DOLPH'S GOOD SENSE.

Mr. Dolph may be the cold, ungenial man that those who oppose him claim; he may be a prosy orator, but in foresight and in the exercise of good judgment he is unapproachable.

Dolph's prophetic soul's eye looked down the coming years and saw himself as U. S. senator. He saw himself as the one and only man to represent the great state of Oregon in the councils of the nation.

What admirable foresight, what unassuming, unselfish patriotism! He is now before the legislature, sound in limb, with good eyesight and unexcelled hearing, begging that the representatives of the people recognize in him those admirable and essential qualities, physical and mental, that are the requisites of the ideal senator.

What a contrast was the reckless conduct of W. P. Lord. At the first call for volunteers, he rushed into the field, never stopping to realize that an accident might disable him from properly filling some future public position.

THE Oregonian of the 15th, replying to James F. Braden, says: "The gold, when coined, will bring full value in all parts of the world, not because it has the government stamp, but because this stamp testifies to a certain weight and fineness."

The above telegram indicates the defeat of Dolph. The tenor of the Oregonian's Salem correspondence yesterday signifies as much. Speaker Moores in a speech yesterday announced himself as willing to vote for any republican who stands on the republican platform, whenever the opposition signifies its serious intention of electing such a man.

"The only new thing in the senatorial situation tonight is the statement made by Lord's friends that on Thursday he will be elected. Consultations on the part of opposition leaders with democratic senators and populists gives color to the statement. It is more clearly manifest than ever that the opposition leaders are bent upon Lord's election."

THE Oregonian favors the election of Geo. H. Williams as senator. Now, what about the tacit pre-election understanding that Dolph was to be the nominee? What about the "submission to the majority will?"

There will be exercises at the public school this afternoon appropriate to the observance of Washington's birthday. There will be no school tomorrow.

SENTIMENT NOT CHANGED.

The Oregonian says: "There are those who think that popular government would be considerably more attractive and interesting if new men were sprinkled somewhat more freely through its makeup. To their thought, or at least to their imagination, it would appear that they were having something more to do with their government, if its administration were not always seen in the same old hands, or if, when they read the proceedings of conventions and note the nominations, they should find a liberal substitution of new names for those of the old professional head-rolls."

This matter very much concerns the republican party of Oregon. Professional officialism is not acceptable to the people. It gets stuck in its ruts, becomes unprogressive except in the direction of expense, lets old abuses remain uncorrected, and acquires a habit of mind that thinks of office as a personal right. There is urgent need of a thorough shake-up and complete renovation of every department of our public affairs; and the people want men in every branch of the service who are fit for the work required.

This expresses the GAZETTE's idea in regard to the election of senator at this time. The extract is from the issue of March, 26, 1894. It was intended as a call for a new deal in the nomination of state officials, and from the result of the convention and the election, the sentiment of the people was in accord with the tone of that editorial. That sentiment has not changed. It has been strong enough to enable thirty honest legislators to withstand the strongest pressure known to party machinery, and caused them to vote against an old-time office-holder, although he was the caucus nominee of their party.

WHAT OF TODAY?

SALEM, Feb'y 20.—(Special).—Two ballots were taken today for United States senator, but no change resulted in either; total cast 88. Dolph 41, Williams 29, scattering 18.

WITH OUR LAWMAKERS.

Doings at the Capitol During the Past Week.

SALEM, Feb'y 19, 1895.

At the close of work Thursday there had been 370 house bills introduced, being within six of the total number introduced during the last session.

Senator Raley's bill for an act to provide for the building of a branch insane asylum on the lands selected and purchased by the state at Union, Union county, and appropriating money therefor, which passed both houses last week, provides that within thirty days from the approval of the act, the governor, secretary of state and state treasurer, acting in their capacity as a board of commissioners of public buildings of the state of Oregon shall hire a competent architect, who shall, under the direction of the board, draw plans and prepare specifications for a building suitable for an insane asylum building, together with the necessary outbuildings, barns, and fences upon the site heretofore selected and purchased by the board.

One of the most important measures passed during the session was Representative Daly's lien land bill.

Several farm houses of Plymouth were visited last Saturday night by a scouting party of young men. The boys think they did fine. They were treated to cake at one place and reached home at four o'clock in the morning.

PLYMOUTH ITEMS.

Farmers are plowing, preparatory to sowing their spring grain. Representative Cooper came up from Salem Saturday and spent Sunday at his home. The work in the legislature is making the representative somewhat poor. Stay with it, Tom!

Plymouth is being visited a great deal by sickness. Grandpa Keys is quite ill. Miss Laura Bohannon has just recovered from a severe attack of influenza.

Ex-Representative Jeffreys has been about the lobbies during the past week, but no one seems to know for what purpose. He is seen to buttonhole members, walk them about the corridors and carry on conversation in subdued tones, and to all appearances is deeply interested in some legislation or appointment, but the GAZETTE man is unable to learn what the nature of his mission really is.

