Increasing Freights.

Freight shipments over the Oregon Pacific railroad and steamship line to San Francisco is increasing every week. Mr. A. Grant, of the Salem Mills company, was in Corvallis t us week, and informed us that they had perfected arrangements for shipping their exports over this line. The Salem company have their own river boats, and can carry their freight to this place at less expense than to Portland. The Oregon Pacific railroad company will soon build a wharf and warehouse on the river alongside their track in this place, where any and all boats may discharge freight without extra wharf charges. It is expected that all of the upper river freight will be shipped over this line this season. The farmer is jubilant over the prospects of a lively competition in freight rates, all of which has been brought about by the operation of the Oregon Paci-

Yaquina.

An Oregonian correspondent writing from South Newport under date of Oct. 12th, says: The late southerly weather has made considerable change on the south beach at the government works. The sands filled in on the south side of the tramway to the extreme end of it, so that the beach is over a quarter of a mile wide at low water. The flood tides have cut the south channel considerably deeper and in a straight line from the end of the jetty. The receding tide washes the sands from the bay through the north channel and beyond the jetty, and they are carried to the south beach, the government improvements holding it there and necessary to secure 22 feet of water on the har (and this is the depth of sand and water to bedrock) is a large appropriation and continuance of the work already commenced.

Robber and Murderer.

Mr. G. Hodes informs us that one night this week some hoodlum who seems to have been well acquainted with his property, and also that he "sleeps soundly for the first ten hours," broke into his poultry yard and stole one dozen fat turkeys. The fact that the guilty party stole the turkeys is evidence of a robber, and the presumable fact that he slaughtered them, is sufficient to brand him as a murderer. Our friend Hodes asks us to inform the culprit that his second return to his poultry yard will be greeted with a dose of salt and pepper, administered by means of a shot gun, as he will in the future sleep with one eye open.

The Oregon Fever.

It is a settled fact that this state will receive a large immigration from Iowa next season. This has been brought about by the visit of the Iowa editors and the missionary car now in the east, A letter was received in Portland recently from a well-todo farmer, living near Oskaloosa, in which he says: "In fact, the great thing at the Oskaloosa Fair was the car. Everybody saw it and admired the Oregon products duplayed therein. Consequently, an Oregon fever rages. 1 am a wealthy farmer, and have an excellent farm, but will sell it out next spring, and leave for the land where it fant, it would be discouraging. is said crops never fail."

From Behind the Iron Barr.

Last Saturday a tramp entered the house of Wm. Gird, twelve miles south of this place, and took therefrom a pair of boots On Sunday Mr. Gird found his man in Monroe and brought him here for trial. In Justice Quivey's court Monday he acknowledged his guilt and was bound over in the sum of $500 bonds to appear before the grand jury, in default of which he now looks at the world from behind the bars at the hotel-de-King, which is apparently entirely satisfactory to him. His name is Jo Wilson, a tramp by profession.

But if I should make any suggestions they would run something after this fushion; Show the filk to the tailes; tell them all about it; et them interested, as it is mostly woman's work; keep it before the prople until the egislature meets; by it before them and isk for an appropriation to start an experimental station with filature attached. Once under was the riddle is solved, and you would be emprised to see how rapidly silk culture womit spread." The samples on exdibition were of time quality, and it is believed that this in Instry might be success fully introduced in Oregon and would certunly open an avenue of industry that would be valuable to many who are now classe! is non-producers.

Article of agreement have been entered into between Paye Campbell, of Portland. and Juck Dompsey, of New York to fight a match of eight rounds, Maronis of Queensberry rules, for $1000 a side, and the winner to take sixty-live per cent of the gate receipts.
