

The Corvallis Gazette.

VOL. XXVII.

CORVALLIS, BENTON COUNTY, OREGON, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1890.

NO. 4.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ACHESON, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhea, Eruption, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication. THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

CLOTHING

CLOTHING, CLOTHING.

CLOTHING REGARDLESS OF COST!

We have placed on our counter two hundred and fifty Men's Suits, some of every size, 34 to 42, which we are determined to close out immediately. This is

NO SHAM OFFER!

Call and see the goods yourself, and be convinced.

S. L. KLINE,

The Regulator of Low Prices.

LUMBER!

The Niagara Lumbering Company

Desires to inform the public that it has established an extensive lumber yard in Corvallis, near the Oregon Pacific depot, and is prepared to furnish all kinds of

BUILDING MATERIAL,

Including Shingles and Lathes, at reasonable prices. This lumber is the finest in Oregon, being sawed in the very heart of the Cascade mountains.

J. W. BROWN & SON, PROPS.

For particulars call on or address, W. H. MILLHOLLEN, at Corvallis, Benton county, Oregon.

First-class Job Printing done at this office.

Bouts are not running very regular on the river owing to the condition of the locks at Oregon City. The Hoag returned on Wednesday with the load of grain she took from here several days before—being 240 tons. She made the trip from Salem in nine hours.

BORN.

At Harris station, on Tuesday, February 18, 1890, to the wife of Chas. Gray, a son. The happy "dad" is a bridge carpenter on the Oregon Pacific railroad.

MARRIED.

In Corvallis, on Monday evening, February 17th, 1890, at the residence of J. C. Young, Hermann Hoff and Miss Minnie Strueng, Rev. E. J. Thompson officiating.

DIED.

In Corvallis, on February 15th, 1890, Jamie Jay Flett, aged 5 years and 8 months. The deceased was a grandson of Thos. Egin, of this city.

On Sunday, Feb. 16, 1890, in Corvallis, Frank Hays, son of Isaac Hays, deceased, at the age of 18 years, of consumption.

The body of the deceased was taken to Albany and buried in the city cemetery beside that of his father. He was a brother to Logan Hays, of the W. U. telegraph office here.

In Corvallis, on Thursday morning, February 20, 1890, at 5 o'clock, Joseph W. Spalding, aged 63 years, 1 month, and 2 days.

The deceased started across the plains to Oregon from Kentucky in 1834 and upon arriving in this state came to Polk county, settling near Independence. In 1876 he moved to King's Valley, this county, and engaged in farming until 1881 when he and family moved to Buena Vista. Last October the family moved to Corvallis. A wife and several children are left to mourn his death, among whom is Arthur, a member of the printing fraternity. The funeral will be held to-day at Buena Vista and the remains interred in the cemetery there.

PORTLAND LINSÉED OIL CO.

Manufacturers of

Raw and Boiled Linséed Oil,

Oil Cake Meal and Ground Flaxseed.

PORTLAND, OREGON.

The highest price paid for flaxseed. Seed furnished to farmers who will contract to put in a crop. 2-21m.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

LAND OFFICE AT OREGON CITY, OR., January 28th, 1890. Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the County Judge, or in his absence, before the County Clerk of Benton county, at Corvallis, Oregon, on Saturday, March 15th, 1890, viz: Eli Spencer, homestead entry, No. 5744, for the south east 1/4 of Sec. 6, Tp. 13, S. R. 6 west. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of said land, viz: G. W. Mason, F. Moore, A. Sims, and F. M. Spencer, all of Philomath, Benton county, Oregon. J. T. APPERSON, Register.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

LAND OFFICE AT OREGON CITY, OR., January 29th, 1890. Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the County Clerk of Benton county at Corvallis, Oregon, on Friday, March 21st, 1890, viz: Howard L. Bush, pre-emption D. S. No. 6454 for the N. W. 1/4 of N. E. 1/4 S. 1/4 of N. E. 1/4 of Sec. 14 Tp. 10 S. R. 7 W. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon, and cultivation of said land, viz: J. Kibby, D. Kibby, J. Hoffman and J. Price, all of King's Valley, Benton county, Oregon. J. T. APPERSON, Register.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

LAND OFFICE AT OREGON CITY, OR., January 31st, 1890. Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before the County Clerk of Benton county, at Corvallis, Oregon, on Friday, April 4, 1890, viz: Jefferson J. Traxel, Pre-emption D. S. No. 5,463, for the N. W. 1/4 of Sec. 10, Tp. 11, S. R. 7 W. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: W. Groom, H. Herron, C. Warren, and F. Duncan, all of Summit, Benton county, Oregon. J. T. APPERSON, Register.

F. M. JOHNSON, ATTORNEY AT LAW, CORVALLIS, OR.

A PIONEER'S EXPERIENCE.

