"Yes, sir, I am an editor, and however unfavorable it may strike you, I must say that I am proud of my calling."
"I'll bet $100 that you are one of the fellows that I helped to take hell outen the Bible. Reckon you'd better travel. Never mind the corn Bread and buttermilk Jule."—Arkansas Traveler.

WASHINGTON'S BODY SERVANT.
"You say," I remarked to the old negro who drove the hack, "that you were General Washington's body servant?" "Dat's so! Dat's jess so massa. I done waited on Washington since he was so high—no bigger than a small child." "You know the story, then, about the cherry tree and the hatchet?" "Know it? why, I was there on the spot. I seen Massa Gawge climb de tree after the cherries, and I seen him fling de hatchet at de boys who were stonin' him.
I done chase dem boys off de place myself." "Do you remember his appearance as a man—what he looked like?" "Yes, indeed. He was a kinder short, chunky man, sorter fat and hearty lookin'. He had chin whiskers and moustache and spectacles. Mos' generally wore a high hat but I seed him in a fur cap with ear warmers." "You were not with him, when he crossed the Delaware when he went across the Delaware River?" "Wid him? Yes, sir; I was right dar. I was not mor'n two feet off'n him as he druv across the bridge in his buggy. Dat's a fac'. I walked 'long side de off hind wheel of dat buggy all de way." "You know all the General's relations, too, I suppose Martin Luther and Peter the hermit and the rest?" "Knowed 'um all Many and many's de time I done waited on the table when Massa Gawge had 'um to dinner. I remember dem two gemmen jes' well's if I'd seed 'um yesterday. Yes, sir, an' I druv 'um out often."

A teacher in one of the colored schools at the South was about to go away for a season and an old negro poured out for her the following fervent petition: "I give you the words," said the writer, "but they convey no idea of the earnestness and pathos of the prayer." Go afore her as a leader's light and behind her as a protector's angel. Rough shod her feet with the preparation of the gospel of peace. Nail her ears to de gospel pole. Gib her de eye ob de eagle dat she spy sin 'far off. Wax her hand to de gospel plow. Tie her tongue to de line ob truf. Keep her feet in de narer way and her soul in de channel ob faith. Bow her knees low beneath her knees, and her head way down in some valley where prayer and supplication is much wanted to be made. Hedge 'an ditch 'bout her, good Lord, an' keep her in de straight an' narer way dat leads to heaven."

Somebody hung a red bedspread
on a clothes line over at Somerville
Mrs. Finnegan's goat caught sight of
goat was a little the farthest from it,

THE GAME LAW.
A few months ago we commenced publishing the acts of the last legislature but we soon found that we were not furnished with the acts as amended as when they passed that body. Among others we published the game law. Having found that it was not correct as then published by us and most other papers. We now publish it taken from the Statute book:

SECTION 1. Every person who shall, within the State of Oregon, between the first day of November in each year and the first day of July of the following year, hunt, pursue, take, kill or destroy any male deer or buck, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who shall, between the first day of January and the first day of August, from and after the passage of this Act, pursue, hunt, take, kill or destroy any female deer or doe, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who, after the passage of this Act, shall kill any spotted fawn, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who, after the passage of this Act, shall take, kill or destroy any male or female deer at any time, unless the carcass of such animal is used or preserved by the person slaying it, or is sold for food, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SECTION 2. Every person who buys, sells or has in possession any of the deer enumerated in the preceding section within the time the taking or killing thereof is prohibited, except such as are tamed or kept for show or curiosity, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SECTION 3. Every person who shall, within the State of Oregon, between the first day of January and the first day of August of each year, hunt, pursue, take, kill or destroy any elk, moose or mountain sheep, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who takes, kills, injures, or destroys, or pursues with intent to take, kill, injure or destroy any elk, moose or mountain sheep at any time for the sole purpose of obtaining the skin, hide or hams of any such animal, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

SECTION 4. Every person who shall,

the first day of May and the first day of September of each year, take, kill, injure or destroy, or have in possession, sell or offer for sale any wild swan, mallard duck, wood duck, widgion, teal, spoonbill, gray, black sprigtail, or canvass back duck, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Provided, That any person may kill ducks at any time to protect his growing crops.

SECTION 5. Every person who shall,
within the State of Oregon, between the first day of April and the 15th day of June of each year, for any purpose, take, kill, injure or destroy, or have in possession, sell or offer for sale any prairie chicken or sage hen, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

SECTION 6. Every person who shall,
the first day of January and the fifteenth day of July of each year, take, kill, injure or destroy, or have in possession, sell or offer for sale any grouse, pheasant, quail or pattridge, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

within the State of Oregon, during the months of November, December, January, February and March of any year, catch, kill or have in possession, sell or offer for sale any mountain or brook trout, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who shall, within the State of Oregon, take or attempt to take, or catch, with any seine, net, weir, or other device than hook and line, any mountain or brook trout at any time after the passage of this Act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

SECTION 8. Every person who shall,
within the State of Oregon, at any time after the passage of this Act, trap, net, or ensnare, or attempt to trap, net or ensnare any quail, or Bob White, prairie chicken, grouse or pheasant, or have in possession any live quail or Bob White, prairie chicken, grouse or pheasant, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

SECTION 9. Every person who shall,
within the State of Oregon, at any
time after the passage of this Act, destroy or remove from the nest of any mallard duck, widgion, wood duck, teal, spoonbill, gray, black, sprigtail or canvass back duck, prairie chicken or sage hen, grouse, pheasant, quail, or partridge, or other wild fowl, any egg or eggs of such fowl or birds, or have in possession, sell or offer for sale any such egg or eggs, or wilfully destroy the nest of any such fowl or birds, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

SECTION 10. Every person who shall have any male deer or buck, or any female deer or doe, or spotted fawn, elk, moose or mountain sheep, swan mallard duck, wood duck, widgion, teal, spoonbill, gray, black, sprigtail or canvass back duck, prairie chicken or sage hen, grouse, pheasant, quail, Bob White, or partridge, mountain or brook trout, at any time when it is unlawful to take or kill the same as provided in this Act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and proof of the possession of any of the aforesaid animals, fowls, birds or fish at a time when it is unlawful to take or kill the same in the country where the same is found, shall be prima facie evidence in any prosecution for a violation of any of the provisions of this Act, that the person or persons in whose possession the same is found, took, killed or destroyed the same in the county wherein the same is found, during the period when it was unlawful to take, kill or destroy the same.

SECTION 11. Every person convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this Act, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars and not more than three hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail of the county where the offense was committed for not less than five days nor more than three months, or both such imprisonment and fine. One-half of all money collected for fines for violation of the provisions of this Act shall be paid to informers, and
