County Ticket.

- Joint Sen., - TOL CARTER. Joint Rep., - JOHN D. DALY. Representative, T. H. COOPER. Clerk, - H. J. KORTHAUER. Recorder, - HENRY BRISTOW. Judge, - W. S. HUFFORD. Commis., - F. J. CHAMBERS. Sheriff, - G. W. SMITH. Treasurer, - FRED CLARK. Assessor, - MARION HAYDEN. Surveyor, - GEO. MERCER. School Sup't, - R. F. HOLM. Coroner, - J. L. ALTMAN.

For surveyor, who? Why, George Mercer, of course.

A vote for George W. Smith for sheriff will be a ballot cast for a man who will prove an honest, efficient, painstaking and capable official.

All the pioneers will vote for Harrison R. Kincaid for secretary of state, because he came to Oregon in the fifties, and ever since has been laboring in the interest of the state.

The Inter Ocean suggests that if the "armies" now en route to the capital get hard pushed for food they can tackle a few of those democratic roosters of the vintage of '92. Nobody else wants them.

WHAT'S the matter with Fred Clark for treasurer? He's all right. Every voter in Benton county is fully aware that Mr. Clark is the man for the place and a majority of them will vote for him.

The Chicago Inter Ocean notices that the democratic party comes to the surface a little ahead of the hard times, just as the grubs crawl out of the ground before the swarms of locusts appear. Democracy is the larva of hard times.

The Portland Evening Telegram gives the Oregon democratic office-seekers a hard dig: It remarks: "It is said that when Grover Cleveland looked out of the white house and saw the Coxeyites marching up the avenue, he exclaimed, 'Great Scott, here come the Oregon office-seekers back again.'"

The Times says, "a sheriff should be a man of known honor and integrity." Right you are neighbor, and the republican nominee George W. Smith is such a man. A man whose business dealings, for a term of several years has been so free from dishonesty is certainly a person in whom the voters have confidence. They know that when George Smith tells them anything he will do just exactly as he agrees to do. Vote for him—he is all right.

The republican nominee for supreme judge, Mr. Wolvorton, is considered one of the ablest attorneys now practicing before the supreme court. With his election the people of Oregon have assurance that their highest tribunal will be composed of men of honesty of purpose. It is gratifying to know that the position now occupied by Judge Lord, which position will be made vacant by Mr. Lord's election to the gubernatorial chair will be filled by a person so well qualified as Mr. Wolvorton.

PENNOYER refused to suppress lawlessness by the Oregon commonwealers, and the federal forces had to be called into the field. He refused to enforce the laws because he dared not antagonize the disorderly elements which pushed him to the front. To apply the laws would be to estrange his crowd and leave him hung up in the air. This is the danger spot in the character of men like Pennoyer, Waite and Lewelling. They are totally deficient in leadership. They follow impulsive movements, they march with the mobs and the rabble, and where the mob pitches its tent they go into camp. It is well that governors of this character are few. If they were preponderant, there would be bloody scenes enacted from the Atlantic to the Pacific.—Spokane Review.

"I would rather work in the harvest field at fifty cents per day than teach or have anything to do in a school room."—Ed. L. Bryan, democratic nominee for school superintendent. We will take you at your word. The voters of Benton county will not force a man to accept a position when he is not in sympathy with the work.

MARION HAYDEN, the young man nominated by the republicans for the important position of county assessor, is a resident of Alsea precinct. He is a bright, intelligent, affable fellow and thoroughly qualified to make the assessment of this county. He is well acquainted with values and will make a just and equitable assessment. Vote for him and you will make no mistake.

Mr. Hour is certainly a logical speaker. He explained protection in a way that many old democrats had never heard and caused them, for a time, at least, to believe they were espousing the wrong principles. After showing that many industries had been established and fostered by protection he defied any democrat present to name one single industry that had been built up by free trade. No one answered.

