Keep a cool head by wearing straw hats purchased from Miller at hard-time prices.

The contract has been let for the erection of a $50,000 college building at Forest Grove.

The Sunday excursion train to the bay will depart from this city at 7:30. Fare for round trip $1.50.

If you wish to spend a few minutes in solid comfort, take a seat in one of Nelson Bros. barber chairs.

D. Carlile has on exhibition at his grocery store a very handsome peach picked from a two-year-old tree.

Nelson Bros. are popular with those who like a clean, easy shave. Barber and bath rooms in Occidental building.

A new sidewalk has been placed in front of the vacant lot between Nolan's clothing store and the meat market.

If you want a delightful bath, go to the Occidental bath rooms. The proprietors make it a point to keep everything clean.

The stragglers of the San Francisco excursion party are daily passing over to the bay to take the next outbound steamer.

Ten German families from Dakota have recently located in the vicinity of Dundee, and bought land on the installment plan.

"Ramble tells me he has to lump himself to get down to business now. Has he moved out of the city?" "No, he has bought a wheel."

Straw is cheap since threshing began and Miller, the merchant, is offering what he has in the form of hats at first-cost prices. To price them is to buy.

J. Wm. Will has adopted Eastern prices with freight added on his pianos, organs, sewing machines, guns, children's carriages, wash machines, etc., etc.

Fred Stewart, a Southern Pacific brakeman, while making a coupling at Harrisburg the other day, was crushed between the cars and seriously injured, perhaps fatally.

The Oregon State fair, under the management of the state board of agriculture, begins September 11th and continues one week. Send to J. T. Gregg, secretary, Portland, for premium list. Refer to ad. in another column.

The first oats of the season were threshed by Rufus Skipton and delivered at Philomath for Mr. Wells, who had a special order. The first grain to be delivered in Corvallis was a quantity of oats brought in by James Stewart on Tuesday, and stored with W. A. Wells.

Do not be influenced by circulars advertising cheap, old style bicycles. Any agency can furnish those at very low rates; but if you want a wheel, go to Conover & Keady and purchase one that will give you satisfaction. They can give you great bargains in the best bicycles manufactured.

A letter from Yachats states that the Corvallis party encamped at that attractive place are enjoying themselves greatly. Trout, sea fish and shell fish are obtained in any quantity, while in an hour's ramble over the hills back of the beach some members of the party saw four deer and one bear.

As is the custom with the people of Irish Bend at this season, they held a harvest festival on Sunday last at the camp ground. Religious services were conducted by Presiding Elder Haines, of the M. E. church, south, after which the assembling partook of a basket dinner. A number were present from Corvallis.

Tip Palmer's team ran away with a wagon on Monday in the timbered river bottom above town. From his narration of what was broken there was certainly not much of the vehicle left. He loaded the fragments onto another wagon and brought them to town in the hope that some of the parts might be utilized in the manufacture of a new wagon.

The employees of the GAZETTE agree with the Times that it is seldom the mechanical department of any paper is favored with cake and such other luxuries. Young ladies always find it difficult to smuggle such things through the editorial sanctum. Delicacies intended for the mechanical department of this paper should hereafter be sent in through the rear entrance.

W. H. Hannibal, who, with his family resides on the Cushman place a few miles east of Corvallis, met with a serious accident on Monday. He had just returned from a trip to Alesha and was in the act of taking a shotgun from his wagon when, in some manner, it was discharged. The charge took effect in the elbow of his arm, shattering it to a frightful extent. Drs. Applewhite and Pernot were summoned to attend the unfortunate man, and they found that amputation was necessary. Thursday morning the gentleman's condition was favorable to a speedy recovery.

OCEAN SPRAY.

NEWPORT, Aug. 8, 1893.

EDITOR GAZETTE.—Newport is not booming as much this season as usual. The reasons are too apparent to need mention. Financial stringency affects the hotels so that at no time are there many steady boarders. Comers and goers are somewhat frequent and a few days of outing must answer for weeks at other seasons. Yet there are more people in cottages and tents than there ever have been before in the first week in August. The cheap Sunday excursions often bring large numbers down to the seaside for a day of recreation and rest.

Bathing is popular and quite a number indulge in a salt dip. On Wednesday we counted 125 on North Beach.

The past few days have brought several prominent individuals to this resort. Prof. Shaw, of the Agricultural college, Prof. Condon, of the State university, Prof. Sullivan, of the State Normal school, at Monmouth, with their families are all here. Teachers from several of our public schools are cooling off and washing off at this ocean beach. Ministers by the dozen are here imitating Demosthenes of old, standing by the roaring sea, with bubbles in their mouths trying to become eloquent. Physicians are stopping a few days to recruit and give their patients a rest and an opportunity to recover. Lawyers are fewer in number perhaps than other professional gentlemen, as these hard times give them plenty to do at home. Ladies and children predominate, and the scriptural number of seven women to one man is very noticeable. And yet there are quite a number of sets after all. Old married people, young married people and to-be-married people are very common. By the way, there is one of the finest spoon factories here at Newport that can be found on the Pacific slope. All kinds and all sizes of spoons are on exhibition daily. This institution is located for the most part on the beaches. Spoons large and spoons small. Spoons carved and spoons uncarved in every conceivable style, and all of them have the most modern attachments. No art is carried to greater perfection here than making spoons and spooning. We have even seen ministers spooning, especially if recently married. Religious spoons are sometimes more artfully arranged and artistically carved than others.

