Salmon Spawn in Salt Water.

It has been ascertained that the spawn, thrown from the salmon being put up at the fisheries on this river, says the Coquille City H-rabl, is hatching and filling up the fruit gardens will be seen an occasional tree stream with a new stock of salmon. It has been a prevailing opinion for years, that does not grow well, and yet, seems to have the fisheries on this coast would eventually no particular disease, says the Orange get away with all the salmon, but now it county Farmer. Read, Read-Benta County.

The series of articles which we published during the first of the year in the GAZETTE from week to week describing flenton county by voting precints containing a list of the tax payers of the county with the amount of tax paid by each, we now have for sale at this office bound in pamphlet form. This contains a complete description of the county and is a valuable book to send to friends at a distance, and the tax list therein contained is particularly valuable to the business men of the county and all over the coast.

Amsworth has the reputation abroad of Corvallis last Saturday, having in custody being a hard town, but the following is the Newton Pool who was violently insane. toughest we have yet heard: A few days Mr. Pool is an old resident of Yaquina Bay ago Professor Harmon, well known throughout the Northwest as a barn storming ventriloquist, magician and general performer, visited that burg with a view of engaging in some sort of business there. He put up at the principal hotel, and like all good moral men went to bed early. Having nothing to trouble his conscience, Harmon slept the sleep of the just, and while he was moring and dreaming of performances given to big houses some miscreant entered the room and abstracted from the professor's pantaloons a purse containing $250. The thief, not satisfied with this, stole the old gentleman's hat and boots and silently took his departure. When Harmon started to dress the next morning he discovered his loss, and making all haste he donned what office lo give notice of the preceding night's transactions. On reaching the foot of the stairs, bareheaded and barefooted and without a penny in his pocket, he was met by a tramp, who in piteous accents asked for a "half" with which to get his breakfast. Up to this time Harmon had managed to keep sent. The said T. J. Bufford to assume his temper, but no sooner had the tramp stated his errand when the professor broke out into a rage, declaring Ainsworth the toughest town on record, asserting to those gathered around that if Gabriel ever blew his trumpet over that town before the angel could cross the river his instrument would not only be stolen, but one-third of the population would be kicking because it was not more valuable. - Walla Walla Union.

How to Fertilize Fruit Trees.

Here and there on all farms and in most or grape-vine, which seems to lack vigorwould pickle the spawn, but from that this ration, do not pile a load of manure a grape-vine. That is just the place where it will do the least good. Nearest the trunk of the tree, the roots are all large. The fibrous roots-the feeders-are further off near the ends of the roots. These only can take up the nutriment. It is always safe to assume that the roets extend as far from the trunk in every direction as do the hmbs of the tree, and to properly fertilize, spread the manure all over that area. Then fork it in and you have done a good work and done it well. If some disease has begun its work on the tree, you put the tree in a healthy, vigorous condition, the better enabling it to successfully contend against its enemies. We have seen numerous old pear and apple trees, bearing poor and gnarled fruit, which the owners consider of no value, but which such treatment as we have outlined above would restore to their original usefulness.

Kalama Transfer.

The inclines on both sides of the Columbia river at Kalama are finished and in a week or so trains will regularly cross from stand that the R. R. Co. are getting out will not come further west than Portland, Jacksonville Items. (From the Sentinell.)

The plastering in the lower story of the Court House is all complete and in the upper story it is also nearly finished. An attempt to break jail was made this week by Mellville, charged with larceny, but was checked in time by the interference of the isilor. The report now is that the railroad company have decided on taking what is known as the upper survey through Ashland. The depot will be on the Applegate farm.

Probably the oldest who went east on the Pioneer train is George S. Nelson, of Chehalem, Yamhill county; who is now in his 83 year. He came to Oregon in 18844. A letter from the foreman of the Siskiyou tunnel, received here yesterday, says that on the 25th inst, the drills in the heading of the south end struck stone coal. A few days ago a vein three feet in thickness was cut through from the north end.

The teacher's Institute held at Ashland last week proved a success in every way. Messrs, E. B. McElroy, Prof. Thos. Van Scoy, M. G. Royal and School Superintendent Wm. L. Convig deserve credit for the successful meeting held.

Articles of agreement were entered into last week between the railroad company and Thomas Chavner by which the depot was located on the latter's land on Rogue River, just the other side of the bridge. A town site is now being laid out and the place is likely to command a good trade from the location it is in.

The Grand Central railroad depot has been located at least and the company have decided on putting it on the land owned by C. W. Broback, C. Mingus, C. C. Beek man and 1. J. Phipps, It is on a corner owned by the four above mentioned parties but the depot property will be on the land owned by Broback. A town site will be laid out and property offered for sale.

All parties desiring first-class photagraphs at reasonable prices will observe from the card of J. W. McConnell in an other column that he has opened business in the old stand so long occupied by Mr. Goldson, where he will endeavor to please the public by giving them the best of work.

The many friends of Geo. A. Brock, who was admitted at the last term of the Supreme Court to practice law, will be pleased to learn from his professional card in another column that he intends remaining at this place to practice his chosen profession. George has been a very faithful and persevering student and his habits of industry will no doubt lead him into a successful business.

Will Bros. have just received a large shipment of the latest improved sewing machines, including the Eldridge, acknowledged by sewing machine experts to be the lightest running machine is the market. The Eldridge is a new machine and has many good qualities over all others which must be seen to be appreciated. It is no trouble to show the good qualities of our machines to parties who contemplate purchasing. Old machines taken in exchange.

Already Northern Pacific trains run through snow fields at intervals all the way from Idaho to St. Paul. The snow is nowhere deep, but these early falls are a foretaste of what muy be expected later on. While there will certainly be difficulty in operating the road after storms in Montana and Dacota, it is not likely that there will be serious blockades. The methods which keep the roads open in Minnesota and the other Northwestern states will, without doubt prove effective on the Northern Pa-

An exchange says: A recent discovery on the head of Cowlitz river establishes the fact that Washington Territory can now boast of the grandest cataract in the world, its height being 1500 feet. The Nooksack Indians assert positively that waterfalls higher than the tallest pine, fir or cedar trees are to be found on the extreme head waters of the Neoksack river. That section of the country has never yet been explored by the white man. From the comparison given by these Indians these falls must be at county by at least 200 feet.

The Use of Milk.

The Medical Record says: "No one who fatigued by over-exertion of body and mind has never experienced the reviving influence of a tumbler of this beverage, heated as hot as it can be sipped, will willing forego a resort to it because of its being rendered somewhat less acceptable to the palate. The promtness with which its cordial influence s felt, is indeed, surprising. Some portion of it seems to be digested and appropriate almost immediately, and many now who fancy they need alcoholic stimulants when exausted by fatigue, will find in this ample purpose.-Standard. Treatment of Cattle During Winter.

The farmer or breeder who most thoroughly understands how to prepare livestock for winter is he who makes it a point to get the largest possible amount of flesh upon the ribs during the summer, says the Chicago Live stock Jonraal. So, he who best understands his business during the winter is he who succeeds in maintaining all the flesh acquired during the summer, adding to this as far as he can. Cattle that go into winter in good flesh, if suitably protected from storms and cold, and properly fed, are easily kept up to the summer standard till mid-winter, and with suitable attention the same will prove true of the remainder, up to the appearance of grass. The warmth of seven-twelfths of the year favors the interests of the feeder in the highest degree, both in the direction of putting on flesh, and in retaining it; and it is only by inexcusable improvidences that the gain made during the larger and best half of the year is lost during the shorter and unfavorable half.
