J. L. Underwood, photographer over postoffice. Sewing machine headquarters at J. Wm. Wilkins. Novelties in the stationery line at the GAZETTE office. Finest stock and lowest prices in wallpaper at S. N. Wilkins. Call soon and get prices and discounts at Wilkins' furniture store. James Lewis, of Salem, is visiting friends in this city, and, as usual, is having a good time. Spectacles for all ages and for various optical affections at Grefroz. Call and examine them. "See?" A premium on gold or silver allowed on every cash purchase at S. N. Wilkins' furniture store for 30 days. Mrs. Minnie Arnold and her son Jack, are visiting the world's fair. Harry Arnold is attending the Johns Hopkins university at Baltimore. Geo. F. Eglin and family started with a team, on Tuesday, for Tillamook bay, on a camping expedition. They will be absent about ten days. J. B. Walker took his little girl on a wheel with him Saturday and made the trip to the McClune place, a distance of eight miles, in 55 minutes. E. P. Grefroz and U. B. Vogle were over to the Alsea country on a fishing expedition the first of the week, and report having had an enjoyable trip. Leave orders at the Occidental shaving parlors for Salem steam laundry. Work called for and delivered. The very best of work guaranteed. For anything in the sewing machine line go to J. Wm. Wilkins. He keeps the largest assortment of extra parts, attachments, needles, oils, and the best of machines at the latest reduced prices. WANTED—Everyone to know that Peterson keeps the finest moulding and makes the finest picture frames in town as well as turning out the best job work. Shop two blocks south-west of public school. There will be no services at the old college chapel next Sunday, but there will be quarterly meetings there on the following Saturday and Sunday, 29th and 30th July, by Rev. McFarland, presiding elder. Gospel meetings are being conducted in the Christian church each evening through the week by Eld. Frank A. Powell, of Portland. Preaching next Sunday morning and evening. A cordial welcome is extended to all who come. Mr. Matt Wilkins, of the McClallen House, Roseburg, was in Corvallis the first of the week, and he appeared to be in good spirits. He returned on Tuesday accompanied by M. W. Wilkins, who is in poor health as a result of his recent paralytic stroke. He hopes to be benefited by the change of climate. Apropos of a news item in another column, one of the more voracious employees of this office states that on a visit to Pendleton he counted seventeen saucers on both sides of a street passing through a block and a half. This fact is certainly encouraging to the ladies who have done temperance missionary work in Corvallis. Prof. Lotz returned the first of the week from a pleasure trip to the Siletz. He is in company with Arthur St. Clair and Oscar Taylor, who are accustomed to the "ups and downs" of that section, and know where the big fish and the big game abound. The professor carried a camera and obtained a number of interesting views. J. M. Bier and Charley Tower were engaged this week in repairing the roofs of T. Graham and Simpson & Huston's places of business, which fell with the collapse of the awnings last winter. While the repairs are not extensive, they will add greatly to the former appearance of the buildings. Corvallis Hook and Ladder Co. No. 4 held a meeting at the new firemen's hall Monday evening and elected the following officers: President, J. H. Wilson; vice-president, T. Whitehorn; recording secretary, T. E. Wilson; financial secretary, B. W. Johnson; treasurer, T. Zeis; foreman, Sol. M. Stock; first assistant, John Scott; second assistant, D. Z. Irwin; board of delegates, O. C. McLagan, Sol. M. Stock and L. V. Eberhart. Last week Rev. Geo. F. Plummer met with a painful accident on Rock creek, where he and his family are sojourning for a time. As he was crossing a bridge with a team and wagon the structure gave way and Mr. Plummer was thrown upon some rocks. Severe pains in his side followed the mishap, and he finally came to Corvallis on Wednesday of this week to consult a physician, who found that his injuries were not serious. Mr. Plummer returned to Rock creek, but will be in Corvallis on the first Sunday in August to hold service in the Episcopal church. There have been some new rules at in force at Sodaville springs which interest those of our readers who visit that resort. Persons who wish to fill bottles and haul them away are now charged two cents per gallon, and no soda can be filled for the purpose, after 7 o'clock Saturday evening. This regulation is doubtless made that there shall always be an abundance of water on Sunday, when the springs are often visited by throngs of people. The water at this popular resort is as free as air for drinking purposes and is very plentiful, but if some provisions have been made to prevent water from being shipped away at times when a large attendance is expected, it would seem to be a wise arrangement. DEATH OF A. R. SHIPLEY.