Another amusement that attracts much attention is the daily dog fight which occurs at the time the boat arrives at night. It is so managed that it affords a welcome to visitors on their arrival. There is nothing meaner and more unwholesome than a dog fight. Men yell, women shriek and children cry, making a performance similar to a first class nuisance.

The Bay View house is as popular as ever and is having the best run of patronage of any of the hotels so far. Mr. Abbey, the genial proprietor, just wishes the folks in the valley would begin a "run" on him. He thinks that he would not have to suspend for some time.

F. M. Johnson, Esq., had the misfortune to lose a valuable colt, this morning. By some means it was badly gored and died soon after.

Rev. W. C. Kantner and family are safely here after the many trials and tribulations that assailed them on their journey.

Quite a colony from Monmouth came in on Monday and are nicely located near Nye creek. The arrival of Hon. Geo. H. Williams, of Portland and Rev. J. R. N. Bell, of Independence last evening, has considerably increased the avoirdupois of Newport. Bro. Bell was on the beach this morning watching the bathers and he became so paralyzed at the scene that he turned his back to the ocean once. "Just to think of Dr. Brown of Portland, and Rev. Dr. Hill of Portland, too, and Rev. E. R. Pritchard of Albany, and their wives, dressing up as circus fellows do! Why, it frightens me!" said Bro. Bell. "I shall go right home; I don't wonder they shiver when they come out of the water,—they ought to, and no mistake."

It is proper to state that Bro. Bell is here looking for his wife who has gone to sea, and whom he hopes to see soon.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church gave a fine entertainment at the opera house on Tuesday which was liberally patronized, and a great success financially. But my letter is already too long, and I will only say that it is a grand time to come to the Bay now. The weather is fine, the tides are just right, and the beach is in splendid condition. Croquet, base ball, foot ball, lawn tennis, and foot races are a few of the sports which we all see on the beach at present.

THE FORTIETH TIME.

CHURCH OF UNITED BRETHREN IN CHRIST MEET IN ANNUAL CONFERENCE AT PHILOMATH.

The fortieth annual session of the Oregon Annual Conference of United Brethren in Christ met in the college chapel at Philomath, Oregon, August 3rd, at 8:30 a. m., Bishop N. Castle presiding. There was seventeen ministers and six lay delegates present. The business sessions of the conference were marked with great interest, and the devotional services were full of spiritual interest.

Hon. J. A. Henkle was elected president of Philomath college.

J. A. Henkle, J. M. Kitson, E. L. Dixon, S. McLane, John Zeizler and Wm. Jolly were elected to fill vacancies as trustees of Philomath College.

Rev. C. C. Bell was elected presiding elder of the district.

The Conference appointees are as follows: District, Rev. C. C. Bell; Eugene, P. H. Davis; Goshen, H. Clark; Philomath, J. R. Parker; Yamhill, W. E. Rossman; Portland, to be supplied; Columbia, J. L. Garret; Hood River, R. E. Kaufman; Puyallup, A. S. Parker; Dufur, J. W. Adams; P. C. Hetzel of American Bible Society agent for Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho and Utah.

On Sabbath morning and evening Bishop Castle preached sermons of great power and interest to attentive audiences. It will be remembered that the Bishop served the Coast District eight years, and the people of Philomath as well as the representatives of other points in the conference were glad to renew the memories of other years. It is the desire and prayer of all hearts that he may live long and serve God in the church to which he has given his life.

Conference met in closing session on Monday morning at 8 o'clock. After devotional services unfinished business was taken up. Rev. C. C. Bell tendered his resignation as presiding elder and J. R. Parker was elected to that position. Adjourned with a farewell service.

After his resignation as presiding elder, C. C. Bell was appointed to the Portland charge.

Rev. I. G. Knotts has withdrawn from this conference district and probably will in future affiliate with the Presbyterian denomination, with which he has been offered a pastorate in Southern Oregon.

Philomath desires much credit for the way in which her good people entertained the delegates and visitors.

Rev. George Sickafosse, formerly the presiding elder, has withdrawn from Oregon and in the near future will reunite with St. Joseph conference in Indiana and Michigan.

Rev. J. R. Parker, the young minister who succeeded Rev. Bell as presiding elder, possesses considerable ability and his friends unite in wishing him a successful year.

Uncle Ichabod Henkle and his estimable companion were in constant attendance upon all the sessions.

The election of Hon. John Henkle to the presidency of the college is considered a wise move, and is one that will no doubt be beneficial to the interests of that institution.

A "Hello" and an "Au Revoir" were printed in the Silverton Appeal last week. Warnock & Parrish succeed Davis & Wiles in the publication of the paper, which during eighteen months had been conducted under the name of the Tribune.

