CORVALLIS, OR., JUNE 7, 1889.

WRITTEN UP AND ILLUSTRATED.

With this issue of the Corvallis Gazette appears the descriptive article of Corvallis and Benton county, reprinted from the May number of the West Shore of Portland, and also the large supplement of engravings.

Since the appearance of this article in the magazine mentioned above there has been considerable kicking going on among some of the citizens of Corvallis. Now, what is there to object to? Has not every portion of the agreement made with Mr. Samuels been fulfilled? As near as the publishers of this paper can see, appearances point in that direction.

The value received for re-producing this article and illustrations will not come in one lump from any of the citizens here—it will be admired by our eastern subscribers and, it is hoped, it will be a means of turning their minds and eyes towards the core of the valley—Corvallis and Benton county.

We have gone to no little expense in getting these handsome supplements and no one has been asked to help us in the matter, therefore, no "kickers" are looked for.

The Sunday school convention which has been in session in this city for the past two days has not been largely attended, for a state convention—there being not over forty delegates present from abroad. No delegates from some of the most important "towns," such as Salem, Oregon City, Roseburg, or The Dalles. And there was not a clergyman present from Albany, (only ten miles away.)

The supplements to this issue of the GAZETTE will not be sent to all of its Oregon exchanges, as it is supposed they each have one through the West Shore. It is desired to distribute them as far as possible among the inhabitants east of the Rockies, and let them see what the "core of the valley" really is. These illustrations are very correctly drawn.

ANY one desiring an extra copy of this issue of the GAZETTE can have the same, done up in wrappers ready for mailing, for the small sum of TEN cents per copy.

TO WATER CONSUMERS.—1st. All persons intending to use water for irrigating lawns or sprinkling streets must report at the office or to the superintendent. 2d. All persons who have had faucets put in for their own use, must prohibit others from using from them or their hose. If water is allowed to be used an extra charge will be added or the water turned off. 3rd. No person shall use water for other purposes than that contracted for. 4th. All persons wishing to use water must give notice to have it turned on. If they wish to discontinue notice must be given to turn it off or charges will continue to be made monthly. 5th. All persons caught using water without giving notice will be charged for the same until the bill is sufficient to pay for the water used. 6th. The use of water for irrigating lawns is prohibited, except between the hours of 6 and 9 a. m., 4 and 9 p. m. All persons caught running the sprinkling will be shut off and an extra charge will be made to have it turned on again.

TEN ACRE TRACTS.—For sale. Two and one-half miles directly east of Corvallis, very desirable for fruit land. Enquire of W. H. Millhollen, Corvallis, Oregon, or of Craig & Conover at the GAZETTE office.

Go to Case's for a bath, shave, or anything else in the barber line.

SPORTING NOTES.

ANOTHER MEET — MORE TROUT — ABOUT SLAUGHTERING DEER.

The Corvallis Rod and Gun Club had a meet on Thursday, May 30th; the attendance good. Several hundred citizens turned out to see the boys smash the Peoria black birds. A better day could not be had, and the wind was light, giving the shooters all the advantages. The first knight facing the trap was Zeph Job, who scored a record of 8 out of 20; Dr. Smith, 7; L. Dyer, 14; Ed. Bier, 11; Davis, 6; C. Reed, 9; C. A. Loud, 16; Del Davidson, 13; F. J. De Neveu, 5; G. W. Smith, 14; J. Dana, 4W; Hunter, 11. C. A. Loud won first. Mr. De Neveu won the leather medal. For a new club the boys are doing well, and a lively interest is taken by all the members. At a meeting on Thursday evening five new members were admitted, making a total of twenty-five.

Corvallis nimrods would be pleased to have a shoot as an attraction on the 4th here. A prize should certainly be offered in this line.—Albany Democrat.

The bass string of trout is by Zeph Job and Lon Dyer. They spent Wednesday among the rocks on Rock Creek above Henkle's mill, and by the count from their creels they must have been quite busy. Job's creel panned out 149, and Dyer's 79. The trout were a fine lot and many of them run over one pound. Dyer says he followed Job about three hours when he "threw up the sponge." In that time he had lost the soles of both shoes and had stripped down to his underclothes, and he has made up his mind to be able to follow Job you must go by rail. The writer agrees with Dyer as he has tried several times to follow him on a snipe hunt, and will take oath that he can outwalk Weston or Howell.

Reports come from four miles this side of Mary's Peak that deer are being slaughtered most every day. It is a pity that the law cannot reach this set of game-butchers. The latest is that a doe was killed a few days ago near the ranch of Mr. Bier. It is also reported that young men from town are out killing young China pheasants and grouse; it is a shame and he must be a coward that will murder our game birds in close season, and when the poor hen birds are trying to feed and protect its young. If let alone a few weeks the bird can then take care of itself. This same game-butcher is the one that tear down fences and trample the farmers' grain. It is not strange that the farmer posts his place; he ought to have the right to protect it with a shot gun. If an example could be made of a few of these cowards it might put a stop to this wholesale murder of our game. LITTLE ISGERS.

THE LECTURE.—One of the largest and the most intelligent and appreciative audiences ever gathered in this city hall was that of last Tuesday evening, and they left with a realization as bright as was their anticipation in coming. "Eli Perkins as a liar" surpassed himself, and the buttons gathered up from the floor after the lecture were not so much a testimonial of raving wit as they were certificates, testifying a joke is pointed by the telling of it, and that their age was not noticed until the laughing was over. The young men who were instrumental in bringing Mr. Perkins here are entitled to thanks, and the ninety-seven cents which they cleared and acknowledged receipt of.

