TAKEN FOR A CRANK.

A semi-fendish delight often seems to possess people of strong nerves in sneering at those with weak ones. The irritability of the nervous hypochondriac is ridiculed as natural ill temper. The very genuine and distressing symptoms from which he suffers are made light of. "He" or "she is a crank" is the cheerful sort of sympathy with which the nervous invalid meets from the unfeeling and the thoughtless. At the same time no complaint is more defined and real, none has a more easily explainable origin when it is chronic. Imperfect digestion and assimilation are always accompanied by nervous debility and anxiety. Build up the powers of assimilation and digestion with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and nervous symptoms, sick headaches and a generally feeble condition of the system are remedied. Remember that fearful ravages are produced by the grippe among weak, nervous people. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters cures it, and prevents malaria, rheumatism and kidney complaint.

In the early days somebody owed Judge Marquam $800. He was honest and had lots of land around Portland. He offered the judge a block in settlement. The latter got into his buggy and drove out to see it. One of the lots had been sold out of it for a washing bill. Then he looked at another, and a lot had gone out of this one for a week's butcher bill. Finally he took the one he has now with the finest building on the coast or as fine as any in the country upon it—worth, well, worth a million or more. They don't pay washing and meat bills with lots now anywhere within fifty miles of the city limits—not much.—Well, come.

Mr. C. Hemphill having this day bought my stock of harness and saddles, I extend thanks to my many old friends and customers for their patronage and kindness shown me for the past fifteen years, and would ask that their patronage be still continued with the harness and saddles, conducted by C. Hemphill, my son, where my books will be found and ready at all times to receive money due me on accounts. Please call early, and oblige

S. A. HEMPHILL, Corvallis, March 7, 1892.

A FOOT RACE.—According to previous arrangements, Eph Cameron, of Corvallis, and Wm. Morris, of Crawfordville, met at Brownsville last Saturday to determine as to the merits of each one's speed. The race took place in South Brownsville. It was for a purse of $60; distance 75 yards and to be completed on or before the 10th day of October, 1892.

The court reserves the right to reject any or all bids. By order of the county court. ATTEST: B. W. WILSON, County Clerk.

Dated March 14, 1892.

OREGON BOYS.—The Democrat makes a specialty of noticing the achievement of Oregon boys in the east; and it is a fact that almost universally they are at the top. There is evidently something about our climate that produces the brain power. This time it is a Yamhill boy, and the McMinnville Telephone-Register says: "Another Oregon boy has distinguished himself for his ability in an eastern college. Horace J., the eldest son of Dr. H. R. Littlefield, of Lafayette, recently secured first prize in a graduating class of 200 in St. Louis medical college. His success not only reflects credit upon himself, but upon the state he hails from as well, and Oregon can feel proud of him."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except by a physician, who knows the exact amount and direction in which to use them, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by J. C. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75 cents per bottle.

O. W. Dunbar, editor of the Town Talk, has been convicted of libel in the circuit court at Astoria, for publishing articles defaming the character of Samuel Elmore, and sentenced to one year imprisonment in the county jail.

New Washington, Penn. People are not slow about taking hold of a new thing, if the article has merit. A few months ago Dunbar, of that place, bought his first stock of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He has sold it all and ordered more. He says: "It has given the best of satisfaction. I have warranted every bottle, and have not had one come back." 60 cent and $1.00 bottles for sale by T. Graham, Druggist.

WHY NOT DEHORN YOUR CATTLE?

When all who try it admit at once there is nothing gives any more satisfaction when handling or feeding is necessary. Now is the time, and when winter comes on the stock are all ready for stabling and stall feeding, and King's patent dehorning knife has no equal; severs the horns instantly; no following or fainting away in the operation. This knife can be had and will last a life time, or any one wishing territory to operate in. Address

Twenty-five applications for the presidency of the state agricultural college in this city, have been received from nearly all parts of the United States. Last Monday the state board of education, consisting of Governor Penney, Secretary of State McBride, Superintendent McElroy, A. R. Shipley and Secretary Wallis Nash, met at Salem to examine these applications and on the 20th day of April will make a report to the board of regents of the college, who will probably elect a president at that time.

