ARGAND AND SUPERIOR STOVES

--and Ranges--

The "Pacific Argand" range is made expressly for the coast trade. It has the ventilated oven and a new fuel arrangement that makes a very quick working stove.

The new model "C" Superior Range has the largest oven of any range made and the fire backs in all Superior stoves are warranted for FIFTEEN YEARS.

GREAT FUEL SAVERS!

But one damper controls the operation of reservoir ranges. Quality the best. Prices the lowest.

Corvallis, Oregon.

B. OF T. ANNUAL MEETING.

LET THERE BE A FULL ATTENDANCE ON NEXT THURSDAY EVENING.

The board of trade held a meeting last evening, a quorum being present. The name of W. St. Clair was proposed for membership. Several communications were read and ordered filed. Other business of minor importance was transacted.

On Thursday evening next will occur the annual meeting of their organization and it is desired that EVERY MEMBER BE PRESENT as new officers are to be elected and committees will be appointed. It is to be hoped that more attention will be given the meetings by some of the members, who have, of late, been quite conspicuous by their absence.

The board has, above all things, accomplished one great thing for Corvallis—it has been partly instrumental in bringing the Southern Pacific railroad company to time in extending their road on south from this city to the new main line. This will be the biggest thing that has come to Corvallis in the past five years. And so on.

Now, once more, LET THE FULL MEMBERSHIP OF THE Corvallis board of trade be present at the ANNUAL MEETING on next Thursday evening, April 3rd.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION CALL.

The Republican County Convention will meet in Corvallis, at the court house, Wednesday, April 9th, 1890, at 11 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of nominating county officers, one senator, two representatives, and eight delegates to the state convention. The primaries will be held in the several precincts on Saturday, April 5th, 1890, at 1 o'clock, p. m. The precincts will be entitled to the following number of delegates:

Soap Creek.....	3	Willamette.....	3
Aleas.....	3	Summit.....	2
South Corvallis.....	8	Elk City.....	2
Wrenn.....	3	Lower Aleas.....	5
Tidewater.....	1	Little Elk.....	2
North Corvallis.....	7	Monroe.....	6
Kings Valley.....	4	Newport.....	8
Philomath.....	7	Lobster.....	1
Tum Tum.....	2	Toledo.....	4
Yaquina.....	5	Fairmount.....	3
Big Elk.....	2	South Corvallis.....	8

The same being one delegate at large, and one delegate for every twenty votes, and one for every fraction over one-half thereof in each precinct cast for congressman at the June election of 1888.

SOL KING,
Chairman County Committee.

A CASE IN POINT.

In our forefathers' days, pimples were attributed to diseased blood. But modern medicine has demonstrated that rich food does not create eruptions by fouling the blood, but retards digestion, which makes the stomach torpid, and the circulation sluggish, and in turn causes an enfeebled action of the pores which congest or become pimply. The modern theory therefore is not to treat the blood, but the stomach and liver, and it is under this new idea, that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla was conceived. It has wiped out the "blood disease" theory of pimples, of the old sarsaparillas. A case in point: "I have had for years spells of indigestion and dyspepsia and tried nearly everything. Finally I took one of the leading sarsaparillas. It did not help me, but caused pimples to break out on my face, which I was told was caused by the potash it contained. Hearing that Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did not contain mineral and might act differently, I sent for it. The pimples disappeared immediately and I have now after months had no return of the old spells. It is a cure for indigestion and dyspepsia and the attendant face eruptions."

STUDYING OREGON HISTORY.

The Collegian, a journal published monthly at Salem, contains an article headed "Oregon History in Public Schools." It is a subject of great importance to all school children of this state, and is probably the least thought of by most teachers when training the mind of their pupils. The author of this article, as given below, is W. E. Yates, principal of Corvallis' public schools, and the GAZETTE reprints it, appreciating the writer's thoughts:

"It is not well to overload the curriculum of any school, and especially that of the public school; still, while there may be too many branches taught in our schools, the results may be good if prominence be given to the proper studies by the teacher.

More depends upon the teacher than the text-book any way, a good book in the hands of an incompetent teacher is worse than useless; while the qualified instructor is able to secure proficient work and mental advancement even without a text-book.

