

The Corvallis Gazette.

VOL. XXVII.

CORVALLIS, BENTON COUNTY, OREGON, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1890.

NO. 2.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

REMNANT SALE.

We will commence on MONDAY, February 3rd, a Remnant and Odd and End Sale.

Every Remnant in stock less than cost.

The balance of our cloaks, wraps, and jackets, less than cost.

Reductions and bargains in Ladies', Misses', and Children's Shoes.

A lot of ladies' gossamers less than cost.

Big bargains in Men's hats, and boots and shoes.

Every article in stock reduced.

Call early and often and help us to make room for our new and elegant Spring Stock of Dry Goods and Men's Furnishings.

One Price Store

CORVALLIS, OREGON.

CLOTHING

CLOTHING, CLOTHING.

CLOTHING REGARDLESS OF COST!

We have placed on our counter two hundred and fifty Men's Suits, some of every size, 34 to 42, which we are determined to close out immediately. This is

NO SHAM OFFER!

Call and see the goods yourself, and be convinced.

S. L. KLINE,

The Regulator of Low Prices.

MONEY SENSE.

The origin and nature of the faculty which, for want of a better name, may be called "money sense," is to the majority of mankind an inscrutable mystery. It neither implies nor discredits the possession of other intellectual attributes. Along with it some men possess varied and brilliant intellectuality; others, except as to this faculty, are dull, stupid and obtuse. In some cases it bears the marks of genius, while in others it is hardly distinguishable from brute instinct.

Money sense is the faculty which enables or compels its possessor to get money and hold on to it. It is an exploded notion that industry, economy and self-denial are the groundworks of money sense. There are plenty of men, who, from the day of their berth to the day of their death, never over-work themselves, or practice self-denial, or take any pains to forecast the future, or practice economy in any shape, who nevertheless get ahead and keep ahead, while there are others who drudge and save and calculate, and are eternally looking forward to and saving up for a rainy day, and it is as much as a bargain if their assets will pay for a decent burial when their time comes for joining the majority.

Be it understood, not all who acquire fortunes are to be credited with money sense. Striking a bonanza, for instance, is but the lucky outcome of a gambling experiment. But to get more money for the hole from which the bonanza has been taken than was made in working the bonanza, is considered money-sinical.

One man projects vast mercantile enterprise, discovers new channels of trade, and does the work of a thousand in keeping the world in motion, and gains but little if anything for himself, while another starts a family grocery ten miles from anywhere and in a few years is rolling in wealth. One will start with a million, loan it at a big interest all the time, and die a financial wreck, while another will within a few years put up a half a dozen brick blocks from the sale of beer at five cents a glass.

Some men will go into a stagnant town, and in once walking through it will see and seize a score of opportunities for making a fortune, where thousands apparently just as bright have hung around for years, willing and anxious to do anything that might offer, and could no more see a chance than so many moles or bats. Jay Gould will take a road worth a million, mortgage it for two million, run it for ten years without a dividend, and make twenty million by the transaction.

And so it goes; money sense is like lightning, striking a few and missing a multitude. But the practical question is, can it be cultivated? If so, why would it not be wise to create classes for instruction in this desirable branch of knowledge in our public schools? And seriously, it would be a long step in the right direction if boys could be taught to have money and save it. Any boy can be economical who has nothing, but not one in ten thousand can have it without being crazy to spend it. Perhaps and right there is the turning point between having and lacking money sense in after life. The thought is worth thinking over.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Valentines at J. W. Will's.

A slight frost yesterday morning.

Fine photographs of the "flood" at Fernot Bros.

Wonder how the prune orchards are across the river?

For fine poultry go to C. B. Wells, Philomath, Oregon.

Sewing machines repaired, and warranted to be put in good running order at J. Wm. Will's.

The old government scow that was moored near the ferry, floated down the river Wednesday.

Monumental hose company is no more, the board of fire delegates having declared it disbanded on Monday.

Frank Wood, who resides at the foot of the Alea mountain on this side, made the GAZETTE a call this week.

In order to get a telegram to San Francisco on Thursday it had to go by the way of St. Paul, Minnesota.

Moore & Hitchens are prepared to give you a shave for 15 cents, or you can get a bath in their "tub" for 25 cents.

A chief engineer and assistant of the Corvallis fire department will be voted for at an election on Saturday, March 8th.

The topic at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning will be "prayer." The evening theme will be "a wedding story."

S. B. Graham, the photographer, has some very fine views of the "flood" around Corvallis. Get one as a memento, to look at in future years.

Evangelical Church.—Preaching at Evergreen on Saturday night, at Beulah on Sunday at 10:30 a. m. and here in the city at 7 p. m. All are welcome.—J. M. Dick.

Miss Mattie Burnett, sister of "Telt" Burnett, the genial clerk, has been dangerously ill for the past week with pneumonia. She was reported some better yesterday afternoon.

Another Flood.—On February 14th, it is feared another flood will occur in Corvallis. It will be in the p. o., no doubt, and S. N. Wilkins has a splendid assortment of valentines to select from.

The bank of Hamilton, Job & Co., is being greatly improved by having the walls and ceiling covered with decorated paper of a beautiful design. S. N. Wilkins supplies the stock and his workman, Mr. Edwards, is doing the work.