The Linn county republican convention met at Albany Wednesday and placed the following ticket in the field: Representatives, W. W. Richardson, M. Acheson, J. H. Wigle; County Judge, J. N. Duncan; County Commissioner, John W. Pugh; Sheriff, A. A. Kees; County Clerk, David Andrews; County Recorder, W. B. Wright; County Treasurer, John M. Waters; School Superintendent, J. H. Jewett; County Assessor, W. F. Deaking; Surveyor, E. T. T. Fisher; Coroner, Wm. Fortmiller.

Shoe buttons are now enlisted among the slaves of lame fashion. The plain, black, common shoe button is styled antique, and bright silver or gold ones are attached to the fashionable shoe. Carrying the things to extremes, as usual, the Erench shops, have jeweled shoe buttons in stock, which they sell by the set of twenty-four round sparkling buttons. Silver, studded with turquoise, are popular, so are the round gold buttons, brilliant with dimmative garnets. Buttons of solid pearl, mounted in gold, have been seen. A complete set costs seven dollars, but the merchant generously throws in a small card bearing the legend, "button with care."

The Marion county republicans nominated the following ticket Tuesday. The convention did not adjourn until midnight. Clerk, D. C. Sherman, of Salem, sheriff, John Knight, of Salem; county judge, W. C. Hubbard, of Fairfield; delegates, T. Ford, of Salem, T. T. Geer, of Macleay, B. Ormsby, of Silver Creek, J. G. Wright, of Salem, and Samuel Layman, of Woodburn; assessor, D. B. Coffey, of Mill City; recorder, John McNary, of Salem; treasurer, R. D. Brown, of Turner; commissioner, J. F. Anderson, of Howell; school superintendent, J. S. Graham, of Woodburn; surveyor, R. B. Horrick, of Macleay; coroner, J. S. Stolt, of Gervais.

THE ELECTION LAW.

The nominees on the republican ticket should read the new election law and get what they are required to do to get their names on the ballots for the election in June. According to the recent election laws the chairman and secretary of the convention are required to take out a certificate of each person's nomination and file it in the office of the secretary of state, and then each nominee is required to appear before the county clerk and sign their acceptance within thirty days in a register kept for that purpose. The following extract from the election laws explains the instance of certificates:

"Section 32. Every such certificate of nomination made by convention or assembly may contain the name of one candidate for each office to be filled at the election. It shall state such facts concerning the convention or assembly as are required by section 31 of this act for its acceptance, and as are required to be stated therein by section 34 of this act. In conclusion, it shall be signed by the presiding officer and the secretary of the convention or assembly by which it purports to be made, and an affidavit shall be made thereon by such presiding officer and secretary, and subscribed and sworn to (or affirmed) by them before some person authorized to administer oaths, to the effect that the statements therein are true, and the certificate of the oath of affirmation shall accompany the certificate of nomination."

The manner of filing the certificate of nomination is given in section 30: "Immediately after each certificate of nomination is filed, the county clerk shall enter in a book marked 'Register of Nominations,' the date when the certificate was filed with him, the name of each candidate, the office for which he is nominated, and the name of party or convention, or assembly making the nomination, together with the names of the chairman and secretary certifying same; and in case the certificate of nomination is made by individual electors, the names of the two signers who make the oath thereto, and the total number of signatures thereto. As soon as the acceptance or withdrawal of the candidate is filed, it shall also be entered upon the register."

