RAW AS BEEF-STEAK

Baby's Fearful Suffering from Skin Disease Covering Entire Body Cured by Cuticura.

My baby was taken very sick when he was three months old, and in a few days began breaking out. We employed both of the best doctors, and they could do nothing for him. Then we sent for the best doctor in Boston, and he cured him for ever. Then I took him to a doctor who attended especially to skin diseases, and then he got worse than ever. Then I told my husband we had better try the Cuticura Remedies any way; did not have any idea they would do any good, but in less than two months from the time we began giving them to him he was entirely well, and not a spot on him. His hair began growing right off, and we thought he was always be bald-headed. There was not a spot on his whole body, face, and head, only his nose and eyes, but what was as raw as beef-steak. So poor there was not anything but food, and so weak he could raise neither hand nor head.

Mrs. FRANK BARRETT, Windsor, Mich.

PROHIBITION CONVENTION.

Last Monday, the day set for holding the prohibition convention for Benton county, some ten or fifteen citizens, whose political ideas and views are not in accord with the principles and issues of the two great political parties of the day, assembled at the court house, in this city, and went through the routine of holding the county convention. A full ticket was placed in nomination.

Convention was called to order at 10 a. m. by electing F. A. White chairman and Geo. M. McDonald secretary.

After the usual preliminaries the following county officers were placed in nomination:

For Representatives—J. C. Hutton and J. B. Gibbard.
Sheriff—Geo. M. McDonald.
County Clerk—E. W. Durkee.
Recorder—F. A. White.
Commissioner—R. G. Jenkins.
Treasurer—F. M. Glass.
Assessor—F. M. Glass.
School Supt.—Miss Lillian Glass.
Surveyor—Henry Sheak.

On motion, a county prohibition committee was appointed, consisting of J. B. Gibbard, Wm. Glass and F. A. White. The convention then adjourned.

A Close Call.

Mr. J. P. Blaise, an extensive real estate dealer in this city, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of the state during the recent blizzard. Mr. Blaise had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia, or lung fever. Mr. Blaise sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaise regards his cure as simply wonderful and says he will never travel again without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The Des Moines Iowa, Saturday Evening, 50 cent bottles for sale by T. Graham, druggist.

Not So Bad After All.

E. V. Wood, of McKee's Rocks, Allegany county, Pa., in speaking to a traveling man of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, said: "I recommend them above all others. I have used them myself and know them to be reliable. I always guarantee them to my customers and have never had a bottle returned." Mr. Wood had hardly finished speaking, when a little girl came into the store with an empty bottle. It was labeled "Chamberlain's Pain Balm." The traveler was interested, as there was certainly a bottle coming back, but waited to hear what the little girl said. It was as follows: "Mamma wants another bottle of that medicine; she says it is the best medicine for rheumatism she ever used." 50 cent bottles for sale by T. Graham, druggist.

BUGGIES AND CARRIAGES.

All persons wanting a nice buggy, carriage, hack or cart will do well to call at the Corvallis Carriage and Wagon company's factory and examine the bargains they are putting on the vehicles. By so doing, you can save money and get a good, first-class, durable job. All work warranted.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

SUPERIOR TO ANY OTHER.

Mr. W. J. Mowrey, of Jarvisville, W. Va., says: "Since we have been handling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy we have sold it on a strict guarantee and found that the bottle did good service. We have used it ourselves and think it superior to any other preparation we know of." 50 cent bottles for sale by T. Graham, druggist.

SUMMONS.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT FOR PRECINCT NO. 9, BENTON COUNTY, OREGON.
WM. GROVES, Plaintiff,
F. A. HORNING, Defendant.

To F. A. Horning, the above named defendant: In the name of the state of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear before the undersigned, a Justice of the Peace for the precinct aforesaid, on the 11th day of June A. D. 1892, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the office of said Justice, in said precinct, to answer the above named plaintiff in a civil action. The defendant will take notice that if he fail to answer the complaint herein on or before the said 11th day of June, 1892, the plaintiff will take judgment against him for the sum of $122.00 together with the costs and disbursements of this action. This summons is published in the Corvallis Gazette by order of the undersigned D. CARLILE, Justice of the Peace for said precinct, No. 9, Benton county, Oregon.