THE OREGON PACIFIC WORK.—For the past week a GAZETTE reporter has been asked a number of times: "When is the Oregon Pacific going to begin work on the eastward extension?" All that can be said in answer to this question is: That it is judged that the examination by expert engineers of the contract work of that season is not yet finished, and that no instructions have yet been received to put on working force, though extensive preparations are being made for that purpose.

CAUGHT IN A GALE.—On the afternoon of Wednesday, June 5th, the Rowina, a schooner from Tillamook, having been caught in a heavy gale on Monday last and blown far to the south, succeeded in reaching Yaquina and found a place of refuge to her great relief.

BRIEF LOCALS.

Read Nolan's new advertisement. Eugene McConnell & Co., real estate, fire and accident insurance.

To-day the directors of the school district No. 9, will open the bids for the building of the new school.

The Hon. Charles Pearce, after an illness with typhoid fever, is now on deck again at the store of S. L. Kline.

Col. Copeland lectured in Corvallis on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings June 17, 18, and 19. Be sure to hear him.

Mrs. Martha Moore left last Monday for Southern Oregon where she will spend several months visiting relatives. She remains most of the time at Canyonville.

The real estate firm of Eugene McConnell & Co., of this city, have sold more farm property since Jan. 1 '89, than all the other agencies together in Benton county.

C. A. Loud is doing a fine business at the "Little Band Box Barber Shop," a proof that the people of Corvallis enjoy an easy shave and an first class hair cut. His vapor baths are also making lots of sick people well and happy.

On Monday 195 head of cattle and 900 sheep were driven through Corvallis for Portland. They belonged to a Mr. Beckley, of Douglas county, and were being taken in this manner because it is cheaper than shipping by rail or boat.

Mrs. M. S. Neugass is home again from a few weeks visit in San Francisco, among relatives and friends. Her husband, Mose, is as happy as he can be over her return. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Greenberg accompanied Mrs. Neugass home and they will remain here for a short time. Mrs. Greenberg was formerly Miss "Betty" Neugass.

Capt. R. A. Bessell, of Yonkers, states that the government engineers have completed the survey of the harbor, which shows a depth of water at mean high tide of twenty-one to twenty-two feet, which is a marked increase over previous surveys, and shows the correctness of the plan of the engineers in the construction of the north and south jetties.

SEATTLE BURNING!

A Terrific Blaze Sweeping Everything in its Track.

AID FROM PORTLAND.

Special Train from Portland Bearing Fire Engines to the Scene of Great Destruction.

Special to the GAZETTE.

SALEM, June 6.—8 p. m.—News received here concerning the terrible fire in Seattle states that flames are ranging on the whole waterfront. Near the foot of Columbia street everything is swept clean. Much of the business portion of the city is gone. Both telegraph offices are abandoned as well as the office of the Seattle Daily Post-Intelligencer. At 6:30 p. m., a special train left Portland with part of their fire department, as Seattle had called for help.

Sunday is to be a day of special interest in the M. E. church, it being the regular annual children's day. The entire day will be devoted to the interests of the children. The youth and older people are by no means excluded, but are specially invited and expected to be partners in the benefits of each service. Services will be given in the morning on the development of the child into the youth, and the responsibility of teaching and training. In the evening a special programme will be carried out by the children conducted by W. B. Chase, the superintendent of the school.

Go to the Palace barber shops opposite the brick livery stable, Main street, for a first-class shave, hair cut, shampoo, or bath. Shaving 15 cents, hair cutting and shampooing, 25 cents each, and baths 25 cents, or five bath tickets for $1.

Children's day services at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning. Dr. Thompson will preach a sermon adapted both to adults and children. All cordially invited. There will be no service in the evening as Dr. Thompson preaches at the opera house in Albany before the christian associations of the college.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria, When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria, When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria, When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

C. R. Morrison, contractor and builder, is prepared to do work of all kinds in his line. Enquire at Mrs. Morrison's photograph gallery.

Congregational church—"Children's Day" will be appropriately observed Sunday morning and the evening lecture will be to the Knights of Pythias who will attend in uniform. Room for all. A. Rogers, pastor.

Weekly EXAMINER

The coming year promises to be crowded with stirring events. In the United States the entrance of new issues into the political arena has been followed by a change of administration. But the great economic question on which the campaign turned is still unsettled, and its solution is now committed to a congress almost equally divided between the two great parties.

Europe is a vast camp. Army corps patrol the frontiers, and millions of men await the signal for the most Titanic war the world has ever seen.

The Examiner's news-gathering machinery is unequalled. Its correspondents dot the habitable globe. Nothing can escape their vigilance, and no expense is spared in spreading the results of their efforts before the Examiner's readers.

The most noted writers of fiction in the world contribute to the Weekly Examiner. Jules Verne, author of "A Trip to the Moon," etc.; Robert Louis Stevenson, author of "Treasure Island," etc.; Rider Haggard, author of "She," etc.; Anna Katharine Green, author of "The Leavenworth Case," etc.; have all written stories for the Weekly Examiner, and will do so in the future.

The Weekly Examiner has established an agricultural department, in charge of a practical agriculturist, who is the best writer in the United States on agricultural subjects. This department will contain discussions of leading topics of interest to vineyardists, orchardists, and farmers generally.

The Examiner's Commercial News are compiled by experienced men who carefully guard the producer's interests in all market reports.