"B." in the Journal at Salem, furnishes the following interesting article: "There appears to be a disposition by parties who have recently passed up and down through the state since the railroad has suspended operations, to think they have had wonderful experiences, and the likes were never seen before. Old Oregonians have seen equal experiences, and looked upon them as an every day occurrence. An experience or exploit comes to the writer's memory which he believes was never in print. Yreka thirty or thirty-five years ago was a prosperous mining town, and in 1857 a telegraph line was first established there. A gentleman from Oregon who disposed of considerable interests in Yreka for checks on San Francisco was horrified one morning, a few days after the transaction, to read in the morning paper that the bank, against which most his checks were drawn, had failed and he was left nearly bankrupt. A thought struck him and seeing that the Oregon steamer left San Francisco that morning for Portland he resolved to beat it there if possible. He drew his checks, bought a horse and began the race. The setting sun found him on Rogue river, where he changed horses and by morning he emerged from the big canyon, where he again changed horses and again at Roseburg at noon he made another trade. Night found him in the California mountains. He was frequently detained in making his "horse-trades," but the third morning found him in sight of Portland and he saw that the dreaded steamer had not arrived. He put up his horse. Stephen's on the east side of the river and crossed over on the horse ferry. As the bank was not yet opened he walked impatiently up and down the street, fearing every moment the steamer's arrival, would send forth the news. A few minutes appeared as many hours. Finally the doors of the bank swung open and he went in and drew his coin. He again crossed the river and was just lying down when the vibrations of the cannon rattled his windows and announced the arrival of the boat. Ten minutes afterward the doors of the bank closed, but he had won the race."

He drew his checks, bought a horse and began the race. The setting sun found him on Rogue river, where he changed horses and by morning he emerged from the big canyon, where he again changed horses and again at Roseburg at noon he made another trade. Night found him in the California mountains. He was frequently detained in making his "horse-trades," but the third morning found him in sight of Portland and he saw that the dreaded steamer had not arrived. He put up his horse. Stephen's on the east side of the river and crossed over on the horse ferry. As the bank was not yet opened he walked impatiently up and down the street, fearing every moment the steamer's arrival, would send forth the news. A few minutes appeared as many hours. Finally the doors of the bank swung open and he went in and drew his coin. He again crossed the river and was just lying down when the vibrations of the cannon rattled his windows and announced the arrival of the boat. Ten minutes afterward the doors of the bank closed, but he had won the race."

RESOLUTIONS.

At their last meeting the Corvallis Grange passed the following resolutions of condolence:

Whereas, It has pleased a Divine Providence to take from our midst Frederick August Horning, and

Whereas, We have always regarded him as one of the best of citizens—a cheerful worker, and honest friend; it is

Resolved, That we, the members of Corvallis grange, assembled here to-day, do hereby testify our sorrow at his death, and extend to his family our heartfelt sympathy in this common loss, assuring them that his kindness and helpfulness in the past will always be a pleasant memory with us.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be given to the family and to the press.

F. L. WASHBURN,
S. L. SHEDD,
L. F. WILSON, Committee.

TOLEDO NOTES.

Toledo was above high water in the last flood and real estate still booming.

Mr. and Mrs. Hale, from Spokane Falls, came to Toledo to get out of the snow and cold weather. They are much pleased with this part of the country.

Mrs. Norton, an aunt of Mrs. Gabe Stately, has been very sick the past week, but is now improving.

Mr. Lill, who had his leg broken by a land slide near Yaquina, is getting along nicely.

The ball masque at the Blake house, on the 14th, was a grand success. Supper fine. Forty-nine couples danced until the wee' sma' hours. Who says we haven't a fine growing town? T.

February 17, 1890.

PERSONALS.

W. J. Higgins was in Corvallis this week.

Hon. E. B. McElroy was in this city on Tuesday.

Mose L. Kline visited with his parents here a few days this week.

J. H. Henkle and wife and J. A. Henkle, of Philomath, were in Corvallis this week.

Mr. Stites Jr., and Mr. Elderkin, of Albany, were here from Friday until Wednesday during the past week.

F. M. Wadsworth, of Toledo, this county, has been appointed as a clerk to the new collector of internal revenue, M. Weidler, Portland.

M. W. Wilkins was at Junction City this week, having gone there to assist his brother in getting in to new quarters since his loss by fire on Saturday morning last.

Joseph Wilson, of Minneapolis, Minn., arrived in Corvallis on Friday last, and is now visiting with his brother B. W., the county clerk. He went to Minnesota during the same year that his brother came to Oregon.

Mrs. L. L. Hurd started on Tuesday for the home of her parents in Roseburg, to remain a short time. Just before the high water of this month, her mother had the misfortune to slip and fall breaking one of her ankles, and, as all telegraph and mail communication was cut off for awhile, the state of her condition could not be ascertained.

POOR HUMANITY.