A. R. Shipley, a pioneer of 1852, died on Friday afternoon, July 14, 1893, at his residence on College Hill, of heart failure, after an illness of several weeks. The remains were taken to his old home at Oswego on Saturday, where the funeral was preached by Rev. H. Gould, of this city. The following biographical sketch of Mr. Shipley appeared in the Oregonian: Mr. Shipley was born October 14, 1826, near Uniontown, Washington county, Pa. At the age of 9 years he moved with his parents to Mount Vernon, O., where he was married. In the spring of 1852, accompanied by his family, he crossed the plains, arriving in Portland the following autumn, his wife and only child dying after his arrival. Reaching Portland with less than $5 in his pocket, he at once sought employment at anything he could find to do, and finally obtained a job of wood-cutting for George Flanders. This acted as a stepping stone to something better. Early in the '60s he was appointed postmaster at Portland, serving in that capacity for a term of eight years. During this time he was married to Miss Cerinda Hines, a niece of Rev. Mr. Hines, of that city. At this time she was connected with the Portland academy and female seminary. His wife and six children, four sons and two daughters, survive him. Some time during the '70s he engaged in merchandising in partnership with C. S. Kingley, the business now being the one conducted by J. K. Gill & Co. Some years later his interest in the business was disposed of and he purchased a farm near where Oswego now stands. He added from time to time to this, and at the time of his death owned 1000 acres in a body. Having been raised on a farm he took a great interest in agricultural affairs, and was a champion of legislation in behalf of farming interests. He was twice elected master of the state grange and also state lecturer of the same organization. He always zealously aided the cause of learning in the state, particularly in the interest of the industrial classes. In 1891 he was appointed a member of the board of regents of the state agricultural college and selected to fill the office of treasurer of that institution made vacant by the death of T. E. Cauthorn. Since that time he has been a resident of Corvallis. At Mount Vernon, O., he studied law under Attorney-General Taft, with Senator Hurd, of Minnesota, and William Windom, late secretary of the treasury, the latter being his personal friend. Although admitted to the bar, he never engaged in practice. For the last 40 years he was a faithful and earnest worker in the Methodist Episcopal church. Few indeed are the men who have led so useful and honorable a life, enjoying the universal esteem of all who met him. He knew no class distinctions among men; all were equal in his eye. Whatever success he gained in this life was due to his own exertions.

DEATH OF MRS. LILLY.

At the family residence near Corvallis, on July 18, 1893, at the age of 48 years, 11 and 20 days, occurred the death of Mrs. Lucinda A. Lilly, wife of Mr. S. N. Lilly. Mrs. Lilly was one of the pioneers of Oregon, coming to this state in the year 1852, and was known throughout this county. For almost a year she has suffered intensely, but bearing up heroically under it all, until death came to release her. She was a member of the Congregational church, of this city, having been received into the church by Rev. W. C. Kantner, who also officiated at the funeral. She was a member of St. Mary's Chapter O. E. S. whose officers conducted the burial service. Mrs. Lilly was a well educated lady, and possessed of charming social qualities, but she preferred the society of her own household and near friends. Husband, three sons and four daughters survive the devoted wife and mother. At a special communication of St. Mary's Chapter, N. O. E. S., the organization unanimously adopted the following RESOLUTIONS: WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our late Sister, Lucinda Lilly; WHEREAS, We desire that a fitting recognition of her many virtues be retained; BE IT RESOLVED, By St. Mary's Chapter No. 9, O. E. S., that, while we bow humbly to the Divine will, we also sincerely mourn for our departed Sister. RESOLVED, That in the death of Sister Lucinda Lilly, this Chapter loses a member who was ever ready to offer the hand of assistance and the voice of sympathy; a friend and companion who was dear to us all. RESOLVED, That the heartfelt sympathy of this Chapter be extended to her family in their affliction. RESOLVED, That these resolutions be spread on the minutes of this Chapter, and a copy of same be transmitted to the family of our deceased Sister, and to each of our newspapers for publication. Respectfully submitted. Mrs. F. A. Helm Mrs. E. J. Woodward } Com. J. O. Wilson

CANVASSERS.

Canvassers wanted to sell Nursery Stock. CORVALLIS NURSERY CO. A WOMAN'S REMEDY FOR INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM. I am an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism. The past winter it came on me again, very acute and severe. My joints swelled and became inflamed, sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise it did both. I have used three fifty-cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. D. K. Carr, 1235 Harrison St., Kansas City, Mo. For sale by T. Graham, druggist.

OUTING PARTIES.

