December 1, 1893.

O. W. R. Mfg Co., 315 Front street, cor. Clay, Portland, Oregon. Dear Sirs: About two months ago your salesman, white traveling through this valley, found me, an old man seventy-three years of age, almost dead with bruises caused from a fall; and I feel that I am in duty bound to testify that the half bottle of "Hattee's Congo Oil" given to me by your agent and two others that I afterwards bought, have helped me to such an extent that I am almost able to walk, and I must say it is a great remedy. Being very thankful for the relief it has given me and hoping for your success, I remain yours,

Random Shots

If you are a lover of good coffee, try the Delmonico.

J. R. Bryson returned Wednesday from a short business trip to the metropolis.
While steaming up the river last Tuesday, between Albany and Corvallis, one of the engines on the steamer Modoc blew out a cylinder head. No one was injured although the accident caused considerable excitement on board, and prevented the steamer from arriving here on time.

Democratic papers of Corvallis are claiming that their ticket is better than ever this year. With few exceptions it is the same ticket they pu. up two years ago.
If any of their candidates have improved morally—and from what rumor says, some of them have not—it is not on record that they have reformed through any desire on their part to hasten the millennium, but rather the lack of cash, which from necessity has caused them to walk more nearly in the straight and narrow way.

S. P. SMITH, of Towanda, Pa., whose constitution was completely broken down, is cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He writes:

"For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and took nearly seven bottles, with such excellent results that my stomach, bowels, and kidneys are in perfect condition, and, in all their functions, as regular as clock-work. At the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my weight was only 129 pounds; I now can brag of 169 pounds, and was never in so good health. If you could see me before and after using, you would want me for a traveling advertisement. I believe this preparation of Sarsaparilla to be the best in the market to-day."

Dear Sirs: If you could see the writer of this letter and note the wonderful change that has been effected in his case by taking Dr. Grant's Kidney and Liver Cure, you would certainly be astonished.
I was a most wretched sufferer for three years, trying all kinds of medicine and getting no relief. The flow of urine was very excessive. I was very constipated and also covered with carbuncles, and felt at war with myself and the world at large; but, thanks to your wonderful medicine, I felt as though I was a new being, and I consider a wonderful cure has been effected in my case.
With my best wishes for your further success, I remain

The Prohi's Nominate.

While the populists were engaged in nominating a ticket last Saturday at the court house the prohibitionists were holding the fort in another part of town for the same purpose. Rev. P.
B. Williams presided over the assemblage and Rev. Frank Abram Powell acted as secretary.
A sufficient number had volunteered to offer themselves up as a sacrifice, to enable the convention to place a full ticket in the field, which was as follows: County judge, A. M. Herbert; clerk, Prof. H. Sheak; sheriff, J.
L. Underwood; commissioner, Joseph Taylor; assessor, A.
Parks; surveyor, Frank Glass; coroner, R. Grant; recorder, A.
Gould; school superintendent, Lillian Glass; representative, Rev. P. B. Williams; joint senator, J. M. Kitson. The platform adopted favors tariff for revenue only, makes the liquor question the main issue and declares in favor of the enactment of laws abolishing the traffic altogether, favors equal right of suffrage irrespective of sex, asks for a revision of the immigration laws, advocates the election of president, vice-president and United States senator by direct vote of the people, favors a uniform law regulating marriage, divorce and social purity, and sanctions the initiative and referendum.

Oakville Republicans.

The republicans of Oakville, Linn county, held their regular meeting on Tuesday evening of this week. J. Fred Yates of this city had been invited to deliver an address. As he was born and raised in the neighborhood, the announcement that he was to speak had the effect of bringing forth to the muster place a whole host of his friends and schoolmates. Many of them had traveled several miles and they were well repaid for their pains. The address was able and patriotic, and brought forth many hearty rounds of applause from his enthusiastic listeners. The Shedd orchestra, composed of seven pieces, were present and dispensed plenty of music for the occasion that would have been creditable before any audience. Two carriage loads of candidates on the republican ticket of Linn county, were present, and each responded with short and appropriate remarks.

