

DISAPPEARANCE

Of cheap light novels is due to the reduction in price, which maintains the excellence of dress and reading of all the popular magazines and periodicals.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

The Coffee Club party has been postponed to June 7th.

The Hughes vs. Young trial came off in Lohater Saturday. Justice Clark handed down a decision in favor of the defendant.

There will be a meeting of the Hook and Ladder Co. next Monday evening promptly at 7:30 o'clock for drill, weather permitting.

J. Fred Yates returned from Toledo, Monday, where in company with J. K. Weatherford and H. C. Watson, of Albany, he was engaged in a suit in which the Toledo Coal Company is involved.

Rev. W. H. Dorward preaches his farewell sermon next Sunday at 3 p. m. There will be a reception of members, hand of fellowship extended and the Lord's supper observed. A general invitation to all.

Pres. Bloss, Prof. Fletcher, Horner, Shaw and Washburn, attended the educational institute which was held in Eugene, last Friday and Saturday, and report a pleasant as well as profitable time.

The successful candidates at the recent election were tendered a delightful serenade Monday night. A party, consisting of Char. and Fred Wheeler, Cheek Gravena, Frank Williamson and Henry Hays, made the tour with mandolins, guitars and banjo voices.

Parties attending the picnic at Bidder's grove near Soap Creek next Saturday week and not wishing to bother with taking a lunch can procure refreshments at a stand to be run for the benefit of the Buena Vista Sunday school. Mrs. Anderson, of what place, will be in charge, which fact alone insures a first-class menu.

Jesse Brown was in town Saturday and reports that Robert Jones, living on Beaver Creek, killed an elk recently that dressed 370 pounds. It was started back in the mountains by dogs which ran it down onto Pete Rickard's place, where it was shot. Mr. Brown claims this to be the first elk killed in his neighborhood for twenty five years.

There will be a great time at the picnic near the Long Tom bridge, east of the Barclay school house, next Saturday. Ten schools, comprising 250 pupils, participate in the exercises. The Marine band will play their jolliest pieces. There will be drills, dialogues, recitations, music, vocal and instrumental, and Pres. Bloss will deliver one of his excellent addresses.

Mr. John Ray informs us that the U. S. geological party, which is to operate between the Willamette valley and coast will soon begin their work west of Portland and work south. They expect to be in Corvallis early in July. So says Mr. I. S. Diller, geologist, who is in correspondence with Mr. Ray regarding geological formations in this vicinity. The government has spent a deal of money in the past in investigating the mineral resources of our sister states, but until now, no attention has been given to the geology of Oregon. The promised survey to begin soon, is largely due to Mr. Ray's energetic work, he having been in correspondence with the department at Washington for some time, regarding the necessity of work in the Coast range.

Miss Fannie A. Taft died at the residence of her parents in this city, May 19, 1895. Miss Taft was born in Felton county, Ohio, Dec. 15, 1872, and with her parents arrived in Corvallis in the spring of 1893. She was a member of the Congregational church, and an active worker in the Y. P. S. C. E. She was taken ill with consumption last September and has been very low for several months. Miss Taft was a most estimable and lovable young lady. She leaves many sincere friends to mourn her loss. The funeral occurred at the Congregational church at 3 o'clock, May 20th, and the interment took place at the Odd Fellows cemetery. The Y. P. S. C. E. attended in a body. Among the beautiful floral offerings was a lovely pillow of white flowers, with the words "Our Superintendent," in dark passies.

Wanted

To trade lumber for two bulls or stags that are suitable for an ox team. They must give seven and one half feet. For further information call on or address

J. A. HAWKINS, Philomath, Ore.

The First National Bank of Corvallis, Ore., will be pleased to loan reasonable amounts of money to its customers, on the usual security required in such cases. M. S. Woodcock, president.

Perforated shelf paper at L. Welker & Co.'s.