Wm. Bogue and Al. Cummins, accompanied by their families, started yesterday by a private conveyance, for a sojourn at Belknap Springs. Among those who go to Sulphur springs, on Soap creek for recreation, are Mrs. S. C. Taylor, Miss Clara Fisher, and Misses Jessie and Minnie Waggoner. B. W. Wilson is slowly recovering from his late illness, and accompanied by Mrs. W. and the younger members of the family, he took his departure this week for his ranch near the bay. Last Saturday Mrs. Thrasher went for an extended visit to her mother in Eastern Washington. Since her departure Cal's moody mien would indicate that he is threatened by liver complaint, insolvency, or both. Mrs. E. Woodward and children went to the bay this week to remain during the summer. They were accompanied by Mr. Woodward, who will return after the family is duly installed in their seaside cottage. Walter Wiles, Caleb Davis, S. L. Henderson and George Newman form a party which started for Belknap Springs yesterday. They carried with them a great many concealed and unconcealed weapons, and like the experienced hunters they are, they put corks in the muzzles of the former. A party consisting of Z. Job, J. R. Bryson, T. Callahan, R. Huston, R. M. Davison and their families, start the first of the week for an outing at the Yachats, a charming seashore resort in the south-western part of Lincoln county. This locality presents some of the grandest scenery on the coast. Sea-fish abound, trout fishing is good, and those who are able to traverse the rugged country adjacent may find elk and other large game. W. F. Keady goes to Portland on Monday to remain until studies are resumed at the college. Miss Etta Mulkey, daughter of Mr. A. G. Mulkey, returned recently from an eight-months stay at San Jose. Chas. Smith, whose ad. appears in another column, has reduced the price of three-foot boards from $5 to $4 per thousand. Mr. B. C. Dunn of Eugene is in the city visiting his son, H. W. Dunn. He will leave in about a week with his family for the world's fair. Mr. Hess and family went over to the bay on Wednesday to reside during the summer. Mr. H. has contracted to build a number of cottages in the vicinity of Nye creek. Preaching in the Congregational Church on Sunday at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. by the pastor. Sunday School at 10 a. m. Y. P. S. C. E. at 7 p. m. A cordial welcome to all. Ed Laslet again took leave of the asylum without a formal discharge, and walked home to Blodgett valley. He was taken back on Wednesday by Jas. Lewis, who is an attendant at the institution. Dr. Applewhite was called to Toledo today to consult with Dr. Rich concerning the advisability of performing a trepanning operation upon a young man named Conkling, who is troubled with fits. His affliction is supposed to be caused from pressure of the skull upon the brain. M. O. Wilkins is entitled to credit for the perfection with which he completed the type-written transcript of of testimony taken before Judge Hufford, in the matter of the value of services of Messrs. Nash and Hoag rendered the O. P. and the W. V. & C. R. R. companies. The testimony covers 117 pages of legal-cap. Mr. Wm. Byrd and his son C. A., newspaper men of Southeastern Oregon, were in Corvallis the first of the week. They came across the mountains by private conveyance, and were in quest of better pasturage. They say "picking" in the southeastern counties is becoming rather short for journalists and printers. On Sunday evening last Mordant Goodnooth, the 11 year-old son of Mrs. A. G. Mulkey, fell from a "flying jack" and broke his arm near the wrist. Dr. Pernot reduced the fracture, and the boy is said to have borne the operation like a little hero. He is recovering rapidly, and will suffer slight inconvenience from the accident.

DECIDEDLY SHAKY.

A trembling hand, an uncertain step, fidgetiness, indicated by restless shifting from one place or posture to another, usually mental annoyance at unexpected noises, are among the indications of extreme nervousness. These seem trifling, but the health of men and women in this condition is "decidedly shaky," liable to be overturned disastrously by causes which the vigorous might defy. To fortify the nervous system, general vigor must, through the medium of reinforced digestion and a renewal of an impaired power of sleeping at night, be raised to a healthful standard. A guarantee of this is Hoesetter's Stomach Bitters, which re-establishes digestion, bile secretion, and the habit of body on a permanently regular basis, thus renewing the bodily equilibrium, which is followed by a gain of strength and nerve tranquility. For kidney complaint, rheumatism, neuralgia, and as a preventive of the first attack or subsequent return of malarial disorders, this medicine is without a peer. Thrice daily take a wineglassful.

The first of the week there was camped near Mary's river bridge, an individual from Nebraska. He had with him a large family, twenty head of jaded horses, mules and cows, and several emaciated dogs. With substantially this same outfit he started from his former home a year ago, since which time he has been seeking a suitable location in which to settle. He had traversed Western and Southern Oregon, and visited Corvallis on Tuesday to make inquiry concerning the best route over which to reach the eastern part of the state. He goes to Eastern Oregon, and if he is not satisfied with this section, intends to return to Nebraska. He believes he can put up with the hard winds of the blizzard state better than the hard times of Oregon, and it was to no purpose that a bystander argued that the depressed condition of the money market was general. In Eastern Oregon he will find that the crop of $20-dollar pieces is as much of a failure this season as in the Willamette valley, and it is probable, therefore, that the state will lose a prospective settler. A mitigating circumstance is that the gentleman will carry back to Nebraska with him his mules and dogs. We are informed that the saw mill on the north branch of the Alsea river makes a practice of dumping its sawdust into the stream. The proprietors do not realize that severe check they are placing upon one of the important industries of the state. Salmon in large numbers ascend the Alsea river for the purpose of spawning, and any sort of debris whatever flowing in a stream destroys the fertility of the deposited egg. For this reason the Salmon do not use the lower portions of rivers for spawning purposes, but rather go high up the streams where clear water and clean gravel beds may be found. The penalty for such offense is: "Any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not less than one hundred dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars." Wesley Millhollen and Henry Stone are putting up a fruit drier on the farm of the former, a short distance across the river from Corvallis. The capacity of the drier will be about 100 bushels of prunes per day. In the vicinity of the drier there is quite a large amount of fruit, and the enterprise will no doubt prove a good investment for the gentlemen engaging in it, as well as a great convenience to the neighborhood. The Albany Democrat is informed that Wm. M. Hoag, who has been in the city considerably lately, told another Albany man that he was about to begin the erection of a fine brick hotel in this city. Mr. Hoag represents a sufficient capital and with others, owns sufficient property here to justify such a movement. Will it be done?