Hon. S. A. Dawson and Hon.
A. J. Johnson, candidates for the state senate, made rousing speeches and ably discussed the political issues of the day. Mr.
Dawson has already served four years in the state senate and was elected to that office by one of the largest majorities ever given a man in Linn county. This club, presided over by Jas. Y. Mc-Cune, is rapidly growing in numbers and enthusiasm. It is one of the many flourishing republican clubs of that county, and the times certainly seem propitious for a sweeping republican victory over the river in Linn, in the coming June election.

Jones' Coat and Shoes.

Wednesday night was one of fun for the boys, and, as it developed later on, the girls were in for their share, too. And this is how it all came about: At eleven o'clock, one of our blonde Lotharios, growing weary of watching the hen-fruit-socks-plug-tobacco applause at the opera house, and other things, suddenly became tired—too tired and sleepy, in fact, to walk to his home up town, and as he "happened" to be near the Occidental hotel, concluded to retire at once, which he did, registering as Jones—plain, common, ordinary, every-day Jones, from the city. During the night, so he says, he became quite ill. However that may be, whilst reposing in the arms of Morpheus, or elsewhere, some one took his overcoat and nice new patent leathers. But, finally inducing mine host, Schmidt, to come to his assistance, he was rigged out in a job lot and Mr. Jones cut sticks up the back alley.
"What will you, in the land of the MacGregors?"
"Egg omelettes, Jones, egg omelettes."
For home cooking go to the Delmonico.

Will H. Bloss and Chas. H. Pearce have been chosen to represent Benj.
Harrison Camp, Sons of Veterans, at the encampment to be held in Roseburg next month.

J. Fred Yates delivered a rousing republican address Tuesday evening at Oakville in Linn county. Fred is a forcible speaker, and no doubt caused those of his hearers who were weak in the faith to consider "where they were at."

THE GAZETTE is the only republican paper published in Benton county and in its efforts to spread the gospel of protection it should be liberally supported by all the republicans in the county.
Read it through the campaign at least.
Three months subscription will only cost fifty cents.

An effort was made by the manager of the Evans & Sontag combination to play Corvallis May 8th, but Manager Howell of the opera house flatly refused to entertain a proposition from them on any terms. This action on the part of Mr.
Howell is commendable and the Corvallis public will appreciate it.

As near as can be learned no less than four piano tuners have been in town this week soliciting business. Of this number W. O. Nisley, of Portland, who has always given such satisfaction, was the most successful. He was busy nearly the whole week and tuned sixteen pianos besides repairing several organs.

"It was the same old story" says the democratic jackass editor in his attempt to criticize the address made last Saturday night by Hon. H. B. Miller, of Grants Pass. Persons familiar with the circumstances do not expect anything so densely stupid and ignorant as the publisher of the "weekly" daily to know whether the address was old or new.

Rev. E. A. Sutton, a prohibition lecturer of Seattle, spoke at the court house Monday evening to a fair audience. On concluding his remarks the speaker stated that the prohibition state central committee were without funds and called for donations from the audience to help carry on the campaign work. One of his listeners agreed to contribute two dollars. The hat was then passed around but the offerings were by no means liberal. Unless his business is more lucrative in other places it is doubtful if the reverend gentleman will be able to continue the work through the campaign.

Four steers that tipped the beam at 6,222 pounds, were sold last Saturday by Mr.
Wilson, of Aleska, to J. M. Osburn, of this city. The price paid seems to be a secret.
Mr. Wilson came out here expecting to get at least 25 cents per pound for the cattle on foot, claiming that such offers had recently been made over in the Aleska country. On consulting the various stock buyers of Corvallis, he found that the market price was considerably less than he supposed. Rather than drive them back home an offer was made to Mr. Osburn, with the request that the terms be kept mum. The offer was accepted on condition that the Aleska man vote the democratic ticket in June. This being agreed to, the money was promptly paid over. The transaction only illustrates to what desperation the farmers are driven in order to sell their produce during these good old democratic times.