Karl's Clover Root, the great blood purifier, gives freshness and clearness to the complexion and cures constipation, 25 cts., 50 cts., and $1. Sold by Graham & We'll's.

We have the best line of furniture, wall paper, matting, coffins and caskets, in Benton Co., and to be convinced of this, call and see our stock and get prices. L. Welker & Co.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder World's Fair Highest Medal and Diploma.

DEATH OF OTTO WELLS.

The silver cord that bound Otto Wells to an earthly existence has been loosened, and about the base of the fountain lie the shattered remains of another golden bowl.

Saturday evening, one week ago, he was taken to his bed with what was supposed to be a malarial attack, but which later developed into an acute affection of the brain. Sunday evening he became worse and Monday it was given out that he was dangerously ill. From the time the delirium came over him on Tuesday until his death at 10 minutes past ten o'clock last Sunday night, he never regained full consciousness, and his death doubtless came to him painlessly. For some time he has been ailing, but he himself thought it no worse than ordinary malarial fever. Being a pharmacist, he had taken the common remedies for that trouble, but these did not serve to build up his constitution. Confinement in his store and devotion to his business had deprived him of much of his physical strength, leaving him an easy prey to disease.

C. Otto Wells was born in Corvallis on the sixth day of January, 1870, and at the time of his death was, therefore, 25 years and four months old. With the exception of a few years, he has lived in the place of his birth and grown to manhood among those who knew him as a child. He attended school at the old Corvallis college for some time, and then took a course in the Portland Business College, graduating from that institution in 1887. Returning home he again resumed his studies in the college, and graduated from the Agricultural College in June, 1890, with the degree of Bachelor of Science.

During his course in the college, he manifested much interest in the study of chemistry, and was made assistant to Dr. P. H. Irish, of that department. Infatuated with the subject, he determined on becoming a pharmacist, and, accordingly, in the year 1891 he went to New York City to study. After spending two years there, he graduated in April, 1893, from the College of Pharmacy, of the City of New York, and returned home to Corvallis. In September, 1893, he became a full partner with T. Graham, under the firm name of Graham & Wells.

With him he brought the latest and most improved methods, and as a result of his ideas, the business has increased and they were enjoying an excellent trade. Behind the counter he was always pleasant, affable, and anxious to serve. His patrons might well rest assured that whatever representations he made to them, could be implicitly relied upon. In the compounding of prescriptions he was most careful and pains taking that no mistakes should occur at his hands. His entire work in school and in business was characterized by his thoroughness. He was a member of the Agassiz club of the college, and a prominent member of the alumni. Although not a member of any church organization, he was a constant attendant and supporter of the Presbyterian church, and a believer in the religion of Jesus Christ.

By his death his parents have lost a devoted son, in whom they might well feel proud; a host of friends have lost a true companion, and the state a reputable and valuable citizen, whose influence, had his life been spared, must have been felt.

Of a retiring manner, he never forced himself forward; his sterling qualities were sufficient to attract attention and gain for him the alliance of others. His was a soul of honor. To all classes alike he conducted himself with equal courtesy, and gained from them an universal respect.

He is beyond the reach of human praise and human censure. His memory still lives to comfort the sorrowing ones, and his character may well be emulated by those who, when their "anxious comes to join the innumerable caravan," would leave behind none but words of praise. He has reared a monument to his memory, with a base of integrity on which there rests a shaft of kindness, bearing this inscription: "His life was gentle; and the elements 'So mixed in him, that Nature might stand up, 'And say to all the world, this was a man'."

ALSEA JOTTINGS.

Clarence Vidito split his big toe Tuesday with an axe. It is getting along nicely and he is able to be around.

A. R. Young was arrested on a charge of forgery, but as the evidence was insufficient to convict, he was released.

Miss Durken, of the Summit, passed through our valley on her way to Lobster to teach school one day last week.

We hear that James F. Hammersly, of Lake Creek, Lane county, but formerly of Alsea, has been committed to the insane asylum.

