MONEY SENSE

The origin and nature of the family which, for want of a better name, may be called money sense, is to the majority of mankind an immeasurable mystery. It neither implies nor discloses the possession of other intellectual attainments. Almost all successful persons of means possess varied and brilliant intellectual properties; except that in this faculty, they are dull, stupid and obtuse. In some cases it becomes the mark of gnostics, while in others it is hardly distinguishable from a form of insanity.

Money sense is the faculty which enables or empowers its possessor to get money and hold on to it. It is an exploded notion that industry, economy and self denial are the gnomon of money sense. In many cases of men, who, from the day of their birth to the day of their death will never own themselves, or practice self-denial, or take pains to procure the future, the practice economy lies hidden away from the view of generations whichenegro get and keep hold of money, and while there are others who manage and save and cultivate, and are naturally listening to the sound of money, it is surely a rich day, and is as much as a bargain if their affairs will pay for the rough burial when their times come for joining the majority.

He is understood, not only who acquire fortunes to be coequal with money sense, striking a bonanza, for instance, but the lucky outcom of a gambling experience. But it is generally known that for the hole from which the bonanza was made, was marked in working the bonanza, in considered money-cinical.

One man projects vast mountain enterprises, discovers new channels of trade, and does the work of a thousand in keeping the world in motion, and gains but little if anything for himself, while another starts a family grocery store from anywhere and in a month will have millions in rolling in wealth. One will start with a millions, lose it in a big interest in all the time, and die a financial wreck, while another will pull within a few years pull up a half a dozen brick blocks from the sand of bare at five cents each intact.

Some men will go into a stag- rant town, and in more walking through it will see and seize a sure of opportunities for making a fortune, where thousands apparently just as rich have been buried for years, willing and assent to do anything that might offer, and could afford one ever to lose money worth a hundred.

How should there take a man worth a million, mortgage it for two million, run for five years without a dividend, and make twenty million by the transaction.

And so it goes in money sense is the lightning striking a dwarf and laying a ruin, a multitude. But like the day is so brief, is it not better to be blinded.