The schools of our state have little history of Oregon taught in them except that which is given them by the teacher. The pupil should not be allowed to leave the halls of the common school or even the college without an intimate knowledge of the social, political, industrial, and colonial history of our beautiful and prosperous state.

The teacher should make prominent the geography of the state where the school is located. A general knowledge of geography is well, but a knowledge of our own country in its varied details is better. So in regard to Oregon history; it should be made emphatic.

Many children attend our schools for years, and it may be, study and finish the course without a hint that a Whitman, a Lee, a John Jacob Astor, a Hudson Bay company, ever existed or at least have any historical interest or connection with the early events in the formative period of our territory.

The physical features, the rivers, harbors, lakes, mountains, etc., receive a passing notice in our school geography, but the political history is omitted entirely. Probably many young persons leave school without a thought of the names of Oregon's governors, the different towns in which the capital has been, and the growth of its industrial pursuits. This should not be. If one of the teachers of Oregon schools would prepare a suitable text-book on this subject and it were incorporated into the list of studies he would confer a blessing on the state.

Until that is done, we teachers should conclude the history of the United States with a few weeks' course of lectures on the history of Oregon.

Let the pupils of the public schools learn something of the history of their home, the state of Oregon."

A CALL.

The State Horticultural association will hold its first quarterly meeting for the current year in the city council chamber of Portland on Tuesday, April 8th, at 10:30 a. m. All persons interested in the development of Oregon's horticulture in its various branches are cordially and earnestly invited to be in attendance. Business of much importance will come before the association and it is hoped that all persons engaged in horticulture will attend and take part in the discussions.

Reports will be rendered by the following committees which were appointed at the annual meeting in January last: "Tariff on Prunes," "Annual Report," "Constitution and By-laws."

The following papers will also be presented and discussed: Oregon Horticulture, O. P. Mason, Portland; The Prune and Its Culture, Chauncey Ball, Mt. Tabor; The Young Orchard, R. D. Allen, Silverton.

This promises to be one of the most interesting meetings the association has ever held, and all members are especially requested to be promptly on time at the opening session.

E. R. LAKE, Secretary.
PHILOMATH PARAGRAPHS.

We hear complaints of a backward spring.

Prof. Gilbert reports a pleasant and profitable time at the teachers' institute at Albany.

Prof. Keezel will close his school this week. The professor is working on an incubator, and contemplates going into the poultry business.

J. J. Finlayson is still confined to his room, and little hope is entertained of him ever being a well man. His son-in-law, Judge Powell, is visiting him this week.

The W. C. T. U. gave a very pleasant entertainment on last Monday evening at the M. E. church. An effort is being made to organize a band of juvenile temperance workers, and the proceeds of the entertainment will be used to that end.

John D. Wood, who has been teaching in Polk county during the winter, is visiting relatives in our town. Mr. Wood, we believe, can show a record of more terms of school taught than any other man in the state.

We took a peep at Henkle Bros' store the other day and was pleased to note the attractive display of goods in their show windows. John can get things up in good shape and don't you forget it.

Our band boys have just received a fine lot of new music, and will proceed to arrange for another entertainment to come off in the near future. Such enterprise is commendable. Give us the entertainment.

Here is the finest opening for a flouring mill of any town in the state. Corvallis is our nearest port, and with our large agricultural district and the facilities for shipping we know of no business more profitable. Give us a few enterprising men and a good mill will be assured. U. BETCHER.
March 25th.

UNION PARTY CONVENTION.—Notice is hereby given that there will be a mass convention of the "Union party" of Benton county, Oregon, held in the court house in Corvallis on Saturday, March 29th, at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention and to elect a permanent county chairman and attend to such other business that may properly come before the convention. All who are interested in the furthering of the principles of the party and desire to join with us are requested to attend. Geo. A. LANDIS, Temp. County Chairman.

L. H. Andrews and wife returned to Oregon City on Thursday. They came here in September last to keep house for their three boys who are students in the college. Business has called them back to their old home. During their stay here they have made many friends who are sorry to have them go and who hope to welcome them back next fall.

Some real bargains in ten and twenty-acre tracts of first-class fruit lands situated just midway between Corvallis and Albany on the O. P. railroad. Prices and terms very reasonable. For particulars call on Hartless & Davison.
