CLAIMS AGAINST HAWAII. Damages Asked by Americans Who Were Expelled From the Island.

Washington, April 30. - United States Minister Willis, at Honolulu, has transmitted to Secretary Gresham a number of statements sworn before Oregon Consul-General Mills, of American citizens who were arrested by the Hawaiian goverment for complicity in the rebellion, and were permitted to leave Hawaii only under promise not to return during their lifetime. Claims for damages were made in each case and are included in the statements. The names of these Americans are:

P. M. Rooney, born in Duchess county, N. Y., late manager of the OREGON Daily Holumna in Honolulu, who claims $50,000 damages. H. A. Tuen, born in Stamford, Conn., a painter, customs-house inspector and chief of police under the provisional govern-ment, who claims $5 per day during imprisonment and exemplary damages.
