Anyone wanting a monument before next Decoration day would do well to see E. W. Achison & Co. at once as they are selling at a ten per cent. discount to all who purchase within sixty days.

Notwithstanding the heavy rains during the week, many people were noticed on our streets, and considerable business activity was manifested in the city. Corvallis is becoming livelier every day.

The recent rains have brought the river up to a very good boating stage, and considerable volume of water indicates that river traffic will be carried on without serious hindrances all thro' the season.

Dr. J. B. Wells has rented Judge Holgate's former law office, and is having it neatly papered and repaired for a reception room for customers. Judge Holgate has moved his office into the new brick building.

If you want a beautiful granite monument set up before next Decoration day order at once before the quarries close for the winter. Drop a postal card to E. W. Achison & Co., at Albany, Or., and they will call on you and show you samples and lowest prices.

The next regular meeting of Corvallis Grange No. 242, will be held on Saturday, Nov. 7th, at 7:30 p. m. Former meetings have been held in the afternoon, but the time of meeting has been changed so that every alternate meeting will occur in the evening.

Services as usual at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning and and evening. A missionary sermon in the morning. The fourth sermon in the series "Life, and what It Means," in the evening. Sabbath school at 10 a. m.; Christian Endeavor at 6:15 p. m. All are welcome.

S. N. Wilkins has let the contract for a $1500 house to W. O. Heckart. The house will be built at once, and material is being hauled for that purpose. S. N. intends to keep abreast of the times, and a dwelling to cost $1500 indicates that his intentions are about to be carried out.

The popularity of our clothing sales continues and gentlemen are invited to call at our mammoth establishment and inspect our immense stock of overcoats, suits, underwear and furnishing goods. Every article a genuine bargain. See our overcoats at $2.50. Boys' suits at $1.25, and our $10 overcoats are world beaters.

S. L. KLINE,
Regulator of Low Prices.

If you have a few hours at your command and wish to turn the time into as many dollars, write at once for confidential terms on our Banner Holiday Books. In this line we lead. Our terms will astonish you. Agents wanted in every locality. Will you be one to earn at least $150 between now and Christmas? Decide immediately and write us. L. P. Miller & Co., Stockton, Calif.

Rev. D. Atkins and family, of the M. E. church south, of this city, will start for Asheville, North Carolina, November 23d, where they will probably make their future home. They have made this city their home for the past four years, and gathered around them in the meantime many warm personal friends and acquaintances, who will feelingly regret their departure. Dr. Atkins is an able educator.

RIVER NOTES.—The O. P. steamer Wm. M. Hoag arrived at this city Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. She has been on the ways for repairs for some time, and now presents a fine appearance. Capt. Raabe has charge of her. The Sisters and the Hoag will hereafter make regular trips to Corvallis during the season. The water at this point is about two feet above low-water mark.

LECTURES NOT INTERESTING generally; but the one to be given by Dr. Edward Thomson, on "The Rest Day for All" is said to be breezy, witty and eloquent. The Dr. has a diagram used by Dr. Haeglar, the great German scientist, in his discussion of this subject at Paris in 1889. This large diagram will be shown to the audience and explained. Tickets for the lecture to be obtained from the pastors of the city. It will be at the Presbyterian church Monday night, November 9th, at 7:30 sharp.

FACTORY NOTES.—The boiler and engine for the carriage factory arrived Wednesday on the Southern Pacific train. The capacity of the boiler is an eighty horse power, while that of the engine is fifty. The shafting is now on the way from the east. A large portion of the machinery was ordered to arrive by the middle of next month, providing the weather will not retard work on the building. The recent rains have caused a very considerable delay in the work, but it is hoped that a few days more will favor us with good weather.

PROMINENT DEATHS.—R. S. Wallace, a prominent and highly esteemed business man of Salem, and known generally throughout the Willamette valley, died last Friday after a week's illness, of pneumonia. He was largely interested in Salem enterprises and had much to do in promoting the city's prosperity. On Monday morning Col. F. J. Babcock, county clerk of Marion county, passed away at his home in Salem, after a protracted illness, aged 48 years. He was a prominent war veteran, and was in the reserve force at the battle of Gettysburg. He was first elected county clerk of Marion county by the republicans in 1888. Mr. Babcock leaves considerable business interests in Salem and was an enterprising citizen.