That a shower of eggs will promote matrimony is evidenced by an occurrence in this city yesterday. James Macon and Bessie Fields, two members of the Theatre Royal aggregation of bilks, became so effected by the egg omelet serenade received at the opera house the night before, that they could no longer live single. After purchasing a marriage license yesterday afternoon they tried to enter into negotiations with Judge Hufford to perform the ceremony for less than the statutory fee of $5.00, but the judge refused to entertain the proposition. Later a certain minister was induced to perform the job at half price.
Judging from the deportment of several of the troupe's members on the street, and from the estimation in which the company is held by this community, it is somewhat strange that any of them would indulge in the formality of a marriage ceremony.

If Chas. Nickell is as popular throughout the state as his step-ladder brother is in Benton county, H. R. Kincaid will be the next secretary of state by an overwhelming majority.

To Be Drained.

The farmers living on upper Muddy have at last joined their forces in an effort to clear out the channel of the creek so as to drain their land. A contract has been let to Whitty & Starr at $100 per mile to clear the channel of brush and logs from Barclay's bridge to T. P. Waggoner's place, a distance of about four miles, all land-owners along the line joining except one, who probably is fond of frogs. It is thought many hundred acres of valuable land will be rendered fit for cultivation by their intelligent expenditure of a few hundred dollars.

Farewell Party.

Mrs. Minnie Lee, and Miss Leon Louis entertained a number of their friends last Saturday evening in honor of Miss Mamie Bloss. A pleasant innovation in the means of starting conversation and furnishing topics broke up at once formality and the evening was happily spent in games and music. The music of the Blonde Quartette was a feature of the evening. Delicious sherbet, chocolate and cake was served at eleven o'clock and the party broke up at 12. It was one of the most enjoyable social events of the season and recalled to many the pleasant memories of "ye olden times."

Two Enterprising Mechanics.

Tunnicliffe Brothers, two enterprising young men of Corvallis who are both excellent mechanics, are the proprietors of the city machine shops. Their shop is well fitted up with all the late machinery and are in readiness to repair harvesting machinery, saw mills, boilers, engines, etc. Repairing of engines is made a specialty. Office in a position to get the valves of steam engines correctly. Their work can be relied upon and their charges are reasonable.

THREE TREES DEDICATED.

One Each to the Memory of W. S. Ladd, A. R. Shipley, and E. M. Belknap.

Although the wind blew a gale, it did not deter a goodly number of people from being present at the college arbor day exercises last Friday afternoon, which had been postponed from the 13th instant on account of inclement weather. Some time ago trees had been planted in honor of W. S. Ladd, A. R. Shipley and E. M.
Belknap, which were to be dedicated to their memory on this occasion. On the veranda of Cauthorn hall, where the ceremonies began, were seated the faculty, Hon. E. B. McElroy, Mayor McFadden, William Lindsey, of Washington, Pennsylvania, and about two hundred Corvallis citizens. On the lawn a few feet distant, and facing the audience, two companies of college cadets were drawn up in company front, under command of Lieut. Dentlar, U. S. A. Standing in double rank at "parade rest," their presence added much to the impressiveness of the exercises, which began with an appropriate selection by the college male quartette. In a brief, but neatly worded address President Bloss dedicated one of the trees to the memory of Mr. Ladd, late president of the board. In sketching his life, reference was made to the many struggles and privations endured by the deceased president during the pioneer days, who arrived in Portland a penniless stranger and accepted the first work offered him—that of digging up a stump on first street for the small sum of ten cents.
He spoke of his untiring devotion to the college work, interest in its success and in a most touching manner referred to his character as a man and a christian gentleman. The other tree was then dedicated by Prof. Letcher to the memory of Mr. Shipley. The life of the late treasurer was briefly reviewed from the time of his birth in 1827 in Mt. Vernon, Ohio. He was a fellow law student of William Windom, late secretary of the treasury, and Senator Norton, of Ohio, under Attorney-General Taft. He came to Portland in 1852, with less than $5.00; was energetic, attentive to business, was twice master of the state grange, a thorough christian, beloved by all who knew him, and his life was an example which all might follow with profit.