A. M. Peek, of Lobster, committed to the asylum from this county about three or four months ago, is at home and appears to be well.

Two sons of Sacy, the merchant, have arrived in Alsea. They are nice-looking young men and we hope they will be pleased with the valley.

Sheep shearing is in full blast now and there seems to be a sharp demand for wool. Free traders are raising the yell that free trade is bringing wool up in price. Yes, free trade has brought wool up from 20 cents three years ago to 10 cents at present. High time to shout, isn't it?

We hear that Mr. Kimble, a son-in-law of Mr. Wilson, is thinking of purchasing the Alsea flouring mill. If there is any one thing Alsea is in need of more than anything else, it is a good mill. At present at least 80 per cent. of the flour consumed in Alsea is hauled from the Willamette valley.

Tom Vidito and Ed Taylor gave a public exhibition of their bravery and gentlemanly qualities last Sunday on Lobster. They attacked Uncle Abe Peek and Marian and Martha Peek, in the presence of half a dozen other ladies. They called Mrs. Peek many vile names and made use of much profane and abusive language. Boys, section 1,806, Hill's code, provides: "If any person shall be guilty of disorderly conduct or of using obscene language before ladies he shall, on conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not less than five nor more than twenty-five dollars." A hint to the wise is sufficient.

Geo. Mossback.

APPEAL TO THE PEOPLE.

Plan to Procure a Testimonial for the Battleship "Oregon."

The undersigned, the committee appointed by the governor of the state, to devise ways and means of presenting to the battleship Oregon a suitable testimonial as a memento from our state and people, beg leave to call the attention of our patriotic citizens to the fact that the general government of the United States has honored our state by giving its name to one of its newest and best armored vessels. And as we are the recipients of this honor, we should, in a suitable manner, manifest our appreciation of it and demonstrate, by our action, our thankfulness that in a navy so small as our own our state has been selected by the powers that control to receive a signal and so great an honor, that a battleship of the most modern design and greatest effectiveness that American skill has thus far been able to conceive, and wherein the highest type of American workmanship and scientific effort culminates, should bear the name of the matchless vales and mountains, which, to us, mean Oregon, and that the name so dear to us shall be carried by this battleship to the far away shores of the stranger, in all climates and seas, and become the mailed patrol of liberty, bearing our flag, that it may be honored in every land.

It is a time honored custom that whoever shall be honored in giving his name to a vessel in the merchant marine, should make some fitting present to the ship, captain and crew of the vessel that bears his name, and will carry it through her every scene of labor and success. How much more, then, should this custom be complied with, when a state is honored as our own has been, in the naming of this battleship?

The upbuilding of the new navy of the United States is the keynote of a higher power and civilization than we have ever reached in the competition of nations. New ships of a design approved by the naval powers of the world are being called into existence, officered and manned, and placed in commission for the maintenance of law and right, so that a policy of peace may be maintained with all the world, without entanglements, or loss of national honor; and without the thought of conquest or territorial aggrandizement, demonstrating that a nation, a republic of over 63,000,000 of human beings, can live and be prosperous, without infringing the laws of a weaker nation, and by being firm and true to its constitutional rights and fundamental doctrines, exhibit to all mankind that we would be just we must be strong.

Had the navy of the United States been in the same efficiency and power as it is today, the Chili episode would have been impossible, and were the naval power of our nation at the standard it should be, and which it must reach in the near future, the occupation of an important city of a friendly nation on our own continent would never have been permitted.

The story of the nations of the earth reach but one conclusion, no matter how good and excellent the laws may be, or how well they may be administered, if the power to enforce them be lacking, the laws of nations may be equitable, but power to enforce them, so far as our own land is concerned, must lay within our navy, or the nation must be dishonored. It can not be otherwise.

