C. B. Wells sold his ranch in this county last week to Henry Saunders, and will remove to this city where he will make his home in the future. The purchase price was $7,500, an average of $20 per acre.

Work on the Christian church is progressing quite rapidly. The building is enclosed and the roof on, and the workmen are now engaged on the interior. The painters will soon be at work on the outside.

Regular services at the Congregational church next Sunday at 11 a. m.; and 8 p. m.; Sunday school at 12:15. Special music will be provided at the evening service by Messrs. Pearce and Hodson. Everybody made welcome.

Angling for the speckled beauties seems to be unusually good in all of the streams of Benton county this year, judging from the large numbers our fishermen succeed in luring into their baskets by the tempting bait of the fly.

Skipston Bros., our new and already popular livermen, came out Wednesday with a brand new carriage from our home factory. It is a beauty and speaks volumes for the abilities and possibilities of the Corvallis carriage factory.

Mr. Robert Foster, one of the leading and best known citizens of Linn county, died at his home near Albany Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Foster was one of the old pioneers whose numbers are now gradually becoming less and less as time passes.

J. D. Hukill seems to have been quite a fortunate man of late. He was recently elected to the position of county surveyor on the democratic ticket and he was also the recipient of the fine $250 organ which was given away at Henkle & Bell's store on the Fourth.

Subscriptions to the amount of about $2000 were taken up in Sherman county on election day to employ the services of the rain-maker. The latter, however, required $5000 and in consequence Sherman county's crops will have to wait.

J. P. Bergin has resigned his position on the Oregon Pacific road and has gone to Portland, where he will reside in the future. He was the oldest employe on the company's payroll, and has been with them constantly for ten years.

There are a few boys and girls in this city, nearly men and women, who need some very severe curtain lectures from their parents, in many cases the very ones least suspected. A very little will sometimes change the whole course of a young person's life for good or evil.

Prof. H. S. Strange has been appointed to the position of deputy county clerk of Clackamas county. The Prof. is well known in Corvallis, having at one time been principal of the public schools, and having also wedded a former Corvallis lady, Miss Gertrude Davis.

Mrs. J. B. Lee gave a tea at her home Saturday in honor of her guest, Miss Sharpless, of Eugene. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Greenburg, Miss Sharpless, Prof. Bloss, Miss Bloss, Mrs. Selling, Leon Louis, Prof. Covell, Prof. Lotz, and Prof. Washburn.

The Baptist church of this city have been fortunate in securing for next Sunday the services of Rev. Gilman Parken of Oregon City. Mr. Parken is one of the most successful pastors in our state and all who attend church Sunday at the Evangelical meeting-house will be amply repaid. Services morning and evening.

Harvest has begun and considerable grain has already been cut and the remainder is rapidly ripening. Fall sown grain is in prime condition and will yield a good average crop; the spring sown grain will not do so well, and it is said that in some few cases it will hardly be worth cutting.

A petition addressed to the circuit judge is being circulated at Oregon City asking that a special session of court be called and a venire issued for jury men to try Wilson. This arises from the fact that the regular term of court will not convene until November and the people do not wish to wait so long for the punishment of the murderer.

As Mrs. Wm. Creese was coming down Second street, a short time since, she was hit on the head by a ball with which some young men were playing. It is our understanding that there is a city ordinance prohibiting ball playing on this street, a penalty being provided in the way of a fine of five dollars for the first offense.

The fire department held a drill on the streets Tuesday evening and made a very creditable showing. Hose was attached to the hydrant at the corner of Stock's store and a water pressure was shown which was better than has before been shown. Water was thrown perpendicularly to a height considerably exceeding that of the Occidental hotel.

The workmen at the state house in Salem are now laying the brick foundations for the pillars which are to support the new dome which will surmount the capitol before the next legislative convenes. The pillars, eight in number, are being cast in Columbus, Ohio, and every effort will be made to complete the work before January 1st. The sum of $20,000 will be expended in heating apparatus and $10,000 for improvements and alterations in the hall of representatives.

The new city council is evidently determined to make a record of progress for itself as, since the new council assumed control, the long deferred action relative to the erection or purchase of water works has been decided by ordering the matter placed before the people for their decision at a special election. Action has also been taken tending toward the much-needed improvement of some of our streets. The members of the council have taken energetic action in these matters, and they propose to have something on these public matters without further delay.

PREPARING FOR WORK.—Last Tuesday a construction train was sent to the front on the Oregon Pacific road, carrying a gang of about forty Chinamen and their white bosses. They are to be employed in ballasting the roadway from Halstead clear to the end of the track, and placing the track in order, preparing the way for the commencement of construction on the eastern extension. For some time past, a number of the engineers formerly employed by the company have been dropping into the city one by one until there are now several of them here and, although no official announcement of intentions has yet been made, yet the appearances at present point strongly in the direction of an early resumption of work, and it would not be at all improbable that before the lapse of many weeks, work on the eastern extension of the Oregon Pacific will have become an assured fact.

