THE CROP PROSPECTS.

The prospects for good crops, especially grain, in California are and to be very favorable, notwithstanding a few weeks ago farmers were dishearten- the propriety of putting in a sewer ed on account of the scarity of rain. But the Pacific coast states apparently receive especial favors from the powers that have charge of the weather department, and it is extremely seldom that an ov r-abundance or a scar- 870; J. W. Dunn, 877; Corvallis water city of rain causes an entire failure of crops. The late rains in that state came just in time, and the result will be a bountiful harvest. In Oregon the usual large crop will be gathered. There has been no uneasiness on the part of Oregon farmers regarding this year's crop. It would be strang, indeed should a failure occur in this street. state. But both states will harvest large crops, both fruit and grain, this ascertain cost of establishing a system year, and a good market will be found for them. The price of wheat this of Van Buren street. year promises to exceed that of the several previous years. The shortage in Europe and the failure of the Australian crops will make the demale on the Pacific coast states very great. The year 1889 promises to be a very prosperous one for the farmers on this coast.

Au important decision is announced from the United States supreme court. It is to the effect that a common carrier cannot limit its liability being an act of its own. In the case contested, the common carrier, a steamboat, had a clause in its bill of lading which excepted it from certain responsibilities in the transportation of their freight. The defending owners relied on this ability. bill of lading as a contract between the parties binding on both. This view of the case the court refuses to take and holds the saving clause void, and of no effect, since it was acondition imposed by its own motion by the common carrier in violation of the common law of liability. It is said Treasurer, subject to the decision of that this decision will be far reaching the voters of the city of Corvallis at in its effects as all railroads as well as the next annual election. steamboats are accustomed to put like clauses in their bills of lading.

THE Lower California gold bubble has burst and the disgusted and de- ple as they express themselves at the luded miners are seeking civilization as fast as their means will allow. Just who started the scheme, or who profited by it, does not clearly appear, but we presume the outfitters and handlers of transportation were the instigators of the flurry. It was the most stock. She has a fine display of all the natural thing in the world that the population of the border lands should them before making your purchases. jump at the glittering bait, and it is a amount of bloodshed when they found to run their shop. they had been swindled. The search for gold, however, is something that never fails to arouse enthusiasm, and although the last Ehlorado has been proved to be a delusion, it will be a long time yet before the tide ceases to flow in that direction.

THE New York Press suggests an effective plan to wipe out the national surplus. Boston, it says, need $10,-000,000 to protect its harbor, New York $25,000,000 and other cities smaller sums. If our seaboard cities are put in a proper attitude of defense, the press thinks the tariff question would be settled for four years at ANOTHER editor will probably receive the appointment to a very remunerative office. Robert T. Porter, of the New York Press, is a strong candidate for superintendent of the census. Oregon editors are satisfied with a fourth-class postoffice-that is, if they can get it.

In Philadelphia one night week, before last, representatives Long and Breckinridge made after dinner speeches. The ex-governor of Massachusetts remarked: "Mr. Breckinridge is large'y increasing his organ and sewing maa distinguished member of the retiring chine business, and has added the agency member of the distinguished Republican party."

HE SENT IT EAST. For a year I was troubled with pains in my back and alde, and headnehes, the result of liver and Liney trouble. I was attracted to Joy's levetable Sarsaparilla, by the startling testimonfals in the papers and although prejudiced against such things generally, they seemed so practical I was induced to try it, knowing that as it was ourely vegetable, it would at any rate do no harm. It was pleasant to take and acted as a gentle laxative. After the second bottle my pains and aches disappeared and I felt like a new man. It did so much for me that I sent several bottles to my family in New Jersey, who also took it, with the most satisfactory results.