The hardest work Ed. Bryan has done while in office was to draw his salary. They have held the job down in the family for six years and the general public are getting tired of paying a man six or eight hundred dollars annually for services which he does not perform. Complaints are coming in from all over the country to the effect that certain schools have been wholly without his attention during the past year. If you doubt this statement ask your directors or your teachers and find how many hours he has spent in your respective districts.

HERETOFORE there has been some little feeling among the younger republicans because they were not represented on the county ticket. This year no such complaint is heard. The party has treated the boys well and they intend to stand by the ticket first, last and all the time. There is Mr. Holm, for school superintendent; Henry Korthauer, for county clerk; and Marion Hayden, for assessor, all young men. The younger element of the party will show their appreciation of these nominations by voting the ticket without a scratch.

W. H. LEEDS, of Jackson county, republican candidate for state printer, is a man in every way worthy of support. He is careful, industrious and energetic; went to southern Oregon many years ago and established a republican newspaper in a democratic county, which he conducted with success, and he has proven to the people of that part of the state, who know him best, that he has capacity for the office for which he has been named.—Oregonian. The voters of Benton county who have had the pleasure of making Mr. Leeds' acquaintance, are perfectly satisfied with the nomination and will give him a good majority. Mr. Leeds is a young man and to the younger republicans his selection is especially pleasing.

The American protective tariff league has prepared a statement showing the condition of labor in Oregon. From 140 different reports in 35 different towns it is shown that the total average number of hands employed in 1892 was 3,848. In 1893 there were 3,021, and in 1894, 1,512. This was a decrease in 1893 of 21 per cent, and in 1894 of 60 per cent. Seventy-six reports were received from Portland, showing 2,589 hands employed in 1892, and 1,154 in 1894. The statement says the deplorable democratic condition in Oregon is not confined to any one industry, but extends to grain storing, flour mills, agricultural implements, sheep and wool, turnery, hardware, lumber, iron and steel, building, etc. The details of the depression from all sections of the state are given.

FALSE INSINUATIONS.

The Times, under the caption, "Take No Chances," wastes a lot of space with stuff like "Let a prosecuting attorney be elected, or a judge be elected, or a sheriff be elected, who is in sympathy with, or of whom this element is not afraid, and theft, arson, murder, and every other species of crime will run riot." After exhausting a column in such twaddle the article closes with this: "Let every voter think of his wife, his daughter, his home and the peace of the community, whenever it becomes his duty or privilege to cast a ballot for prosecuting attorney, judge or sheriff."

The Times sanctum must be supplied with very foul currents of air, or else the office must be dark and gloomy; because at this enlightened day and age of the world, surrounded with bright sunlight, beautiful flowers and the green trees, there must be some reason for an editor filling up the columns of his paper with such vapors, and there seems to be no other cause for the article mentioned than a torpid liver, foul atmosphere, a dismal office or something of this kind. The people of Benton county are certainly composed of men and women on a moral plane with those of other counties. They are not in league with any band of outlaws, neither are they outlaws themselves. Our citizens are no more corrupt than citizens of other communities. They are possessed of as high sense of honor and integrity as those of any other county. There is no difficulty in finding men possessed of these virtues to fill the places of judge, sheriff and prosecuting attorney on any of the tickets now in the field.

To the certain knowledge of the GAZETTE, men of this class have been nominated on the republican ticket for the places of trust mentioned. We were unaware that the names of such persons as the Times speaks of appeared on the democratic ticket for these important offices. We will even go further, and say that we are satisfied that the democratic, or populist, or prohibition parties have not put up such persons. Then, if this be true, why on earth does the Times fill its columns with such senseless stuff, thereby intimating that persons are running for the office of judge, sheriff and prosecuting attorney on some ticket that are so thoroughly steeped in vice that they have become totally devoid of principle, integrity, morality, honesty and manhood—in fact, every virtue of which good men are possessed.

To persons living outside of this section who are unfamiliar with the circumstances and false insinuations of the Times, this article would have the effect of causing serious doubts to enter their minds, regarding the integrity and general moral tone of this community. In fact, it will cause a few to believe that we are a lot of cut-throats and vagabonds; that some party or other has a ticket in the field whose candidates are assassins and high handed robbers; that a sheriff has been selected who would allow a prisoner to escape upon the payment of a few paltry dollars; that a judge is being chosen, who will allow a murderer to escape unhung, and that a prosecuting attorney has been nominated that can be bought off and will allow the villain to go Scott free.

