GREETING.

In assuming the local and business management of this journal it is not unmindful of the responsibility devolving on our efforts in this relation. It is with the firm determination to spare no pains to make the GAZETTE acceptable to its patrons, keeping in view the best interests of the people at large, and particularly the upbuilding of Benton county. Hoping to merit the aprobation and support of the past patrons of the paper, we solicit a continuance of the Very Respectfully.

A. P. CHURCHILL.

FUTURE WORK.

Having sold a part interest in the GA-ZETTE, as announced in another column, to the friends and patrons thereof I desire to say that such sale was done for the purpose of placing the paper and its business interests on a proper basis, so as to make it a more valuable and better paper. Since my ownership in the paper and printing office alone I have often experienced times when too many duties on my hands could not each receive the attention I desired to give them. While hereafter I do not expect to attend to the immediate business of the office and local and news departments thereof, thus requiring so much of my time as heretofore, yet I shall endeavor to so far keep a general supervision of the whole business, as to see that the GAZETTE and its business shall continue on its road of success and prosperity. While for a time at least I shall probably contribute some editorial matter to the columns of the paper when necessary, yet it is my desire hereafter to devote my undevided time and attention so far as necessary to the practice of M. S. WOODCOCK.

LOCAL NOTES.

The latest feature of attraction to the citizens of Corvallis who enjoy that class of amusement is a shooting gallery.

We acknowledge receipt of the third annual report of the State Mineralogist, from the California State Mining Bureau.

Mr. W. H. H. Grant and wife, nee Miss Maddie Ward, of Lane county, came up from Portland last Monday evening and will remain in Corvallis for some time.

The county clerk of Douglas county re corded 500 deeds during the year of 1883, also 130 U. S. land patents and 162 mort-

Why is it that our southern exchange which should have reached us on Saturday last did not put in appearance until Tues day of this week ?

The late storm has so damaged the Coos Bay and Roseburg wagon road that the mails are carried on pack horses over the old trail, and travel on the road is impossible at present.

Any deficiency in the general " make up " of the GAZETTE this week may be attributed to the fact that our foreman "has been to the skating rink.'

Mr. J. N. Leonard and wife went to Albany last Tuesday morning. They have been in Corvallis for some time, Mr. L. in the interest of the Mutual Self-Endowmen and Benevolent Association of America.

Douglas county has a couple of boy mail robbers. Billy Stilwell, a lad of 16 years, and Wesley Donce, aged 18 years, are under arrest, charged with robbing the mail of a registered package containing $100.

The Overland Monthly for 1884 will continue to make a speciality of sketches of Pacific travel and studies of nature on this coast, scientific and general: Alaska and the Northwest, China and Japan will be subjects of description and study, besides the usual variety of contents. Subscription price $4 per annum.

We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation from the Governor of California and president of the committee; to arrange for ho' ling the World's Fair in San Francisco in 1587, to meet with the committee on Jan. 3rd 1884, but as the time was past before receiving the invitation we will be compelled to decline the pleasure.

There is a young man in our town who wears a dejected look, and who, upon being asked the cause of the change in his appearance, said that he had made up nis mind to live the life of an old bachelor, but now that Leap Year had come, he dared not look at a fair damsel for fear that she would take advantage of the "Leap Year act," and place him in an embarrasing position. We are of the opinion that his fears are groundless, since the young ladies of Corwallis think too much of themselves.

Messrs, W. L. Price and Henry Chambers of King's valley were in town during the week. They say that they are unable to get their newspaper mail through by way of Philomath to their postoffice until about four or five days after it starts from here. They ought to get up petitions and send on to authorities at Washington, D. C., and stir up the mail carriers, because there is no reason why mail should not reach King's valley on the same day that it leaves here unless it is on account of the carelessness and unobliging disposition of mail carriers.

Mrs. Fisher, the wife of the victim of the late homicide near Portland, has been arrested, charged with murder and equally guilty with Bloxam, the man who fired the fatal shot. As both parties were charged with murder, neither could be admitted to bail, and this action fell with particular hardship noon the woman, who had left her children at the cottage, one of which was a babe at the breast. However she was permitted to return for the babe, when she was then committed to the county jail.