As the days and weeks go by the outlook is favorable for a prolific yield of hops throughout the state. A good price is almost an assured fact, says the Valley Transcript, so that about all the average hop raiser has to disturb his mind is as to where he will get the necessary "wherewith" to care for the crop. But probably the democratic congress which is in session will settle the matter and turn out a few barrels for the benefit of all concerned; at least it is best to be patient and "cross the bridge when we come to it."

Ex-Commissioner Kingery, unlike most farmers, doubles his money on hogs, by selling the cured meat instead of marketing them alive. He sold 1,400 pounds of bacon to Mr. Apperson the first of the week, and has cured 4,000 pounds in all the past year. The product brought an average of one bit a pound. The meat of one hog netted him $36, which, if he had sold alive, would not have brought more than half that amount. Of course it requires considerable work to cure meat, but Mr. Kingery is a man who believes in work when it pays.—Yamhill Reporter.

QUITTING UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

It is a question whether or not it is better, in the end, for outing parties to suffer a degree of hardship. Which ever theory is correct, experience proves that they usually suffer a great deal of annoyance, especially in the earlier stages of the ordeal. People ought to know and doubtless do know the attendant miseries of camping, but they believe the pleasures predominate or else are determined in the hope that declining health will be arrested.

The misfortunes of Rev. W. C. Kantner, on the road to the bay last week, led his companions to doubt the popular belief that the Lord takes care of His own. Our unfortunate friend, however, only regarded his possession of one balky and one vicious horse as a very severe test of his faith.

Mr. Kantner, Mr. A. F. Hersher, Mr. F. M. Johnson, and their families started on Thursday, the former two with single horses and the latter with a double team and spring wagon. The first named gentleman broke a spring, which was repaired at Wrenn, causing considerable delay. Soon afterward his horse gave out, or balked, and all the eloquent persuasion which Mr. Kantner could command only moved the animal to tears. At length Mr. Hersher drove to the top of the hill, and returning with his horse, pulled Mr. Kantner's buggy to the summit. This proceeding was repeated a number of times when a suitable camping place was reached. Mr. Johnson, in the mean time, had proceeded on his way rejoicing, in ignorance of the misfortunes of the rear guard. At the end of the first day's journey Mr. Kantner hired another horse, and he had not proceeded a great distance before this one proved to be a kicker and damaged the buggy to such an extent that it, as well as the horse, was abandoned. Mr. Hersher then proceeded to Newport, obtained the double rig of Mr. Johnson, and returned. In this vehicle Mr. Kantner's division of the party was conveyed to its destination, and, we hope, to the pleasures of the season.

A WOMAN'S REMEDY FOR INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM.

I am an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism. The past winter it came on me again, very acute and severe. My joints swelled and became inflamed, sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise it did both. I have used three fifty-cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. D. E. Carr, 1235 Harrison St., Kansas City, Mo. For sale by T. Graham, druggist.

Train No. 12 from Natron to Woodburn and train No. 13 from Woodburn to Silverton, will run on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays only.

Commencing Wednesday, August 9, 1893, and until further notice, the following changes will be made in the running of trains on the Portland and Yamhill, and Oregonian divisions: Train No. 33 from Portland to Airhe will run on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays only, and train No. 34 from Airhe to Portland will run on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays only.

THE WILLAMETTE GIRL.

An eastern Oregon exchange is considerably worried because a certain young lady is so timid and sensitive that she will not walk by a cornfield, because the corn has ears; nor through a potato patch, because the potatoes have eyes. In Springfield there is a young lady who will not climb a cherry tree because it makes the cherries turn red in the face. At Cottage Grove there is a girl who will not climb a peach tree because it makes the peaches blush. At Eugene, we are told, the fair sex do not play lawn tennis because it makes the grass turn green with envy. It is also said there is a young lady at Junction, so homesly that she won't look through a window for fear of giving the window pain. In the above list the Springfield Messenger should include the Long Tom girl who won't go after the cows at this season because the "man-in-the-ground" scratches her ankles; also the Albany girl who, it is said, looked at a mirror until it became a good "looking glass."

DECIDEDLY SHAKY.

A trembling hand, an uncertain step, fidgetiness, indicated by restless shifting from one place or posture to another, usually mental annoyance at unexpected noises, are among the indications of extreme nervousness. These seem trifling, but the health of men and women in this condition is "decidedly shaky," liable to be overthrown disastrously by causes which the vigorous might defy. To fortify the nervous system, general vigor must, through the medium of reinforced digestion and a renewal of an impaired power of sleeping at night, be raised to a healthful standard. A guarantee of this is Hosselter's Stomach Bitters, which re-establishes digestion, life secretion, and the habit of body on a permanently regular basis, thus renewing the bodily equilibrium, which is followed by a gain of strength and nerve tranquility. For kidney complaint, rheumatism, neuralgia, and as a preventive of the first attack or subsequent return of malarial disorders, this medicine is without a peer. Thrice daily take a wineglassful.

TAKE CARE OF THE CHILDREN.

For summer complaint in children, there is nothing so good as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cures dysentery, diarrhoea and cholera infantum, and never fails when used in time and the plain printed directions are followed. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by T. Graham, Druggist.