The recent conflict between China and Japan is simply the story of a modern navy, well organized, and effectively carrying out the orders of its government against a navy, without a proper organization and a centralized power of control. The lesson to ourselves, the citizens of the United States, is the necessity for continued watchfulness on our institutions, a vigilance as to our growth and prosperity and efficient organization of Naval Power, and to admonish us to build up ourselves and those who are to follow after us, in every way possible, with that patriotism and love of our country that has always been the guiding star of our people.

Therefore, to this end, let every citizen of our state see to it that the honor bestowed upon us as a state, by the general government, shall be returned by presenting to the officers and crew of the battleship "Oregon" a suitable memento, a fitting memorial, that wherever the ship shall sail, this memorial shall form with her a part, a token that the hopes and faith of our people are ever with her.

The committee having this matter in charge estimate the cost of such memorial at $10,000, the same to be raised in the 32 counties of the state, by subscription, from incorporated cities and towns, from the various county organizations within the state, from the school children of every district and every parish. The lesson of patriotism could not be better instilled in the mind of the child, or citizen, than that each and every one within our borders shall have a patriotic, personal and financial interest in this ship.

"So stripes might stream, and stars might soar, The glories of thy chosen name."

This memorial should be completed and ready for presentation about November 15, 1895, and it is of importance that all mayors of cities and incorporated towns, officers of chambers of commerce, officers of county organizations, and superintendents of schools in every district and parish, should place themselves in communication with the committee, or its chairman, so that this work be at once prosecuted conscientiously and successfully.

CHAS. H. DODD, Portland, Chairman. J. H. D. GRAY, Astoria. J. H. RALEY, Pendleton. J. H. McCLUNG, Eugene. W. T. WRIGHT, Union. CHARLES NICKELL, Jacksonville. B. W. JOHNSON, Corvallis. Portland, Oregon, May 15, 1895.

Don't forget that Cecil the tailor has removed opposite the Gazette office. His suitings are of the latest styles and the lowest possible prices.

Wool Wanted—Highest market price paid for wool. M. JACOBS, Office at Eglin stables.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder World's Fair Highest Award.

COLLEGE ITEMS.

Competitive drill, on May 27th.

Mrs. Dentler is slowly improving. Miss Maggie McKinzie, a former student of the O. A. C., visited our halls Tuesday.

Mr. Colt, a student from LaGrande, left for home on Saturday. Mr. Stearns was also called home by the death of his mother.

Miss Erma Lawrence of the class of '93, now a teacher in Oregon City public schools, was up to attend the funeral of Mr. C. O. Wells.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. held a union meeting at Cauthorn Hall last Sunday afternoon. An interesting meeting was reported.

Prof. Shaw delivered a lecture before the Advancement Club, of Eugene, upon the subject, "Chemistry a Factor of Civilization," last Monday evening.

Hon. W. P. Keady, one of the members of the board of regents, was up this week from Portland visiting his son and daughter, who are attending the O. A. C.

Rev. Gilbert, of Eugene, and Rev. Dooley, of Oakland, visited our school this week, both spoke to the students in the chapel and left some words of good advice and encouragement to all.

How Bob hived the bees, has been the topic for the past week. Some one suggested that the affair be rendered on the stage as a comedy, but the star actor, which would necessarily have to be Bob, demurs on the ground that he doesn't think that he will ever again be equal to the occasion. Besides he thinks it would be better as a tragedy.

Quite a large number of students attended the Philomath College exercises on Thursday evening. All sorts of vehicles being used for transportation, and not to cast any slur on the horses, they were of all kinds too; from the "bony" to the "bonnie" horse. One young man thought his nag would have been all right had it been a little more Lewis in his joints.

The alumni association of the college regrets the loss of one of its most highly esteemed members, Mr. C. O. Wells, whose death occurred here last Saturday evening. He graduated from our institution in '90, being the valedictorian of his class; and in '92, from the New York College of Pharmacy, from which college he also acquitted himself with honors.