The common lot is one of sorrow say—at least—the pessimists, they who look at the worst side. Certainly what would otherwise be a bright existence, is often shadowed by some ailment that overhangs it like a pall, obscuring perpetually the radiance that else would light the path. Such an ailment, and a very common one, is nervousness, or in other words, weakness of the nervous system, a condition only irremediable where inefficient or improper means are taken to relieve it. The concurrent experience of nervous people who have persistently used Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is, that it conquers entirely super-sensitiveness of the nerves, as well as disease—so called—which are invited and sustained by their chronic weakness. As the nerves gain stamina from the great tonic the trouble disappears. Use the Bitters for malaria, rheumatism, biliousness and kidney troubles.

Mrs. N. L. Scott, the aged wife of a farmer living near Wheatland, Polk county, was fatally murdered Sunday morning last. She was found lying on the porch in her night clothes in the last agonies of death, the blood flowing from three ugly wounds from a shotgun. Suspicion in the neighborhood of Wheatland is said to point strongly to the husband or his son as the murderer, as there had been trouble over signing a deed a few days ago, and because of the inability of the facts found by the jury to bear the old gentleman out in his story of the shooting.

The Astorian tells the following story: One of our most respected citizens tells a startling story regarding his curious adventure while killing tame fowls Wednesday morning. He was preparing for an extensive dinner and killed three fowls. The last one instead of flopping around like an ordinary hen and dying, when its head was cut off, got up and walked about ten feet, laid an egg and gave up the ghost. In the meantime, the man says, the head cackled for nearly a minute before that, too, became quiet.

An Albany school ma'am had just given her pupils a deserved lecture on ruining school books and was enlarging on their cost to their parents, when a youngster broke in: "You'll think they cost something yourself when you get married and have to buy them for your children."

The total value of money, notes and accounts in Oregon as assessed is $16,553,725, while the indebtedness is $35,598,179.

LONGFELLOW'S DAY.—On Thursday evening, February 27th, an entertainment will be given in the Corvallis college chapel, in honor of "Longfellow's day." The several literary societies of this city will furnish the programme. The Chataqua society will furnish a "biography of Longfellow;" oration by Deilietic society; recitation by Adelpian society; a fine portrait of the poet, the work of one of Corvallis' leading artists, will be a feature of the evening. Several choice selections will be rendered.

TO BUILD.—The residence situated on the southwest corner of Seventh and Jackson streets, owned by S. N. Wilkins, has been moved to therear end of the lot, turned so as to front the west, and will be fixed up to be rented. Newt will, as soon as the weather permits, begin the erection of a fine large residence on the corner where the former building stood. It will be a splendid improvement to that portion of the city, and will be a thing of joy for Newt in his declining years.

BEING SURVEYED.—E. O. Eccleson, formerly chief engineer of the Oregon Pacific company, who is now in the employ of the Southern Pacific company, is now making a survey of the proposed extension of the narrow gauge from Coburg, Linn county, to Springfield, Lane. He says the entire route will be made standard gauge and the extension made this coming season.

AT SODAVILLE.—Riley Hardman, formerly of Benton county, who located at Sodaville, Linn county, a few months ago, is making arrangements to erect a $5000 or $6000 hotel at Sodaville, one having a capacity to meet the increasing demand of that summer resort. It is intended to have it finished in time for the summer traffic.

NEW QUARTERS.—In a short time Wesley Todd will move his tobacco and confectionery stand into the vacant room north of Case's barber shop. The building where he is now located is to be moved out to make room for a brick edifice, E. W. Fisher owning the property.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

At the last meeting of the Vestry of the Episcopal church, Corvallis, Or., the following report of the treasurer was received, examined and approved:

1889 church building account—
To contract price of church, $1,330 00
" Extras ordered by vestry, furniture, colored glass, etc., 225 00
" To extras by private subscription 103 00
" furnishing church—Benches, stove, electric lights and chancel carpet 274 00
Total $1,933 00
Expenses for year, 1889—
To fuel, lights, janitor, etc., $ 34 00
" rent of reading room for service 14 00
" Rectory acct.—moving and improvements 162 00
To insurance account 63 75
" Sunday school supplies 14 25
" foreign and domestic mission 35 00
" Diocesan mission 15 00
" Diocesan objects 19 00
" missions by Sunday school 15 00
" Episcopal endowment fund of Or. 145 00
" To Good Samaritan Hospital—Sunday school $10, church $5. 15 00
Total $533 00.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION.

Notice is hereby given to the teachers of Benton county that the first quarterly examination for the current year will be held in the court house at Corvallis, beginning at 1 o'clock, February 26th, at which time and place applicants can pass an examination for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd grade county certificates, for state diplomas, and for state life diplomas.

All persons desiring recommendations for state certificates will please make application at said time either by person or letter. J. J. BRYAN, Sup't. Schools.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.