COMPETITIVE INSTITUTIONS.—Mine host Schmidt, of the Occidental hotel, is having the partitions between the sample rooms of his hotel torn out making one large room, which he intends to fit up with bar fixtures, making the handsomest saloon in the city. This will make the second new saloon in this city this year, and it would seem that the liquor business here must be a good one, as we now have eight saloons. On the other hand, the church people are not idle and there is now in course of erection one of the neatest and most attractive church edifices in Corvallis, which makes the eighth one for our city, and the number of churches will equal the number of bar rooms, so that they will probably be able to counteract at least some of the influences of the former. There is an ample field.

HE HAD WHISKERS.—Forty Chinamen left here on the local train last night to work on the Oregon Pacific railroad. Among the lot was an object that one seldom sees in America—a Chinaman with a mustache and a goatee. Another celestial in explanation of the whiskers said the wearer of them was a very old man and therefore was allowed to have such ornaments out of respect for his age. Judging from the large percentage of gray hairs that grew on his face he must have been an old man, indeed. He was so old, in fact, that it took four coats, a cap and a hat to keep him warm. These Chinamen came to Salem by river from Portland and as there were no boats running above they had to complete their journey by rail. They go to work on repairs for the Oregon Pacific. This work for the most part will consist of cutting brush.—Statesman.

ANOTHER BIG CATCH.—The fishermen of our city are vying with each other and doing their utmost to surpass each other in the number of fish which they take. Some enormous catches have been made but it has remained for four of our citizens to lay all others completely in the shade and make the best record yet this year. Messrs. O. G. Hopkins, Z. Job, Robert Huston and L. Smith went to the upper Alsea last Saturday and in their Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning fishing caught just an even five hundred. Who will be the next to break the record?

CORVALLIS NURSERIES.—Messrs. Clark & Barton, proprietors of the Corvallis nurseries have just had printed at this office their catalogues and price lists for the fall of 1892 and spring of 1893. Their grounds, adjoining the agricultural college farm, are well supplied with all the staple and well known kinds of fruits and ornamental kinds of trees, besides a large stock of roses and other shrubs. We recommend these gentlemen to all desiring anything in their line and predict that by next season they will control almost the entire trade of this vicinity.

WANTED IN POLK COUNTY.—Saturday's Telegram says that Justice Moreland's last official act was to endorse a warrant brought to him by Constable Moore, of Dallas, for the arrest of Jack Enright, alias Texas Jack, who is wanted in Polk county for larceny. By some means Jack got wind of the approach of the officer and took an unceremonious departure and three horses, which he is said to have stolen. He is thought to have made for Yaquina bay, and the officers are now seeking him there.

SOMEWHAT IMPROVED.—The condition of Mrs. Fred Schmidt, whose attempt at suicide was noted in the last GAZETTE, while still critical, is somewhat improved and she will probably recover. Saturday evening she gave birth to a child which lived only fifteen hours, and was buried on Sunday afternoon. The bullet had passed through the child's arm and grazed the side of its face and head making an ugly and, as it proved, fatal wound.

SUPREME COURT.—The following important cases, appealed from Benton county, came up in the Supreme court last week: Joseph Liggett et al, respondents, vs. W. S. Ladd et al, appellants; argued and submitted. Geo. H. Williams, attorney for respondent. John Burnett, J. F. Watson and L. Flinn attorneys for appellant. J. E. Hamilton, respondent, vs. T. J. Blair et al, appellants; motion to dismiss appeal argued and submitted. John Burnett and L. Flinn attorneys for appellant. John Kelsay attorney for respondents; motion to dismiss appeal.

ATTENTION, COMPANY F. Whereas the 26th anniversary of the muster out of Capt. Abner W. Waters' Company F 1st Oregon infantry volunteers, occurred in July, 1866. Therefore, all surviving members are requested to meet if possible on the fair grounds in Linn county in September, those unable to be present are requested to write. Oregon and Washington papers please copy. Signed, WM. WINNING, RICHARD FOX, DAVID JUNKIN, JOHN PURDOM.

AT NEWPORT.—Summer-outers returning from Yaquina report the bay as commencing to live up. Summer tourists are beginning to arrive and very soon Newport will be alive. The steamer service on the bay is better this season than formerly, two boats being on now and the fare is only two bits from Yaquina City to Newport. The beach is fine this year and, as usual, there is much to be seen and said down by the deep sounding sea.—Statesman.

Capt. E. W. Spencer has been appointed chief of the Portland police, succeeding Parrish. The captain for the past fifteen years has been commanding steamboats on the Willamette and Columbia rivers, for a long time being captain of the old steamer City of Salem which ran between Portland and Corvallis. The captain is well known here and his many friends unite in saying that he will make a good and efficient officer.

NEW TEACHERS.—At their meeting last Monday, the board of school directors elected the following teachers for the ensuing year: Miss Gertrude L. Vaughn of Philomath, Miss Mollie A. Bergin of Yaquina and Miss Mary Newton of this city. These ladies will fill the vacancies made by the resignations of Mrs. Ida Callahan, Mrs. Bernard and Miss Anna Newton.