Last Sunday evening, one looking westward from Cauthorn hall would have beheld three weary travelers slowly making their way to a place of shelter. As they came closer they could be recognized as our friends, Capt. Chandler and Sergeants Caples and Owsley. They were returning from a trip to the peak. While this is a little early to go out to see Mary, yet these three sturdy soldiers resolved to go, and accordingly set out last Friday just after dinner at Cauthorn hall (an awful load to start with) To give an account of their wanderings would take too long, suffice to say, they got there—got wet—got cold—got tired—got lots of fun—in fact, got most every thing, but what they went for. Captain says they surrounded the peak, charged its ramparts and took possession, and now any one wishing to climb that lofty hill has his permission to go.

HIGH & LOW.

THE ELECTION.

The city election on last Monday, was probably the most bitterly contested in the history of the city. The great fight was between Taylor and Spencer, for chief of police; although the police judge and councilmen contest occupied a large share of public attention.

It was evident early in the morning that Hays would not get the votes he expected and would cut but a small figure in the fight. Kyle had drawn out on Sunday, and he received but one vote. It was evident that the A. P. A.'s and anti-A. P. A.'s, the saloons and the churches, were consolidating their respective forces, on either Hodes or Porter for police judge, and Holgate gave up the fight before noon. Barber, whose name was not on the ticket, received 50 votes for mayor. It is understood these were A. P. A. votes. There was little disturbance at the polls. Two funeral services prevented some from voting, although a very large vote was polled. The vote by wards is as follows:

Table with columns: WARD, MAY, COMMITTEEMAN, POLICE JUDGE, CHIEF OF POLICE, TREAS.

SUICIDE OF WM. UHLMAN.

The Superintendent of the Carriage Factory Hangs Himself.

Wm. Uhlman, superintendent of the carriage factory, committed suicide Tuesday morning by hanging himself in the factory building.

Mr. Uhlman was a heavy stockholder in the company and although he had been in the city but a short time, he was already recognized as one of the leading business men of Corvallis. The whole city was horrified by the terrible news, and speculations as to the probable cause are rife. The general belief now, however, is that Mr. Uhlman committed the rash act while suffering from temporary mental aberration. His family, consisting of his wife, four daughters and one son, arrived in Corvallis from Illinois but two weeks ago, and are prostrated with grief. Their position away from kindred and old friends is indeed pitiful.

STORY OF HIS DEATH.

Mr. Uhlman was last seen alive about eleven o'clock Tuesday morning when he was conversing with Mr. Burgh in the factory office. He seemed to be somewhat awestruck but did not appear to be laboring under any excitement, nor did anything in his actions arouse the slightest suspicion that he was contemplating ending his life.

About 11 a. m. he remarked that he must fix the watchman's clock in the upper story and left the office. Only the men employed on the first and second floors were at work Tuesday and some of those about 11:30 wished to see Mr. Uhlman, but not finding him, concluded he had gone to the Friendly mill for lumber. He was not at home for dinner and his family began inquiring for him. About 2:30 Mr. J. M. Cheney, one of the hands, went up to the fourth floor and looked at the clock in the west room. On his return he discovered the body of Mr. Uhlman, face downward, prone on the floor. A cord was wrapped twice around his neck and tied to a stop-cock that was about four feet from the floor, holding his head and shoulders a few feet from the floor. He was dead, and Mr. Cheney hurried to the office to inform Mr. Burgh. Dr. Wilson and Acting Coroner Holgate were immediately notified and went to the scene. Dr. Wilson arrived first and cut the body down.

THE INQUEST.

Coroner Holgate and Sheriff Osborn arrived about 3 o'clock. A coroner's jury was immediately summoned from men at hand and J. M. Cheney was called as the first witness. His evidence was as follows: "The body is that of Wm. Uhlman; last saw him alive about 11 a. m. I discovered his body about 2:30, lying face downward with this cord around his neck and tied to the stop-cock. He was dead, and I notified Mr. Burgh at once."