The joint committee appointed to investigate the books of the retiring secretary of state, Mr. McBride, has about completed its labors. Mr. Daly is chairman of this committee from the house, and Lee Beach is one of the two clerks engaged in the work.

The fond hopes of Barney Martin have been blasted. He has been anxious for the passage of the bill to divide Linn county, in which event he hoped to serve the people of the new county in the capacity of judge. For days Barney has been flitting about the lobby, vainly endeavoring to get the bill reconsidered; but his pet measure now sleeps the sleep of death in the senate where it was indefinitely postponed.

House bill No. 376, providing for an additional circuit judge of the second judicial district, introduced by Sehlbrede, of Douglas, has passed to a second reading and is now in the hands of the judiciary committee, with leave to report at any time. The bill authorizes the governor, within twenty days after its passage, to appoint a judge, and that on next election in 1895, he shall be elected as other district officers, and shall act with the present circuit judge.

House bill No. 374, by Hon. Thomas Cooper, should it become a law, is the result of Judge Hufford's legislative tour in the interests of His Honor, the aspiring senator, Joseph N. Dolph, who will retire to his old law firm in Portland after this week. The bill will reduce Mr. Hufford's salary from $900 to $600.

Mr. Craig's, of Marion, resolution, intended to cut off all appropriations for the State University and Agricultural College, met with a very ludicrous fate this afternoon by being amended to include the state insane asylum, and then indefinitely postponed. The resolution also suggested that these institutions, including the asylum, charge a reasonable tuition fee.

THE Portland Oregonian very truthfully says that "it is no special credit to it that every essential point in the president's financial plan has been urged in its columns with perpetual iteration for the past two years." Nor is it either any special credit to it that the "plan" presented finds favor neither with republicans nor democrats in congress.

BLODGETT VALLEY.

The old bachelors have a respite from a special school tax. So said the judges of our lycæum.

The late warm days have done wonders for the late-sown grain. It could not have been better if specially ordered.

A mock legislature is the programme for next Saturday night at our lycæum. We expect oratory to stop over.

There are many ups and downs in this world. For instance, Scott King dropped from president to sergeant-at-arms.

John McDowell, of Tum Tum, is visiting with Iko Norton. As Teddy O'Leaherty would say, their "hair-length escapes" during army life were discussed with old-time vigor.

Wm. Galway, in discussing the bachelor question got so mixed in his oratory that he called forth this remark from one of our unwarried Dutchmen, "He got one leg on two sides the fence pi schure."

"Jack," the Wood Creek itemizer for the Times, is evidently fearful that someone will not find out who he is. This senseless swagger makes one think that the appendage that usually follows Jack should be attached to his cognomen.

Gene Wood as president, Jim Wood as vice-president, Clyde Kiger as secretary, Miss Allen Blodgett as treasurer, and Scott King for sergeant-at-arms, are the officers that will grace the executive chairs of our lycæum for the next four consecutive weeks.

We don't need another U. S. senator any, this year. There will be a republican majority in the senate, and Cleveland will stand ready to veto any and everything that has a tendency to better the condition of the people or retard in any way the assimilation of the democratic party.

There will be a fine ball at John Skogas' on February 22d. Good music, good supper and good order. Plenty of sheller for horses. A splendid good time is guaranteed. All for $1.00 per couple, or 25 cents for supper. Everybody and their relatives are cordially invited. "On with the dance. Let joy be unconfined."

A good republican, while talking to your correspondent the other day, wondered why the GAZETTE was making all its attacks on republicans. He said, "Harvey Scott gets a weekly indulgence; Davison, 'at all,' comes in for a dose of editorial bile, while Judge Hufford gets a pummeling that would knock the custard out of an ordinary democrat."

Someone has evidently stolen Niff McDowell's bull. (See "Nick McDonald," of the Times.) From accounts given the parties are known. Someone should be made an example of, and the wretchedness of those who have lost or are losing cattle should be, "Let no guilty man escape." Qui Vive.

A Little Daughter. Of a Church of England minister cured of a distressing rash, by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mr. RICHARD BIRKS, the well-known Druggist, 207 McGill St., Montreal, P. Q., says: I have sold Ayer's Family Medicines for 40 years, and have heard nothing but good said of them. I know of many Wonderful Cures performed by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one in particular being that of a little daughter of a Church of England minister. The child was literally covered from head to foot with a red and exceedingly troublesome rash, from which she had suffered for two or three years, in spite of the best medical treatment available. Her father was in great distress about the case, and, at my recommendation, at last began to administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which effected a complete cure, much to her relief and her father's delight. I am sure, were he here to-day, he would testify in the strongest terms as to the merits of
