FIND DEAD.
Prineville News
George P. Ferguson, who was employed in herding sheep for the B. S. & L. Co., of Hay creek, was found dead on Lookout mountain last Saturday by a camp tender. Deceased had not been feeling well for a day or two, and he did not return to dinner on the day named the camp tender went to look for him. He soon met the dog, which animal guided him to the place where his master was lying dead beneath the shade of two trees. He had apparently lain down and expired suddenly, as there were no indications of a struggle. Justice Elliott, as acting coroner, accompanied by Dr. Gesner, left Prineville on Sunday, but did not reach the scene of death until Monday, being compelled to make a goodly part of the distance on horseback. An inquest was held and a verdict of death from natural causes was rendered. Owing to the decomposed condition of the remains and it being impossible to get there with a wagon, the body was temporarily buried where it lay.

George P. Ferguson was born in Alabama about fifty years ago. He was a soldier in the confederate army during the rebellion, and in an engagement one of his arms was shattered by a bullet, rendering it practically useless. He was married to a sister of Mrs. M. A. Moore, of this place, but lost his wife by death when his only child (Miss Nida Ferguson) was two years old and never remarried. He lived for a time in the state of Mississippi, and came to the Willamette valley in 1877. His daughter, who is now 24 years of age, left Prineville for Southern Oregon a little over a week ago. Her many friends here deeply sympathize with her in the loss of her only surviving parent.

DIED OF APOPLEXY.
Robert A. Armstrong died in Providence hospital, Seattle, on the 9th of apoplexy, having been stricken on the street. Mr. Armstrong was professor of mathematics in the Corvallis college a good many years ago and was regarded as a man of strong intellectual powers. He was succeeded by Prof. Emery. Afterward he married Miss Fannie Mulkey in this city and was engaged in the mercantile business at Albany for some years, where his remains were buried on Thursday. Later he was admitted to the bar and practiced law on the Sound, where he acquired a large fortune in real estate transactions.

The executive committee which has charge of the matter of holding a fruit fair for Oregon the coming fall, and also of making a fruit exhibit at the midwinter fair at San Francisco is composed of J. M. Bloss, president of the State Agricultural College; J. R. Shepard, of Zenon; C. E. Hoskins, of Newberg, and G. I. Sargent, secretary of the Oregon State Horticultural Society and also of the State Board of Horticulture. The committee is a very strong one and the indications are that it will meet with the cordial co-operation of fruit growers and other enterprising citizens in carrying forward to success both of the objects referred to.

FROM BIG ELK.
HARLAN, OR., Aug. 8 '93
DEAR GAZETTE:—Although several weeks have elapsed since our arrival at the ranch, we have been unable, until the present, to spare the time from fishing, hunting, and other camp duties, to do honors to the GAZETTE. We are situated in the heart of the coast range, about twenty miles above the head of navigation on the Big Elk—and by permission of ye associate editor will use the expression—"in an intimate succession of mountains, between whose walls the meek burnt woodman dwelleth in happy seclusion."

Big Elk has no sad sea waves, fars banks, unspilt hotel bills, or other similar seaside attractions, but we are pleased to note several campers and pleasure seekers who have pitched their tents among us, the most prominent of which is the "widow Jones" camp," composed of Mrs. J. A. Sp