Superintendent McElroy was introduced and spoke for a few minutes in which he paid a high tribute to the late Senator Cauthorn, who he said introduced the arbor day law into the Oregon legislature and through whose efforts was largely due its passage. Hon. William Lindsey followed and gave a brief account of his travels, covering a distance of 6,000 miles which he was just completing. He expressed himself as highly pleased and greatly surprised at the beautiful Willamette valley, and spoke in commendation of Agricultural colleges. To illustrate the advantage of such institutions he described a visit recently made to one in the City of Mexico, where American plows were in use drawn by oxen. Following each were several students endeavoring to familiarize themselves with the use of a two-handled plow. In that country the old fashioned single-handed wooden plow is still in use. An effort had been made to introduce the American plow in various parts of Mexico, but the attempts, the speaker said, had as a rule proved unsuccessful, and whenever in use the natives insist in cutting off one of the handles. For some reason or other they have no adaptability for learning the use of a plow other than the old wooden affair that has done duty for over 300 years.

The assemblage then marched to the mechanical hall where the exercises were concluded. After a song, Prof. Covelli in a very fitting address, dedicated the tree planted in memory of Mr. Belknap, late foreman of the mechanical department, and whose duties had been performed for a period of nearly three years under the supervision of the speaker. He spoke of the fine tree as being so fitting and emblematic of the life of the deceased, in that during all seasons of the year and under all circumstances it remained the same; of the esteem in which he was held by the students, and whose life was worthy of their emulation.

Wm. Lindsay of Washington, Pennsylvania, and clerk of the United States court at Pittsburg, in company with Hon. E. B.
McElroy, arrived last Friday and until the next day were the guests of Mayor Mc-Fadden. They had been schoolmates in old Pennsylvania years ago, and the meeting after the long lapse of time was indeed a pleasant one. Mr. Lindsay was homeward bound after an extended tour through Mexico, and the Pacific coast.

Dr. J. M. Cain, formerly of Monroe, has remained with his family to Corvallis and are located in one of the Simmons houses on Third street. The Dr. has been in ill health for some time and is yet under the care of a physician who has advised him to give up the practice of medicine and refrain from all kinds of labor for a period of six months. At the end of that time it is thought he will be sufficiently recovered to again resume his professional duties.

To Charles McDonald & Co. has been awarded the contract of rebuilding the Union Pacific wharf in this city, which for a long time has been unsafe for the passage of teams.

Philomath Pickings.

Mr. Simmons, of Seattle, Wash., delivered a two and half hour temperance lecture in the Kezel Chapel last Sunday evening.
Mr. J. W. Ingle, while handling some grain last Tuesday sprained his back to such an extent that he is laid up for repairs.
The three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, while at the home of Mr. Greg-son, drank a bottle of consumption cure and had it not been for the prompt assistance of Dr. Loggan would likely have proved fatal.
Last Saturday evening shortly after the Old Fellows had called their lodge to order a rap was heard at the door that was not recognized by the brothers and when the guardian opened it he was informed by a couple of ladies that a supper was in waiting for them in the room below. So lodge was immediately closed and the brothers repaired to the room below where a sumptuous repast was in waiting. When they had gotten on the outside of as much of it as possible they, with the ladies, returned to the lodge room, and several short speeches were made by Prof. P. O. Bonchelo, J. W. Ingle and others, in which the ladies were duly thanked for their kindness and requested to return in the near future, as such surprises are always agreeable.
RUTH.

Should be Re-established.

H. F. Fischer, proprietor of the Corvallis mills, recently purchased one and one-fourth tons of sewing twine, the remaining stock of the Albany flax mill.
It is as good an article, as to quality and finish, as can be obtained in the east.
Considering the large quantity of thread consumed on this coast, and the adaptability of the climate to raising the fiber, the enterprise should be re-established.
The price of labor has now depreciated to a point even lower than when the mill was in operation. The failure of the concern was due principally to the fact that twine dealers in San Francisco found out that up here in Oregon an article was being manufactured equal in quality to the output of eastern mills, and was being placed on the market at a price so low that the California dealers could not compete with it. This led them to purchase the Albany plant which has since been closed out.