A. W. Thompson and wife are visiting friends and relatives in Albany. They may decide to make that city their future home, says the Albany Democrat.

Chief of police Saraford has been riding the town of vagrants and loafers this week. Seven of these hard characters heeded the warning this week and left for new pastures and a more congenial climate.

Carl Karr is increasing the capacity of the Corvallis boot and shoe factory, by the addition of new machinery. Already nine men are employed in the factory and orders are coming in faster than they can be filled.

E. C. Wells has returned to Corvallis, having accepted a position in S. L. Kline's general merchandise store. Ed. thinks that Corvallis is the best place after all. He entered upon the duties of his new position last Tuesday.

While Jesse Wilkins was exercising his fine Altamont colt last Monday, the horse he was riding fell dead. The horse belonged to Joe Carlson, and was apparently in the best of health up to the time he fell dead.—Roseburg Plaindealer.

Miss May Meagher, who has for a long time been employed in the services of the Oregon Pacific R. R., has resigned her position with that company and left last Saturday for Portland, where she has accepted a position with Lang & Co., wholesale grocers.

The steamer Willamette Valley arrived at Yaquina last Monday, with a good cargo of fruit and vegetables, and the following passengers: Miss Mabel White, Gordon G. Ives, John Dunbrook, W. Churchwood, Herbert Nelson, J. McHaffie, and Mrs. J. O. Wilson.

We are informed that Prof. Blanchard, principal of the Corvallis public schools, will soon open up a job printing office in the rooms over J. M. Nolan's store. The type, press and material have been ordered and are now on their way here. The trade will surely be well represented here in Corvallis.

Capt. James Robertson, assessor that is to be, is the happy parent of a live republican boy of tender years. It is a birthday present to Cap, arriving this morning, his 45th birthday. Another verification of the old adage, "Misfortunes never come singly."

Real estate in South Newport has advanced. Several parties in Salem have imported a carload of quassa wood for the purpose of making infusions for the destruction of hop lice. The wood looks like scrubby stumps of vine maple and will be cut into shavings which are soaked in water, mixed with whale oil soap, and then sprayed over the vines. The carload cost $1000 and freight, Mr. Wallis Nash, leader of the choir of St. Marks Episcopal church, of Corvallis, together with Mr. Coote, Mr. Clark, Misses Edith Coote, Ida Ray, Cora Fisher, Amy Plummer and Louise Burnett, members of the choir, went over to Albany with Rev. Geo. F. Plummer on a special train Sunday and assisted in the morning service at St. Peters church.

All the candidates on both the republican and democratic tickets have filed their names with the county clerk as required by law, except the candidates for justice of the peace and constable in several precincts where the candidates have not yet been nominated. The Corvallis precincts are among those that have not yet nominated their candidates.

The Corvallis Marine band came out on the street last Tuesday evening and entertained the citizens, for a while, with a number of excellent selections which were highly appreciated. The boys present a fine appearance in their uniforms with their new instruments. They are deservingly of much credit for maintaining and keeping up such an excellent organization for the benefit of the citizens, all at their own expense. The boys have just received a large collection of brand-new music, and have another shipment on the road; it will probably reach here in a few days.

GOOD ROADS AS A GOSPEL.

There is no subject of local interest which more vitally concerns the people of Oregon than that of good roads. It would be difficult to estimate the value of improved highways to the farmers of the state. It would be so great that their actual cost would be insignificant by comparison.

The present condition of the country roads is amazing when we consider the progress of civilization in other directions. It is only in the matter of highways that the people of Oregon have made no advance from the pioneer period. If improvements in other respects had depended on better thoroughfares we would be still struggling helplessly amid semi-barbaric environments.

As it is, the time has arrived when the roads must be improved.

There is no division of opinion on the main question. Everybody agrees that better roads are an absolute necessity. When methods of securing them are suggested, there are differences in judgment.