SAUNDERS HOPEFUL.—A man who was recently pardoned from the penitentiary was in Albany a few days ago. He said that he was well acquainted with Saunders, who is in the laundry department of the institution, and that Saunders was counting on being pardoned next February.

Mr. W. M. Terry, who has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for the past twelve years, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other cough medicine I have ever sold." There is good reason for this. No other will cure a cold so quickly; no other is so certain a preventative and cure for croup; no other affords so much relief in cases of whooping cough. SUMMER NORMAL SCHOOL OF METHOD. A summer normal school of method will be held in the state normal school building at Monmouth, Oregon, beginning July 18th and continuing three and a half weeks, ending with the quarterly county examinations, held the second Wednesday in August. The school will offer both a professional and an academic course, so arranged that the two will not conflict in periods of recitation. The design of the academic course will be to give an opportunity for review to those who may desire to take the county examinations. An additional course will be provided for those wishing to take the examination for the state diploma. And, if five or more desire a review with the purpose of taking the state life diploma, suitable arrangements will be made for such a course. Special attention will be paid to this academic work; and the opportunity will be valuable to those able to avail themselves of it.

The course in methods will be an unusually attractive and thorough one. Studies in Psychology, Educational Principles, and school management will be added to practical illustrations of methods of teaching all the common school branches. A full exhibit of the work done last year under direction of Prof. P. A. Getz in the Ashland public schools will constitute one of the most valuable features in the summer school. This exhibit will include work, language, numbers, form and color, botany, geography, and other common school branches. The school will be in charge of a corps of experienced teachers, who will devote their whole time and energy to making the work of the highest possible good to those who attend.

The rates of tuition are made extremely low and the price of board and lodging is cheaper than can be found elsewhere in the state. Evening lectures, social entertainments, lawn tennis, base ball and picnic excursions will all figure in the programme of entertainment. A pleasant as well as profitable time is anticipated. Tuition for the full course of three and a half weeks, $5.00; per week $2.00, less than one week counted as one week. Board at dining hall not to exceed two dollars a week. Furnished rooms, one dollar per week. Camping privileges, free. F. H. CAMPBELL.

FOR PURE FOOD.

LAUDABLE ACTION BY BOARDS OF HEALTH UPON THE BAKING POWDER QUESTION.

Boards of health can engage in no more commendable action than the examination of our food supply and the instruction of the public as to those articles which are found to be pure and wholesome, and which therefore consumers should use.

Action of this kind with the baking powders is particularly opportune. There are quantities of baking powders in the market to use which is certain detriment to the health of the consumer. They are made from alum, or improperly compounded from other chemicals so that they leave a strong alkaline residuum in the food. Many of these powders, having proved unwholesome in the east, have been collected by their manufacturers from the dealers with whom they were left on commission, and shipped to the Pacific coast. In the effort to gain a foothold in this market unscrupulous manufacturers of these cheaply made, low grade baking powders have indulged in extravagant statements both with reference to their own and other brands, claiming the most improvable endorsements for theirs, and defaming the brands best known and longest used on the Pacific coast.

The following extracts from the reports of some of our well-known health authorities will be of particular interest:

The state chemist of Washington, Prof. G. A. Bethune, says: "There is, therefore, no question but the Royal baking powder is the strongest, purest and most wholesome baking powder in the market."

The Seattle board of health says: "Finding in analysis that it is made of the highest grade of cream of tartar and bicarbonate of soda, and is entirely free from any adulteration, we heartily recommend the Royal baking powder for its great strength, purity and wholesomeness."

The Tacoma board of health says: "In our judgment, the Royal is the best and strongest baking powder before the public. We confidently recommend it because of its purity and care in preparation."

The Spokane city board of health report: "There is certainly no baking powder known to us equal to the Royal for strength and uniform quality, and we recommend it for its absolute purity and wholesomeness."

The board of health of the city of San Francisco, after extended tests, said of the Royal that "it is absolutely pure and healthful, composed of the best ingredients, of the highest strength and character." The health officer of Los Angeles reported that it was "clearly demonstrated and proven that the Royal baking powder is pure and wholesome and that it stands, as far as strength and purity are concerned, at the head of the baking powders of the United States," while the state chemist of California, Prof. Rising, found the Royal superior in strength and purity to all other brands.

MARRIED.

NORTON-HARRINGTON.—In Corvallis, Thursday, July 14, 1892, by Rev. W. C. Kauter, Mr. E. J. Norton and Miss E. M. Harrington, both of Benton county.

Both parties have many friends in the county who unite in wishing them a prosperous voyage on life's sea.

PERNOT-COOTE.—At Corvallis, July 14, 1892, by Rev. W. C. Kauter, Mr. E. E. Pernot and Miss Edith J. Coote.

Both the contracting parties are well and favorably known in this city, the groom being the instructor in photography at the state agricultural college, while the bride is the daughter of Prof. Coote, horticulturist at the same institution. The GAZETTE extends congratulations and joins their large circle of friends in wishing them long, happy and useful lives.