The law requires that each certificate shall be filed with the county clerk, or clerks, not more than one hundred days and not less than thirty days before the day fixed by law for the election. If such certificates of nomination be made by individual electors, it shall be filed with such county clerk, or clerks, not more than one hundred days and not less than fifteen days before the day fixed by law for the election:

VILLAGE FARMING.—Mr. Bookwalter, a millionaire of Springfield, Ohio, has turned his attention to village farming. His plan is to take a tract of land five miles square and divide it into farms of 160 acres each, or four on every square mile. There will be 100 farms in the tract and 100 farmers with their families will settle in a village in the center of the land. If the corporation line has a radius of half a mile, it will only be two miles from the village to the farthest farm, and less than that to most of them. The average distance of the farm will be a little over a mile from the village. The farmers will go out early in the morning to their farms and return at night to their homes, where they will be in a town of 500 people, with all the advantages that such a location implies. The blacksmith shop, the stores, the butchers, the bakers, the postoffice, the library, the school and the church will be within easy reach, and in addition to that the telephone wires will put the people in touch with the nearest miles away. The boys will change their copperas breeches for better ones and go to large city, forty, fifty, or even a hundred a neighboring sociable, concert or lecture. The good people will enjoy the same privileges they will have in a city, and the farmers' wives will be able to do some visiting without taking all day about it. Country people who live on isolated farms find it hard to get fresh meat in convenient quantity. It is not practicable to kill a beef for one family, and they must take it to town to sell, and meat get from the town butcher the beef they consume. In the village system they would always have fresh meat on short notice, and would also have ready sale for their cattle and farm produce. The opportunity for selling it would stimulate the poultry and dairy industries, and many farm products that are now neglected would be utilized profitably.

RAISED GREENBACKS.—Wednesday's Oregonian contains a warning for everybody to be on the lookout for raised greenbacks, as some are known to be in circulation, one raised from $2 to $50 being passed on a clerk in a dry goods store in Portland a few days since. There are many persons who cannot tell a good greenback from a bad one, and many more who are likely to be deceived by a good note, the denomination of which has been skillfully raised. Persons who are not familiar with the appearance of the different denominations of these bills will do well to scan very carefully any offered to them before accepting them.

CHINESE FUNERAL.—Hooy, the Chinaman who died yesterday, was buried this afternoon. Funeral services were conducted in American style, under charge of Rev. Hill, at the Chinese mission rooms, Hooy, having been a Christian and member of the Sabbath school, though not yet baptized. Nine or ten carriages were used, and the affair was in every way conducted in a civilized manner. A grave was dug in the Celestial part of the cemetery, but Hooy's friends refused to have him buried with the heathens, and another grave was dug in a different location, among the remains of white people.—Democrat.

ANOTHER SACRED CONCERT.—Next Sunday evening, at 7:30 p. m., another of those highly enjoyable sacred concerts will be given at the Congregational church. A good programme is being prepared which will be enjoyed by all who hear it. Travelers and others who are not yet at home in our city are cordially invited to spend a pleasant and profitable evening with us listening to choice selections of sacred music, both vocal and instrumental. Ushers at the door. All are invited. At 11 a. m. there will be Bible reading; subject, "What is Salvation?" Bring your Bibles.

EVANGELICAL SERVICES.—The last service of the Evangelical society will be held in their church in this city on the coming Sunday evening, April 3, 1892. A fine concert by Rev. D. V. Poling will follow the song service which will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Bishop W. M. Stanford, D. M., will preach in the same church on Sunday evening, April 17, 1892. Bishop Stanford is recognized, wherever known, as one of the most interesting pulpit orators of the day. The public is cordially invited to be present at these services. D. V. POLING, Pastor.

Attention is called to the advertisement on the fourth page of the spring opening of Messrs. Housley & Whitaker. Their line of millinery and milliners' novelties is complete in every detail and is the best stock ever exhibited in this city. The ladies would do well to call and examine.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism, Messrs. C. W. and Sherman, of Alexander, Texas, write us regarding a remarkable cure of rheumatism there as follows: "The wife of Mr. Wm. Pruitt, the postmaster here, had been bed-ridden with rheumatism for several years. She could get nothing to do for her pain. We sold her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and she was completely cured by its use. We refer you to verify this statement."