I. D. Burgh, book-keeper of the carriage factory, testified as follows: "Wm. Uhlman alive last about 11 a. m. He was a man easily worried and worried considerably over business affairs. A little business controversy yesterday excited him somewhat although it really amounted to nothing. Before his family arrived two weeks ago he seemed to be getting melancholy. We thought it home-sickness, but had a doctor visit him. Since the arrival of his family he has generally appeared cheerful. I know no reason for his committing suicide."

Dr. Robert Wilson testified, "Came up with Mr. Burgh this afternoon and found the body as described by Mr. Cheney. I cut him down. Regor mortis had set in. I would say he had been dead over three hours. Death was undoubtedly caused by strangulation."

THE VERDICT.

The jury returned the following verdict: "We, the jury summoned by H. L. Holgate, acting coroner of Benton county, Ore., to act as coroner's jury on the body of Wm. Uhlman found dead in the carriage factory in Corvallis, Oregon, find that the deceased, Wm. Uhlman, came to his death by strangulation at his own hands."

F. J. Oberer, Foreman. A. E. Brookwalter, W. Sickafosse, T. H. Wamaly, F. G. Bowersox, D. G. Busby.

A strip of cloth, knotted together and broken in several pieces, lying about the body, indicated that the deceased had made at least one unsuccessful attempt to end his life before he finally found a cord strong enough to strangle him.

The funeral occurred at 4 p. m. Wednesday, the services being held at the house and under the auspices of the Masonic lodges, of which organization the deceased was a member in good standing. The remains were interred in the Crystal Lake cemetery.

Oh, man! Oh, man! Have you seen those new spring suits that Cecil has been making? They fit like the paper on the wall, are out in the latest styles and at prices never before heard-of.

Hair cutting 15 cents and shaving 0 cents at T. C. Case's.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair, Gold Medal, Midwinter Fair.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

Most Perfect Made. 40 Years the Standard.

AFTER THE ELECTION.

Five warrants have been issued for the arrest of persons charged with illegal voting. One was issued by E. E. Wilson, J. P., against Lee Neely, but he has not been caught. From Justice Holgate's court warrants were issued against Will Purdy, Jesse Foster, J. M. Burk and Josh Jordan. Mr. Foster waived examination and was bound over in the sum of $250. Burk's examination was held Tuesday and he made a stubborn fight for his release, but was also held in a like bond. Jordan stood an examination and was bound over.

Purdy had not been arrested at the time of going to press. Mr. Foster is one of the most prominent and wealthy farmers in the county. He says he has found that he really was not entitled to vote, but did so without any thought and under a misapprehension.

Burk claims that he always considered this his home for the past three years, although he was seldom here. But according to his own statement he voted in Jefferson, Marion county, last June for county officers, so that he must have claimed that county as his residence then. He has lived in this city but about six weeks and could not show wherein he had gained a residence.

There is some doubt as to whether Jordan voted illegally or not. His is the most doubtful case, but was also held in a like bond. Jordan stood an examination and was bound over.

The sheriff has determined to enforce the state laws in regard to gambling, selling liquors to minors and the closing of saloons on Sunday. City ordinances cover these matters, but as they seem to be dead letter laws, it is the intention to invoke the aid of the state.

Furniture for sale, and fine upright piano for sale or rent. Corner of 8th and Monroe streets, Corvallis.

Shiloh's Cure, the great Cough and Croup Cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses only 25c. Sold by Graham & Wells.

TO MY FRIENDS AND SUPPORTERS.

I desire to express my gratitude to those who worked and voted to elect me chief of police of this city. My deepest regret concerning the election is that I can never return the many favors I have received. That I did not "get there," was not due to lack of heartiest support or ablest management. I am proud of the vote I received and will always remain your friend and well-wisher. JESSE SPENCER.

Notice.

In County Court of Benton County, Oregon: In the Matter of the Last Will and Testament of JOHN W. WILL, dec'd. Final account.