HALLOW-EVEN.

Saturday evening, October 31st, was Hallow-even. The signification of the term has been confused in the strides of time and it is now become to be regarded with a "boisterous" conception quite contrary to its original intent.

Saturday evening the mischief makers made old men's faces hang in "passionate loneliness," but they dared not express audible anger, for, with the boys, Hallow-even is a kind of naturalized holiday. Back east the advent of this day would cause men to loosen their exalted conceptions of refined religious life, and angry oaths would stand on their tongues' ends that never were there before. Piety and simplicity surrendered to the common hereditaments of human weakness, and they came down from their lofty position like a clap of thunder from a clear sky. It is wrong thus to abuse and corrupt Hallow-even. In England, contrary to the present manner, it was long customary to crack nuts, duck for apples in a tub of water, and perform other harmless fireside revelries. While the same thing can be said of Scotland, the Hallow-even ceremonies of that country partook more of a superstitious character, taking, among rustics, the form of a charm to discover who should be his or her partner for life. Of these now almost exploded customs, the best summary is that contained in Burns' well-known poem, "Hallow-e'en." If you want to read some intensely Hallow-even practices, we would refer you to Brand's "Popular Antiquities."

STARTING POINTS.—Hamilton, Job & Co., have wisely consented to follow the example of Hartless & Davisson in putting up cottages on lots in Job's addition, and selling them to purchasers at easy terms of installments. The move in this direction by our moneyed men is the most commendable that could be made. While it affords a reasonable compensation to them, as well as an almost certain disposal of their real estate at a fair price, it also gives the poorer class of people easy access to homes, and they will not fail to make the most of these opportunities. This is decidedly the best method of supplying the present demand for houses in this city, and it will prove very beneficial in every respect. Most anyone can afford to secure homes under these very accommodating terms, and the gentlemen named deserve particular notice for having started a move in that direction. It will pay both parties.

WENT ASHORE.—The British ship Straithblane, sixteen days from Honolulu in ballast, went ashore twenty-five miles north of Astoria Tuesday morning. She lies abreast of Shoalwater bay, Washington, well upon the sand, and is a total wreck. The masts and rigging are gone, and the hull is fast going to pieces. It was low water when the Cape Hancock life-saving crew reached the scene of the wreck, and a heavy gale was blowing. All were got safely ashore, except six, who were drowned. Capt. Cathill, Richard Hughes, carpenter, Thomas Hunter, cook, Donald McLeod, seaman, a passenger, a lawyer from Honolulu, Wm. Lewis and another man. Four bodies were recovered.

MARRIED.—At the home of Joseph Misner, Sunday, Nov. 1st, Jno. A. Rodgers and Miss Lillie L. Misner, Rev. H. Gould officiating.

THE S. P. EXTENSION.—An effort is being made by influential parties, both in this city and Monroe, to urge the Southern Pacific Company to extend their line from Corvallis to Junction City at once, or early in the spring. It is understood that farmers along the proposed line are willing to donate a certain amount of labor toward grading the roadbed, providing the company will build at an early day; but those parties who granted this company the right of way years ago, are getting tired of the company's dilatory methods and delays, and if some move toward building the extension is not made in the near future, the parties interested will organize for the purpose of cancelling their agreement with the S. P. Co. for the right of way granted for their line. If the S. P. Co. does not see fit to push the matter, it is understood that other capitalists are willing to take hold and build an independent line and have it in operation before another summer passes. The benefit that Corvallis and Benton county will derive, as a result of this extension, can be readily perceived, opening, as it will, a direct route to the Golden State, thus securing wonderful advantages in transportation. Corvallis and Benton county are certain not to lose anything by this investment, and those who push the matter should receive encouragement from every quarter.