If the Times is cognizant that such persons have been nominated why in Heaven's name didn't that paper expose them? It is its duty to do so. Again, we assert that the republican ticket is composed of no such men as the Times alludes to and we do not believe that any such person or persons have been nominated on any of the tickets. Therefore, the article has no bearing on the present campaign. A paper having the interest of the community at heart will not, thoughtlessly at least, be guilty of heralding to the world the impression that some party is attempting to elect a lot of outlaws. Neither will a reputable journal insinuate that such a thing is true when it knows that such insinuation is absolutely and unequivocally without foundation. Unless the sanctum of the Times is soon furnished with a good supply of pure, fresh ozone and a few rays of God's bright sunlight, its editor will go stark staring mad.

The Galveston News strikes a great truth when it says: "The democratic party had better die and blow away than to keep with in its ranks and nurse into vigorous life the insidious spirit of communism and anarchy."

See that the name of Henry Bristow is on your ticket for recorder. He is an active republican and a deserving man. Elect him and you have the assurance of the GAZETTE that the affairs of his office will be ably and honestly managed.

OUR APPROPRIATIONS.

J. K. Weatherford, the man who is running for congress against Oregon's friend, Binger Hermann, gave the people of Corvallis last week the greatest exhibition of pure unadulterated gall ever witnessed. He seems possessed of the idea that he is a God or else is in direct communication with the Deity. When he says, that if he is elected to represent the people of this state in congress he would immediately secure appropriations sufficient to cause the Willamette to be made navigable as far as Eugene at all times of the year, he shows that he is insincere. He must take the people of Corvallis for a lot of clumps to believe that he can secure the first year greater appropriations than Binger Hermann can. He also stated that the Willamette river was in a worse condition for steamboating now than it was twenty years ago, and intimates that the presence of Binger Hermann in congress was the cause of it. Mr. Weatherford forgets that he was talking to Mr. Hermann's friends. There is no dust on Binger. He is one of the hardest workers in Washington, and by reason of his continued service on the rivers and harbors committee he has been enabled to accomplish for Oregon a world of good. Binger Hermann and appropriations have become almost synonymous terms. Look at the vast sums of money secured for Yaquina bay, 500,000 recently gotten for improvements of the Willamette river. Mr. Weatherford's terrible mistake in supposing he has the power to do more than Mr. Hermann can will find that his attempt to make the people of this county believe that he is possessed of some supernatural power, influence by which means he is enabled to secure greater appropriations than Mr. Hermann is futile. Hermann is the representative of the republican constituency and his loyalty and situation has a most loyal representation and the people of the Willamette valley are not such in rates as to wish to change for a man of Weatherford's ability.

W. S. HUFFORD, whom the republicans have honored by nominating for county judge, has been a resident of Benton county for many years. After his election four years ago he moved with his family to Corvallis, purchased some property, built a residence, which is a credit to our growing city, and has taken up his permanent abode in this community. His administration of the county's affairs has been conservative and economical. This is the most important office on the ticket because probate matters come before the court for adjudication. To avoid errors on this line it is essential that the court have a thorough knowledge of law. A mistake made in the settlement of an estate may leave a cloud on the title of some property that will take years of litigation and thousands of dollars in money to straighten out. Mr. Hufford is a lawyer of many years' practice and is well fitted for the place. Mr. Cauthorn, while a most excellent gentleman, has no knowledge of law, besides his record as a business man is not one that will commend itself to the tax payers. We want a man who has demonstrated, by the careful management of his own business, that he is thoroughly competent to assume charge of the county's affairs. Mr. Hufford is such a man.