The man who will suggest a method which is practical and is likely to be successful can make it succeed by a determined and earnest advocacy of it. In order to accomplish it it may be necessary for him to canvass the state and make public addresses on the subject. It may even be necessary for him to carry it into politics. What better platform could a candidate desire than one which demanded better country roads?

Enough has been written and spoken on the point that good roads are desirable. What is now needed is for some one to propose a feasible plan for obtaining them. The statesmen who aspire to legislative offices should consider this subject, leaving the tariff issue and the silver question to be discussed by the aspirants for federal positions.

JUDGES APPOINTED.

The common council, for the city of Corvallis, met in adjourned session, last Monday, for the purpose of appointing judges and clerks of election. All members, except J. O. Wilson, were present. On motion, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

RESOLVED—That the following named places be and they are hereby designated as the places for holding the ensuing city election in this city of Corvallis:

FIRST WARD.—In the front room in the C. E. Starr house on the west side of Second street, between A street and Washington street, in said city.

Second Ward.—In the council room in the court house in said city.

Third Ward.—In the office of Jas. A. Cauthorn on Water, or First, street between Jackson and Van Buren streets in said city.

The following judges and clerks were duly appointed for said city:

First Ward.—Judges, T. J. Crighton, E. Allen and P. Avery; clerks, Thos. Samuels and Lake Dorris.

Second Ward.—Judges, Geo. A. Waggoner, N. P. Briggs and T. Graham; clerks, H. Pape, Jr. and Jas. Flett.

Third Ward.—Judges, John Ray, Geo. Spencer and S. L. Shedd; clerks, Jas. O. Wilson and Jas. A. Cauthorn.

PHILOMATH ITEMS.

On account of the continued rain, a great many of the farmers in this part are unable to get their spring grain sowed.

E. M. Lance has accepted a position as bookkeeper for Park Bros.

Lou Henkle is contemplating the building of a fine residence on his farm near Philomath in the near future.

C. B. Wells is circulating a petition to have a change made in a portion of the county road between here and Moore's mill.

On last Saturday the agricultural college base ball nine came out and played a game with the nine here and succeeded in "doing them up" with a score of 37 to 29.

Rev. Dennis, of Portland, will preach in the M. E. church one week from next Sunday.

Rufus Holm and wife, of Wrenn, spent Sunday in Philomath.

Nine of the candidates for county offices are from this place. Should they be victorious in June, the moving of the county seat would be in order.

The M. E. Sunday school gave a very interesting entertainment last Sunday.

CARLEBS.

THE RESOURCES OF OREGON.—The last legislature appropriated $6000 for the purpose of printing a new edition of the "Resources of Oregon," a pamphlet containing statistical and descriptive data of the state of Oregon. J. T. Gregg, secretary of the state board of agriculture, is compiling the book and as soon as possible after he sends his copy to the secretary of state, the state printer will begin work upon it. The edition will be 50,000 copies, each of 200 pages, just twice as large as the first edition printed. This pamphlet is invaluable for distribution among the eastern states, and the various boards of trade and immigration boards make good use of it. The board of agriculture appropriated $1000 from its funds for the preparing of the subject matter. The several agricultural societies within the state are preparing information showing the resources of the counties embraced in their respective districts. The several boards of trade of the different cities are expected to assist in the collection of information. The resolution—house joint resolution No. 9—authorizing the publication of the pamphlet provides that the secretary of state shall cause them to be distributed at the World's fair and elsewhere in such manner as he may deem most convenient and practicable for the purpose of inducing immigration to this state.—Salem Statesman.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Once more we are drawing near to the time of final examinations; our seniors and juniors are forming their classes and preparing for commencement.

There is quite a difference of opinion among the juniors, as to what flower to choose for class flower. Opinions ranging all the way from the Johnny-jump-up to the skunk cabbage.

The seniors have decided that their class flower will be the wild pink.

The Hesperian Lyceum is doing good work now, and there are quite a number of newly fledged orators, debaters and declaimers on the rolls of that society.