BRIDGE BUILDING.—The Davidson bridge, spanning the Luckiamute on the road between this city and Independence, is being rapidly pushed to completion, and will probably receive the finishing touches tomorrow. This bridge, it will be remembered, went down with a drove of cattle, the property of R. L. Brown, of Soap Creek, not many weeks since, and that gentleman has sustained considerable loss in consequence, the value of his cattle being estimated at $900. We have been informed that Polk county will allow damages to Mr. Brown in the sum mentioned, and this is as it should be. There were no notices placed up indicating the condition of the bridge at the time of the circumstance, leaving the impression that there was no danger in endeavoring to cross, so it seems to a man up a tree that Polk county has considerable responsibility resting on her shoulders in regard to the matter. The bridge was unquestionably in a very bad condition, and was not safe for the use of the traveling public. The court of Polk county will do nothing more than what is right in making this allowance of damages.

PLEASANT PARTY.—The Misses Nellie Hogue and Hortense Greffoz gave a pleasant social party at the former's home in this city Saturday evening, in honor of their college classmates and friends. They had a royal good time, and indulged in many amusing and enjoyable festivities, quite appropriate to the occasion. Besides all this, some relishing refreshments were laid down to the service of the young folks, and it was quite a late hour that evening before they could withdraw from their pleasantries to their homes.

FOR SALE.—Ten acres of prune land two miles from Corvallis. Trees will be in bearing next year. A great bargain for parties wishing this kind of land. Reason for selling, parties have moved away. Enquire at the GAZETTE office.

Cakes Without Eggs.

Observing housekeepers quickly learn that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is far superior to other brands in the fact that they never fail to make the finest pastry, and if they wish to be economical they can dispense entirely with eggs and can use a less quantity of butter for shortening purposes. The advantage is not alone in the saving effected but in avoiding the trouble and frequently the great difficulty of securing eggs that are fresh. This is often a serious trouble.

Cakes of various kinds from the informal Griddle Cakes to the stately Bride Cake can be made with Price's Cream Baking Powder, which insures light, sweet and handsome cakes; or when used for Griddle Cakes to be eaten hot enables their production in the shortest space of time, always tender and delicious.

Dr. Price's is the only Baking Powder that contains the white of eggs. None so pure! None so wholesome!

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is reported by all authorities as free from Ammonia, Alum, or any other adulterant. In fact, the purity of this ideal powder has never been questioned.

DROWNING AT NEWPORT.—Wednesday forenoon G. W. Graves, foreman of the government works at Newport, was swept off the end of the tramway by breakers and drowned. Just before the accident one of the men told Mr. Graves that some of the piling at the end of the tramway was loose, and ought to be fixed at once. He took spikes and a spike-maul and went out to the end of the jetty on the next train to fasten the piling in place. As the train stopped to unload, Graves went to the end of the tramway to determine what needed to be done. He was at the end of the tramway, and the train was only a few feet away. Graves bent down to his work when a high breaker rolled in. This caused all the men to cling to something solid to keep from being washed away. When the breaker had passed Graves was gone. In a moment he was seen thirty or forty feet from the tramway in the surf. A line was thrown to him, but it did not reach him. A plank was also thrown to him, but all to no purpose, and he went down in sight of his friends, who were powerless to render him assistance. The body has not yet been found. Graves was an Odd Fellow in good standing, and leaves a wife and two children to mourn his untimely end.

VILLARD IN PORTLAND.—Henry Villard's visit to Portland the first of this week caused great enthusiasm. He was received with a hearty welcome at the Hotel Portland, but his speech on that occasion gave no evidence that Villard, in the last ten years, had advanced any great ideas that would prove instrumental to the Pacific northwest. The Telegram calls Villard a mossback and we believe it is not far from the truth.

Mr. Thomas Batte, editor of the Graphic, Texarkana, Arkansas, has found what he believes to be the best remedy in existence for flux. His experience is well worth remembering. He says: "Last summer I had a very serious attack of flux. I tried almost every known remedy, none giving relief. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoe Remedy was recommended to me. I purchased a bottle and received almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and was entirely cured. I take pleasure in recommending this remedy to any person suffering with such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existence." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by T. GRAHAM.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipe, in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NOYES, 820 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.
