Robders and Burglars making a Raid. The safe of A. Scriber in his blacksmith shop near the Chemeketa hotel, Salem, was burglacized by being, blown open Monday night of last week.

On Wednesday morning of last week the safe of Mr. Kelso in the rear end of his store at Independence, Polk Co., was blown open and the burglars got only three dollars for their trouble

Thursday night of last week an explosion was heard in the direction of the office of John Crawford near the mills and on going to the place it was found that his safe had been blown open. On the same night the window of the bed room of D. P. Mason being open Mr. Mason's coat and vest was taken from the room during the night and found the next morning on the outside of the house under the window but his fine gold watch was gone. Last Friday after- Monday and "gave us a lift." noon some suspictous looking characters were seen about Corvallis - and during the late hours of the night they were chased by our vigilant police out of the alley back of the bank from whence they took leg bail as rapidly as possible toward the river and jumped into some bodys skirl and disappeared. A little later at night the miscreants were heard about the grist mill of Mr. Fischer herosa Marys river but as it happened Mr. Fischer was on the lookout for burglars and frightened them away, they then ran to the river and got into a boat again and disappeared.

Steamship Yaquina

The steamship Yaquina will leave Yaquina City for San Francisco about Tuesday, the 15th inst. The following are her officers: J. R. Lawless, captain; J. S. The GAZ EITE has been treated this way several times. Of all speaking things this is the meanest. If a subscriber wants to stop a paper he has a perfect right to; but let him do it in an honorable manner, in other words, pay up for it. That's business. Or. if he hasn't the money, and cannot afford to take it. let him be manly enough to write and say so, adding that he will attend to it when he can. But, pray, never sneak out of the affair under Uncle Sam's cloak, it you have a sp.rk of decency in you.

Burglars. Last Tuesday night after most peor-le in town had gone to bed, introders visited the residence of Mead Cosper and were busy for a fong time working at the door, in the emleavor to get it open. While they were at work, Mr, Cosper heard them, and got up with his shot gun and stationed himself a few feet from the door, ready to give them a warm reception as soon as they en tered the house. Before they succeeded in getting the door open some thing frightened the intruders and they ran away to the back end of town. Upon examination of the door lock and key, after they left, it was found that they had been at work with some kind of an instrument, trying to turn the key which was in the door, in the endeavor to unlock it. If some of our active detect ves would hunt out these sneak thieves with evidence sufficient to convict them and send them to the penitentiary it would be aluable service to the community.