A number of democratic papers are publishing statements to the effect that Mr. Irwin was discharged from the Indian training school at Chemawa because of incompetency. Such assertions are absolutely false. Some parties at Salem who have for years made a practice of causing trouble with every superintendent of that school stirred up trouble with Mr. Irwin's management. A committee was appointed to investigate matters and reported that there was no cause for complaint of the management of the school, and completely exonerated Mr. Irwin on all the charges made.—Register.

Vote straight and we are assured of a straight administration. This applies to the whole ticket from top to bottom. This very forcibly includes Dr. L. G. Altman for coroner.

If you want a competent business administration of the county clerk's office, vote for Henry Korthauer. He will be his own county clerk, assisted by capable deputies.

If every man in Oregon will work, save, economize and manage well, he can raise his mortgage. Remember that prosperity comes through business sense and honest work.—R. G. Horr.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, April 30, 1894.

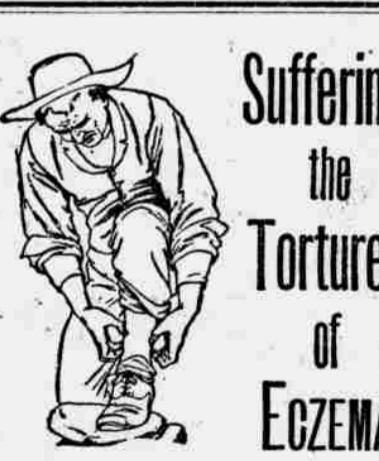

Never within the memory of the oldest habitue of the capitol has the majority of the senate allowed itself to be nagged by the minority as the republicans have nagged the democrats since those four hundred amendments to the tariff bill were presented to the senate. Although Senator Bruce claims that 43 democratic senators are pledged to support the tariff bill after those amendments are adopted not a single democrat has had the courage to defend the amendments. The nearest any one of them came to it, was when Senator Harris said: "The democratic party believes in tariff for revenue with such incidental protection as revenue duties afford," but he had not a word to say when Senator Aldrich asked him what then became of the declaration of the last democratic National platform, that protection was a fraud and was unconstitutional. The democratic senators are very much at sea, and none of them make any serious attempt to hide it, while Mr. Cleveland has gone fishing to hide his disgust. The republican senators will caucus tonight to talk over their future course on the amendments.

Coxey's nondescripts were compelled by the health authorities to leave the pest hole in which they had been encamped, and being unable to secure any other place in Washington, they are now camped in Maryland, five miles from the city. They are even a little better than the men in the pest hole, and are helping to clean up the city.

grounds, will be heard tomorrow. It is regarded as certain that a new trial will be refused them.

Senator Hill, of New York, doesn't mince words in expressing his opinion of tariff bill number 4. He said: "Let the odium of its passage or praise for its defeat rest upon the shoulders of Senator Gorman, for aught I care. One thing is certain, the tariff bill now before the senate should never become a law. There is no justice in it, and it is simply subterfuge and a makeshift."

It may not be entirely just to charge Representative McCann, chairman of the house committee on labor, who offered the resolution, and a majority of the committee who voted to favorably report the resolution providing for the appointment of a joint congressional committee to investigate the industrial depression, with demagoguism; but if that resolution, following as it did the hearing granted Coxey by the labor committee, does not bear the genuine earmarks of demagoguery, it has some excellent imitations of them. It directs the appointment of a committee of seven—three senators four representatives—to investigate and report to congress, within thirty days, the cause of the industrial depression, responsible for so much distress throughout the country and what legislation will preserve industrial and financial conditions which will offer speedy, permanent and lucrative employment to the citizens of the United States."

Suffering the Tortures of ECZEMA. And yet lives in ignorance of the fact that a single application of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, will, in the majority of cases, afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep and point to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure, when the best physicians and all other remedies fail. CUTICURA Works Wonders, and its cures of torturing, disfiguring, and humiliating humors are the most wonderful ever recorded.

Sold throughout the world. PORTER DRUG AND CHEM. CO., sole props., Boston. "All About the Blood and Skin," mailed free. Nervous Muscular Weakness Instantly relieved by a Cuticura Plaster, because it vitalizes the nerve forces and hence cures nervous pains, weakness and numbness.