Zephin Job, M. S. Nengass, and G. R. Farra, were appointed a committee by the board of trade last night to confer with the county court towards constructing a temporary bridge across Mary's river at this city, the same to be done immediately.

Victor Hart, of Waldport, came over this forenoon, via Yaquina. He reports the storm not so destructive in his part of the country. He says the ocean presented a very muddy appearance just as far out as the eye could see, something never known before. Yaquina bay was "fresh" also, for the first time.

Dr. Farra was called on Monday to attend Pat Gooley, who lives on the Chas. Witham place west of here. He had met with a dislocation of one of his arms. On account of the water being so high along the road the Dr. was compelled to turn back after going a short distance—something that he never before was compelled to do.

A fine of $50 was imposed upon Chas. Albrecht for selling liquor to minors, the case having been brought before Recorder Porter. Albrecht remonstrated some at the penalty but, with an execution issued to collect the fine right away or attach the saloon, and placed in Marshal Dunn's hands, he soon turned in the money.

Have You Real Estate to Sell?—If so call at our office or mail full description at once, we are now preparing a large descriptive circular in which will appear every piece of property placed with us. Our Portland office, at No. 72, Washington street, is now open and we have also established agencies at Spokane Falls, Seattle and Astoria. Property placed with us will be advertised in all these centers of immigration. We can reach emigrants directly through our Portland office and expect to dispose of property placed in our hands rapidly. Property of all kinds bought and sold on commission. Insurance in the most reliable companies. BALSTON COX.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

LAND OFFICE AT OREGON CITY, OR., January 28th, 1890.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the County Judge, or in his absence, before the County Clerk of Benton county, at Corvallis, Oregon, on Saturday, March 15th, 1890, viz: Eli Spencer, homestead entry, No. 5744, for the south east 1/4 of Sec. 5, Tp. 13, S. R. 6 west. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of said land, viz: G. W. Mason, F. Moore, A. Sims, and F. M. Spencer, all of Philomath, Benton county, Oregon.

J. T. APPERSON, Register.

OUTSIDE NEWS!

Burned to Death in Washington City.

TERRIFIC U. P. TRAIN ACCIDENT.

An Avalanche Buries a Mining Town—One Chinaman in the Swim—Brief Salem News.

Special to the GAZETTE.]
SALEM, Feb. 7.—6:50 p. m.—The flood reached its highest notch at Salem on Tuesday at 3 o'clock. The bridge across the Willamette floated away 24 hours before, and now nothing is left to mark the spot but one drift catcher and four bents of approach. It is likely the bridge will be replaced with a suspension structure—far superior to the great Roebling mass of wire that serves as a connecting link to America's metropolis and Brooklyn.

Much stock has perished in bottoms below here. Although the loss of property is large no loss of life is reported in this city.

Nearly all the stock for a $20,000 cannery here has been taken up to this evening. The plant will probably be in running order in time for this year's fruit crop.

POOR FELLOW.

BUENA VISTA, Feb. 7.—While the river was at its highest a cabin with a Chinaman astride of the roof passed along in the current of the stream going at a fearful rate. He was crying loudly for assistance.

BURNED TO DEATH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—Secretary Tracy's wife and daughter and maid were burned to death to-day. The city is in mourning.

FROM PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, Feb. 7.—Both bridges here are still standing and perfectly safe, although they had a close call. The water ran through Front and First streets at a swift rate, and now everything presents a dilapidated appearance.

A terrible accident befell the west-bound Union Pacific train to-day near Cascade locks. A bridge went down carrying train to destruction. Nine persons were killed and thirty wounded.

AN AVALANCHE.

BURKE, Idaho, Feb. 7.—A tremendous mass of snow and rocks came down on this place, without a moment's warning, on Tuesday in one mighty avalanche, laying half of the business houses in ruins. Five men were buried beneath the debris. Two were rescued; other bodies not yet recovered. [This place is in the Coeur d'Alaine district.

Corvallis surely is the "heart of the valley," as she is about the only city along the river which escaped no damage during this flood.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

LAND OFFICE AT OREGON CITY, OR., January 28th, 1890.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the County Judge, or in his absence, before the County Clerk of Benton county, at Corvallis, Oregon, on Saturday, March 15th, 1890, viz: Eli Spencer, homestead entry, No. 5744, for the south east 1/4 of Sec. 5, Tp. 13, S. R. 6 west. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of said land, viz: G. W. Mason, F. Moore, A. Sims, and F. M. Spencer, all of Philomath, Benton county, Oregon.

J. T. APPERSON, Register.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

FINE PRINTING!

All kinds of extra fine job printing, such as Wedding Invitations and Cards, Ball Programmes and Tickets, Calling Cards, etc., done in excellent style at The GAZETTE office. Call and inspect samples of stock.

CRAIG & CONOVER,

Corvallis, Oregon.

Cascade Mountain

LUMBER!

The Niagara Lumbering Company

Desires to inform the public that it has established an extensive lumber yard in Corvallis, near the Oregon Pacific depot, and is prepared to furnish all kinds of

BUILDING MATERIAL,

Including Shingles and Lathes, at reasonable prices. This lumber is the finest in Oregon, being sawed in the very heart of the Cascade mountains.

J. W. BROWN & SON, PROPS.

For particulars call on or address, W. H. MILLHOLLEN, at Corvallis, Benton county, Oregon.