The College Athletic Association is booming and has more than two-thirds of the boys and about thirty girls for its members.

The association has the ground work for a fine gymnasium, in the upper story of Cauthorn hall, and the association is adding to it all the time. It now has in the gymnasium a horizontal bar, two trapezes; four pairs of swinging rings, a spring-board, two thick mats and a tight-rope besides two sets of foils and masks, a set of boxing gloves, Luddian clubs, dumbbells, etc.

The out-door sports have nearly all given place to baseball now. Football was the rage for a while, but as soon as the boys awoke to the fact that there was considerable hard work mixed in with it, and saw some of the handsome and strongest boys limping around with their faces all bruised up, from the effects of too hard playing, they came to the conclusion that they would leave it alone for a while and play baseball so that, until next fall, football will probably be a dead letter. There is the making of a fine baseball nine. There are among the students this year, some of the best players of Bishop Scott academy, and two almost professional pitchers, Deaman and Palmer. The first and second nines have organized and play ball every afternoon, during week days, weather permitting.

The boys have been hard at work on the ball ground for the last week or two. They are now receiving the reward of their efforts in having a first-class ground, in every particular, to play on. The suits for the first nine are nearly made and when finished will be of a very nobby appearance, being nearly black. Mr. J. Harris has kindly furnished the shirts and cloth for the pants gratis. The nine has decided to wear his initials on their shirts as a means of showing their gratitude.

Having mentioned a few of the recreations of the students, I will close for this time.

THEY ARE HOP LICE.

There has been considerable discussion, through the papers of late, over the reported discovery of hop lice in the hop yards of Buena Vista. Prof. Washburn, of the agricultural college, through some of the state papers, expressed his doubts as to their being the genuine hop louse. Since that time, through the efforts of S. N. Wilkins, of this city, he has received specimens of the insects from the hop yards of William Wells of Buena Vista, and after a careful examination, he pronounces them to be the genuine hop lice. The following letter to Mr. Wells will explain itself.

CORVALLIS, OR., April 21, 1892.
Mr. William Wells, Buena Vista, Oregon: Dear Sir:—I promised to write you regarding the lice you sent me.

I have today seen Mr. Wilkins and he tells me that your locality, where the hop lice are situated, is a very sheltered one, protected from cold winds and frosts. In other words, the conditions are such that if a hop louse could hibernates in a perfect state anywhere, it could there.

Referring to the report of the department of agriculture for 1888, I see that Prof. Riley in writing on the result of two years' work with this insect, says: "It is quite possible that under favorable conditions in localities protected from the cold and where frosts rarely occur, that the hop louse may pass the winter in a perfect state and begin its life's history in the early spring on the hop vine."

This is, of course, an exception to the normal way, in which the stem mother is found in the plum trees. This fact should be borne in mind; that the chief infestation is coming from the plum or some of the prunes later in the season, and your case is an isolated example.

Until I had examined them thoroughly I was incredulous, because people had been sending in specimens in the earth, on yarrow and other plants, with the statement that they were hop lice. In every case they were, as I expected, mistaken.

Your plan for adopting radical measures now is quite appropriate. While confident that you have a hop louse there at this date, I have, nevertheless, sent some of the specimens to Prof. Riley for corroboration of my verdict.

Yours truly, F. L. WASHINGTON.

RAILROAD TALK.

The anxiety of the people of eastern Oregon for railroad connection with the Willamette valley, is increasing daily. Every paper in that section of the state has something to say about the matter. The lack of transportation facilities is keeping back what would otherwise be a rapid development. The Gazette, published at Vale, Malheur county, says: "The completion of the Oregon Pacific through Vale is an event anxiously awaited by the people here. A large part of the state through which the road will run is without railroad facilities whatever. This portion has a genial climate and much mineral, lumber and agricultural wealth as yet undeveloped." And the Oboon Review says: "Parties who came up from Portland recently say it is the best good map in the city that they have seen. Their opinion is that the road will be of great benefit to the state."