Think of the enormity of the task imposed and of the time given—thirty days—within which it must be done, and you will see the point.

The house judiciary committee, or rather the democratic majority of that committee, has had another attack of states right fever, a disease often scotched, but never entirely killed, and the result was the ordering of a favorable report on a bill introduced by Representative De Arnold, of Mo., providing that no judge of a United States court shall punish any citizen or officer for being in contempt for refusing to levy a tax or collect a tax for the payment of any bond issued by the municipality, county, or state, where the levying of such tax or collection is contrary to the laws of the state. This bill, if it becomes a law, will make the laws of a state paramount to those of the United States, and the decisions of state courts paramount to those of the United States, which would be in accordance with the doctrine taught by southern democrats from Calhoun down to the present day, a doctrine which four years of the bloodiest war in history should have forever ended, but which somehow it did not.

HON. TOLBERT Carter, republican candidate for joint senator, is probably the very best man in any party in either county that could have been found for the office. He is a typical Oregonian of the very best type; has resided in Benton county for over 40 years and through his life has borne a reputation for integrity and honesty that any man living might well be proud of. His success as a farmer proves his ability in business affairs, and his rigid economy peculiarly fits him to legislate for our state in these hard times. He is a man of marked ability and nothing but a retiring disposition and love of farm life has kept him from going to the front as one of the prominent men in national politics. It is impossible to say too much in praise of Tolbert Carter. All who are acquainted with him will agree with us and assist in rolling up his majority.

Rich Red Blood Results from taking Hood's Sarsaparilla

Mr. Chas. Walker of San Francisco.

"For several years I have been troubled with blotches and pimples on my face and body, which were very annoying. I tried several prescriptions, and also other medicines, but they did not seem to benefit me. Last fall a friend advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was determined to give it a trial.

After using two bottles, my skin returned to its natural state. I still use it, as it gives me strength and vigor. I never had better health in my life, and I owe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla." CHAS. WALKER, with Corvallis, Mo., 45 Eighth Street, San Francisco.

THE life of one of Benton's best citizens went out with the death of Millard, Beach. His life in all its details was one worthy of emulation. Coming to Oregon in 1887 and with a little means he soon purchased a farm in Linn county where he lived until about a year ago. He was always busy, managed well and whenever he came to town he brought with him something to sell which had been raised on the farm. While many farmers were complaining of hard times and the hard lot of a farmer's life, Mr. Beach was going quietly about his business making no complaints but always turning off something from his little place. By close attention to business, hard work and economical management during the several years spent in Oregon he accumulated considerable property. No one could ever accuse him of dishonesty, for he was possessed of the highest sense of honor. He was a christian gentleman, esteemed and respected by all who knew him. By his death Corvallis and Benton county has lost a most valuable citizen and her people can truly say, "Here was a man, when comes another?"

If John J. Daly of Polk county would pay a debt of some years standing for board and stage fare that a prominent democrat of Corvallis claims that he is owing him, the judge might stand a better chance of election. A man who refuses to pay his honest debts is certainly not a fit person to sit on the bench for the purpose of adjudicating the rights of his neighbors.

MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of humanity. It has been the subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally understood that the seat of the nervous system is not in the brain, as is generally supposed, but in the spinal cord.

Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are diseased the organs which they supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. When it is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the point of the injury, from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how important the derangement of the nerve centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force. In the case of chronic diseases, such as due to the imperfect action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, the symptoms are generally primary originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble. DR. FRANKLIN MILES, the celebrated specialist, has profoundly studied this subject for over 20 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with it, chief among them being the facts contained in the above statement, and that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong. All headache, dizziness, faintness, confusion, nervousness, blood-spots, melancholy, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus' dance, etc., are nervous diseases, no matter how caused. The wonderful success of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principles. DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE is sold by all druggists in a bottle for 50c. Sent by mail direct by DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price. 50c per bottle, six bottles for $2.50. Express prepaid. It contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.
