Royal Baking Powder!

And the reason he gives is of interest to every housekeeper. It is that he can make more money selling the other baking powders! He says he can buy all other powders at from 20 to 50 per cent. lower price than Royal, while he sells them at the same price. That means when the housekeeper buys some powder other than the Royal she pays the same price, but gets a powder costing to make and worth only half as much.

It is a fact that the Royal Baking Powder is made from more highly refined, purer, and more wholesome ingredients than any other baking powder. Most of the others are made from alum. All of them contain adulterants or impurities. Absolutely pure cream of tartar and soda, as used in the Royal, cost more than impure cream of tartar and alum; hence the greater cost, as well as greater value, of the Royal.

The grocer who says he will not handle Royal Baking Powder because he can make more profit upon other powders proves to the consumer, most conclusively, the superior value of the Royal over all other brands.

"That's good! And what place doe New York hold in the League record?" Place! Why, the very tiptop of course!' "Good enough! We are the people! Any-thing new about the Keely motor?"

But it is useless to quote the entire in-terview, for it happened a long time ago, and Columbus is dead now and can't deny any inaccuracies it may contain.—Reho both Herald.

A Bat Story.

A queer story comes with first class recommendation all the way from England. In 1860 a member of the Chaplin family died at Blankney, Lincolnshire, and was laid in the family tomb. This particular Chaplin was a naturalist, and among his other pets had a large gray bat. That bat was permitted to enter the tomb and was sealed up alive along with the corpse of opened, and to the surprise of all the bat was alive and fat. On four different occasions since the Chaplins have looked after the welfare of their dead relative's pet, and each time it has been reported that the bat was still in the land of the living although occupying quarters with the dead. He was last seen in 1892.—Chicago ce Arthur's" Face Is a Favo With New York Artists. There is an idea in the minds of the majority of the world that an artist's model must belong exclusively to Bohemia, but ike the majority of conventional belief it is not true. In New York city there are several well known young ladies occupy-ing high social position by reason of birth and breeding who earn handsome incomes as artists' models.

The most beautiful and famous of these 'Constance Arthur.'

You know her. You have seen her face many times in the magazines and high class periodicals, and a bewitching face it is. She is said to be the only woman in New York who knows how to look pretty with her mouth open, and her laughing face, her beautifully sculptured lips open over pearly teeth, smiles fascinatingly at you from pictures galaxy. FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.

On the fifteenth day of May Florence Nightingale celebrates her seventy-fifth birthday—as a great woman and as a great public benefactor, and as much of a heroine as she was forty years ago, when she went forth from her comfortable home in England, not as a mere nurse to attend to the wants of the wounded and dying British soldiers in the Crimea, but as a fearless organizer of a great field-hospital system, which the British war office authorities, staff officers and generals had looked upon as a mere matter of afterthought in the preliminary arrangements of one of the most difficult campaigns in the history of the civilized world, writes Fitz Roy Gardner in an interesting illustrated sketch of "Florence Nightingale at Seventy-Five" in the May Ladies' Home Journal. No one had thought of the physical sufferings which would have to be undergone by the brave soldiers who were sent out with the prospect of a long winter campaign before them, without any adequate hospital arrangements having been made. When the great mistake was realized it was a woman who came forward to rectify the terrible blunder; and it may easily be imagined that obstacles were thrown in her way. But the public opinion was soon aroused, and when Miss Florence Nightingale arrived at the Crimea with her band of nurses she had the whole Birtish people at her back.

THE UNTRAINED DAUGHTER.

Why Should Not Girls Be Taught Som-

Why should not a girl be taught book-keeping and some of the more common business forms? writes Elizabeth Robinson Scovil in the May Ladies' Home Journal. Men pity, or vast majority of women. It is often only due to want of proper instruction, and why should not this be supplied? Some girls have a passion for flowers, and plants grow and thrive under their coaxing fingers without much apparent a European tour. She is gray-haired effort on their part. Such may find and has a pleasant face. She is rather remunerative occupation. Choice pansy to the latest fashion. seed is sold at $7 an ounce at retail, rare ones at double that price, and some varieties at $3 an ounce. Cut flowchoice flowers all the year round.

The care of precious house plants for absent owners, supplying potted plants and ferns for the decoration of dinner tables and drawing rooms, help to swell the balance. Some florists not only supply the flowers but arrange them in their receptacles, charging an extra sum for the service.

A girl choosing this occupation must be content to learn her business thoroughly under an experienced florist, and should also have a little capital to begin with.

There are so many good technical schools now that there need be little difficulty in obtaining excellent instruction in whatever avocation it is wished to take up.
