The Buccaneers of Old

Flaunted the skull and cross bones, their ensign, defiantly at the masthead. Your modern pirate, not on the high seas, but upon the high reputation of standard remedies skulks under various disguises. His hole and corner traffic has never to any degree affected Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, although that standard invigorant and corrective has long been the shining mark at which his shafts have been directed. Cheap local bitters, composed of fiery unrefined stimulants, with an infusion, or extract possibly, of some tonic bark, are still sometimes recommended as identical with, or similar to, or possessing virtues kindred to those of America's chosen family medicine. These perish speedily, while the great subduer and preventative of disease pursues its successful career, overcoming malaria, dyspepsia, nervousness, kidney troubles, constipation and rheumatic ailments, not only on this, but on many continents.

Dr. E. H. Taylor has gone to San Francisco for the purpose of having his eyes treated. He has been affected for about a year to such an extent that he was compelled to give up the practice of his profession.

How's This?

DIED.—At the Exchange hotel on Thursday morning, 6, 1890, of pneumonia, Al Green, aged 64 years. He was buried the same day in the Old Fellows cemetery. It will be remembered that the deceased is the blind pauper who lost his sight about two years ago while chopping wood on Mrs. Beach's farm just across the river. He was native of Missouri.

A LOST ADDRESS.

A Trinidad Lady Writes to San Francisco for It.

Mrs. Harriet McNamara of 319 State Street, Trinidad, Colorado, while visiting in St. Louis last summer, did not suffer with her usual sick headaches and indigestion. But upon her return to Trinidad her old troubles came upon her. It was not the St. Louis climate that did so much for her sick headaches. The secret is told in the following letter, received by Thomas Price & Son, the well-known assayors of 624 Sacramento Street, San Francisco. Mrs. McNamara writes:—

"Three months since I was visiting in St. Louis and obtained two bottles of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. It was of great relief to me in my headaches and indigestion. Since my return to my home in Trinidad I feel the need of it, and as I have lost the address I write to you to ask if you will not kindly forward this letter to the proper number in San Francisco, and have me sent a few more bottles of this valuable vegetable compound."

Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is an almost certain cure for sick headaches and constipation. People who have used it once will send hundreds of notices to get it, as in the above instance.

Excitement

Runs high at the Pharmacy over System Builder as every body is using it for Catarrh of the Stomach, Dyspepsia, Constipation and impure blood and to build up the system. It certainly possesses wonderful merit when all speak so well of it. Sold by all druggists.

THE ELECTIONS.

The latest election returns give Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Kansas and Nebraska democratic governors. In Ohio seven republican congressmen against 14 democrat were elected.

Illinois. Estimated returns indicate the election of Amberg, rep., for state treasurer, by a plurality of about 10,000 over Wilson, dem.; Edwards, rep., for superintendent of public instruction has a plurality of 8,000 over Roeb, dem.

Kansas. The republican candidate for governor, six out of seven republican congressional candidates defeated, Senator Ingalls' re-election a subject of grave doubt. That is the situation in Kansas.

California. 987 precincts give Markham, rep., for governor 10,530 plurality over Pond, dem. Democrats concede election entire state ticket.

Iowa. Returns from one third of the state show democratic gains sufficient, if continued, to wipe out the republican majority of two years ago and give a small democratic majority.

Nebraska. The returns give Boyd an apparent majority of 8275, but the territory yet to be heard from is so largely republican that there is a possibility that this majority for Boyd may be wiped out.

Colorado. Twenty-five precincts received from the city and county give Townsend rep., for congress 4898, O'Donnell 3750. For governor, Rountiff, rep., 4272, Yeaman, dem., 3831. Returns so far received from outside counties gave the head of the republican ticket a plurality of 1753.

Minnesota. Three congressmen are democrats, one republican and one doubtful. The legislature is presumably republican, but uncertain.

North Dakota. Returns so far as received give Johnson, rep., for representative in congress, 3422; Benton, dem., 2962; for governor, Burke, rep., 2758; Roach, dem., 2497. Muir, farmer's alliance, 365. Johnson's majority will probably be 8000. The legislature will have about twenty-five democrats and independents, out of ninety-three. The republican state ticket will have about the same majority in the state as the republican congressmen.

Montana. The democratic committee claims the election of Dixon to congress by 450 majority. The republican committee claims the state for Carter by 125. Democrats claim four state senators and concede the republicans two, with two in doubt. Republicans claim five state senators.

Pennsylvania. The latest returns from twenty congressional districts of the state show the election of eighteen republicans and ten democrats. The present delegation from this state is twenty-one republicans and seven democrats.

Wisconsin. The latest returns from the state indicate a plurality of 20,000 and upward for George W. Peck, dem., for governor. The democrats elect a majority of the assemblyman and state senate. In the lower house they will have a majority of thirty or over, and in the senate a majority of two. They elect seven out of nine congressmen.

Connecticut. The legislature is 10 to 16 republican on joint ballot. Total vote of the state, about 120 towns official, is 135,374. Morris, dem., has 67,661 and is 53 short of the popular majority. It is almost certain no election has been made; if so, the legislature will elect Merwin, rep.

Delaware. Complete returns from the whole state give Reynolds, dem., for governor, 445 majority, and Causey, dem., for congress, 514 majority. The next legislature will stand: Democrats 17, republicans 11. There is no United States senator to be elected.

Michigan. Up to 11 p. m. indications are that the democrats have elected the governor by about 10,000 plurality, and the rest of the state ticket by a substantial vote. The legislature is democratic.

Nevada. Advances from various parts of Nevada indicate the election of Colcord, rep., congress, by a majority
