EXCURSION TO THE MOUNTAINS.

The Congregational Sunday School of Corvallis, Oregon, will make an excursion to Hoodo, 48 miles east of Corvallis, this afternoon. Mrs. Millicent L. Hillard, Miss Edith H. Taylor, Miss H. M. Hoffman, and Miss Minnie S. Sackett will be in charge of the trip. The party will leave Corvallis at 1:30 p.m. and return at 6 p.m. The cost of the trip, which includes meals and transportation, is $2.00. The trip is open to all members of the school and their friends. For further information, please contact Miss Hillard or Miss Taylor at their respective addresses.

THE OFFICE. It is RELIABLE! Art & Science.

The Office, located at 550 S. Purgatory, has just announced the introduction of a new product to the market. The product, known as the Oregon Cured, is a new type of fish that has been developed by Dr. J. T. Cobb. The fish is cured with a special mixture of herbs and spices, resulting in a unique flavor that is unlike any other fish on the market. The Oregon Cured is available in a variety of sizes and prices, starting at $250 per pound. For more information, please visit the Office's website or call 541-123-4567.

REWARD $250.

There is a reward of $250 for the return of a wallet containing cash and several valuable documents. The wallet was last seen on the corner of Second and Main St. in Corvallis. The reward will be paid to the first person who returns the wallet, unopened, to the police station. Please contact the police department at 541-123-4567 with any information.

THE ARSONIST--How A. Aronson, the notorious arsonist, appeared in the Presbyterian church in Corvallis, and the reception accorded him by the female members of the society. In the absence of the ladies' Aid Society, the men of the church on Tuesday afternoon were the only witnesses to the scene. The majority of whom were present at the church were in the pews, receiving the arsonist with the usual smiles and nods of recognition. His selections were of an oratorical nature, but the presence of the ladies' Aid Society is that of a man who is in the midst of the music. The wonder of the voices of the choir divided the audience, and he had to be crucified at the performance of Herr Arnold. His program was interwoven with scientific recitations and the act was announced by Miss Louisa Smith, who, for her part, was not detected, especially for those who have given some attention to this subject.

RETURNED--Mr. C. N. Willison, who had been away in the north, returned to his home on April 23. He was accompanied by his son, who had been in the north for some time. The two were welcomed by their friends in Corvallis, and the reunion was a happy one. Mr. Willison is now engaged in the business of his own, and is looking forward to a successful future.

TAKING OFFICE--Mr. W. H. Bell, the prominent manufacturer of Corvallis, has taken the offices of Mr. H. W. Covert, deceased, at 500 S. Purgatory. Mr. Bell is looking forward to a successful business, and his friends in Corvallis extend their congratulations to him.

THE ROSIN; OR, THE BANJO'S BROTHER. By J. T. Cobb. A new and original work, told in the form of a novel. The story is one of adventure and mystery, and is sure to please all who read it. The novel is available at all bookstores, and is priced at $1.00.

CRAWFORD'S MEETING. The annual meeting of the Crawford's Church was held on Saturday, May 1, 1891. The meeting was well attended, and was concluded with a resolution to support the Union Church.

THE DEATH OF LIEUTENANT HENDRICKSON. The death of Lieutenant Hendrickson, who was killed in action, is a great loss to the country. He was a brave and gallant officer, and his death is a great loss to the Union Church.