On Thursday night of last week we understand a party was discovered in Dr. Bayley's barn near his residence in this place sacking up cow feed preparatory to carrying it off. Indian supplies at the Siletz Reservation have been out for some time. Goods that should have arrived there two months ago have not yet rut in appearance. It seems as though the supplies were shipped to Portland, which will necesitate hauling them from Corvallis to the Reservationwhich at this time of the year is next to impossible—or shipping back to the bay a distance of 200 miles or more. The cause off this unnecessary delay and extra expense, and especially when the Government charges are in need of the supplies,

Shot and Killed--verdist of Coroner's Jury.

The facts concerning the missing man T. J. Dennis of Alsea, in this courty, whom we noticed in our last issue as being lost, has since come to light. JUDSON SEELY, Justice of Peace. Murder Near Portland, Or., on the Mecada-

On last Saturday evening about 6 or 7 'clock, Jacob Fisher, living on the mecadamized road this side of Portland, was shot and killed by Wm. Bloxam. It seems that Mrs. Fisher had recently recovered a divorce from her husband the deceased for cruel and inhuman treatment to her, and the court had given her the privilege to live in a small house about 300 vards from the old homestead and a part of the place was set apart to her and had also given her the custody of the children. Wm. Bloxam obout 26 years of age, had been boarding and rooming at the home of Mrs. Fisher for a while and was engaged to Mrs. Fisher's daughter. On the evening of the tragedy Mrs. Fisher accompand by her daughter, of law and order are jubilant, while the other children and Win. Bloxam, went down to the baru near the old homestead to get some chickens which she claimed belonged to her. The decased met them before they got to the chicken house and or-Jwenby died at 6 o'clock this morning, and dered them to leave the premises and forbid them to get the chickens. They did not John R Scrafford, heed his orders but proceeded toward the chicken house when Fisher drew his revolver on Bloxam and the two got to shooting at each other with pistols, after which Mrs. Fisher, Bloxam and the children started for home and Fisher following them. By this time Fisher had got his shotgun which had been brought from the house to him by his son and Bloxam had got his rifle when they exchanged shots resulting in the killing of Fisher. It seems from the evidence before the coroners jury that Fisher had abused his wife scandalously and during the fracas got into a scuffle with her and probably struck her over the head with a pistol and dragged her on the ground. If this is true it is hard to tell in what way such a brute could meet with his just deserts. It is also claimed that Bloxam does not enjoy the highest reputation.

Beautiful Monument.

A fine piece of work is on exhibition at the marble works of J. B. Scrafford & Bro's. in this place, and is of their own manufac ture. It consists of a beautiful marble monument of the gothic order. It is built for the Simpson estate to be placed over the grave of R. W. Simpson and his wife Repecca Simpson, of Luckiamute. Polk Co., Oregon. It rests on a granite base twenty two inches square by sixteen inches deep, on top of which is a marble sub base twenty inches square and four inches thick, on top of which is a marble moulding four teen inches square and four inches thick; above this is a large plain die ten inches square and two feet two inches high, upon which is beautifully carved the names, ages, times of birth and death, of the departed Mr. and Mrs. Simpson. This die is crowned with a handsome gothic top beautifully polished and engraved, twenty inches square and nine inches thick. After this appears on the top a nice ura in the form of an acorn. The work does credit to the firm who made it as well as to our town.

Bills Introduced.

Hon. M. C. George, introduced a bill into the House Jan. 8th, authorizing the Oregon Pacific rail road to construct bridges across the Willamette river; also to allow the cities of Portland and Astoria to levy a tonnage tax. Hon. J. N. Dolph introduced a bill into the Senate on the 7th, authorizing the construction of a new custom house at Portland, with fire proof vaults, the cost of which not to exceed $500,000, and the work to be under plans provided by the secretary of the treasury and under his supervision.

This Association differs nothing from the A. O. U. W., American Legion of Honor, Knights of Honor or any other assessment association, excepting in its mode of paying its members in five equal installments during life. By so doing it gives them the use of the money at a period of life when most needed. It makes their insurance self sustaining instead of a burden and a tax upon summit of the Mason mountain, being the their labor and business all during life, to summit or divide between the valley and be paid at death to their heirs. A member meet at a certain designated point later in risk, receives a fifth of his policy, and when the day. It seems that Burbank came he pays another fifth he secures another round to the appointed place, as the story lifth, and so on and if he lives five fifths or (three blocks beyond the First street bridge.) goes, and waited for a time and Dennis did his full expectancy of life, he receives his full five tifths of his policy, and no more.