Notice is hereby given to all interested, that John Will, executor of the estate of John Wm. Will, deceased, has filed his final account, as such executor, with the clerk of said court; and that the county court of Benton county, Oregon, has set June 8, 1895, at 10 o'clock a. m., as the time, and the county judges office of said county in court house as the place to hear objections to said final account if any there be. JOHN WILL, Executor.

Dated this May 8, 1895.

Furniture for sale, and fine upright piano for sale or rent. Corner of 8th and Monroe streets, Corvallis.

Shiloh's Cure, the great Cough and Croup Cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses only 25c. Sold by Graham & Wells.

PROGRAM.

Of the Graduating Exercises of the Public School, to be held in the Opera House on Friday Evening, May 25th, 1895.

- PIANO SOLO, {a. "Serenata" op. 15—MOSSKOWSKI. b. "Valse"—DURAND. MISS MAMI CAUTHORN, class '90. INVOCATION, RMY. H. J. ZERCHER. VIOLIN SOLO, "The Shepherd's Evening Song," LEONA SMITH. SALUTATORY, HORACE SCOTT. RECITATION, "The Keeper of The Light," CORA YOUNG. MUSIC, QUARTETTE. RECITATION, "The Old Surgeon's Story," FRANKLIN J. CAUTHORN. CLASS HISTORY, ESTHER AVERY. SOLO, "Who's At My Window?" MISS MARIE JOHNSON, class '93. NAH DOUGLAS TURNER. VALEDICTORY, W. E. YATES, Chairman Board of Directors. PRESENTATION OF DIPLOMAS, QUARTETTE. MUSIC, DR. G. M. IRWIN. ADDRESS TO CLASS, DR. G. M. IRWIN.

USHERS.—Lulu Spangler, Stella Adlard, Ben Scott, Loyd Cummings.

CLASS '95.

MOTTO:—"Thus ends our first lesson."

COLORS:—Cream and Lilac.

- Joyce Lillian Hershner Grace Edis Scott Mary Conrow Horace Scott Esther Avery Arthur J. Bier Leona Smith Eugene Harold Davis Laura Locke A. Roy Woodcock Guy H. Job, Joseph J. Blumberg Milton S. Friendly Isaac B. Blumberg Alex. T. Samuels, Hattie Spencer Nash Douglas Turney Cora Bertie Young Esther Madeline Purdy Lawrence S. Stovall Alfred Purdy Clarence B. Chipman Leslie W. Murray, Mary Jones Rosalia E. Lenger Frank Jeffrey Cauthorn Nellie May Hogan Lulu C. Daniel

Spring is Here

And so is my line of parasols and sun umbrellas. Covers in cotton, gloria, wool, and silk with a great variety of handles to choose from.

Gloves? Yes, lots of them, taffeta and all silk from 20c. to 65c. per pair. Kid Gloves 100, from $1.00 per pair up. Glase, with buttons and with Foster hooks and Biarritz, black and colors.

All silk ribbon. Make a specialty of it. Carry three grades. 156 bolts of the staple and new shades in satin ribbon just in.

Lace, Real Venise, Point d'Ireland, Valenciennes, Chantilly.

Ladies' waists, from 50c. up. Very large sleeves, many styles.

Ladies' hats, Tally-ho, Eureka, Apollo, trimmed and untrimmed. Tally-ho is the thing—very hard to get. I have only a few and they are going fast.

Over 50 pieces of silk, all different patterns, particularly suitable for summer waists, from 25c. to $1.25 per yard. Changeable, figured, striped, plain.

For trimming black dresses Jet is the thing. Jet Passamenterie, Jet Ornaments, Jet Buttons, Jet Buckles. Fiber chamois, genuine and two grades of imitation hair cloth and linen grass for stiffening dresses. Send for samples of any goods sold by the yard.

S. E. YOUNG, Albany, Or.