CORVALLIS, OREGON, SEPT. 26, 1895.

NO NORTH, NO SOUTH.

The recent assemblages of Grand Army men in the south, the first actual gathering of any note, since the war of Northern ex-soldiers below the Mason and Dixon line, were very successful. Kentucky first welcomed the "boys in blue" and even her famous hospitality exceeded itself. Everything was done that could be done to add to the comfort and pleasure of her visitors.

The speech of Col. Henry Watterson, welcoming the gathering hosts, was one of the most magnificent orations in American literature. The scene during its delivery was a rare one in the history of the world. Here was what remained of two vast armies that for four years fought each other with all the energy and determination they possessed, now, after thirty years, meeting together in kindly brotherhood.

Tennessee was not behind her sister state in her expressions of welcome and hospitality. Representatives of the North and South met to dedicate the Chickamauga battlefield as a national park. Addresses were made by well-known citizens of every section of the country, and the very air seemed laden with patriotism.

All this is not a sudden, irrational, hysterical display of imagined friendship. It is simply an exhibition of the feeling that has long been entertained by the masses of the people of both the North and the South for each other and for their country. It proves that the animosities engendered by the rebellion have been buried by the participants, and that the occasional venomous outbursts heard on the rostrum or seen in the papers, represent simply political trickery and not the sentiment of the people.

The recent gatherings are as unique in history as they are glorious. They give us the utmost assurance, if such were needed, in the strength and stability of our government. The strength of a government lies in the hearts of its people. And who, that have closely observed the meeting and results of the late great assemblages of the blue and the gray, can doubt that the foundations of the American republic are well laid.

By the death of W. T. Peet, and removal to the country of Wm. Cress, there will be two vacancies in the council, both to be filled from the lower ward. It is important that good men be selected, and the people should begin looking about for material. Usually, suitable men have to be pressed to accept the office of councilman. Too often little interest is taken in the personnel of the body that controls the business of the city.

NEED MCKINLEY LEGISLATION.

Reports from England state that factories which were closed during the enforcement of the McKinley law are open and running at full blast. Bradford, the center of the woolen trade, multiplied its exports to the United States during July, as compared with the corresponding month last year, by five. Huddersfield, which supplies worsteds and woolsens to merchant tailors, has increased its exports to America by over $7,000,000 during the last quarter. The cotton and pottery trades are said also to have shared in the great revival of prosperity which has set in since the adoption of the schedules of the Gorman-Wilson bill in the United States.

There was quite a ball given at Hoskins hall on Saturday night, by Messrs. King and Hope. Over fifty persons tripped the light fantastic until 12 o'clock. One thing is to be commended upon, no scribbles were present and did not notice any one who had partaken of any spirituous liquor, something which does not often happen at Hoskins balls, so the good people of the community say. Query—Do hard times stop the drink habit? If so, there is some good even in hard times.

There was an assignee's sale at Hoskins last Thursday, conducted by W. E. Yates of Corvallis, for the purpose of selling the Frantz sawmill, whose owners made an assignment over two years ago. Dock Frantz bought most of the property for almost nothing, as there was no one present to bid against him. The mill plant, store building, house, barn, sheds and 31 acres of land sold for less than $2,500. The plant is well worth $20,000 and we don't understand why the moneyed men of Benton county allowed it to be sold for such a sum. Of course we hear some of the debtors crying fraud, but from what we learn, everything was conducted on the fair and square. KENO.

PHILOMATH ITEMS. J. J. Bryan's 100-bushel prune dryer is to open work Tuesday of this week. Plenty of custom is promised. Insurance agents are becoming common in town and oh! how their hearts swell with love and sympathy for the people.

It was well attended and considerable educational enthusiasm was manifested. Our village has entered upon a rather new era of existence since our last batch of timber. The new flouring mill is now completed and has been grinding for about a week. Quite a large amount of time and money have been expended in the construction of the mill. A large force of men has been employed for a number of months. We are pleased to see these signs of returning prosperity, for such they are. O. I. C.

KINGS VALLEY.

Hop-picking and rain mixed together do not make a very desirable mixture, so say our pickers. Twenty more hop-pickers are wanted at Allen and Atkinson's yard on Richard Dunn's place. Work on the new church has stopped until after hop-picking, as Rev. Yost, who has been in charge of the work, is boss in Neathausen's yard. Monroe Townsend's crew of hop-pickers will move to Frantz's yard tomorrow (Tuesday) having finished his yard of 6 1/2 acres, consisting of about 800 boxes.

Several wagon-loads of hop-pickers are passing through here, on their way back to the burnt woods, having been flooded out by the rain from down on the river. There was quite a ball given at Hoskins hall on Saturday night, by Messrs. King and Hope. Over fifty persons tripped the light fantastic until 12 o'clock. One thing is to be commended upon, no scribbles were present and did not notice any one who had partaken of any spirituous liquor, something which does not often happen at Hoskins balls, so the good people of the community say. Bryan and Miss Alice Vaughn. Let the good work go on. R. F. Holm and E. A. Nichols have purchased the store belonging to J. W. Ingle & Co. Mr. Holm will move to this place. We are pleased to have him back among us and we offer no apologies for being proud of him.

BIG PROFITS SMALL INVESTMENTS.

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock. $10.00 AFCEHR DOLLAR Invested can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system. It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand. It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who buy away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading. Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time. Write for Convincing Proofs, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully.