The Assessment Association of this the charge entering the breast of Alfred, country during the past twenty years have who fell to the ground and instantly expressed fears that something had happened paid to the legatees of deceased members o Dennis and feared that he would not get over $40,000,000. The gun with and is immediately loaned to the members, which Dennis was hunting was an old Thus aside from the rapid increase of members, it has an addition thereto, the interest upon the loans, which very materially lessen the assessments. The average death rate in this association will be the same as in all others, but the assessments can never be as many. Therefore as this mode of insurance is less expensive, and just as safe testimony, find that T. J. Dennis came to and reliable and self-sustaining during life after the first loans, it has become very popular with the people.

During the last twenty-four months the sum of $115,407,44 has been loaned to the members on their first maturing coupons, and $68,406.00 has been paid to the legaces of deceased members. Over $5,000,000 insurance has been taken in this department the past year, over $500,000 being taken in this state in the last four mouths. Capt. J. N. Sol King,

On last Friday the Steamer McCully pulled up to Blair's wharf in this place with 108 Chinamen to work on the Oregon Pacific Rail Road. During that day and the next their baggage was loaded on board of wagons which started Yaquina Baywards. The mud on the route is deep but John can pull through it.

Messrs, Belknap Bros. and Kenedy, who have been repairing and putting in order at their foundry a saw mill belonging to the Oregon Pacific Railroad company, got the machinery all in order and started out last Tuesday to the Summit on the line of the company's track to put up the mill there. When they started they expected to be able to put the mill up and have it in working order so as to return next Monday or Tuesday.

Upon investigation it was found that he had paralysis and could not either speak or move. Mr. Kinney is one of the early pioneers of Oregon, and is much respected by all who know him. His many friends will seriously regre. to learn of knew her. She leaves a husband and two

On last Saturday night Mrs. Anna Murray, wife of the supposed murderer, and sister of the young man who was killed, attended a ball at Masonic hall. Murray, her husband, was also in attendance at the ball coming there about half an hour after his wife arrived. Owing to the cruel treatment of Murray towards his wife and his dissolute habits she has not lived with him for about three months, but has been living with her parents in south Portland. After the ball, about I o'clock Sunday morning, while she was walking home with her brother Alfred, westward on Hooker street and just as they approached Second street, a shotgun was lired from behind a fence pired. A second shot was then fired, evidently at Mrs. Murray, but it went wide of its mark.

Mrs. Anna Murray, sworn, testified: saw my husband, John Murray, at a party at Masonic hall on Saturday evening, but only once during the evening. He left betore I did; he spoke to me at the hall and wanted me to go home with him; said I must go home with him; if I went home with anybody else he would have me arrested; I refused to go home with him, and he said he would make me trouble. I went home with George Herold and a young lady named May Reeder: I met my brother at the corner of First and Hooker streets. We four stood talking there for several minutes, and then my brother and I started home together; I think he lit a cigar as we started away from the corner; when we got to the corner of Second street, my husband who was behind the fence around the corner spoke up and said, "Now," or "Now then. or something of that kind, and fired; he then fired a second time, I think at me; I then started and ran; the minute he spoke I recognized his voice but did not see his face, it being very dark; brother and I were on the road to my father's house; I ran away as soon as I heard the first shot; Alfred was 20 years old and was born in Prussia.

Mrs. Annie Anderson, at whose house Murray roomed, sworn; testified: Live at No. 131 Madison street; was at the dance at Masonic hall last night; Mr. and Mrs. Murray were both there. Went home about 11 o'clock, leaving both of them there. She further testified in substance to the effect that J. M. Muarry came into her house about 11 or 12 o'clock went to his room got his gun and went away. When asked by her what he was going to do, said he was going to shoot the man that took Anna home that night and then shoot her. The coroners jury rendered a verdict charging J. W. Murray with the killing.
